Cincinnati Reds. BASEBALL NEWS OF GREAT INTEREST

There were more people from nearby towns disappointed vesterday because of "no ball game" than there have been in the history of baseball in Western Pennsylvania. The city was crowded yesterday from morning until evening with strangers who came to see the first championship ball game of the season of 1892, Rain spoiled everything. It stopped one of the finest baseball parades that has ever been arranged to take place in this city. There were crowds here from McKeesport, Wheeling, Uniontown, Beaver, Youngstown, in short, from all the cities and towns within 60 or 70 miles of Pittsburg. It is needless to say that Von der Ahe was a little out of humor, and that President Temple for a short time was a little sad. But all began to get into good temper again when it was arranged that the programme intended for yesterday should be carried out to-day. Both teams and representatives of the press, together with the officials of the local club, will meet at the Seventh Avenue. rlub, will meet at the Seventh Avenue Hotel at 1:30 this afternoon, and proceed in carriages to make the parade, as originally

The grounds are in good condition. Gal-vin will pitch, as stated in yesterday's DIS-PATCH, and Mack will catch. Emslie will be the umpire, and it is so long since he was here that he may be considered a stranger. The game will start at 3:45 P. M. As to the weather to-day, Secretary Scan-drett left the following stanza here last evening after he had looked at a red cloud:

Evening red and morning gray, Sets the traveler on his way. Evening gray and morning red, Will bring down rain upon his head.

The Baltimore Dispute.

BALTIMORE, April 20 .- The Baltimore Base ball Club, through Secretary Herman Von der Horst, has telegraphed President Young at Washington protesting against the de cision of Umpire Mahony for giving the game of to-day to New York. It was the game of to-day to New York. It was the proper notice required by the rules given by the home team to the New Yorks in the matter of stopping the game at 5 o'clock that was the point at issue. Vice President Waltz says: "I saw Manager Powers personally and notified him of our intentions. I considered that proper notification." Captain Ewing claims that it was Captain Van Haltren's place to notify him.

Louisville Players Released. LOUISVILLE, April 20 .- Cahill and Hess, of the Louisville ball club, were to-day uncor ditionally released from their contracts. Browning was signed again last night, and will go in left field. Weaver will play be-hind the bat again.

Dismissed for Drunkenness. COLUMBUS, O., April 21.-President Williams, of the Western League, to-day dismissed Umpire Dan Corcoran. The chi made and proven were drunkenness on the field in Tuesday's Columbus-Milwaukee game and betting on Milwaukee in said game. Columbus was defeated 4 to 3, and the decisions of Corcoran were so bad as to almost bring on a riot. Catcher John Berger has been assigned to the Indianapolis club. MR BONNER'S OPINION.

He Passes Through the City and Talks

About Sunol, the Trotter. Mr. Robert Bonner, the owner of the two fastest trotters in the world, Maud S. and Sunol, was in Pittsburg for a short time yesterday morning. Mr. Bonner came from his home in New York, and proceeded to Franklin, Pa., where Sunol is quartered at the stock farm of Miller & Sibley, and is in the stock farm of Miller & Sibley, and is in charge of Trainer Marvin, who was in the employ of Senator Leland Stanford when he possessed the flyer. Mr. Bonner was met at the Union station by John W. Echols, Esq., who is an intimate friend and who accompanied him to Franklin.

During a conversation Mr. Bonner expressed his conviction that Sunol would lower her record of 2:08% in her famous race when she lowered Maud 8's colors. He said she would be given opportunity to do so this season. Mr. Bonner will remain at Franklin for a few days and will go to Atlanta in time for the opening of the Scotch-Irish Congress there early next month.

Slosson in Form. New York, April 21.-George F. Slosson is doing fine work these days in preparation for the contest with Ives for the world's championship at Chicago. The local amsteur experts who gather nightly to see the practice games are unanimous in their judgment that he is playing the game of his judgment that he is playing the game of his life. His averages range from 30 to 150, the latter having been made in a 400-point game about a week ago. Slosson's practice games differ from those of other billiard experts in that they are played with all the champion-ship restrictions. Every shot is closely watched and the finest points of the rules rigidly enforced. If Slosson keeps up to his present form he hopes to bring the famous emblem to New York.

