Their Election to Office.

Them No More Power.

Mr. Stewart's Grave Silver Logic. Mr. Stewart gave the amount of gold in the Treasury as $125,815,090, and said that if the gold standard was to be maintained the silver act of 1890 would have to be repealed, and the Secretary of the Treasury would have to be authorized to sell bonds in order to accumulate gold enough to redeem the proposition might be submitted; but he was not convinced of it at the present time. He would therefore state some of his objections would therefore state some of his objections to it.

He said that there was no demand for the change, that there had been no grievance shown, no injury done, no suggestion that unless the change was made, rich men would break into the Senare. He did not propose to gratify the Furmers' Alliance by voting for a constitutional amendment for which he thought there was no occasion. Mr. Chandler went on to speak of the evil

HOW THE YAQUIS FIGHT.

PHŒNIX, ARIZ, April 12 -An authentic report has reached this city that the Mexican soldiers, under Lieutenant Montana, had met the renegade Yaquis well up the Yaqui river and had a hard fight with them, in which a number of both soldiers and Indians were killed. The soldiers, 200 strong, met the Indians in a defile of the Sunnis Blancos. There were a large number of Indians. The engagement lasted eight hours, when the Indians dispersed through the mountains, leaving the soldiers masters of the situation.

masters of the situation.

This is the way the Yaquis fight, and it makes them a formidable adversary. They will rise up in large numbers, and, when closely pressed, everyone becomes his own commander and takes to the brush. They are brave, too, and seldom refuse to fight the soldiers when equal in numbers. The Mexicans have sent for reinforcements, when they will pursue the renegades further into the mountains.

MIKE AND 'LIZA STILL IN JAIL

A New Witness, a Young One, Turns Up Against the Flying Roll Man.

DETROIT, April 12 -Prince Michael and Eliza Courts appeared in the Recorder's Court this morning with the intention of giving new bail and securing their release. The bondsmen failed to appear, though, and the couple were taken back to jail.

Ellen Rollinson, a girl of 18 years, who represented "Temperance" while she was with the Michaelites, but who deserted them to return to her parents at Toronto, has come back here to accuse Mills of a most heinous crime, Eliza Courts assisting him in using force to effect his purpose.

When Mr. Nail started out with "The Drummer Boy" he tried some minstrel work with his character, but it was no go.

"It was at New Haven," said Mr. Nail, "that I tried a song and dance in the camp scene. I had been used to two or three recalls, but after what I thought was my best work there was not a sound. It fell flat two nights in succession, and since then I have not tried it. The explanation is that people who go to see "The Drummer Boy" are not in the habit of going to all sorts of shows, and specialties don't seem to strike them in the right spot."

mingling domestic and foreign affairs, being the naval appropriation bill. The first question was brought forward by Mr. Cooper, of Indians, who rising to a personal explanation not only defended himself from charges of having used his position to influence the Pension Office, but made an attack upon the Commissioner of Pensions. He was frequently interrupted, but finally succeeded in finishing his speech. It made no sensation. The second question, which has reference indirectly to our naval establishment, received little attention, as the general debate was postponed until the item touching the increase of the navy shall have been reached. Mr. Allen, of Mississippi, asked unanimous consent for the present consideration of a joint resolution appropriating 250,000 for purchase and distribution of subsistence stores to the sufferers from the overflow of the Tombigbee river and its tributaries. Mr. Kilgore, of Texas, objected, and the resolution was referred.

The House then went into committee of the whole (Mr. O'Ferrall, o' Virginia, in the chair) on the urgent deficiency appropriation bill.

Taking advantage of the scope given to general debate, Mr. Bland, of Missouri, brought up the silver question by sending to the clerk's desk and having read the letter of Senator Palmer to a Chicago paper in which he declared that the Bland bill is not a free coinage measure. He (Mr. Bland) did not fear the accusation of being actuated by a silver ring. There were other rings in this country; and when gentlemen declined to listen to the voice of the people and listened to the tickers of Wall street, they belonged to the Gould ring.

The committee then rose and the bill was passed. It appropriates $1,012,636. up and amended (on motion of Mr. Sherman) by inserting the words "and a detailed statement of the amount purchased each day," Mr. Stewart proceeded to address the Senate on the subject. He was not sure, he said, that he fully understood the last monthly statement of the Treasury De-partment as to the financial condition of the Treasury. Having cited the figures as set the April statement, he remarked that the entire amount of gold in the Treasury (in excess of the outstanding gold cer-tificates) was less than one-eighth of the silver and paper for which a redemption demand might be made on it. IT'S nonsense to be without a good room. Read Wednesday's To Let Rooms in the Cent-a-Word columns of THE DISPATCH,

Harmony and Zelienople Declining in Production Every Day. BROWNSDALE AND HENDERSONVILLE

One big fifth sand well was drilled into that sand yesterday afternoon. It belongs to Jennings, Guffey & Co., and is their No. 7 on the Bell farm. It is located on the extreme northern end of the farm, and is just treme northern end of the farm, and is just south of the disputed well which is located on a part of the Gormley lease.

Last night, about 6 o'clock, it reached the sand, and without warning it started to flow at the rate of 70 barrels an hour. It is one of those wells which are located on the old Matthews belt, and is looked upon only as a consecuential producer.

Other wells have been drilled on this farm, and with the exception of a few wells they have not turned out to be extraordinarily large producers.

The production of the field yesterday remained the same as the day before, but the Store well was not among those enumerated below.

McDonald and Butler. The Forest Oil Company's No. 1 on the Stirling farm, a mile southwest of Nobles-town, is due in the Gordon sand to-day. Their No. I'on the Rachel McGregor, north west of Oakdale, is also in the Gordon sand. HARMONY—There has been a heavy decline HARMONY—There has been a heavy decline in this field since the middle of last month. Then the maximum output was 7,000 barrels, while now it is only 4,000 barrels a day. The drill is gradually loser its vigor and the production is steadily going down.

T. W. Phillips & Co. brought in a good well yesterday on the old McCalmont farm. It made 175 barrels in the last 24 hours and will probably settle down to 100 barrels a day.

It is located about four miles southwest from Butler.

Not Drilled Heretofore, This part of the territory was neglected during the Thorn Creek excitement. Recently, however, Mr. Phillips has drilled several wells which bave responded in a manner such as gives hope to the ordinary operator. Brownspale—Liedecker & Smith's well on the Campbell farm has been shot and is reported to be pumping 25 barrels a day. The total production of this field is reported to be about 265 barrels a day. With the exception of the well on the Campbell farm it is all controlled by the Eastern Oil Company. Schlegel, Lenz & Co. are still fishing in the sand on the Critchlow farm. It is now set down as a 100-barrel well.

Hendersonville—The Forest Oil Company has started to pump its No. 2 on the Catherine Garvin farm and it is good for 10 barrels a day. It is 1,000 feet east of the old Duttil No. 1. ly, however, Mr. Phillips has drilled several

CURIOUS APPEAL FOR PARDON

For a Man Serving Out a Ten-Year Sentenc in San Francisco, SAN FRANCISCO, April 12. - [Special.] - A Quentin prison directors for the release of John McDonald, now serving a sentence of ten years for forgery, committed here four years ago. McDonald was convicted of having a wooden die of a £5 Bank of England note. Now comes a statement from George Bidwell that McDonald's incarceration is due not to an attempt to defraud the Bank of England by the issuance of forged notes, but to use them in an endeavor to secure

but to use them in an endeavor to secure the release of his brother, George McDonald,
a pal of Bidwell's, from an English prison, where he is now serving a life sentence for complicity with Bidwell in the famous Bank of England forgeries.
When George McDonald failed to secure his release by the claim of American citzenship, he devised a scheme to bring a pressure on the Bank of England. He sent word to his brother John to procure a die of a £5 Bank of England note, strike off a package, and forward it to an agreed upon address in Paris. This done George would make an appeal to the bank for clemency, on promise of furnishing the location of other forged notes. The scheme was a cunning one, and might have succeeded but for John's part of the programme having miscarried. In support of this, Bidwell vesterday submitted to the State Board of Prison Directors a document purporting to be letters sent by George to his brother, accompanied by a cipher code agreed upon. He also has the dying statement of John McDonald's wife made to Father Montgomery.

