ANOTHER GOOD TRY.

The East End Gyms Once More Play Well Against Our Sluggers,

BUT BAD FIELDING SPOILED THEM.

George Dixon Signs Articles to Fight Champion Fred Johnston.

ARTIE WHITNEY CAUSES A SURPRISE

There was another good attendance a Exposition Park yesterday afternoon to see the second game between the East End Gyms and the local League sluggers. The weather was very agreeable, but the grounds were not in very good condition, the outfield being very muddy. The County League champions again demonstrated that they are a good amateur team; while at times their fielding was a tittle shaky, they pleased their admirers very much, indeed. The truth is that if Briggs, who played at second in the first inning, had not made a very bad throw to first base, the game would have been extremely close and exciting. Grant's error had a fearful effect on the contest as it meant five runs for the professionals. Two men were out and Beckley knocked a grounder to Briggs who threw it past first base. Beckley should easily have been retired and that would have put the side out, but, instead, the sluggers went to work and scored five runs. Berger in Good Form.

Berger and Grant Briggs were added to the Gyms and the former played really a fine game. He fielded second base admirably and hit the ball well. He was loudly applauded. Briggs was out of form and played poorly. Gumbert pitched a splendid game. At times he was a little erratic, but, generally speaking, he pitched very effectively. He had lots of speed and some of our big sluggers could do nothing with him. Altogether the Gyms did extremely well and they are a credit to the amateur circles of Western Pennsylvania. They have a good infielder in Cargo and two very good men in the Barr brothers. The home players were again miserably off in their batting and were not able to make any impression with the stick. Far-rell, who is evidently much over weight, fielded poorly, doubtless because of his being too big. There was a great contrast between the energy of the Gyms and that of the professionals. The tormer played as if the pennant depended on the game, while many of the home players didn't show anything like anxiety about the affair. They may be waiting until they meet more prominent foes, but some of them will have to be more lively than they have been.

Camp Was There Again,

Camp pitched a tolerably fair game. His aim was accurate, but he apparently did not put on "all steam" at times, and he was wise in this. He sustained the good impression already made, and there is great hope of his becoming a very useful man in

The first inning took lots of interest out of the game because of the number of runs made by the home players. Hanlon led off and got his base on balls. Bierbauer made a hit and Hanlon got to third, which cred-Ited him with a stolen base. Bierbauer also stole second. Swartwood fouled out to Dan Harr and Farrell knocked up a little fly, which Gumbert caught. Then Briggs' error allowed Beckley to get safely to first and two runs scored. Shugart followed with a single, Smith got his base on balls, and Earle made a single and stole second, all of which, aided by a bad throw by Berger, scored three more runs. A base on balls, a bad throw by Briggs and a single by Earle netted another run in the third, and a "life hit, a passed ball and Smith's single scored nother in the eighth.

The only run of the Gyms was made in the fifth inning. Haller got his base on balls and reached third on Berger's single. Thompson's single to right scored Haller. The score:

WHITNEY'S FOOLISH THREAT

Arthur Threatens to Sue the Local Club for His Salary. Arthur Whitney caused quite a surprise in baseball circles yesterday by refusing to accept his release from the local ball club. He claimed that the ten-day clause in a con-tract is not recognized by law, and that he is inclined to stay here all senson and see for his salary at the end of the season. He will not be allowed in the dressing rooms or will not be allowed in the dressing rooms or on the grounds,

Mr. Whitney is acting a very mulish and ungenerous part, and were there any validity in his claim there would simply be an end to baseball. He has already received $500 from the club, and certainly the officials haven perfect right to use their judgment as to men whom they want and men whom they don't want. If Mr. Whitney intends to play any more baseball he is just doing the thing that will cause every club to ignore him. It will certainly be better for Arthur if he goes away from Pittsburg as other gentlemanny players have done. If baseball is not a huge farce his claim is as nonsensical as his claim of owning the moon would be.

To-Day's Home Game.

Weather permitting there will be a ball game at Exposition Park this afternoon between the Milwaukee team and the home aggregation. The "Brewers" are not a bad lot of players and as this is their first appearance here a good crowd may be expected to greet them. Baldwin and Miller will tikely be the home battery.

Boston made a vigorous effort to get Morgan Murphy. If Boston wants another catcher as good as Murphy, the question naturally arises, why do not the triumvirs keep Kelly? THE New Yorks won the last regular contested world's championship in 1889, and there has been none since. The New Yorks are, therefore, the present champions of the world. If both the series of 1822 are won by the same club it will be the champ on, but if two clubs each win a series, they will fight for the world's championship.

TO ENFORCE A CONTRACT

Jewett and Miller Claim Hostetter Refuse to Surrender Securities. It is pretty hard to understand what is back of the suits of George M. Jewett and John Henry Miller, of Baltimore, against D. Herbert Hostetter. The first-named gentleman, it appears, entered into a scheme to consolidate certain railroads and coal properties around Raltimore. A syndicate known as the Transportation and Terminal known as the Transportation and Terminal Company, of Baltimore, claimed to control the Deer Creek and Susquehanna, the Maryland Central, and York and Peach Bottom roads. A number of Pittsburgers, among them Mr. Hostetter, held stocks in these companies. Part of the deal was the construction of the Baltimore Belt Line road, which for the present is blocked by terminal difficulties.