To Have a Clubhouse and Improved Grounds at Sewickley in

THE PRESENT GOOD LOCATION.

Quarter-Mile Bicycle Track, Baseball and Tennis Included in

THE PLANS FOR THE SEASON'S SPORT

The Sewickley Athletic Association will have a new clubhouse this season, but the scheme first taken up has been abandoned. The Association's grounds are situated in a most beautiful place, and the new plan is to buy the present park and there build a nest clubhouse with all necessary arrangements for the accommodation of the members. The plan first worked on was for the purchase of grounds in a different part of the city, there to build a house at a cost of $35,000. This was to contain a gymnasium and the luxuries of a first class social club and a theater for the benefit of the Sewickley Amateur Theatrical Association. There are various reasons why this project was abandoned. The necessary funds were raised -and so was the price of the grounds where the club was to have been located. The people interested would not pay the price. Then a number of suggestions as to the proper locations were made, which caused a split and the abandonment of the plan. Project for the New Building. The people in the lower end of Sewickley refused to go into the scheme to buy the old grounds and there erect a suitable clubhouse, so another way out of the difficulty was found. A number of the wealthier men of the place have agreed to furnish the necessary money to build a house on the club's old grounds, which are eminently suited for the location of an athletic and leasure park. The amount subscribed is about $15,000, which will purchase the grounds and erect a very pretty and convenient building for club purposes. It will be after the model of the average strictly modern clubhouse of the average strictly modern clubhouse, contain a first-class gymnasium, billiard hall, bowling alley, parlors, library, baths, etc. It will be a social club, and all the best people of Sewickley will eventually become members, no matter if the location is a little out of the way. It is not to be a gentlemen's association, but the ladies will be gladly welcomed as members, and their ways will be externed to as much as the wants will be catered to as much as the wants of the more athletic half of the place.

A Chance for Outdoor Sports. In the park numerous improvements will be made. There will be a track for the cyclers a quarter of a mile in length. The baseball grounds will be put in better shape, the tennis courts will be fixed up and perhaps several more added. There will be facilities furnished for every sort of out-door recreation, and, above all, there are a number of large trees on the ground under whose friendly shade hammocks may be swung for the hard-working young athletes to rest when not in action.

The Sewickley Athletic Park is one of the most beautiful in the vicinity of Pittsburg. It has many natural advantages that would not have been found had a change been made in the location. It has splendid spring water, the ground dries very easily, and it requires a very hard rain to spoil the poor for more than a very few hours. With sport for more than a very few hours. With the proposed clubbouse and other improve-ments the Sewickley Athletic Association will have good reason to feel proud of its

MOSQUITOES OF MISSISSIPPL

A Story of Filling a rist to the Brim by Sweeping It Through the Air.

I had just returned from an April turkey hunt in the swamps just above Vicksburg, Miss., and while a fair bag had been se-cured, the chief feature of the trip had been the myriads of mosquitoes that harrassed us at all times, except when under a good bar. Anyone who has hunted in a Mississippi swamp during rather warm weather in spring, on land from much of which an overflow has recently receded, will understand what a pest they are. At such times it becomes necessary to wear a coat and gloves, and to protect the face, ears and neck by a piece of bar or otherwise, however, much such apparel may handicap the sportsman. In talking of the pests, I determined to do justice to the occasion and to be bold in my remarks. So one day I told G. H. D., who is no insignificant talker himself, that the mosquitoes were so thick that one sweep of my hat through the air filled it to the brim. twinkle in D.'s eye led me to suspect that he had not swallowed the thing altogether. I went to my companion on this hunt, W. L. W., not knowing that he had a development of talent in this line, and told him that I had been telling a tolerably stout one about our turkey hunt, and that I wanted him to substantiate my remarks.

"P., I'll back up any remarks you may chance to make about the trip," was his prompt and spirited reply, sufficiently assuring me that he could be relied upon in an emergency of this kind.

