

WHY IS IT?

There Are Two Plain and Simple Reasons Why the Percentage of Cures Under Drs. Copeland, Hall & Byers Is So Large.

These Two Reasons Can Be Represented By Two Words, Skill, Honesty — Statement of Mr. Conrad L. Sanders.

"Why do such large crowds of people go to Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers, at 66 Sixth Avenue? There are plenty of other physicians, yet Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers treat more patients than any five other physicians in Pittsburgh."

"The answer is simple. Crowds of people go because of intelligence and common sense the demonstration that these physicians cure what they claim to cure is complete, is satisfactory, is unassailable. The demonstration consists of the printed statements of hundreds of well-known and reputable citizens."

"But Do Doctors Copeland, Hall and Byers Cure All Diseases and ailments which are the only physicians in the country who have the acknowledged mastery over desperate diseases?"

By no means. There are two fundamental reasons why the percentage of cures is so wonderfully large. These two reasons can be represented by two words: Skill! Honesty!

First Reason. In a large majority of cases that apply to them for treatment Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers are successful. Because, in the first place, they are skillful and experienced specialists and physicians, trained by more than the ordinary college routine, by hospital experience and by wide and extended special and general practice. They understand the diseases which they are treating. There is no guesswork about their methods. They know what they are doing.

Second Reason. These men succeed because they will not take under their care a case which they believe to be incurable. If a case is incurable they will not say so, they will recognize the fact that there are diseases that they cannot cure, cases which require the money which would induce them to undertake and they would not by any means imperil a hand-saw reputation by endeavoring to treat cases which they could not benefit. Their patients have a careful and accurate diagnosis, an honest opinion of what can be done in their case. They are told the truth.

Do Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers Cure All Cases? In many cases the patients neglect their medicines or discontinue their treatment before the prescribed time, they lose a cure. In other cases the disease had been so long neglected—allowed, perhaps, to extend to the lungs or heart—that a cure is so far as medical science goes is impossible. When, for instance, catarrh has been allowed to extend to the brain, it is not in the power of Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers to do anything but to relieve the patient's suffering.

Second Reason. These men succeed because they will not take under their care a case which they believe to be incurable. If a case is incurable they will not say so, they will recognize the fact that there are diseases that they cannot cure, cases which require the money which would induce them to undertake and they would not by any means imperil a hand-saw reputation by endeavoring to treat cases which they could not benefit.

Third Reason. These men succeed because they will not take under their care a case which they believe to be incurable. If a case is incurable they will not say so, they will recognize the fact that there are diseases that they cannot cure, cases which require the money which would induce them to undertake and they would not by any means imperil a hand-saw reputation by endeavoring to treat cases which they could not benefit.

Fourth Reason. These men succeed because they will not take under their care a case which they believe to be incurable. If a case is incurable they will not say so, they will recognize the fact that there are diseases that they cannot cure, cases which require the money which would induce them to undertake and they would not by any means imperil a hand-saw reputation by endeavoring to treat cases which they could not benefit.

Fifth Reason. These men succeed because they will not take under their care a case which they believe to be incurable. If a case is incurable they will not say so, they will recognize the fact that there are diseases that they cannot cure, cases which require the money which would induce them to undertake and they would not by any means imperil a hand-saw reputation by endeavoring to treat cases which they could not benefit.

Sixth Reason. These men succeed because they will not take under their care a case which they believe to be incurable. If a case is incurable they will not say so, they will recognize the fact that there are diseases that they cannot cure, cases which require the money which would induce them to undertake and they would not by any means imperil a hand-saw reputation by endeavoring to treat cases which they could not benefit.

Seventh Reason. These men succeed because they will not take under their care a case which they believe to be incurable. If a case is incurable they will not say so, they will recognize the fact that there are diseases that they cannot cure, cases which require the money which would induce them to undertake and they would not by any means imperil a hand-saw reputation by endeavoring to treat cases which they could not benefit.

Eighth Reason. These men succeed because they will not take under their care a case which they believe to be incurable. If a case is incurable they will not say so, they will recognize the fact that there are diseases that they cannot cure, cases which require the money which would induce them to undertake and they would not by any means imperil a hand-saw reputation by endeavoring to treat cases which they could not benefit.

sidis at No. 23 Race street, Allegheny, is typical of the symptoms illustrated above. Her statement is as follows: "I had been troubled with my head, chest and stomach for a long time," says Mrs. Burns, "and tried every means at my disposal to obtain relief without avail, until I was fortunate enough to consult Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers. I suffered from the most excruciating Pain Over My Eyes and through the temples, which almost blinded me sometimes and later on pains in my lungs and back of breast bone, shooting through to each shoulder blade. My voice became husky and at times entirely lost, so I could only speak in a whisper."

"It was in this condition that I consulted Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers. They seemed to recognize my trouble immediately and the medicine they gave me acted like a charm. Before the first month's treatment expired I felt almost as well as ever, and all my friends noticed and remarked the great improvement in my voice. It is now two months since I began treatment. I haven't an ache or pain about me and feel that I am entirely cured. I want to publicly express my gratitude toward Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers for having placed the means of a cure in cases like mine within the reach of all."

CATARHAL DEAFNESS. A Short Lesson on the Physiology of Ear, Nose and Throat.—Roaring and Ringing Noises in the Ears, Crackling and Hissing Sounds and How They Are Produced.—Mr. Garvey's Case.

A very large percentage of the cases of total or partial deafness are due directly to catarrh. A still larger percentage of cases of roaring and buzzing noises are caused by catarrh. How? The accompanying illustration will make it plain. The eustachian tubes are small tubes, about two inches long, leading from the upper back part of the throat to the middle ear. Their use is to permit the passage of air through the drum of the ear. Every ordinary drum has a small hole in the barrel to admit the air to the inside. This is done to allow the pressure of air to be equal on both sides of the drumhead and without it the drum would be worthless. So, with the middle ear, the air pressure must be equal on both sides, so that the drum head (called the hammer) will vibrate freely to respond to the delicate vibrations of air, which, when communicated to the hammer through the auditory nerve, produce sound. If anything happens to obstruct the eustachian tubes, hearing is very much impaired, it is entirely destroyed.

The illustration makes it plain how easy it is for the catarrhal process of which is confined to the nose to extend up the eustachian tubes to the middle ear. The mucous lining of these tubes becomes inflamed and thickened, and the tubes wholly or partially closed, up the equilibrium of air pressure is disturbed, and the roaring, buzzing, crackling and hissing noises, so annoying to thousands of catarrhal subjects, follow, accompanied nearly always by dullness or entire loss of hearing.

If the disease is permitted to run unchecked, the small bones of the ear marked 4 and 5 in the illustration will be destroyed, and the drum attacked, perforated and destroyed, and total deafness will follow. Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers have unequalled success in the treatment of these cases. Their methods are the result of many years of study and practice, and have been demonstrated to be the most successful in use at the present time.

"The rapidity with which the catarrhal process extended to ears, throat, bronchial and stomach," said Mr. Jerry Garvey, who resides at No. 9 Fifth street, Allegheny, "was in my case not only remarkable, but extremely alarming. I seemed every day to have a cold, nose stopped up, and constant formation of mucus, dropping into my throat and causing continual hacking and spitting to expel it. I suffered continually from a dull, heavy headache over the eyes and often had a feeling of tightness or pressure across the bridge of the nose; also vertigo or dizziness, until I would nearly fall."

"The insidious disease soon attacked the eustachian tubes, and extended to my ears, causing Roaring and Buzzing Noises and dullness of hearing in my ears. The positive evidence of the skill of Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers was so convincing that I determined to go to them. I hesitated considerably before starting, because I had tried so many patent medicines without ever deriving the slightest benefit that I was badly discouraged; but I was greatly disappointed. Their treatment of my case was intelligent and scientific from the start, and I was satisfied from the thoroughness of the examination they gave me that they understood their business. Under their treatment the ringing noises have stopped, and the hearing is entirely restored. In fact, I feel as well as ever I did in my life, and I consider that I am discharging an obligation when I say publicly that I owe all this wonderful change in my condition to the careful and intelligent treatment of Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers. I heartily and earnestly recommend them."

CATARH OF THE STOMACH. The Many Distressing Symptoms Which Accompany This Affection.—The Case of Mr. O'Donnell. Dyspepsia is a name given to nearly all stomach and bowel troubles by old-time physicians, really nothing more or less than a catarrhal condition of the parts. Dyspepsia means bad digestion, nothing else. In chronic catarrh of the stomach, the mucous lining of which is continuous with that of the nose and throat, the secreting glands become diseased and retarded, and do not fulfill their proper functions, hence the food lies heavy in the stomach and ferments instead of being digested. Food gases arise therefrom which distend the stomach, causing weight, tightness, flatulence, bloating and discomfort. The heart and lungs are encroached upon by the diaphragm, which impedes their natural action, hence we have fluttering or palpitation, and in consequence of disturbed circulation and respiration, coldness of extremities, depression of spirits (nervousness), feeble head, dizziness, and nervousness of head, hot and cold flashes, etc., etc.

"For 14 years my stomach and liver caused me the greatest trouble," says Mr. J. O'Donnell, of Kansas street, Twenty-third ward. "During a great part of that time I compelled to live on liquid food entirely, as solids caused great distress, nausea, vomiting, flatulence and more excruciating cramps. Vomiting was my only relief from distress."

"Reading of so many remarkable cures by Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers, I determined to consult them. Their examination and method of handling my case was so thorough. The professional skill and success of these gentlemen inspired me with confidence, and a decided desire for treatment. The results are very decided and satisfactory. All my distressing symptoms have been dispensed with after the first day, and my appetite is better than it has been for many years. I feel perfectly well in every respect, with my usual weight, tightness, flatulence, bloating, etc., all gone. I am very grateful and conscientious treatment received at the hands of Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers, and cheerfully make this statement for their praise."

CATARH OF THE EYE. The Different Seasons Bring Their Different Diseases and Symptoms Familiar to Each Disease.—Mrs. Burns' Case. The observing specialist notices at this season a predominance of neuralgic pains in conjunction with catarrhal troubles. These neuralgic pains are generally located directly above each eye and through the temples—supra-orbital neuralgia they are known to physicians—and they are so severe at times as to cause the most excruciating agony. These pains are also frequently observed in the chest and more particularly the left chest, shooting through the shoulder blade, and when accompanied by cough cause considerable anxiety on the part of the patient.

The case of Mrs. Theresa Burns, who resides at No. 23 Race street, Allegheny, is typical of the symptoms illustrated above. Her statement is as follows: "I had been troubled with my head, chest and stomach for a long time," says Mrs. Burns, "and tried every means at my disposal to obtain relief without avail, until I was fortunate enough to consult Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers. I suffered from the most excruciating Pain Over My Eyes and through the temples, which almost blinded me sometimes and later on pains in my lungs and back of breast bone, shooting through to each shoulder blade. My voice became husky and at times entirely lost, so I could only speak in a whisper."
