MR. COOPER UNLOADS

His Burden of Complaint Against Commissioner Raum's Methods.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE DEBAUCHED

To Bank Up All the Business in the Hands of the Favored Few.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Representative Cooper, of Indiana, to-day made a state-ment before the House Pension Office Investigating Committee in denial and explanation of the charges made against him by Commissioner Raum. Mr. Cooper said he would neither excuse nor justify Hersey's conduct, but from the facts it would be seen that he (Cooper) had infinitely more cause to complain than any one else, and that he had not the slightest responsibility Witness needing assistance employed Hersey at $20 per month, after learning that he was considered competent and reliable, and gave him the necessary authority to him attorneys could examine their cases. Out-of-town attorneys, however, had no method of learning the status of their cases except by calling to their aid a member of Congress or corresponding with the bureau. Thousands of complaints had been received that the letters of claimants and attorneys were wholly ignored by the Pension Office and he submitted letters complaining that the whole system was being worked for the benefit of Washington at-use his name on Congressional call slips.

During most of the time Hersey worked for Harmful Debauchery of the Public Service He had no excuse to make for anyone who abused the confidence of a Congressman to supply for pay the demand for information about cases, but the policy pursued by Commissioner Raum to bank up all this business in the hands of Washington attorneys, among whom are his son and the indorsers of his notes, is as much of a crime and a more harmful debauchery of the public service. Whatever Mr. Hersey had done in the way of selling information had been done without Mr. Cooper's knowledge or consent as had already been tes-had been done without Mr. Cooper's knowledge or consent as had already been testified.

The Commissioner knew as early as September last that Hersey was abusing witness' confidence and in January the Commissioner had asked witness if Hersey was authorized to sign witness if Hersey was authorized to sign witness' name, a thing he already knew, so instead of telling witness of his suspension he did everything in his power to have Hersey bribed, and in the hope that he might entrap witness had spread a net over two or three States and called his spies and informers into requisition. The first information witness had that Mr. Hersey was receiving pay for work done over his signature was when he received the letter from Morgan enclosing $25, which witness returned in a letter telling Morgan that Hersey could not take pay for work done as a part of witness' Congressional duties.

A Belation Somewhat Distant.

A Relation Somewhat Distant, It was untrue that he had told Mr. Morgan that Hersey would work for him for pay; and witness desired to make the declaration that he had never directly or indirectly asked or accepted a cent for any service growing out of his connection with public affairs.

Mr. Raum had introduced a great deal of cor-Mr. Raum had introduced a great deal of correspondence between Hersey and Mr. Peet, and charged that Peet was related to witness. Mr. Cooper said Peet was a brother-in-law of his brother and an employe of Maring & Slusher, pension attorneys. Mr. Peet had told him that he intended to go into business in Kansas and wanted a partner. At Peet's request witness recommended Peet to Hersey. He believed an honorable partnership was contemplated, and never afterward thought or heard of the matter.

Mr. Cooper then referred to the charge that he had authorized Maring & Slusher to print his signature on thousands of imitation Congressional cail slips, which had been thrown in the waste basket by Commissioners Black and Tanner. Mr. Coopersaid Maring had been mentioned for the Republican nomination in his (Cooper's) district, and when witness became a member of Congress in 1859 Mr. Maring, who had an extensive in 1859, Mr. Maring, who had an extensive pension business came to him and said he desired to use witness name in calling up cases of "the boys."

Caught When a Green Band.

Witness knew nothing of pension laws at the time, and on Mr. Maring's represents tions that it was a usual thing, and the exhibition of a call signed by Senator Turpie, hibition of a call signed by Senator Turpie, gave Maring his consent, but with the understanding that the privilege was to be used only for soldiers in witness' district.

Witness afterward learned that Maring was calling up claims all over the country, and then wrote to Commissioner Tanner and told him that, while he had authorized the use of his name, he had expressly limited that privilege to soldiers of his district. Commissioner Raum, for purposes which would be perfectly plain, had either destroyed or in some manner suppressed the whole of this correspondence. It that letter and witness' other correspondence with Commissioner Tanner were produced Raum's criticism would be answered in advance.

The recklessness of General Raum, Mr. Cooper said, was shown in his submitting an amidavit of David L. Gitt, that Commissioner Black and thrown 3,000 of witness' Congressional call slips in the waste basket, when the record showed witness did not become a Congressman until General Black went out. Raum Was Hot After Cooper.

In his desire to injure witness, Commis sioner Raum had been guilty of a deliberate fasehood, for he had called attention to Hersey's having used witness' name on call slips and said he had made no discovery selys having used witness name on can slips and said he had made no discovery that Hersey had used any other member's name than that of witness, when the very papers he filed as exhibits showed five cases in which other members' names were used. It had been stated, Mr. Cooper said, that 40,000 call slips had been printed in his name, whereas the printer testified that only 5,000 had been printed.

The witness produced letters between himself and ex-Commissioner Tanner. They showed that he himself had enclosed a sample Congressional call slip printed in Indiana to Commissioner Tanner, called attention to it and asked if it were proper or improper for him to give permission to Maring & Shasher to use them. Commissioner Tanner's reply said most assuredly the slips "cannot go," and that the office could not permit the printing presses all over the country to send out these slips. Mr. Cooper next put in a letter directing Maring & Shasher to discontinue using the slips.

A few weeks since among the list of corporation licenses issued by the Secretary of this State was one issued to Messrs. Lord &

He was on his way home from Philadelphia, where he had been seeing some of the party leaders. State Treasurer Boyer expects to return to the House, and he will probably be a candidate. He held the position for two consecutive terms before he, went into the Treasury HERSEY'S ACTIONS WITHOUT EXCUSE

before he, went into the Treasury Department, and the feeling is strong in the western part of the State that he should step aside and given other men a chance. Mr. Bover was a popular presiding officer, but he doesn't deserve the earth.
Harry Walton, of Philadelphia, is also a candidate, and the Quaker City representatives,