I then proceeded to tell him what I had told D. about sweeping a hat through the air and catching a hatful of mosquitoes. W. drew himself up and said, apparently without reflection or effort: "P., you could have done better than that," with a marked emphasis on the word "better." could have swept a quart cup through the air and caught a gallon." I was thus put to rest as to my anxiety for proof to D. and at the same time vanquished in my ambition to excel as an artist in tell-

B. & O. Locomotive Crashes Into Cars Crowded With Emigrants.

SIX OF THE OCCUPANTS INJURED.

Mansfield, O., Excited by a Peculiar Criminal Prosecution.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEARBY TOWNS

MEYERSDALE, Pa., April 21 .- At 5 'clock this evening an accident occurred at Salisbury Junction, near here, that resulted in the injury of six persons, two being serlously hurt. These latter were sent to Pittsburg hospitals to-night. At 5 o'clock a train of emigrants on the first section of No. 89 stopped at Salisbury Junction, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, to wait for another car. The train stood on the main line, and here some trouble occurred. It is believed the flag man did not go back far enough to flag the second section, which came crashing into the rear of the emigrant train. Engineer Daugherty saw the crash was inevitable, and did all in his power to avoid it, but in vain. The throttle of his engine was reversed so suddenly that he derailed the engine, thus partly stopping the train and aving a far more severe accident. Attached to the rear of the first section were emigrant cars, and the engine of the following section plunged into these. Six of the passengers were injured, while the rest were badly shaken up. A little German girl had her back injured, while an unknown Hungarian had his foot amputated. In addition to this he was badly hurt internally, and was at once sent on to a Pittsburg hospital. The others were not so badly hurt, and all but two of the injured were sent on and all but two of the injured were sent on to their destination.

A German family in the rear of the emigrant train had a very narrow escape. They were altogether when the crash came, but all escaped injury except the little girl shove mentioned, who was bruised and stunned. The family had left Baden, Germany, April 9, and were on their way to friends at No. 677 Ohio street, Allegheny, where they went to-night, taking their injured girl. The rear of the passenger coach was shattered badly, and 18 coal hoppers attached to the second section were derailed. The track will be obstructed until daylight. The emigrants were Germans, Poles and Hungarians. They were all badly frightened. None of the trainmen were injured, they having ample time to set the brakes and jump.

TWO CHURCH CONTESTS. appeals to Be Taken From the Blair ville Presbytery's Decisions. GREENSBURG, PA., April 21.—The spring meeting of the Biausville Presbytery convened at Ligonier yesterday. The most important business was the famous Steele case of Murraysville. Following the reports of the commissioners, Rev. Mr. Steele spoke in his own behalf, and the pastoral relation from Murraysville, on the part of the ses from Murraysville, on the part of the session, and Rev. Mr. Steele, the pastor, gave notice of complaint to the Svnod of Pennaylvania, which meets in Washington, Pa., next October.

After this came an appeal and complaint of William McCurdy against the session of Livermore Church. It is charged that Mr. McCurdy had absented himself from the ordinances of the Church and had failed to satisfy the session in regard to his actions. ordinances of the Church and had failed to satisfy the session in regard to his actions. For this he was suspended from the com-munion of the church, and from this deci-sion he made an appeal and complaint to Presbytery. The Presbytery, after consid-eration, refused to sustain the appeal, and Mr. McCurdy gave notice of an appeal to Synod in October.

A PHYSICIAN'S GOOD NAME

Dragged in the Dust by Criminal Prosect tion by a German Girl. MANSFIELD, O., April 21 .- [Special. 1-A very sensational arrest was made here this after-noon upon the affidavit of Miss Anna Mary Schmidt, a German girl, who accuses Dr. D R. Francis and Peter Ackerman of perform ing a criminal operation on June 17, 1890. Dr. Francis and Mr. Ackerman will have their thearing to-morrow morning. Dr. Francis is the regular county physician, and enjoys a large practice throughout this section. His family is of the very best. The doctor says the charge is unfounded. Mr. Ackerman, the other accused, is a prominent saloon keeper.

