AGITATIONS AMONG THE LABORERS

MADRID, April 4.—Great excitement was caused here to-day by the discovery of an Anarchist plot to blow up the Chamber of Deputies. The leaders of the conspirators arrived here within the past month. The Civil Governor had received information that two foreign Anarchists were conspiring with a number of Spanish Anarchists to blow up the public buildings, and the suspects were accordingly watched. The project against the Chamber of Deputies was arranged to came off on Saturday.

A Frenchman named Deval and a Portuguese named Feirriera intended to conceal a couple of bombs under the seats in the public gallery and then leave before the bombs exploded. Feirreira, however, was taken ill and the attempt was postponed until to-day. At 4 P. M. both conspirators left their houses, each carrying under his arm a small parcel of the shape of a bottle wrapped in a newspaper.

The police shadowed them and kept them in sight until they reached the Cortes build-ing, where both were seen to place them-selves before the door leading to the Cham-ber of Deputies by which the President of the Chamber and Premier Canovas del Castillo usually enter.

A Desperate Tussle to Down Them, The police then decided that it was time to act and they at once proceeded to arrest the plotters. The Frenchman, a man of herculean strength, fought hard, but was finally knocked down and overpowered. Both men were immediately handcuffed. When searched they were tound to have in their possession conical bombs enclosed in cast iron cases eight inches long by three broad. A yellow fuse similar to that used by smokers was at-tached to the bombs, which were bound and lightly compressed by steel wire for the pur-pose of increasing the strength of the explo-

The bombs weighed each eight pounds.

The fuse was so adjusted as to burn three minutes before exploding the charge. The bombs have not been carefully examined as yet, but they appear to be loaded with enough dynamite to blow up the whole

Cortes.

Immediately upon being arrested they were conveyed to the Minister of the Interior, where they underwent a most searching examination. It is not known that the prisoners gave any clue to their fellow-coaspirators or the scope of the plot. A document was found on the prisoners containing a draft of the plan of action of the Cosmopolitan society, according to which conspirators were first to blow up the Chamber of Deputies; second, the Senate; third, the Law Courts; fourth, the Council of State; firth, the Ministry of War; sixth, the Royal Palace and the Chapel, and seventh, the Bank of Spain. All this work was to be completed before May day.

The Prisoners Have Confessed.

The Prisoners Have Confessed.

The prisoners are confined in separate cells. Each has made a confession. The seized papers also showed that Ferriera was the author of the recent explosion at the Spanish Consulate in Lisbon. In an interview subsequent to the arrest of Ferriera Deval, Premier Canovas Delcasand Deval, Premier Canovas Beleastollo confirmed the report that the Government had some time ago obtained knowledge of the intended plot of the Anarchists and that the authorities had accordingly taken measures to apprehend the criminals as soon as they attempted to pat their plans into operation.
The Premeralso said that under the present laws of Spain persons convicted of using explosives for unlawful purposes were liable to be sentenced to penal servitude for iffe. Parliament, he continued, in view of the extremely dangerous attitude the anarchists were assuming would be at once asked to sanction a capital sentence for such offenses.

WALSALL ANARCHISTS CONVICTED.

Two of Them Make Speeches to the Judge and Others in Court.

LONDON, March 4 .- The Walsall Anarchists, Frederick Charles, Victor Cailes, Joseph Thomas Deakin and John Battoln, were soday found guilty at the Staffordshire As-sizes of "unlawfully and knowingly having in their possession or under their control certain explosive substances under such circumstances as to give rise to the reason able suspicion that they did not have them in their possession or under their control for any lawful purpose." John Westley and William Ditchfield, who were also tried on the same charge, were acquitted. Battola, Charles and Calles were each sentenced to ten years, and Deakin to five years' im-ten years, and Deakin to five years' imprisonment.

