Judges Collier and Slagle Lower the

Time of License Court.

TWENTY DAYS TO HEAR 1,777 CASES

Applicants Failed to Hoodwink the Arbiters of Their Fate.

WITNESSES WHO WERE NOT POSTED

The County Court House was a deserted place yesterday. It seemed to look more lonesome, not because it was a holiday, but because license court was over. There was not even an anxious applicant around to inquire if the Judges would soon "hand down the list." They had become pretty well accustomed to hearing that when announcements are to be made they will be made in open court, and as court adjourned Thursday evening until this morning, they knew there was little likelihood of any list coming vesterday. Judges Collier and Slagle only worked part of the morning, going over the work of the past week or ten days and comparing notes. No announcements are expected, unless Allegheny should be handed down this morning, until the middle of the coming week. The Judges are evidently expecting to take up most of the week in completing the'r work, as there is no traverse jury called, and there has been nothing to indicate an intention on the part of the Judges to take a trip after they

Beat All Previous Records,

There are many interesting features about this year's License Court, as compared with the previous four sessions. The most important is the time saved in hearing the applicants. Making allowance for the fact that there were about 150 less applicants than last year, the Court finished its work eight days ahead of time. There were a total of 1,777 cases. The court was in session 20 days, hearing on an average 89 cases a day. The greatest number heard in one day was on Friday, April I, when 107 applicants were put through the when 167 applicants were put through the mill. The retail hearings last year were not concluded until April 22, and the wholesale list was not finished until May 1. As a consequence the list was not handed down until May 4; and the previous year the end of the work was not reached until April 30, and both years there were those who had to close their places two or three days until their bands were approved. mds were approved. The Court seemed to have additional in-The Court seemed to have additional information concerning applicants this year, and many were surprised that the Judges knew so much. Many an effort was made to "hoodwink" the Court. Sometimes the applicant was permitted to retire with the self-satisfaction that he had "put it on the Court,seye," but when a man became too bold at this kind of an effort, he generally got turned down. In one case, toward the close of the hearings, an applicant had called several witnesses, all of whom testified to the spotless character of the man and the splendid adaptability of his place, speaking from a knowledge gained through than years of intimate acquaintance.

Something They Did Not Know.

Semething They Did Not Know. After they had finished and everyone in the court room, outside of the judges, were willing almost to gamble that the applicant was a winner, Judge Collier, in that smooth, as a winner, sugge content and some style of his, said:
"Mr. Jones, did you know the applicant aly got out of the workhouse a short time go for Hegral Houer selling?"
"No. sir," came the faint response, backed

"No, sir," came the faint response, backed up by a wondering look.

"Mr. Brown, did you know this?"

"No, sir," in the same manner.

"Mr. Smith, how about you?"

"I did not know it," and so on. The same question was put to cight or ten witnesses and each made the same sheemsh reply.

"Well," said Judge Collier, "I only wanted to know if any of you knew it; call the next."

Mr. Christy relates an incident in connection with a case in which two city police officers appeared in beliaft of an applicant and gave him an excellent character. It was learned afterward that less than six weeks ago both officers assisted in arresting the man for drunkenness. The Court in this case asked no questions, but the applicant's name was not on the list of granted when the list was handed down. Knocked Over Three Hundred Applicants As an indication of the amount of work Mr. Christy did this year, it is interesting to know that out of 350 applicants in the city, name was not on the list of granted when knew that out of 350 applicants in the city, against whom he had remonstrances, only 27 were granted licenses.

The Court has a puzzling question to determine in completing its work. Along the lines dividing the city from Lower St. Clair township and Allegheny from Reserve there are a number of applicants just across the streets. The Court has not indicated what it will do, but the unfairness of the law in granting a license to a man for $73, when another on the opposite side of the street must pay $1,000, is frequently commented upon.

mented upon.

The attorneys had quite a harvest in the present License Court. The bulk of the business was in the hands of about 15 law-yers. Of these John S. Robb and his son, John S. Robb, Jr., had 122 applicants as clients; Leon J. Long, 33: A.C.Robertson, 9i:W. J. Brennen, 76: Monteath Bros., 79: C. F. Mc-Kenna, 38; Josiah Cohen and A. Israel, 60: Joseph Stadield, 30: A. H. Rowand, 19; William McCu-cheon, 23.

There were few applicants this year who did not employ an attorney and Mr. Christy is charged with causing this.

Don't run the risk of your cold getting well of itself-you may thereby drift into a condition favorable to the development of some latent tendency, which may give you years of trouble. Better cure your cold at once with the help of Dr. D.Jayne's Expectorant, a good healing medicine for all coughs, sore lungs and throats.

Klebers' Wonderful Stock of Pianos and Organs.

In addition to the numberless Steinway, Conover and Opera pianos and other musical instruments solid daily at this popular old-fine establishment, the Messrs. Kleber have also disposed of quite a number of Vocalion church organs. At the low price of 1800 the Vocalion furnishes more variety, delicacy and strength of tone than any $2.500 pipe organ, while for durability it far surpasses the latter.

The Klebers enjoy the confidence of the public for their integrity, and also for the superior excellence of their instruments. Anything that comes from Klebers' must of necessity be nusically perfect and satisfactory. Their store is 506 Wood street.

My children, nine in number, were all troubled with an itching of the skin. They could not sleep at night, and through the day my wife felt ashamed to see the way those little ones had to suffer. So we concluded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES, and believe if we had not used your valuable remedies, our little family would not have been cured yet. CUTICURA REMEDIES took all of this itch out of their skins, inside of six weeks. My wife then bought more, and kept on giving it to the children, and thank God and your valuable CUTICURA REMEDIES, my children have not got a blemish on them.
