"Have you no receipt for even the $700 payment?"

"Not a regular receipt, but we have papers that will answer just as well. Of course, we need only to explain that at the proper time and to the proper persons. It is a private matter. The reason we did not bother about receipts and other formalities was that we knew Gamble Weir to be an honest man. I would have staked my life on him for honesty, and had he not been taken away so suddenly, we would soon have had our house paid for and the deed in our possession. I don't know what we will be able to do about it now. Possibly we will lose the place and the money we have paid, too."

The only question that Mrs. Marsh absolutely refused to answer was one relating to her employment as a janitress. She said she had received $16 per month for cleaning and attending to two rooms in the Second National Bank building, at the corner of Ninth and Liberty streets, but had quit that work when she moved to her present home. When asked whose rooms she had been paid for cleaning, she said they were rooms of two gentlemen, but she would not say who they were.

ENTOMBED IN THE RUINS.

The Petrified Limb of a Woman Is Dug From the Debris at Old Central Station-How It Came There a Complete Mystery.

One of the men engaged in tearing down the old Central station was horrified yesterday afternoon when his pick struck the bones of a leg. His grimy face turned a deathly pale and his voice forsook him.

The petrified relic of a no doubt once beautiful member was found underneath a slab, about 20 feet from the rear, on the lower side of the old station. The walls had been pulled down, and the bricks were strewn all over the floor. On the end of this particular slab an unusually large pile of bricks had fallen, and they had broken the end of the stone. When the debris was cleared away a hole, about a loot square, was left, and in this cavity the bones were found. It could be seen that there was quite a large recess under the slab, but it was impossible to see into it. As soon as the dirt is cleared away the slab will be lifted and no doubt the rest of the numan body will be found.

The Disparch reporter tried to make the boss in charge of the men believe that portions of human bodies, as a general thing, were not found floating around loose. This man declared be had torn down numerous buildings and it was not an uncommon lower side of the old station. The walls had

This man declared he had torn down numerous buildings and it was not an uncommon thing to find bones. He was urged to remove the slab, but flatly refused to do it.

The limb was examined by a number of professional men, and the concerted opinion is that it was a part of the skeleton of a lady, presumably about 22 years of age. It is that part of the limb from the knee down. A part of the skin, hardened and dry, still clings to the toes.

A part of the skin, hardened and dry, still clings to the toes.

How it came there is a mystery. There was no cellarway under that part of the station, and how the limb, or maybe a whole skeleton, came there is unsolvable.

A REAT LITTLE PULL

An East End Man Is Robbed of Several Bundred Dollars.

Early yesterday morning Anthony O'Don-nell, of No. 723 Second avenue, reported to the police at the Fourteenth ward station house, that some unknown person had stolen his trunk, containing $300 in money, a watch valued at $25 and four rings. A dil-gent search was made and the trunk was found a short distance back of the house. It open and the valuables were gone.

The police are working on a clew, which they think will shortly lead to an arrest.

A Child Breaks a Blood Vessel. Mattie, the 4-year-old daughter of Jerry Collins, of Webster avenue, died very sud

William C. Gabage, a traveling man, whose home is at Washington, D. C., while seated in the Duquesne Theater last night was taken with a hemorrhage of the lungs. He got up and went to Kimmel's drugstore, where the attack increased. The ambulance was telephoned for, and he was removed to the West Penn Hospital. He is in a critical condition.

Odd Fellows Institute a New Lodge.

A new lodge of Odd Fellows was instituted in the East End last night. It was named the "Charles D. Freeman Lodge," and has an initial membership of 400. This number is reported to be the largest ever enrolled in any lodge at the time of its organization. Their hall is at Franklin and Station streets.

The Traditional Sleeping Policeman Found, Policeman William Young was suspended by Lieutenant Scott of the Eleventh ward station last night. The Lieutenant said he had found Young asleep in a barber shop when he should have been patrolling his beat.

IN THE FRONT RANK,

Allegheny County's Debt Almost Extinguished and Her Valuation

NEARLY HALF A BILLION

The State Treasury Helps Along by Sending in a Big Rebate.

COUNTY TAXES TO BE REDUCED.

Big School Appropriations That Relieve the Taxpayers.