Charles made an address to the court, in which he repudiated on behalf of the Anarchists the use of bombs or violence in England and other constitutional countries. He declared that he and his colleagues were the victims of a police manufactured plot. Things were different in Russia, and Anarchists were perfectly willing to help their unfortunate friends in that country and take the consequences for so doing. Ballota declared that he knew nothing about the matter. He was the victim of an intrigue and the tool of a powerful central body in London. He dilated upon the wickedness of all authority, and said that anarchism was the only means to emancipate the people. He concluded by shouting "Vive L' Anarchie,"

Mrs. Montagu Sentenced to One Year's Imprisonment at Hard Labor.

DUBLIN, April 4.—The trial of Mrs. Montagu for causing the death of her 3-year-old child, was completed to-day, and a verdict was speedily agreed upon by the jury. Mrs. Montagu was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to imprisonment for one year at hard labor.

Much interest was manifested in the trial and much delay was had in securing a jury, as Mrs. Montagu's counsel challenged all the Protestants and the Crown objected to a number of Catibolics. There was a large crowd in attendance, women greatly predominating.

Deeming to Plead Insanity.

MELBOURNE, April 4.-Deeming's solicitor ses as a defense for his client the plea of insanity, and has telegraphed to England of insanity, and has telegraphed to England for evidence of Deeming's madness when a boy. Deeming recently wrote to Miss Roun-sevel, asking her to pledge a valuable ring he gave her in order to assist him in estab-lishing his innocence, but she declined to do so, declaring that she believed him guilty.

Propably Another Deeming Victim. DUBLIN. April 4.-The body of a girl has been discovered underneath the floor of a cottage near Bandon, 29 miles southwest of Cork. The body was buried and then covered with cement in a manner identical with that followed by Murderer Deeming in the case of his wife and four children at Rain Hill, near Liverpool.

Blew Up a Foreman's House, BRUSSELS, April 4.-Two dynamite cartridges exploded in front of the house of a foreman of a mine at Seraing, five mile southwest of Liege. It is believed they were placed there by someone who had a grudge against the foreman. The house was consid-erably damaged, but no one was hurt.

Socialists Advised to Be Pesceable. Pants, April 4.- A manifesto of the Socialist Secretary of Labor calls upon workmen to organize in order that this year's May Day demonstration may be of surpassing strength, and expects the people to keep calm and to leave the bourgeoise the responsibility for massacres like that at Fourmies last year.

THE WEARING OF THE GREEN By Brave Irish Soldiers Causes a Live'y Tilt

in Parliament.

London, April 4.—In the House of Com-mons to-day Patrick O'Brien revived the question of the wearing of the Shamrock on St. Patrick's Day by Irish soldiers in the British army by sking whether Mr. Stan-hope, Secretary of State for War, was aware of the fact that the Northumberland Fusi-less whether they were Irish Scotch of leers, whether they were Irish, Scotch or Welsh, were obliged to wear a rose on St. George's Day. Mr. O'Brien also asked Weish, were obliged to wear a rose on St. George's Day. Mr. O'Brien also asked whether the Government would provide for the wearing of national party emblems or allow all nationalities to wear their respective favors on their national festivals. Mr. Stanhope replied that the rose had been the badge of the Northumberland Fusileers since 1875. The wearing of the emblem had no political significance and he saw no reason to interfere with the custom. Mr. O'Brien was not satisfied with the reply of the War Secretary, and he intends to continue his badgering upon the first occasion that offers.

The Hon. Dodgson P. Madden, Conservative member for Dublin University and Attorney General for Ireland, said that there are now imprisoned in Ireland under the coercion act only five persons, and they had been convicted of unlawful assembly. No cases of boycotting existed. This statement was greeted with Conservative cheers.

Mr. Thomas Sexton—Is it not that because the coercion act is a failure and has been abandoned?

Mr. Madden—Certainly not.

Mr. Madden—Certainly not.

Mr. William O Brien—Is there any struggie that was proceeding prior to the passage of the coercion act that is not going on as before? [Trish cheers.]

Mr. Madden—I cannot answer that general question, but the figures I quoted show the usefulness of the act. [Conservative cheers.]

MEETING OF LONDON'S UNEMPLOYED.

The Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral Roundly

Denounced by the Speakers. LONDON, April 4.—Another meeting of un-employed workingmen was held at Tower Hill to-day. A number of addresses were made, in which the speakers violently at-tacked the Very Rev. Robert Gregory, Dean of Saint Paul's Cathedral. It will be reof Saint Paul's Cathedral. It will be recalled that at one of the meetings held last week a deputation was appointed to wait upon the Dean to ask his advice as to the course the unemployed should follow. The Dean received the deputation which was headed by the negro Wade, and told them among other things that he would deliver a sermon Sunday in St. Paul's in their behalt. In his sermon yesterday the Dean made no reference to the workingmen, and the result was that they were and are deeply incensed at his failure to fulfil his promise.

The meeting finally adopted a resolution in favor of the disestablishment of the Church of England, and appointed a deputation to visit the Rev. Joseph Parker, pastor of the Congregational City Temple, to ask his advice.

Confidence Restored, Although There I Still Discontent in the Army.

Buenos Avres, April 4.-The excitement that has prevailed here for some days past quence of the fears that the Radicals were about to attempt to overthrow the Government, is quieting down, and it is be lieved that the decisive action of the authorities in ordering to the city large detachments of artillery and cavalry has had the effect of putting a damper on any revolutionary ideas entertained by the Radicals. To-day telegraphic and possal communication has been restored, and, save for the unusually large number of soldiers about the streets, the city wears its normal aspect. It is believed that no further trouble need be anticipated. were about to attempt to overthrow the is believed that no further trouble need be anticipated.

The state of siege proclaimed on Saturday, in consequence of political troubles, will probably be maintained until May, when Congress meets, although it may be raised in 24 hours. The Radicais, it is said, may decide not to vote at the May elections on the ground that they were unable to complete their organization. Under any circumstances the Radicais would be shown to be in a great minority, and some of the more cautions of that element would be gind of a pretext to avoid risking their, lives at the polls. Although there is considerable discontent in the army with the Government, especially with the Minister of War, it is not likely to prove sufficient to lead many of the officers or men to actually revolt. With the military remaining loyal confidence will rapidly revive.

The affair was a very enjoyable one in every respect.

A Molder Attempts Suicide, Youngstown, O., April 4.—Alfred Young, a nolder, aged 50, while under the influence of liquor to-night, attempted suicide in the presence of his wife and children. He placed a revolver to his head which falled to go off and he was disarmed by the officers. When the officers left he swallowed an ounce of chloroform. He will die before morning. Young is an expert molder, but has been drinking heavily of late.

RATHER RAPID WORK

PARTY PLANS AS TO FREE SILVER.

EXCITEMENT OVER THE CHINESE BILL

ISPECIAL TELEGRAPHIC LETTER.

BURKAU OF THE DISPATCH, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4. The rapidity with which history is made in these days is finely illustrated by the discussion of the Bering Sea dispute between the United States and Great Britain. Less than two weeks ago the naval and diplomatic authorities of both countries looked upon war as a lively possibility. The gun foundries of the United States were suddenly ordered to increase their speed of manufacture, and the calmest critics looked upon the situation as exceedingly grave. To-day the President has almost completed the agreement for a renewal of the modus vivendi of last year. Canadian sealers have been warned by their Government that they will proceed to the taking of seals at their own risk, pending arbitration, and nothing is more improbable in our relations with Great Britain than a war. My information from the White House to-day is that the final word will probably pass between the two Gov-ernments within two or three days that will conclude the peaceful negotiations; the seals will be saved as far as possible this year, and arbitration will put an end to all troubles; though doubtless with no glory to the United States, except the empty satisfaction of having given Great Britain the biggest and most successful bluff that country has had to endure in many years. Beat Out of a Duck Shoot.

Beat Out of a Duck Shoot.

The most serious outcome of the whole matter seems to be that President Harrison was deterred from going on his duck shooting excursion by the necessity of being within easy reach of Lord Salisbury by cable, that he might finally arrange the terms of the modus vivendi. It is suggested that a modus vivendi for the preservation of the ducks at Bengies would be in order, in the interest of humanitarianism, as they are killed solely for "sport" and not, as the seals are killed, to secure their pelts for ciothing for the rich and fashionable.

