

THE ADLETS HAVE GAINED THIS MUCH IN SEVEN MONTHS. FIGURES SHOW: To March 31, 1892, 49,903 To March, 1891, 30,920 Try the Cent-a-Word Columns.

MIXED RESULTS IN RHODE ISLAND

Predicted by Leaders on Both Sides on the Eve of Election.

ALL ARE CONFIDENT,

But Few Feel Certain Enough to Wager Much Money on It.

FINAL CLAIMS ON BOTH SIDES.

Republicans on Easy Street as Regards the Re-Election of Aldrich.

The Legislature Almost Conceded by Democrats to Their Opponents—A Small Democratic Plurality on the Head of the Ticket Anticipated—Red-Hot Rallies at a Number of Places on the Last Night of the Campaign—Reed Rouses Hearty Cheers for Cleveland and Is Obliged to Quit Using the Ex-President's Name—Charges of Big Broodie Trick and Fast on Both Sides—The Latest Estimates and Claims of State Chairmen.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 5.—"We put our trust in Providence," say the Democratic leaders to-night. By this, though, it is not meant that these practical politicians expect any miraculous assistance in tomorrow's contest, but that they largely depend upon the vote of this city to secure a majority in the State. Chairman Owen, of the Democratic Committee, said to THE DISPATCH correspondent:

"Outside of Providence the vote for the two candidates for Governor will be about evenly divided. In this city we confidently expect a lead of about 3,000 for Wardwell. This will give us a majority over all of the other candidates, and insure a victory without the choice being thrown into the Legislature. As for the complexion of this latter body, the situation is so complicated that the apportionment so outrageous that predictions are idle. I hope for the best."

"Republicans More Than Confident." "We will elect every man on our State ticket," said Chairman Goodwin, of the Republican Committee, "and carry both branches of the Legislature by a heavy majority. We will certainly lead the Democrats throughout the State, and I think Brown will have more votes than all the other candidates for Governor combined. He is sure of a plurality, at least, and, in that event, will be specially seated by the Legislature. We do not concede Providence to the Democrats at all."

Governor Ladd, who has been taking a very active part in the canvass for the choice of his successor, said this evening: "The Republican prospects are very bright. Of course, we never can tell what 24 hours will bring forth, but the outlook for a sweeping endorsement of protection is now better than at any stage of the campaign."

As a matter of fact the managers of both parties are more than dubious, and many of them are whispering to help up their courage. The result is really, in the language of one of them, "too doubtful to be true."

Very Few Bets Made or Offered. It is certainly true that the very few wagers have been recorded. The politicians of a sporting turn either feel too much uncertainty as to the outcome, or can find a more practical use for their available funds in the present contingency.

There are two important points of really national interest in the contest. The first is the election of a successor to Senator Aldrich, and the second, and most vital, is a demonstration as to whether the Republicans or Democrats are the most numerous in the State. It is admitted on all sides that partisan ties will be closely drawn, that a full vote will be out—probably larger than ever before—and that the party which leads in the count tomorrow night is practically assured of Rhode Island's electoral vote in November.

Ex-Congressman Turner, of New York, one of the visiting Democratic statesmen who is still on the ground, says: "A struggle for Electoral Votes. We care nothing for the paltry State offices to be filled, but we do want to add another New England State, even though its electoral vote be small, to the column of the National Democracy. If Candidate Wardwell leads Candidate Brown by a fair plurality we will be satisfied, and there are many contingencies in which the Rhode Island vote might decide a Presidential election. It would nearly offset the loss of West Virginia, in case the Republicans should happen to break the solid South at that point. In the event, which is barely possible, that the Democracy should attempt to carry the country without depending upon New York, the votes of this little State might fill an important gap. It is for November we are laboring now."

The investigation made by THE DISPATCH indicates a divided result as a more than possible outcome of tomorrow's balloting. The Democratic chances of a lead in the popular vote are a shade the best, while the Republicans hold all the vantage ground for the choice of the Legislature and the re-election of Senator Aldrich.

Chief Hopes of the Republicans. The Republican leaders, though, will be very much disappointed if they do not secure a popular endorsement of the protective system and an assurance that the State will be in line as usual in the fall. It is for this that they have labored as never before, and their work has manifestly had some effect. The Democratic campaign reached its climax on Saturday, and since then whatever changes have been accomplished have been in favor of the Republicans.