Allegheny county is coming to the front as a section of the State noted for low taxes. This may not be true of the city, where the valuations have been greatly increased, but it will apply to the county taxes. The time is near at hand when the present millage of 1% will be cut still lower. Indeed it will be badly ripped up next year for the general relief of the taxpayer. The County Commissioners take great pleasure in telling citizens of what is in store for them in the future. Other counties are loaded with debt, but after this year Allegheny will be free of all

It will surprise most people to learn that the county valuation is nearing the half billion mark. A great stir was made a few years ago when the quarter billion line was reached. This is a mighty big sum of money, and the average man will become bewildered in trying to comprehend it. Of course, as the county develops, expenses increase and property grows in value; but as a vule the ratio of increase in property is more than in the former.

A Great Consolation to Kickers,

A reduction of county taxes in a decrease ing geometric ratio would be a pleasing picture to contemplate. If there is any thing the citizen likes best it is a cut in his annual payments to support the municipality and the State. The County Commissioners have adopted a playful habit of consoling kickers by telling them that their taxes will be less next year than this season, and it is possible that in time these annual charges on property will be so greatly reduced as to become merely nominal. This reasoning would be true theoretically if the taxpayer lived 1,000 years or more, but, as the average stretch of human life is only 30 winters, people will continue to pay taxes But it is a fact that the county taxes for next year will be lower. A gentleman from the rural section of the county was growling to Mr. Mercer yesterday about the high taxes. "Ah, well," replied the Commissioner, complacently, "your county taxes won't be half as high next year," and then he explained how he figured. His reasoning will be satisfactory to some, but not cheerful to others, as the money must come out of somebody's pocket anyhow. It may be a more just equalization of taxation, and this will be a consolation to the farmers who complain that for years they have stood more than their share of the burden of taxation. A Big Payment to the County

Last week Allegheny county received a rebate of $52,000 from the State, as its share the old law. This money could have been had last December, but Mr. Mercer said it was the Commissioners' fault that they did not get it before. In the future by prompt payments the rebate can be obtained during the holiday time. The valuation of personal property in Allegheny county, on which State taxes are collected is about $52,000,000. It is not known what it will be this year, but it is safe to say it won't b less. Three mills are charged on this valuation by the State, so that Allegheny county's share of the tax last year was $156,000. Of this sum, under the old law, one-third is returned for the use of the county as a rebate. This money, $52,000, for 1891, was received last week by the Com-missioners. The Legislature, however, changed the law. Hereafter the millage for State taxes will be four mills, and threefourths of the amount will be returned to the county. Under this act Allegheny's tax will be $200,000, and $150,000 of it will come back. With this sum and the $52,000 already received, the Commissioners will have on hand about $200,000 with which to

Now the county millage is 1%, and the current expenses are in round numbers $450,000. This amount must be raised another the debts to be proqually in addition to the debts to be pro-

Wiping Out the Bonded Indebtedness. The sum remaining to be paid on the Court House is $235,000, and it has been decided to build a power house this year to run the boilers costing $70,000. This amount has been added to the current expenses, making about $750,000 as the sum to be raised by taxation in 1892.

Originally bonds for $800,000 were issued to cover the Court House indebtedness, and a sinking fund was established. With the payment of the $235,000 and the building of the power house this year, it will leave the county practically free of debt. Then the current expenses of $450,000, minus the $200,000 returned by the State as rebate on $250,000 returned by $250,000 returned by $250,000 returned by $250,000 returned by $250,000 raised by taxation in 1892. State taxes, is what the county will have to raise next year. That is, about $250,000 will be needed, and of course the taxes will

will be needed, and of course the taxes will be reduced in proportion.

This is how Mr. Mercer reasons on the subject: 'Unless additional expenses should be incurred, the tax levy for 1893 will not be large. Besides the rebate from the State will continue to come in and lighten the burdens of county come in and lighten the burdens of county taxation, to say the least. Why this rebate money should not be returned to the holders of personal property must be explained by the Legislature. However, the peneral opinion is that real estate has too long been the mainstay of the government, both State and local. Personal property should stand its share of taxation.

Cutting Down the School Taxes. Another feature of this tax discussion that will not only benefit the people in Allegheny county, but in the whole State, is the distribution of the school fund. The amount given to the various school districts used to be $2,000,000 annually, but the sum hereafter will be $5,000,000. Allegheny county will come in for its share, and the increased fund will reduce the school expenses that much.

Another good point is that the sinking fund of the State has been practically wiped out. It is estimated that $100,000 annually reserved for 20 years will be sufficient to pay the State debt when the bonds mature. There is no reason, therefore, why the present rate of 4 mills for State taxes should continue for many years, and the Legislature will find occasion to reduce the rate. The money will not be needed to pay current expenses alone.

