A BUSY DAY FOR THE POLITICIANS

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCHLY

NEW CASTLE, PA., April 2.-This evening closed the most exciting political contest ever waged in this county, not even excepting the famous Congressional contest of 90, and the result may be summed up in a lozen words: John Dalzell met with disastrous defeat, while his opponent comes out with flying colors by an immense maority. For two months or more the battle has waged in this county, with most bitter teeling. The Dalzell side of the matter was championed by J. J. Dean, a local politician of some note, while Hon. John B. Brown, Elmer I. Phillips and William M. Brown, backed by nearly all the local politicians, led the forces of Quay to victory.

The Dalzell men were confident, but those who took no part in the contest were certain from the first that Quay would win. It was only a matter of majority. This morning un immense excitement was caused by McClure Hartzell making an affidavit hat he had been offered $60 by a friend of J. J. Dean to stay at home from the polls and quit work for D. W. Congressman Brunner Says the Ex-President Is sure to Be Nominated.

READING, April 2.-Congressman Brun ner arrived in the city to-day to attend to some first of April business. He expresses great satisfaction in having gotten rid of the silver bill and that a victory has been won for sound money. He says the teeling at the National Capital and among Democratic Congressmen is that Cleveland is gaining in strength every day and that he is pretty sure of being nominated,

The general impression, Mr. Brunner says, is that Hill made a great mistake in not remaining in his seat in the Senate instead of going around electioneering. He has been losing ground ever since he

HUNGARY TO SEND OUT AMBASSADORS

COPYRIGHT, 1892, BY N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS. BERLIN, April 2.-The ministerial changes arising out of the recent crisis have been definitely completed by the appointment of Herr Hanauer Director of the Office of Justice of the Empire. Herr Hanauer was gazetted to-night as the successor of Dr. Von Bosse, as Secretary of State in the Office of Justice in the Empire. Herr Hananer has a good record as Director of the department. The powers of Count von Eulenburg as President of the Prussian Ministry, will be tested Tuesday next, when the Centrists in the Lower House propose to debate his appointment by challenging the allowance for the President of the Council. The separation of the functions of the Imperial Chancellor and those of the President of the Prussian Ministry, necessitated a supplementary credit of 78,000 marks covering salaries and all other expenses of the office. The Clerico-Conservative majority rejoice at the chance to show their hostility by a rejection of the credit.

Will Have Trouble to Get His Salary. The National Liberals and the Freissinnige party are also reluctant to grant the money, but will vote for the appropriation this year as a part of the new temporary Ministerial arrangement. The whole question of the separation of the functions of the Imperial Chancellor and the Chief of the Prussian Ministry, and the abandon ment of the primary education bill, will be warmly discussed.

Count von Eulenburg's opening speech as President of the Ministry disappointed all who knew his old form as an orator. Instead of who knew his old form as an orator. Instead of making a clear, apt statement with the ease of a ready speaker, he read his declaration, which was badly drafted and badly phrased. His debut tended to alter the impression that he would become a formidable rival of Chancellor von Caprivi. Intimate friends of the latter now patronize Count von Eulenburg as a protege of the Chancellor, who is credited with saying that he means to familiarize the new chief with the work of the Chancellerie and the Foreign Office of the Chancellerie and the Foreign Office and then retire.

Furious Over the Education Bill's Fate. The present session of the Landtag will close on the 8th inst. The members are baffled and furious over the withdrawal of the primary education bill. The Clerico-Conservatives will give the Government a parting kick, but even the rejection of the credit made necessary by the separation of the functions of the Imperial Chancellor and the Chief of the Prussian Cabinet will not lead to an immediate ministerial crisis. The Government may refer the question to the new Landtag.

The Dahomeyans have already destroyed several villages around Porto Novo, and the outlook is quite serious. The French intend to blockade the whole coast and prevent any trade in arms or slaves. A NEW CURE FOR GRIEF. The Duke of Cambridge Finds Solace is Ta-Ra-Ra at Music Halls.

LONDON, April 2.- A couple of weeks after Prince Albert Victor's death the Duke of Cambridge presiding at some military gathering spoke in a voice broken with emotion, as newspaper reporters recorded at the time, of the many virtues and endearing qualities of his beloved young relative. All members of the royal family, of course, are still in deepest mourning, including the Duke of Cambridge, but the Duke seems to have strange ideas as to the manner in which he should comfort himself during the efined period of grief. He has taken part in official ceremonies and private festivi-ties, but he had refrained until the other day from attending places of public enter-tainment. Thursday evening, however, Mile. Violette, a vulgar French chanseuse, was put into the programme of the Alham bra Music Hall to sing "Ta -ra-ra-boon de-av." The attraction de-ay." He wanted land to be purchased by the Government, on which the memployed could be set at work, and he wanted relief works to be started. The Lord Mayor replied that he would require time to consider these novel proposals. *