Judging from the reception of Senator Morgan's remarks on his silver resolution to-day, it does not seem probable that the debate will be carried to any very great length. Senators absented themselves or gave the Senator very indifferent attention, and everything possible was done to put a damper upon any movement to precipitate a silver discussion at this time. A few other Senators will speak on the subject, and will probably receive even less attention than Mr. Morgan. The resolutions will then probably be adopted, as they involve little more than instructions to the Finance Committee to investigate the probable effect of proposed silver legislation on the country. The plan of the anti-silver Republicans is to vote against the resolutions, and, indeed, against anything looking to a further agitation of the silver question.

Present Plans of the Democrats.

As yet they have not signified their desire to speak. Of course they will gain nothing but contempt for their cowardice. The people love frankness and courage, and the best evidence of it is that Cleveland, who has spoken clearly on the subject, is the great favorite, even in silver States, though a few months ago when he announced himself against free silver it was almost the universal cry that he had destroyed his last chance for renomination.

of James R. Young, of Philadelphia, Executive Clerk of the Senate, for alleged infraction of his oath by divulging the secrets of the executive session, was brought before the Senate. Mr. Young was invited in by his friends to be at hand to answer charges. Attention was called to the matter in an informal way, and their violence fell upon the august assembly.

The presiding officer timidly suggested that if there were any charges against Mr. Young it would be in order to present them. Again there was an interval of oppressive silence. The Senator was present who had offered the resolution for expulsion, but he kept his mouth closed. After a short period of this sort of silent communion, the Senate proceeded to other business. The resolution is, in a parliamentary sense, still pending, but it is probable it will not be heard from again unless some Senator moves to lay it on the table to get rid of it. My authority for the foregoing statements is not Mr. Young.

Hon. John Dalzell left the capital this afternoon for home. From Pittsburg he will go to-morrow to Warren, Pa., to speak on the Senatorial question. A vigorous anti-Quay movement is reported in Warren county, and the leaders of it want the inspiration of Mr. Dalzell's presence.

Dalzell Not at All Disconcerted.

Daizell Not at All Disconcerted. The Representative from Pittsburg does not appear to be in the least discouraged by recent primaries at which, in half a dozen counties, Senator Quay has had considerable majority of the popular vote. "Nothing has msjority of the popular vote. "Nothing has ha ppened," said Mr. Dalzell to me this afternoom, "that I did not anticipate. The party mschinery in all of their counties, and in many others, has been for years in control of Senator Quay and his friends, and, as the rank and file are largely influenced by those who have led in the party work, it is not only not surprising that the vote should be what is reported, but it is surprising that there is so extensive a show of opposition at the polls. Again, the movement against Senator Quay has not been feit so much in the rural counties as in the large towns and cities. Very shrewdly the primaries were arranged to occur first in the country counties, where the machine is strougest. Other more populous counties and some of the towns and cities may tell a different story. At any rate, the fight is only begun, and no matter what the result at the primaries, the experience of similar movements in the past would seem to indicate that there will be a constant increase of interest and enha ppened," said Mr. Dalzell to me this after past would seem to indicate that there will be a constant increase of interest and en-thusiasm until the Senatorship is settled by the Legislature next winter, and that there will be a very vigorous opposition to the re-election of Senator Quay." A Postoffice Department Mystery.

A vast deal of interest is felt at the Postoffice Department to know how the letter in regard to the use of the Free Press, directed from Kittanning, to the anti-Quay Republican organizations in Philadelphia never reached its destination, but fell into the hands of the Senator's friends in Armstrong county to be used by them before and at the primaries. It is said to have been resent to Kittanning by Mr. Frank Willing Leach, late Secretary of the Republican State Committee, that it saw Washington in its travels, and altozether had a very strange and eventful history. It is highly propable that this letter will be heard from again, and possibly as something more than a mere subject for gossip. Friends of Mr. Dalzell say that the proposition in regard to the Free Press was simply to use the columns of a paper which had aunounced itself against Senator Quay for the publication, as is always customary, of political matter at advertising rates in the news columns, and in mo way involved the least suggestion of payment for opinions or editorial expressions, asshas been insinuated.