Miller and Jewett claim they made a contract with Hostetter, by the terms of which he was to surrender his securities in these companies. The suit is brought to enforce the contract. Mr. Hostetter denies that such a contract was made.

PRINCIPALS ARE YET AT LARGE.

Quarrel Between State and Federal Authorities in the Way.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEARBY TOWNS

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. ROCKWOOD, April 6.-Revenue Officer Fisher and his posse captured the men they were after, and had it not been for a conflict between the State and the United States officers, the murderers, Miller and Pritts, would have been lodged in jail ere this. Abe Pletcher and Jacob Garry were merely arrested for the purpose of forcing some sort of confession from them regarding the whereabouts of the murderers. These murderers must be arrested either by the State or county officers, the United States Government having nothing to do with it. This explains the long delay in the arrest of the principals. The two men arrested to-day can be tried at any time for moonshining, but if Miller and Pritts were pulled in, they would have to first stand trial for murder.

Judging from indications late to-night the matter has at last been placed in the hands of Sheriff Good, of Somerset, who will leave the question of moonshining to the Government and arrest the murderers, It is understood here to-night that Commissioner of Internal Revenue Mason has posttively declined to aid the local or State authorities in running the murderers down.

Garry was taken at the grist mill, where he was hard at work preparing to put in a new water wheel, and Pletcher was taken a short distance from the mill, and was on hi way there when put under arrest. Neither prisoner offered the slightest resistance, but both protested strongly against being taken to Somerset. The warrants were sworn out by R. G. and H. G. Hochsteller, charging that Jacob M. Garry and Abe Pletcher had conspired, planned, aided and abetted, thus becoming accessories to the murder of Jonathan C. Hochsteller. The warrants were shown them, and they said they were guilty, but they did not think they ought to be arrested unless Miller and Pritts were. They were placed on horses and taken to Rockwood, where they arrived at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Here they were placed in the borough lockun and a telegram sent to Chief of Police Gilbert at this place to come for them.

The prisoners look enough alike to be brothers. Both are typical mountaineers, and are giants in statue, Garry standing 6 teet 4 inches in his stockings and Pietcher going him three inches better. Both wore low-crowned hats of black feil, heavy gum boots with their cordurey breeches stuffed in the tops and red flannel shirts. Garry looked worried and frightened and kept constantly glancing around like a wild animal just eaged. Abe Pletcher appeared cool and collected, and is either not as guilty or more of a philosopher than his comrade. to Somerset. The warrants were sworn GREENSBURG, April 6 .- Last night about 1 clock Mrs. Daniel Krigger, of New Flor ence, noticed a light in Daniel Pershing's store, across the street from her residence, and, waking her husband and his brother William, told them there were burglars at work in Pershing's store. Instead of going over to the store they went to Mr. Pershing's house and aroused him, and the three started to the store. While hurrying along the street they met a man whom they did not know, and at once suspected that he was a burglar, ordered him to lait, but he, not knowing them, thought they were highwaymen intent upon robbing him, so he re-fused to halt, at the same time saying that if they did not go about their business he would shoot them.

His first shot struck William Krigger in the right shoulder, inflicting a serious, but, it is thought, not fatal wound. By this time a number of the citizens had been aroused and were at the scene, and when the smoke had cleared away the man whom the trio took for a burglar proved to be Charles Long, a young man of Nineven, who had been calling on his sweetheart, and was on his way home when he encountered the three men.

Fiery Revenge Against a Witness, ZANESVILLE, April 6.—[Special.]—Last win-ter Marshall McDonald, a storekeeper at Keifer, a village 14 miles south of this city, received a letter saying that if he testified to certain events in a trial about to take place, his store would be burned. Early this morning he was awakened by the flames, which had nearly destroyed a new store building which he had just occupied. A window in the store was raised and there were other evidences of incendiary work. The building and goods were totally destroyed. Loss, $3,000; $2,000 insurance.

SIX STUDENTS EXPELLED.

A Sensational Turn in the Scandal at New

Wilmington College, New Castle, April 6 .- [Special.] .- This morning six of the students of Westminster College at New Wilmington were expelled. It will be remembered that several weeks ago 12 students and several young men of the town were arrested on the charge of assault on a pretty but weak-minded girl named Maggie Rutter. While there was no evidence that tended to show the student guilty as charged, there was enough shown to indicate the students had been indiscreet, to say the least. All the students were discharged.

The faculty started a quiet investigation, and what was learned is a secret with them. It was shocking enough, however, to induce the faculty to expel the ringlenders. Dr. Ferguson, of the college, says his scholars must behave like gentlemen or there will be trouble, as the college has aiready received newspaper notices anything but complimentary as a result of the Maggie Rutter affair.

A Very Cold-Blood Uxoricide. WHEELING, April 6.—[Special.]—The inquest in the case of Mrs. Marie Maier, killed by her husband, was held this afternoon, and shows a most deliberate murder. Greene's Nervura has done wonders fo My nerves had become so weak as to render me incapable of fulfilling my duties. I had no confidence in myself. I wou'd at times grow to weak that it seemed as if I should never be able to move again. I could not remember anything. Dreadful shooting pains occurred frequently all through my eyes and head: often severe headache would follow which would prostrate me for hours. Physicians said no help was possible. that I had been greatly benefited. I continued its use and am now doing my work and have gained my original health again. ANNA KING. 135 Diamond st., Philadelphia, Pa." By Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in euring all forms of nervous and chronic diseases, 35 W. 14th Street, New York, can be