He referred to the deputation appointed yesterday to wait upon the Very Rev. Robert Gregory, Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, and said that the deputation found the Dean at luncheon. He received them and said he would preach a sermon in the Cathedral Sunday in behalf of the un-employed, and though he must have known that some of the members of the deputation were hungry he did not ask them to have

Don M. Dickinson Gets an Ovation

Grover's Representative. THREE BIG GOVERNORS ARE PRESENT

CHICAGO, April 2.-Three Governors, an x-Cabinet Minister and other statesmen of National renown, lent grace to the banquet of the Iroquois Club this evening. Among the Democratic leaders present were Governor Boyd, of Nebraska; Governor Peck, of Wisconsin; ex-Postmaster General Don M. Dickinson, of Michigan; Hon. Sherman Hoar, of Massachusetts; Governor Winans, of Michigan; Hon. John Dewitt Arner, of New York, and Editor S. E. Morse, of the Indianapolis Sentinel.

The first great outburst of applause came at a fervid reference to Grover Cleveland near the end of the address by the first speaker, Hon. W. G. Ewing, of Chicago. The principal speaker of the evening was Hon. Don M. Dickinson, who, as the reputed personal representative of the ex-President, was wildly cheered. He began by eulogizing the value of party discipline and the necessity for yielding to the desisions of the party's accredited representatives in caucus. Said he: Dickinson's Voice Against Bolting,

When a caucus or convention has chosen or nominated I think its choice should have he support of all Democrats, including those who may think that a mistake has been made in the choice, whether the cau-cus or convention be National, State, county or ward. But a caucus, to command this loyalty, must be a Democratic caucus in the broadest sense. There must be no controlling trickery, no terrorizing to prefraud, and no well-grounded doubt of a fair count, sufficient to impair confidence. Whether from elections or conventions, no result can come which is entitled to respe or obedience which is gained by a perver sion of the popular will by the throttling of the people's voice or by thimblerigging with

The conclusion of Mr. Dickinson's speech, the expression of a belief that the party would choose as a standard bearer a man surely representative of the Democratic party and of the people, was almost lost in the volume of delighted yelling that greeted the preceding some what sensational utterances Every Throat and Lung for Grover.

MICHAEL FILES HIS ANSWER. le Was Compelled to Tie Up His Wife

Safe Himself Bodily Injury. DETROIT, April 2 .- "Prince" Michael fills' answer to his wife's bill for a separation has been filed. It denies the charges of cruelty and sets forth that the reason why Mrs. Mills was tied up was that she threatened to do him great bodily injury, and the only course open to him under the circumstances was to hand her over to the police or to restrain her privately. He chose the latter.

Her accusations, continues the answer, are the result of a conspiracy with people who are opposed to him on account of his religious belief. The property in his name, it is asserted, is merely held in trust for the other numbers of the community. The he other members of the community. The Judge modified the injunction, restraining Mills from disposing of his property, so that he might get bondsmen. No attempt will be made to bail the prisoner until Mon-

BOODLERS IN NOVA SCOTIA

Hard-Up Members Took Road Funds to Meet Their Obligations. HALIFAX, April 2 .- [Special.]-The pec ple of Nova Scotia are greatly excited over the boodle revelations. The opposition in the Legislature charges that there has been enormous fraud, corruption and perjury in connection with the expenditure of $600,000 on the public roads. Mr. Cohan, member for Shelburne, has preferred formal charges against Mr. Fraser, member for Victoria and Messra. McDonald and McPherson members from Cape Breton, of having re-ceived large amounts of Government money and converted it to their own use, instead of paying it to the men who worked on the onds.

These charges are being investigated by the Committee on Privileges. The evidence of Alfred Brown shows that $6,00 was improperly received by McDonald, and instead of expending it on the public service he took a portion of it to meet his personal notes in the counties.

A STATE OF SIEGE DECLARED.

Safety in the Argentine, BUENOS AYRES, April 2.-The Minister of the Interior has ordered the arrest of everybody who incites the people to rebellion or who raises seditious cries. The Minister of War has commanded that two

THE KANSAS TWISTER PASSED BY.

Baby Is Decapitated as Neatly as With a Sharpened Knife.

THE DEATH ROLL NUMBERS ABOUT 50

KANSAS CITY, April 2.-Not until today was telegraphic communication re-stored with that district of Southern Kanas which was visited by the terrible tornado. The incidents of the disaster at various points present many strange and some horrible features, such as that which overtook the family of Albert Eggers, who lived on a farm near Wamego.

The family had retired for the night when the storm struck the house. The force of the storm first moved the house from the foundation and dashed it to piece s on the ground, over 100 feet from its original position and then carried away the debris so that it was nearly impossible to tell where its destruction had taken place. Fragments of the house have been found as far as a mile from its foundation, and pieces of the furniture are scattered all about the place. One chair, but slightly damaged was found nearly a half a mile away from the site of the house.