Indignation at Castle Stewart. A Postoffice Department Mystery.

Indignation at Castle Stewart. There is great indignation as "Castle Stewart," the home of the Chinese legation, the House of the Geary bill prohibiting the contrance of any Chinese into the country excepting the Minister and members of the legation. As Mr. Hitt said in his speech against the bill, it abrogates a solumn are serious,

treaty, and will be a dispraceful breach of fatth on the part of the United States if it becomes law. The bill will not probably go so far. If not stopped by the Senate it doubtless will be by the President.

This is just what Mr. Geary wants. He did not desire to draft a law that would be wholly acceptable to a Republican President and Senate. He represents a very close district in his State of California. He was elected as a Democrat and an "American," whatever that may mean, over Barham, Republican, by a majority of only 181 votes. Should his bill, passed by the Democratio House, be defeated or modified by the Senate, or vetoed by the President, he can "point with pride" to his effort and that of his party to shut out the vagabond Chinese absolutely. He need not make any statement in regard to the vagabonds of other nations that are let in. His anti-Chinese bill will re-elect him.

Of course, nobody will dispute that cheap Chinese abon, with its accompaniment of cheap Chinese morals, should be excluded in toto, but a bill which shuts out students, merchants, tourists, etc., goes a step farther than could be demanded by any sensible person, except a member of Congress seeking a re-election in a close district. It may be that the President and Senate will indorse the bill. Re-election necessities make strance bedfellows. In such event "Stewart Castle" will have a "for rent" tacked to its doors, diplomatic relations between the United States and China will cease, American citizens will probably be driven from China and their homes looted, and another war will have to be fought, at least on paper.

the City's Executive Is Very Indiguant. PHILADELPHIA, April 4.-Following closely upon the organization of Councils this morning, at which peace reigned su-preme, there has come a hitch which, if not soon mended, will widen into a most serious breach. This breach will be between Mayor Stuart and Councils, and the cause the hasty adjournment of both branches until Thursday before the Mayor had an opportunity of communicating with them. portunity of communicating with them. The action of Councils is unprecedented, and is looked upon by many as a direct snub at Mayor Stuart. Whether or not the insult, or supposed insult, was intentional is a matter not yet known, but there are many who adhere to the statement that the hasty adjournment was intended as an act of discourtery.

journment was intended as an act of discourtesy.

When the Mayor's secretary reached the Councils he found the doors locked, and was told that both branches had adjourned until Thursday afternoon. In the meantime Mayor Stuart had sent for the new directors of the Department of Charitles and Correction, and they were all at the Mayor's office ready to take the oath of office as soon as Select Council confirmed the appointments. Upon receiving information of the action of Councils Mayor Stuart was naturally indignant, and he was compelled to request the new directors to call again on Thursday afternoon.

new directors to call again on Thursday afternoon.

The Mayor is at a loss to understand the action of the city's legislative body, and he feels keenly the discourtesy shown him today. Many excuses were offered to explain the matter, and it is said that the Selectmen became "rattled" and forgot their duties. Another excuse is that the Upper Branch adjourned because the other did, apparently losing sight of the fact that important communications were expected from the Mayor, and that it was the duty of the two branches to remain in session until they heard from the head of the municipal government.

THE SIMPLEST WAY

is the best way. Wisdom, judgment, caution must determine for you what is the best way.

There are easy ways to do a great many hard things. There are easy ways of making money. Let your wisdom suggest that you investigate the new town of

ALIQUIPPA!

Let your caution prompt you to discover whether the claims for a new town are true. Let your judgment say whether a town that has a big steel works, a big shovel works on the ground, a big tinplate mill already projected, and other factories asking for locations, will not prove a rich investment at the low price asked for choice lots. Plans and particulars can be obtained at the office of the
