astrously in Days Gone By. PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S SAD END.

Timely Easter Topics to Be Discussed in Cur City Pulpits.

GLEANINGS FROM CHURCH FIELDS

Good Friday of 1865 was as happy a day as American patriots ever knew. The day had been appointed by President Lincoln as a day of thanksgiving over the fall of Richmond and the surrender of Lee, which had brought the greal Civil War to triumphant close. All Union hearts were happy. Those who had friends in the army thanked God that the boys were coming home, and all classes joined in the praises of that Good Friday. The weather was as perfect as could be. A happier spring day never dawned on America. But "Shadow and shine is life, flower and thorn." While the bon fires were still ablaze in our cities the news flashed across the land that the great President had been murdered, and Easter Day of 1865 was as dark and dreary a day as our people ever saw. Those whose memory goes back to 1865 can hardly fail to associate the crucifixion with our martyr President's sad end.

BREAKFAST. BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and natrition, and by a careful application of the dna properties of well-selected Cocoa. Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a deficately favored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maiadies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with purablood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Guzette.