Victims' Faces Look Powder-Burned. Mr. Eggers was the only member of the family of four who escaped death. Mrs. Eggers, who had been sleeping with her two children, was found nearly a quarter of a mile from the location. Clasped in her arms was her 6-months-old babe. Both had apparently been dashed to death on the ground, and were crushed and mangled in a horrible manner. The faces of both presented the appearance of having been powder-burned. Examination showed that the force of the wind had driven into their faces and under the skin small particles of sand and dust.

Mr. Eggers was found the morning after the storm, wandering aimlessly about his farm, oblivious of the injuries he had susfarm, oblivious of the injuries he had suctained. His right arm was broken and he was badly bruised. He was made as comfortable as possible by those who escaped injury, and soon recovered consciousness. When told of the covered consciousness. When told of the fate of his wife and children, his mind wandered again, and finally gave way under the terrible intelligence. It is not believed that he can recover, and even if he does his reason will be gone. James Taylor's house is near that of Mr. Eggers. He had been but recently married. The storm destroyed his home and carried himself and wife a rod from it. The force of the wind stripped them of every vestige of their night clothes. A Baby Neatly Decapitated. They were obliged to gather from the fields what remained of their clothing, and make the most of it. Their neighbors were nearly as destitute as themselves, and every store in the town had been destroyed. At Towarda the baby of James Blake was one of the victims. Its body was not found until Friday noon, and the searchers found it without a head. It had been decapitated, but how has not been determined. The head was found fully 100 yards from the body. Guillotine never made a neater decapi-tation. In the temporary morgue the head and body were laid together and a narrow ribbon tied about the baby's throat would have entirely concealed the fatal wound. The parents of the infant were wound. The parents of the infant were both among the very seriously wounded. Near Strong City, James Gordon, an old recluse, a farmer, lived alone. His house was a two roomed hut. The front room served as a bed chamber. The cyclone lifted this shell of the building from the ground, leaving the floors still firm upon the foundation, leaving the body standing in its usual position and its occupant unhurt. When Gordon realized what had happened he departed from his usual habit and sought the comfrom his usual habit and sought the comoany of his neighbors. Not a Telegraph Pole Is Standing.

Along the line of the Northern Pacific

N. D., not a single telegraph pole is standing. The line of poles is very substantially built to withstand strong prairie winds, but were all snapped off and torn out of the ground like pipe stems.

So far as known the total number of lives lost in Kansas is about 50. It is believed that most of the worst disasters have be reported, but there are still to be heard from New Kiowa and De Graffe and the country districts where the storm created greatest havoc. Many isolated fatalities will doubtless come to light within the next tew days, swelling the death list to a

FIGHTING IN VENEZUELA.

The Revolution in That Republic Seems to Be a Very Serious Fact.

CARACAS, VENEZUELA, April 2.-The Government troops, commanded by General Rodriguez, have been repulsed near Ortiz. They met the forces that were marching from Orinoco to reinforce General Crespo, the leader of the revolutionists. There was a sharp engagement, in which General Rodriguez's forces were compelled to retreat, though the loss was not heavy on either side. The revolutionists occupied Ortiz, a town of 7,500 population, in the State of Guarico, and then began an advance on Cura, a city of 10,000 inhabitants, 60 miles southwest of Caracas. The success at Ortiz was followed by the seizure of the national gunboat, Nueva de Julio, which was stationed at Ezmeralda, on the Orinoco river. This success gives the revolutionists the command of the upper end of the river and will be of great advantage in future operations. The news of these reverses has greatly depressed the followers of President Palacio, who continues his dictatorial course. Advices from Merida, the capital of the State of Guzmanves, and from the State of Zamorca, show that the people are enlisting in great numbers under the banner of Gen-eral Crespo. General Aranjo has organized force of 3,000 men at Merida, and is preparing to join the troops under the revolu-tionary leaders. General Balista is march-ing from Zamarias with 1,000 soldiers to fight for the revolution.

JOSEPH BOHN, chief engineer of the Diamond, was instantly killed near Evanaville, ind., resterday. Owing to the high wind the boat was compelled to the up. A log drifted in and fouled the rudder. Bohn went to dislodge it at the same time giving the second engineer instructions to turn the wheel slowly. In some way unaccountable he was caught between the pitman and fantali and his back was broken, dying almost instantly. Bohn was 54 years old and had been a river engineer all his life. His widow and family reside in this city.

is Entirely Cured, I was in the war during 1863-54, and took a heavy cold at Getrysburg, from which I never fully recovered. In 1875 I broke out in sores all over my chest and shoulder, which seemed impossible to cure. I tried all the famed doctors I could find and to no avait. I expended some five thousand dollars trying to find a cure, but could not, and finally giving myself up to die, my good wife suggested to me, one day, to try the CUTICURA REMKDIES, which were so extensively advertised and used.