Sincerely anybody goes to the trouble of denying that boodle has been, is being, and will be most extensively used. The most conservative estimate of the campaign ex-

THE METHODIST SNARLS

Lead to Explanations and Hard Feelings in New York's Conference.

ANOTHER LIVELY QUARREL

Breaks Out in a Fresh Spot Over Some Cold Cash.

DR. E. M. WOOD SPEAKS OUT.

He Says the Conference Is a Very Close Corporation.

AND BACKS UP TOWNSEND'S CHARGES

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Today was a day of explanation at the New York Methodist Conference in the Park Avenue Church, for the ministers and laymen whose names were involved in the scandal brought out the day before. Rev. F. Mason North, concerning whom an anonymous letter was sent to Bowles Colgate, read this declaration: "I am informed that the impression has been created in some minds, by statements made yesterday afternoon upon this floor, that in some way I was concerned in or related to the matter which was referred to by Rev. Dr. King as having been reported to him in confidence. I desire to say, in justice to myself, that any statements directly or indirectly implicating me in conduct or reflecting in any way on my character as a Christian minister are without a shadow of foundation in truth. And I call on any person, in or out of Conference, who has knowledge of any facts in my life, or who has any explanation, or who has any knowledge of any charges derogatory to my reputation as a Christian man."

A Reward of $1,000 Openly Offered.

Dr. North was applauded as he left the stand. Then Rev. Dr. Day, of Calvary Church, said he had nothing to do with the Poughkeepsie circular, and had never been in a caucus in his life. He had not taken part in the investigation, but he would give $1,000 to the Conference to aid in tracing the anonymous letter.

In the afternoon Bowles Colgate, who was put in an unpleasant light by Dr. King's statement, gave his side of the tangle to the Conference. He said he had never heard or known about the papers said to have been abstracted from Dr. King's desk. His sole purpose was to get at the facts regarding the attacks on his friend, Dr. North. He had employed an expert in handwriting only to confirm conclusions already reached, and had never employed detectives.

A Lively Row Over Cash.

In the Newark Conference, assembled in Morristown, New Jersey, on Sunday, East Orange, who was put on the supernumerary list of pastors on Monday night, applied at that time for $300 from the fund raised for the benefit of broken-down ministers. The request was referred to the conference, and the Board of Stewards, when they reported the beneficiaries Mr. Dunn's name was not on the list. In the discussion which followed it was intimated that no pastor should ask for money so long as he was able to work. No names were mentioned, but Mr. Dunn stepped out in front of the conference and said:

"I know to whom all these remarks refer. The meanness, the narrowness, the littleness of this body is my theme. I have been for 31 years a member of this conference, and not a man in it has done more faithful or better work. I have raised hundreds—yes, thousands—of dollars for it, and now when I ask you for this little sum to tide me over, you refuse it. I have never asked for a cent before, and I never would have again. But now, I will not have my name dragged before you, nor will I take a dollar of your money. I love you, brothers, with a few exceptions, but I feel that you are stabbing in the back by some of you."

He Had His Say, Anyway.

No sooner were the words out of his mouth than nearly the whole Conference sprang to its feet with shouts of "No!" "Sit down!" "Make him sit down!" Rev. Mr. Van Horn, of Newark, who sat on a front seat, walked toward Mr. Dunn and shouted: "Take that back! Take that back, sir!" Mr. Dunn did not take it back, but walked to his seat, remarking: "I've had my say, anyway."

Mr. Dunn was so much overcome by his emotion that when he had taken his seat he broke down in tears, and fell sobbing and amid a storm of praise for his career, a preacher the $300 was raised by private subscription, Rev. T. H. Landon starting it with $100.

When Mr. Dunn discovered what was going on he jumped up and exclaimed, "I am no pauper," but when Rev. Mr. Brody, of Newark, shouted at him, the length of the church, "Shut up!" he did so, and gratefully accepted the money.

GOVERNED BY A RING.

Dr. E. M. Wood Declares the Methodist Conference Is Controlled by a Combination—Bright Not in the Clique Feared Into the Background—Townsend's Assertions Indorsed.