Reduced Crops Expected. B. F. Vench, one of the ex-Presidents of the Grain Exchange, went to New York last evening. He says, according to the Governevening. He says, according to the Government reports, the crops are not within 16 per cent as good as at this time last year. The winter has been unfavorable for wheat. Last season fully 10,000,000 bushels of grain spoiled in the Far West because the farmers night the instilless to thresh it. The corn crop was 2,000,000,000 bushels, the largest in the history of the country. Mr. Veach says a slight reduction in the crops this year won't do much harm.

in pursuance of which an order of court should be entered in the various courts, authorizing all parties who have or who may hereafter appeal, to pay the City Treasurer the amounts of their respective taxes upon the present assessments under and subject to the provisions of the act of 1889.

It was also directed that all attorneys representing appeals in the organization furnish the Secretary with a list of their respective appeals, who shall turn the same over to the City Assessor and have him fix a day and hour for a hearing on the question of valuation, and upon the adjustment of that question between the attorneys and the Assessor the latter shall certify the adjusted valuation to the City Attorney, who shall thereupon have the same so entered on the records in the various appeals by the court.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Guthrie, Negley and Jennings, in connection with the City Attorney, was appointed to prepare and present to the courts the copy of the order and agreement entered into by the organization. It was also agreed that if the counsel and the City Assessor shall agree upon the proper classification of properties in any of the appealed cases the Assessor shall certify the same to the City Attorney, who shall thereupon have the same entered by the courts in the respective cases. All of the appeals on the question of classification will be left to the courts to determine.

The next meeting of the organization will be held upon the call of the Chair.

They went over the Pittsburg and Western to Butler, and at the request of Colonel Sam Dick, of Meadville, took a ride on the Pittsburg, Shenango and Lake Erie. The party were Mr. Dick's guests Tuesday night.

Mr. Scull said they were very much pleased with the Shenango road. The B. & O. Interchanges traffic with the line. There is no intention to lease the road. At first it was suggested that the B. & O. could use the Shenango line to Erie and the Nickel Plate from there to Buffalo, making a short route from Pittsburg to the latter city. This is out of the question, however, as the Lake Shore people would never consent to such an arrangement. They have the Lake Erie out of this city, and must care for it first. The B. & O. also has its dock on the lakes, and for this reason the port at Conneaut touched by the P., S. & L. E. would not be of much assistance. This should see at rest all the talk recently that the B. & O. intended to lease the Shenango road.

Mr. Crouch said he was unable to go over the B. & O. with the other representatives of foreign capital, and he was taking advantage of this opportunity to see the line. He says the trouble in the past has been that the B. & O. wasn't pushed. He thinks the road has a great future. Messes. Lord, Scull, Smith and Bassett will go West this morning, while General Manager Odell will return to Baltimore.

HAVING A GOOD TIME.

A Beaver Falls Man Comes to Grief in th West End.

Barney Conly, who halls from Beaver Falls, arrived in the West End yesterday morning with the avowed intention of having a good time. About midday he got very full and grew rictous, and he staggered about the street threatening to wipe the whole town from off the face of the earth. He was removed to the No. 3 police station and will be given a hearing before Magis-trate Succept to-day.

An East End Highwayman Captured. William Wild, of Kelley street, Homewood, was arrested by Inspector White-house last night. He is charged with highhouse last night. He is charged with high-way robbery by George Trout, of Jackson street, Twenty-first ward. It is alleged by Mr. Trout that while on his way home early yesterday morning Wild attacked him. He struck him in the face with some blunt instrument breaking his nose and knocking him senseless. Wild then went through his pockets and took all he had, some small change, and left him lying on the side walk. He was found by a neighbor and taken to his home.

settlement, as the building interests threaten to become seriously damaged by its continuance, if not entirely stopped. A member of the strikers' committee who attended Tuesday's conference, was seen yesterday by a DISPATCH reporter and a report of the meeting was detailed to him. The joint committee of masters and strikers met in the Builders'Exchange. Both sides were well prepared as far as strong arguments went, and were fully determined to hold their own. A sharp discussion was started and a feeble effort was made to settle the difficulty in a way that would be satisfactory to both parties, but the majority refused to concede to that arrangement and waited for those of the other side to give way. Neither side would do this and, after three hours' controversy, the conference was broken up, the difficulty being as far from a settlement

"I don't know, but I expect that it will be issued by next Tuesday."

