Writes to a friend in this city that she bought a Conover piano while living in San Francisco, and on her return to London, Eng., she found her Broadwood Grand so miserable by comparison that she actually had her Conover brought from San Francisco at a cost of $175—and she wrote to Messrs. Conover Bros. that in all England there was not its equal. The agency for these instruments is at Kieber's music store, 206 Wood street.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT: Four years ago Kaufmanns opened their Cloak and Millinery Parlors with six employes, $15,000 worth of stock and a floor space of 60x20 feet. To-day the same department requires 150 employes, $175,000 worth of stock and almost an acre (126x120 feet) of floor space—outdistancing in grandeur and magnitude any similar enterprise (old or new) in either city. The cause of this unrivaled growth (from acorn to oak in four years) the public well knows.