The attack of Prof. Luther T. Townsend, of Boston, on the political craftsmen alleged to be at work in the Methodist Church, an account of which was printed exclusively in yesterday's DISPATCH, created somewhat of a commotion in Methodist circles in Pittsburgh yesterday. Prof. Townsend's charges against certain cliques and combinations in the church were confirmed by Rev. E. M. Wood, D. D., President of the Duquesne College.

Dr. Wood was at first slow to discuss the subject, but under fire of pointed questions he first referred to his own experience in the church, and then with tears in his eyes he told of his son being driven from the Methodist Church to that of another denomination.

Refused to Ruin His Boy's Career.

In 1874 Dr. Wood was pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, of this city. His son, then a remarkably bright boy, was in the High School. By a combination, which the doctor considered unbecomingly to him, he was assigned to an obscure charge in Greene county. He refused to go there and he was tried for rebellion. He argued at the trial that his son was in the High School preparing for the ministry, and he contended that it would be unfair and cruel to take the boy from his studies. The Conference relieved him. The son was graduated, went through Yale and finally entered the ministry in the Pittsburgh Conference.

The young minister, Dr. Wood says, could find no place in which to preach, and the young man finally left the church and connected himself with the Congregational church, of Detroit, Mich. He is now in charge of Plymouth Church, in that city, at a salary of $2,000 a year, and his

BRAZEN BOMBITERS.

In Private They Glory in Their Principles, While on the Stand They TELL A DIFFERENT TALE.

Madrid Police Manage Them Better Than Paris Authorities.

SPANISH ANARCHISTS ARE COWED

And Only Foreigners Fresh From France and Portugal Flee Now.

ENGLAND QUITE A REFUGE FOR THEM

APRIL STRICTLY IN IT.

MADRID, April 5.—The excitement caused by the attempt made yesterday to blow up the building in which the Cortes meet, does not abate. On the contrary, as further particulars of the attempted outrage are learned, the public becomes more indignant, and many threats are indulged in. Comparisons are made with the Paris police, who, it is said here, only arrested the Anarchists there from whom they had received considerable damage with their explosives.

It was thought that after the execution of the four Anarchists at Xeres the members of that party would see that the Spanish Government was not inclined to deal with people of that class with half measures. It is believed these executions did have the desired effect, as far as Spanish Anarchists are concerned, and that the subsequent troubles were due to agitators from foreign countries. This idea is borne out by the fact that both the men arrested yesterday in spreading the tenets of their belief, and the Parliamentary buildings were forefired, one a Frenchman and the other a Portuguese.

Legislating Against the Anarchists. The Government is fully alive to the demands of the occasion, and the bill providing for the death penalty shall be inflicted upon persons convicted of using explosives for unlawful purposes will be pushed through as rapidly as possible. Some little dissatisfaction is expressed in political circles here that England declines to enter into an international agreement declaring Anarchists to be pirates and subjecting them to the same punishment provided for pirates; but it is held that, with the knowledge that death will surely follow conviction of the unlawful use of dynamite or other explosives, the Anarchists will give Spain a wide berth. It is thought here that the Anarchists have been allowed too much latitude in spreading the tenets of their belief, and that henceforth the Government should hunt them as wild beasts, to be destroyed on sight.

The two men arrested yesterday were arraigned for examination to-day before a police magistrate. The Frenchman gave his name as Jean Marie Delboche, and the Portuguese gave his as Manuel Ferreira.

The Prisoners Glory in Their Deeds. They both gloried in admitting that they were Anarchists, and boasted that they were important agents of the central Anarchist organization. After his arrest Delboche was examined last night at the Ministry of the Interior. He was very violent, and instead of replying to the questions put to him he argued and declaimed, enforcing his words with heavy blows of his fist upon a table. He denounced in bitter terms the words of all forms of government as unjust and oppressive, and declared in substance that every man should be allowed to follow his own inclinations, with no regard to others, and that the Anarchists sought to attain their end by the use of dynamite. Reason did not enter into his argument in any form, and his words were those of a man whose mind is taken up with the idea of destruction to the exclusion of all thought as to the final consequences.

The Chief of Police, who had him in charge, vainly tried to still the current of his invective. Finally the prisoner became so demonstrative that it was found necessary to place heavy manacles upon him, and he was held for trial.