The striking bricklayers held a meeting yesterday afternoon in their hall on Fifth avenue. The conference was talked over, and another conference will be asked for as early as possible. The men expressed a wish that a speedy termination to the strike should be made, and many schemes were projected whereby the bosses would have to give way. About 70 bricklayers were present, among others several of the conference committee, and when the meeting was over they all were as resolute in holding their own as at the commencement of the strike. A meeting of the bosses will be held next Monday afternoon in the Builders' Exchange to discuss the present situation of the strike, to discuss the present situation of the strike, and a date will most likely be fixed for an-other conference.

It has been suggested that, failing an arrangement of terms at the next conference between the strikers and bosses, the services of arbitrators should be used as a means of settling the dispute. Several members of the exchange, however, strongly condemn such a proceeding, as the result would be sure to give dissatisfaction to one, if not both parties concerned, and the trouble would still be unsettled.

AFTER THE COUNTY PRINTER.

It Is Claimed He Is Not Giving Union Offices a Show,

The Union printers of Pittsburg are after County Printer W. P. Bennett. They think ne gives too much of the printing to nonunion offices. The matter first came up s few days ago, when the tickets for the Mo-Kee's Rocks election went to a non-union firm. The printers then thought they would try to capture the tickets for the would try to capture the tickets for the Allegheny mayoralty election. A committee from the union waited on the County Commissioners and were kindly received. President Acklin, who is well acquainted with what trauspired, has this to say.

"The committee found that Mr. Bennett had a contract, good for a year, for turnishing all of the county printing. His agreement is good until July or August. This bars us from receiving anything at present. Mr. Bennett does not have a print shop of his own, but lets his work out.

"The Commissioners treated our committee very kindly, and gave it the assurance.

The printers have sent out eight men this The printers have sent out eight men this week who were working in non-union offices. "We have started them to guessing again," said Mr. Acklin, "and our strike is booming. Just now there is a fight going on between the greater and lesser lights of the Typothetæ, and if this can be kept up the strike will not last much longer. The larger offices promised to help the smaller ones, but they are not doing it, so there is diesatisfaction."

AN INCREASE IN BUSINESS

Causes a False Alarm Among Lawrence

ville Millworkers. The insertion of an advertisement in the daily papers of yesterday by the Phoenix Roll Works, asking for rollturners, caused a slight eruption among the Lawrenceville millworkers, and a rumor was started that a general strike would take place at the Pho-nix works. It was stated that there was trouble among the rollturners and it would cause a general strike among the men employed.

A DISPATCH reporter called at the Phoenix Roll Works, on Forty-first street, but everything was perfectly quiet, and the foreman denied that there was any prospects of a strike. Mr. George P. Black, a member of the firm, said that all was harmony among the men and there had been no trouble in the mill for the past six years, and the advertisement called for more men because of an increase of business.

Wants Free Raw Material.

George von Reinoltz, a Chicago paint manufacturer, registered at the Schlosser last evening. He is a Swede by birth, and last evening. He is a Swede by birth, and has been in the country for ten years. As a result of observation and having no ax to grind, he thinks the true solution of the tariff question is free raw materials. He claims the great monopolists of the land should insist on such an arrangement, if they have any rerard for the people to come after them. Mr. Reinoltz argues that free raw materials would start up numerous small factories in every industry. The tendency to combination would then be impossible, and the workmen would be benefited.

box. A 12-inch flange eyebeam is used, bent with a crab to almost a full circle and the flanges riveted together. The box is more durable than the old style one, being more heavily built and able to stand the heat

used in all the sheet iron mills in the Cake's case had held several meetings during the week and was ready to make its report at to-morrow night's meeting. It was also said the committee would ask Mr. Cake to resign as secretary. The matter was pretty generally discussed, but none of the members of the committee could be found.

A SUNDAY SCHOOL ARMY.

Big Figures Given by a Worker in the Evangelical Field. Hev. S. H. McCullough is how making his annual visit to the city in behalf of the American Sunday School Union, of which he is Superintendent. The following Pittsburg gentlemen are Vice Presidents of this society, viz: Charles J. Clarke, Hon. Feix R. Brunot, W. N. Frew, Thomas Wightman, John B. Jackson, John G. Holmes, Andrew Howard, Thomas H. Lane.

In speaking last night of the work of the Union Mr. McCullough said: "During the past year its missionaries organized 1,830 new Sunday schools, in places hitherto entirely destitute of religious privileges, containing 70,875 scholars and teachers. Aid was given to 2,085 other schools with 139,125 manufactured in the school was seen and besides the school was schools with 139,125 manufactured in the school was school with 139,125 manufactured in the school was school with 139,125 manufactured in the school was school was school was school with 139,125 manufactured in the school was was given to 3,085 other schools with 139,125 members; and besides this, schools that had been previously reported, were again aided in 5,089 instances with 242,930 scholars and teachers. In addition to all this our missionaries distributed by sale and gift 19,651 Bibles and Testaments. They also made 49,460 visits to families for religious conversation and prayer, and delivered 14,008 public addresses. Between 4,000 and 5,000 persons were converted in connection with the evangelistic services conducted by these earnest men. One hundred and thirty churches developed from schools previously organized by them.

"Competent authorities estimate there are now 150,000 Protestant Sunday schools in the United States. Of this number, the records show that the American Sunday School Union has organized 89,536, which is 14,536 more than one-half of all the Sunday school in this country. On an average, this society has organized nearly from new schools every day in 68 years. Each year it has brought 62,000 persons into Bible schools. It this grand Sunday school army which it has enlisted could be formed into a line, allowing two feet to each person, the procession would be 1,635 miles long; reaching from New York City to New Orleans, La." bers; and besides this, schools that had liberately Committed Suicide. At the inquest held by Coroner McDowell vesterday in the case of Mary Crecrynski, whose headless body was found near the whose headless body was round near the Junction railroad track at Schenley park Tuesday, it was ascertained that she delinerately committed suicide by placing her head on the track before a passing train. It is also evident that Klukowski, her Russian Pole lover, was the indirect instigator of her suicide. The inquest will be concluded to-day.

suicide. The inquest will be concluded to-day.

Two of her brothers appeared at the Coro-ner's office last evening and swore to state-ments in relation to the case. Both men live at Chartiers and after viewing the body at the morgue left for their homes without having shown much feeling at their sister's death. One of the brothers said his sister told him she was to marry Ludwig Klu-kowski, who told her he would shoot her if she would not do so.

CARRIE WINFIELD'S WILL

Handsome Bequests Left to Her Friends The will of the late Carrie Winfield, the colored woman, has been filed for probate. It is dated January 5, 1892, and Harry P Whaley is named as executor. She gives $5,000 and a $400 diamond ring to Samuel Bentley; $8,000 and a $600 ring to H. P. Whaley; $500 to Desama Dorsey; $1,000 to Charles Culbertson, and the balance to be divided between Charles Hall and George Wright. The extent is extingued to be worth

All of the newly-appointed committees o Allegheny Councils, which are able to approve the payrolls of city employes, will prove the payrolls of city employes, will hold special meetings for that purpose, as follows: Committee on Surveys and Committee on Public Charities, Thursday evening; Committee on Public Safety and Committee on Public Library, on Monday evening. Both branches of Councils will meet on Thursday evening, April 21. The prompt meetings of these committees will hasten the approval of pay rolls and facilitate the payment of warrants. The city employes will therefore receive their money on Friday, Saturday or Monday next, and all will be paid not later than next Tuesday.

He Passed It by Mistake

Officer Mike Harrison, of Union station, was called on yesterday by a Liberty street storekeeper to arrest William McMunn, a farmer from Brinton, who had offered an old Confederate note in payment for a purchase. The storekeeper thought McMunn was a counterfeiter. At Central station, where he was taken, McMunn said he had carried the note for ten years as a pocket plece and had not intended to part with it. He will probably be discharged at the hearing to-day. old Confederate note in payment for Narrow Escape on Castle Shannon Incline. As the Castle Shannon Incline Plane car was on the up trip yesterday morning the brake band broke and the engineer lost complete control of the machinery. The car started down the track with about half a car started down the track with about half a dozen passengers aboard and a heavy wagon. The satety ropes withstood the strain, and the car was stopped after running about ten feet. The passengers were greatly alarmed, but no one was hurt. It will be fully a week before the plane will be in working order again.

In addition to the numberless Steinway, Conover and opera pianos and other must-cal instruments sold daily at this popular eld-time establishment, the Measrs. Rieber have also disposed of quite a number of Vocalion church organs. At the low price of $800 the Vocalion furnishes more variety, delicacy and strength of tone than any $2,500 pipe organ, while for durability it far surpasses the latter.

The Klebers enjoy the confidence of the public for their integrity, and also for the superior excellence of their instruments. Anything that comes from Klebers' must of necessity be musically perfect and satisfactory. Their store is 506 Wood street.
