ON THE HOME STRETCH.

License Court Judges Will Finish the Hearings To-Day.

IN THE SPEAK-EASY DISTRICTS.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Remonstrates Against Applicants.

ALL THE NEWS OF THE COUNTY COURTS.

Yesterday's session of the license court lasted until after 7 o'clock in the evening. Considering that Judges Collier and Slagle have been working so much overtime there is some difference of opinion as to whether the work of the present court has been done in any less time than those of former years. The lasts of the applicants will be heard to-day.

Joseph Bude, Harrison township, was the first applicant of the day. A remonst charging that he had been indicted for illegal liquor selling in various forms was read, and evidence was offered to sustain it. There was a deluge of remonstrances in this township, they being filed against Joseph Conwell, W. T. Clarey, C. F. Colbert, John Duster, Rona Hengi, E. Janssen, I. H. Kuhn, Albert Keppler, G. Kuhnert, Magdalena Mihlheizer, Casper Schrode, George Snyder, Henry Staum and J. H. Thomas. The applicants who were not opposed were Moses Dean, C. Huth, George Haegle, Mrs. Minnie Haupt, J. W. Heyer, Michael Hammer, R. M. Sharar, J. R. Wilson, Nicholas Welsch and Frank Wolff.

There were four candidates from Indiana township. They were Wm. Hartz, Catherine King, Jacob Klein and Gustave Schneller. Nothing of importance was elicited in the examination of any of them.

In the Speak-Easy District.

Lower St. Clair township came up in the afternoon. This is known as a speak-easy district, and has given the Southside police more trouble than any other district adjoin ing the city. There are only eight licensed houses in the township now, and it is stated that there are several times as many speak-casies. None of the applicants yesterday casts. None of the applicants yesterday had much trouble, except that they were questioned closely as to whether they had sold illegally or not during the past year. John McCullough, one of the Lower St. Chir applicants, had no attorney. He said he did not know it was necessary to have Judge Slagle-Well, it is not necessary to nave one. We will listen to anything you neve one. We will listen to anything you inve to say. The applicant got confused and the next was called.

The applicant got confused and the next was called. Mrs. Margaret J. McGuire, of the Pitts-burg and Elizabeth road, said she had no hartender, and the Court indicated that she had better engage one. Mr. Christy had a remonstrance against John Ulrich, of Marshall township. There is no licensed house in the township now. He also had a remonstrance against Philip Neuman, the only applicant from McCand-less township. It was alleged that the ap-pilcant had sold to William Warren, who had been declared an habitual drunkard.

Said He Sold to Her Husband,

Mr. Warren's wife and mother appeared against Mr. Neuman. Young Mrs. Warren said she had notified the applicant not to sell to her husband, and in half an hour after ward he had sold him a bottle of whisky.

E. Y. Breck represented a Pennsylvania Railroad remonstrance against A. W. Douds, of Turtle Creek. Mr. Robertson appeared for the applicant, and a dozen witnesses said his place was a necessity. Mr. Breck had about 15 witnesses, some of them ralircad employes, who opposed the applicant, be-cause of his close proximity to the ralircad. The same fight was made against August Goldstrohm, of Brinton, and C. W. Wymand, Daniel McMunn and Peter Walter, of Walls. The others heard in the afternoon were: Lower St. Clait township—J. Arrand, Mi-chael Augustin, William Ballmer, Daniel Dorsey, John Engstler, John Fromm, John Franz, Catherine G. Goldbach, F. H. Humpe, A. W. Hoffman, Nicholas Klinkner, Peter Karrenbauer, Herman Mewes, William Prim, Hartman Schroeder, John Schirra and Christian Wagner. Mifflin township—G. R. Briggs, W. J. Coates, Wm. Curry, Wm. Dobbins, James Erans, tabelel Farore W. S. Goldstrohm, Thomas of Turtle Creek. Mr. Robertson appeared

The committee has made a favorable report on both bills, and he is now endeavoring to arrange a date upon which they shall receive consideration in the House. The appropriations bills are to have the right of way for the next two weeks, but as soon as they are disposed of Mr. Washington proposes to call up the new State bills for action. new State bills for action. He had a consultation with Senator Faulkner to-day on the subject, and the latter, as a member of the Senate Commit-tee on Territories, has promised to do all in his power to expedite their passare. There was a disposition among Republicans to postpone action upon these bills until next season, but the opposition has somewhat subsided in view of the fact that the bills if enacted into law will not become operative until after the next Presi-dental election.

He speaks ten languages and his brother speaks eight. eight.

HUNTING A HUSBAND

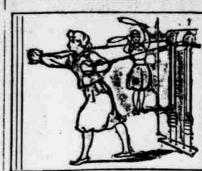

Mrs. Charles Krammer Followed Her Faith less Spouse Three Years.

DENVER, April 13 .- [Special.]-In New York City over five years ago Charles Krammer married Bertie Wilson. Two years later he fled with Annie Kosenberg, no one knew to what part of the world, His wife vowed she would find out where they were if it took the remainder of her life. For three years she wrote letters and traveled throughout the country. Last week she learned that the couple would be found in Denver.

The plucky little woman boarded the first train and arrived here on Sunday, and he long-delayed revenge was partially realized to-day when she caused the arrest of the truants. Mrs. Krammer will leave Denver as soon as justice has been meted out to Annie, and says she will yet have the faithless Charles.

yesterday against the city of Pittsburg and E. M. Bigelow as Chief of the Department of Public Works, alleging that she owns property on Larimer alley, East End, and that the city proposes to widen said alley and take a strip off her property. She al-leges that this is to be done under the act of 1889, which has been declared unconstitu-tional. Judge White granted a preliminary injunction.

RECOMMEND A REPEAL

The Grand Jury Does Not Favor the Oleo margarine Law.

The grand jury yesterday returned true bills against 119 violators of the oleomargar-ine law. They were those who had been returned by the constables at the instigation of Attorney McCook, having paid the United States tax on oleomargarine. It is alleged that the grand jury will make a presentment to Court, recommending the repeal of the oleomargarine law.

The Court Reverses a Squire.

Judge Stowe yesterday reversed the de-cision of Squire Blackstock, in imposing a cision of Squire Blackstock, in imposing a fine of $100 on each of Hess, Ritchie & Co., J. G. Couner and William Pratt, merchants of Turentum, who were charged with a viola-tion of the act regulating oleomargarine sales. The defendants appealed the case to court on the ground that the record was in-sufficient and incomplete.

Nonsulted the Laundry Maid.

A non-suit was entered against the plain tiff yesterday in the case of Mary Leahy against John B. Schlosser and G. C. Dellen-bach, proprietors of the Hotel Schlosser, for damages for injuries. The plaintiff was em-ployed in the hotel laundry, and had her arm crushed by getting it caught in a "mangling" machine.