The Defense Is Rather Contradictory. The defense the prisoner made to-day before the magistrate was ludicrous. Both of them protested, in the face of their previous statements, that they were perfectly innocent of any attempt to destroy either life or property. Delboche declared that he knew nothing whatever of the bomb that had been found in his possession, and this declaration was made despite the fact that papers found on the prisoners showed that they were engaged in a conspiracy to blow up the Chamber of Deputies, the Senate Chamber, the Royal Palace, the Bank of Spain and other public buildings.

Ferreira was not quite so professedly ignorant as his companion. He admitted that he knew he was carrying a bomb, but denied any criminal intention. This was the only defense the prisoner made. The prisoners were held for trial.

On the conclusion of the examination the police made a raid upon an Anarchist club and arrested 23 of its members. They seized a number of documents and several black and red flags. Among the spoils were a number of disguises, which it is supposed were to be used in carrying out dynamite outrages. At midnight a street in Valencia to-day. Nobody was hurt. A box of dynamite has been seized in Malaga.

England as a Refuge for Anarchists. In the British House of Commons to-day, Howard Vincent asked whether, in view of the explosion of Anarchists from France, and the fact that they were excluded from other European countries, and partly from the United States under the alien law, thus leaving Great Britain their only refuge, the Government would take steps to increase the power of the authorities to restrict their entry into the country. Secretary Matthews said he was not aware that France had expelled the Anarchists. If it is probable that any of that class would attempt to come to England the Government would take for the necessary powers to prevent them.

The latest advices from Madrid say three more Anarchists have been arrested. The total number of prisoners is now 13. Delboche, when arraigned before a magistrate to-day, repeated his fanatical harangue. Ferreira was reticent and despondent. The noted Italian Anarchist, Malatesta, was recently in Madrid but is now hiding in Galicia.

NEW YORK'S GERRYMANDER.

It Gives Democrats 21 of the 34 New Districts.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 5.—The bill providing for an apportionment of the counties of the State into new Congressional districts passed the Senate to-night. The Democratic leader, Senator Cantor, replying to criticisms of the bill, said the new arrangement was a fair one, whereupon Mr. Saxton said he had examined it and found on the basis of the last Congressional vote that 21 districts would be Democratic and 13 Republican.

The basis of representation would be 176,

THE METRODIST SNARLS

Lead to Explanations and Hard Feelings in New York's Conference.

ANOTHER LIVELY QUARREL

Breaks Out in a Fresh Spot Over Some Cold Cash.

DR. E. M. WOOD SPEAKS OUT.

He Says the Conference Is a Very Close Corporation.

AND BACKS UP TOWNSEND'S CHARGES

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Today was a day of explanation at the New York Methodist Conference in the Park Avenue Church, for the ministers and laymen whose names were involved in the scandal brought out the day before. Rev. F. Mason North, concerning whom an anonymous letter was sent to Bowles Colgate, read this declaration: "I am informed that the impression has been created in some minds, by statements made yesterday afternoon upon this floor, that in some way I was concerned in or related to the matter which was referred to by Rev. Dr. King as having been reported to him in confidence. I desire to say, in justice to myself, that any statements directly or indirectly implicating me in conduct or reflecting in any way on my character as a Christian minister are without a shadow of foundation in truth. And I call on any person, in or out of Conference, who has knowledge of any facts in my life, or who has any explanation, or who has any knowledge of any charges derogatory to my reputation as a Christian man."

A Reward of $1,000 Openly Offered.

Dr. North was applauded as he left the stand. Then Rev. Dr. Day, of Calvary Church, said he had nothing to do with the Poughkeepsie circular, and had never been in a caucus in his life. He had not taken part in the investigation, but he would give $1,000 to the Conference to aid in tracing the anonymous letter.

In the afternoon Bowles Colgate, who was put in an unpleasant light by Dr. King's statement, gave his side of the tangle to the Conference. He said he had never heard or known about the papers said to have been abstracted from Dr. King's desk. His sole purpose was to get at the facts regarding the attacks on his friend, Dr. North. He had employed an expert in handwriting only to confirm conclusions already reached, and had never employed detectives.

A Lively Row Over Cash.

In the Newark Conference, assembled in Morristown, New Jersey, on Sunday, East Orange, who was put on the supernumerary list of pastors on Monday night, applied at that time for $300 from the fund raised for the benefit of broken-down ministers. The request was referred to the conference, and the Board of Stewards, when they reported the beneficiaries Mr. Dunn's name was not on the list. In the discussion which followed it was intimated that no pastor should ask for money so long as he was able to work. No names were mentioned, but Mr. Dunn stepped out in front of the conference and said:

"I know to whom all these remarks refer. The meanness, the narrowness, the littleness of this body is my theme. I have been for 31 years a member of this conference, and not a man in it has done more faithful or better work. I have raised hundreds—yes, thousands—of dollars for it, and now when I ask you for this little sum to tide me over, you refuse it. I have never asked for a cent before, and I never would have again. But now, I will not have my name dragged before you, nor will I take a dollar of your money. I love you, brothers, with a few exceptions, but I feel that you are stabbing in the back by some of you."

He Had His Say, Anyway.

No sooner were the words out of his mouth than nearly the whole Conference sprang to its feet with shouts of "No!" "Sit down!" "Make him sit down!" Rev. Mr. Van Horn, of Newark, who sat on a front seat, walked toward Mr. Dunn and shouted: "Take that back! Take that back, sir!" Mr. Dunn did not take it back, but walked to his seat, remarking: "I've had my say, anyway."

Mr. Dunn was so much overcome by his emotion that when he had taken his seat he broke down in tears, and fell sobbing and amid a storm of praise for his career, a preacher the $300 was raised by private subscription, Rev. T. H. Landon starting it with $100.

When Mr. Dunn discovered what was going on he jumped up and exclaimed, "I am no pauper," but when Rev. Mr. Brody, of Newark, shouted at him, the length of the church, "Shut up!" he did so, and gratefully accepted the money.

GOVERNED BY A RING.

Dr. E. M. Wood Declares the Methodist Conference Is Controlled by a Combination—Bright Not in the Clique Feared Into the Background—Townsend's Assertions Indorsed.

The attack of Prof. Luther T. Townsend, of Boston, on the political craftsmen alleged to be at work in the Methodist Church, an account of which was printed exclusively in yesterday's DISPATCH, created somewhat of a commotion in Methodist circles in Pittsburgh yesterday. Prof. Townsend's charges against certain cliques and combinations in the church were confirmed by Rev. E. M. Wood, D. D., President of the Duquesne College.

Dr. Wood was at first slow to discuss the subject, but under fire of pointed questions he first referred to his own experience in the church, and then with tears in his eyes he told of his son being driven from the Methodist Church to that of another denomination.

Refused to Ruin His Boy's Career.

In 1874 Dr. Wood was pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, of this city. His son, then a remarkably bright boy, was in the High School. By a combination, which the doctor considered unbecomingly to him, he was assigned to an obscure charge in Greene county. He refused to go there and he was tried for rebellion. He argued at the trial that his son was in the High School preparing for the ministry, and he contended that it would be unfair and cruel to take the boy from his studies. The Conference relieved him. The son was graduated, went through Yale and finally entered the ministry in the Pittsburgh Conference.

The young minister, Dr. Wood says, could find no place in which to preach, and the young man finally left the church and connected himself with the Congregational church, of Detroit, Mich. He is now in charge of Plymouth Church, in that city, at a salary of $2,000 a year, and his

REBS IN HONOLULU

Threaten to Overthrow the Government and Establish a Republic or

JOIN THE UNITED STATES.

The Hawaiian Army of Fifty Men Not in the Very Best Shape

TO OVERCOME THE REVOLUTION.

Nightly Meetings of the Malcontents Held on the Islands.

THE QUEEN NEVER STIRS UNGUARDED

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Private letters from Honolulu show that revolution is in the air, and that an attempt will soon be made by a large body of natives, headed by a half-breed, Robert Wilcox, to overthrow the present Government and establish either a republic or secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he returned from Italy he was given a commission in the Hawaiian army, but he proved refractory and was degraded. Then he swore revenge. The revolution which he headed four years ago proved a fiasco because of insufficient preparation and the fact that the white rifle corps under Colonel Ashford protected Kalaikua. One of the humorous features of the revolt was that the insurgents were dislodged from a corner of the royal palace which they had seized by dynamite bombs that were hurled in secure annexation to the United States. There has been much talk recently, but it was only the day before the steamer sailed that the authorities became alarmed and began to barricade the palace. Wilcox, who is half Italian, half Kanaka, and who was sent to Italy for education in a military school, has been a sorehead for years. When he