tive district had been filled through the secret candidacy (unknown to the Democratic voters) of a Republican named Weaver, who had gone through the district as an insurance agent and been elected before the Democrats knew that there was any opposition in the district. He had characterized this as a trick, and it had been laughed at as such in Illinois; but he had not intimated that General Logan had had any knowledge of it. any knowledge of it.

Mr. Chandler resumed and finished his speech against the constitutional amend-Another objection which he urged a ainst it was the present condition of suf-frage in the United States. He spoke of the frage in the United States. He spoke of the suppression of popular suffrage in the three States of South Carolina, Mississippl and Louisiana, and of the degraded condition of the voters in all the great cities of the Union. The vote in New York City, he said, was cast by the ignorant, the degraded, the criminal classes of that city.

enormous influx of foreigners, unable to read and write, degraded in every way, in-capable of casting an intelligent ballot, and who, as soon as they reached the country, were made voters without reserence to the provisions of the naturalization laws, whenwere made voters without reference to the provisions of the naturalization haws, whenever a great political party determined to bring them to the polls. This was the shocking and horrible condition of the suffrage in America and instead of undertaking to restore the suffrage to purity and integrity, the Senators who had made such long speeches in support of the Constitutional amendment were gravely proposing to enlarge the sphere of popular elections and to make the first important amendment to the Constitution in 109 years.

Mr. Palmer replied at considerable length to the remarks which Mr. Chandler had made, personal to himself, relating to his political history. He briefly related the history and said he had left the Republican party when that party left its own principles and became a tariff and protectionist party. He said that Mr. Chandler's speech reminded him of a good old Baptist preacher who said that he could preach against slavery and drinking whisky from any text in the Bible.

No Reason to Fear the Popular Vote,

And there was coming into the country ar

No Reason to Fear the Popular Vote, So the Senator from New Hampshire seemed to be able to preach in regard to certain matters, from any text. Mr. Palmer had no fear of the popular vote. Most of the evils that could be traced to popular influences were nothing as com-pared with the evil that could be found to popular influences were nothing as compared with the evil that could be found where the popular will and the popular interests were disregarded. The Senator from New Hampshire had spoken of him as a Republican. Not only that, but he (Mr. Palmer), had helped to make the Republican party. He had been the President of the first Republican State convention ever held in the State of allinois. While the Republican party was devoted to the uses for which it was made, no grander or nobler party had existed. It was only after it fell into the hands of men who controlled it for the advancement of their own private interests that it had become the foo to the country which it was now.

Mr. Cullom had also something to say about the political incident which resulted in General Logan's last election to the Senate. He asserted that there was no frand in it. He did not know whether General Logan knew anything about it or not, but he knew that in all that long controversy—from the middle of January to the 19th of May—it had never been insimuated that there had been corruption or frand on the part of anybody.

If his colleague left the Republican party

on account of its protectionist principles, it was somewhat strange, he thought, that he was somewhat strange, he thought, that he should have continued in it so long—the Morrill tariff having been enacted in 1862.

After this Illimois branch of the discussion had continued for over an hour, Mr. Hawley expressed the opinion that what took place in Illimois 25 or 30 years ago was of little importance now; and he related another anecdote of General Logan, when somehouy asked him on the stump whether he had not (as a Democrat) said this, he replied: Yes, I was as big a fool then as you are now." [Laughter]. Let us—said Mr. Hawley—go to the calendar.

MR. RAUM CALLED UP.