The girl says that after the operation Ack The girl says that after the operation Ack-erman promised to marry her as soon as he had received a divorce from his wife, pro-ceedings having been begun by him in court on the charge of cruelty. Ackerman secured the divorce on Saturday, and on the follow-ing Monday married another girl. This in-censed the Schmidt girl, and she brought a damage suit for $10,000 against Francis and Ackerman.

Still in Good Health, Celebrates Her 84th Birthday Friday This Week. CANTON, April 21.—[Special.]—On Friday Mrs. William McKinley, Sr., will celebrate her 84th birthday. The event will be noticed in a quiet way by the inviting of a few friends and relatives. It is expected that among the guests will be her son, Governor

McKinley. Whose husband is still liv-ing and of about the same age, is remarka-bly strong and active for her age. She en-joys the best of health and is beloved by everyone with whom she is acquainted. She is very proud of the success of her son, and to none has his advancement brought more A License Law Point New Castle, April 21.-[Special.]-A curious law point came up in court here this afternoon. One day last week, while the late Judge McMichael was on his death bed, the two Associate Judges reconsidered the liquor license application of Chris Kahrer, of the Fifth ward, and, notwithstanding that Kahrer had been refused peremptorily, they Kahrer had been refused peremptorily, they granted his license. President Judge Hazen was on the bench at the time, but was not consulted, and, in fact, knew nothing of the action of his associates. To-day attorneys appealed to the President Judge in court. Judge Hazen reserved his decision.

A BIG BRADDOCK BUDGET. A Prize Fight Followed by a Discharge

The Edgar Thomson Assessments Braddock, April 21.—[Special.]—A regular prize fight took place between two of the employes of the Carnegie, Phipps & Co.'s mill at Homestead yesterday. Early in the day two of the men, John Brown, a foreman, day two of the men, John Brown, a foreman, and John Coyle, a workman under Brown, had a dispute over some work. Both knew it was against the rules of the company, and they adjourned to the river bank, where a ring was drawn. When the first round opened Coyle landed one above Brown's right eye, which was soon returned. Six flerce rounds were fought with honors equally divided, and some of the workmen stopped the fight. All the men then returned to their posts, and among them was Coyle, who was greatly surprised on learning that he was dismissed from the company's employ by Brown. The friends of Coyle then refused to continue their work until Coyle was reinstated, which was done about an hour later.

It is now believed that the protest entered by several Braddock holders, including Superintendent Schwab, of the Edzar Thomson Steel Works, will result in a complete revision of the assessments made by the County Commissioners. The assistant assessors are out in a public declaration against the methods adopted by Mr. Corey at the last triennial assessment.

TEMPERATURE AND RAINFALL.

THE SULTAN'S BODY GUARD. He Plays One Class Against Another to Insure Safety to His Person.

It is reported from Constantinople that the Sultan was thrown literally into a fit of terror when he learned that two assassins had secreted themselves within his palace. They had hid themselves behind draperies, and their presence was detected by a small lapdog. The Sultan did not, perhaps, run any real danger, for he never passed through the apartments where the men were found; but as to the murderous intention of these worthies there is no doubt, and the Sultan would not be appeased until all the nooks and corners of his vast palace of Yildız Kiosk had been explored. Next, all the men belonging to the Nubian and Albanian Guards who were on duty that day were replaced by others, and put under arrest. They are to be sent into Asia Minor. For greater safety the Sultan is always protected by Nubians (blacks) and Albanians (whites), for the two regiments execute each other, and in their divisions the Padilsha feels secure.

The "Black Guards" are his favorites, says the correspondent of the Glasgow Her-ald, for they are so exceeding fierce when they have any cutting-down work to do, and they are also less rapacious than the Albanians, whose claws are always being ex tended for backsheesh. Taking them al tended for backsheesh. Taking them all round, however, the two corps of Pretorians, black and white, form a gang of unmitigated scoundrels. They are superblooking ruffians, magnificently dressed, overfed, overpaid, and enjoying practical impunity for every offense they may commit, except that of being negligent on duty. They are the terror of the whole quarter surrounding the palace; and the Sulfan himself is so alraid of them that he is constantly trying to bribe them into loyalty by gifts of money.
