

A POLITICIAN'S DOWNFALL His Career of Crime Began When He Was Defeated for Sheriff,

BEDFORD, April 19.-[Special.]-H. Clay Smith, ex-Deputy Sheriff and ex-County Auditor, pleaded guilty to-day to forgery, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for 18 months. Less than a year ago Smith was considered one of the leading Republican politicians in the county and came within a few votes of being nominated for Sheriff. Shortly after his defeat he started on the downward course and went from bad to worse. Last week he was arrested in Mary-land and was brought here on a requisition. Before sentence was passed to-day the prosecutor made a strong plea for mercy for Smith, while the District Attorney was satis-fied with a light sentence.

Political Intimidation Charged. HUNTINGDON, April 19.-Levi E. Westbrook, ex-Supervisor of Smithfield township, made information to-day against Superintendent Patton, of the Huntingdon Reformatory, fo intimidating voter. During the recent in intimidating voter. During the recent in-vestigation, A. B. Kennedy, a discharged guard, swore that Superintendent Patton said he would discharge him if be voted for Westbrook for Supervisor. Kennedy did vote for Westbrook and was discharged. Superintendent Patton emphatically denies the accusation, and says Kennedy was dis-missed for sleeping while on duty.

Brown opened the coatest by driving the ball to left for two bases. Pfeffer landed a single in the same territory and Brown went to third. While Pieffer was stealing second Brown left for home, but was caught. Seery was sent to his base on four bad balls and Weaver sent each a base nearer home on a sacrifice from second to first. Jennings ended this inning on a grounder to short. After Miller retired in Pittsburg's half, Bierbauer hit to short and Jennings threw wild to first. Bierbaner got second and reached third ou Corkhill's sacrifice. Farrell, however, went out from home to first. With one out in the subsequent inn-ing, Kuchne hit to center for two bases and went to third on Baldwin's fumble of Jones ball. Jones begun Pittsburg's half by hit-ting Beckley. Then he threw Shugart's grounder wild to first and Beckley contin-ued around to third. It looked rather unfavorable for Louisville at this point. Shugart attempted to steal second and was Subgart attempted to steat second and was retired. Smith struck out and Mack fied to Taylor. Louisville scored its first run in the third. Weaver was given his base on balls and Jennings sent a hot one down the third base line which Farrell could not reach and Pfeffer scored. The next two men were retired. In Pittsburg's half, after two men had been disposed of, Bierbauer made the first hit of hill's base on balls. Farrell hit a fly just gramme of music: back of second and Bierbauer scored from second. There were two men on bases when Beckley struck out. Captain Pfeffer opened the fifth with a double to center, but the three next batsmen were retired. There was one out in the sixth when Beckley made a scratch double to right and took third on Jennings' fumble of Shugart's grounder. Smith hit to Pfeffer, and the latter touched Shugart and threw to first in time to retire Smith. Two men had been retired in the last inning when Pfeffer hit over second for a single. Seery then drove the sphere down the right field foul line for bases and Pieffer brought in what 150 Pittsburg... Brooklyn... proved to be the winning run. was run down between second and third. Pittsburg retired in order in its half. The score:
