Our Sluggers Simply Pulverize Mr. Von der Ahe's Browns.

POOR MR. BREITENSTEIN.

He Is Knocked Into Smithereens in Less Than an Inning.

SOME TREMENDOUS THUMPING.

Louisville Still Maintains the Lead by Good Playing.

TWO LOCAL GAMES THIS AFTERNOON

Pittsburg baseball cranks always take unbounded delight in defeating Von der Ahe, "Der Poss' has been so much interested and connected with the game in Pittsburg one way and another, and has been so determined to down the inno cent people of this city, that defeat as the Browns, wer really made the of jects of pity yes terday at Expos tion Park, and th opening champion thip game of the season of 1892 in this city will certainly long be remembered Yondy's men were not only routed, but metaphorically speaking, were butchered It was simply genuine slugging of the bal that did the trick, and doubtless Von de Ahe, Glasscock & Co., will yet be wonder ang what struck them. If ever a ball team from St. Louis or any other city or hamlet got a thumping and fell among desperadoes the Browns did yes terday, and they were very game people indeed to be in existence at all last sunset. That young "ohenom" with the left hand, named Breitenstein, may be working in convulsions yet. When our sluggers feel in the mood they can soon knock all the glory away from "phenoms." They felt in this mood yesterday, and poor Mr. Breitenstein was made aware of the fact.

A Very Sudden Change. At 1:30 P. M. he left the Seventh Avenu Hotel with all the prestige and glory that phenom can have. Before 4 o'clock hi fame was just as attractive as the mudd grounds, and hardly that. He didn't las an inning in front of the home sluggers, and had he remained in the box it is likely tha the game would never have been finished But although the game was awfully one sided, it was delightful for the local cranks The weather was wretched and the grounds so had that the game had to be called at the end of the seventh inning. There were about 5,000 people present, and that was a very large crowd considering the rainy weather Just as soon as the home players appeared on the grounds the enthusiasm of the 3,000 was manifested, and before the first inning had finished almost everybody had yelled himself boarse. Tin horns and husky voices made an awful noise in the rain, but every body was happy except Von der Ahe and Breitenstein-poor, deluded young man.

Those who have been thinking that Pittsburg has not a good ball team ought to know different now. Whatever the team may do in the future, they fully demon-strated vesterday that they are about as good as anybody's team. There never was better fielding, even on dry grounds, than that of the home players yesterday. Smith's Brilliant Catch. Elmer Smith ran in the mud and made one of the most brilliant catches of a ball from Brodie's bat ever seen in this city. Miller and Swartwood also did wonderful work. And the infield! Why, a better infield cannot be had-not even if one were made to order. Farrell proved himself a great man, and that hardly covers it. He is a brilliant player and as a sticker is one of these reliable men who can be depended on. And old Jeems, that good, that glorions twirler of many generations, was there, just as brimful of vigor, deception and joviality as he was many years ago, when lots of the present old people were young. Jimmy is not a roed that can be slinken by the wind ven though it blows a burricane, and when nd a floral horseshoe yesterday by the lub he responded by banging out one of his amous bits. Phenoms may come and phenous may go, but the gentle Jeems goes on Almost the whole game, as far as fun and enjoyment were concerned, was in the first inning and no less than 12 runs, 19 of them earned, were made by the local sluggers. Poor Breitenstein. How merrily he stepped into the box, and how disgusted and crest-failen he walked out a rew minutes later. Miller Began the Fun.

Miller was the first to face him, and rapped out a single to right field. Bierbaner followed with a double far into center, and Swartwood followed with a single. Farrell came next with a corking twobagger to left, and Beckley banged out a sinbagger to rename beauty output. Then came shurart with a single to right, and Breitenstein was so weary that he gave Smith his base on balls: Mack made a sacrifice hit, and hase on balls: Mack made a sacrifice hit, and then Galvin got his present and thumped out a single to right field. This brought Miller to but the second time and he singled and so did Bierbaner. Swartwood got his base on balls. Then Mr. Breitenstein retired. Farrell got his base on balls, and Bieckley made a double and Shugart went out at first. Sinish got his base on balls, and Mack ended that terrible half by knocking up a little fly to Werden. Well, all this cannonading got in the 12 runs.

In the fourth inning two more runs were scored on singles by Shugart, Smith, Mack and Galvin. and Galvir.

In the fifth inning the visitors made two runs on singles by Pinckney, Glasscock and Caruthers and an excusable fumble by Shuther the control run was made while the gart. Their third run was made while the home players were effecting A Neat Triple Play. Stricker led off the inning with a single. Crooks got his base on balls, and Carroll made a single, filling the bases. Worden sent out a little fly to Bierbauer, who trapped it and threw Carroll out at second. Snugart and Beckley put out Werden. Stricker ran home, and as Crooks had not run to third he, too, was put out by Beckley, Shugart and Farrell. The game was then called on account of wet grounds.

Probably one of the most entertaining features of the game was the presence of Probably one of the most entertaining features of the game was the presence of Harry Stevens, the score card champion, on the grounds. Harry has no equal and the manner in which he tends to the convenience of the patrons of the game in the way of supplying score cards has not been equaled here. What a bustling and amusing isllow he is, and he keeps pointing out the features and changes of the game from start to finish. His score cards are the best there have been in Pittsburg and contain the pictures of baseball celebrities. Harry is a baseball character beyond a doubt. Brooklyn, 9-Philadelphia, 5. New York, April 22-The Brooklyn and Philadelphia teams opened the champion-ship season at Eastern Park, Brooklyn, today in a rain storm. Brooklyn won by bunching hits in the first inning. Foutz was bit hard but the hits were generally scat-tered. The game was stopped in the fifth inning, but as the spectators remained on the bleachers the game had to be played out. Darkness stopped it in the eight. Attend-ance 2,051. Score:

LOOKS LIKE A GO.

Meeting to Organize the State Bal League on Monday. Altoona, April 22—[Special.]—Just when the State League was thought to be a thing of the past, it has received a fresh supply of animation, and everything now points to its formal union and continuance for the season. Manager James Farrington, who has had charge of many clubs in this section of the State, has taken the project in hand, and after making a tour of the six cities wanting to enter, reports everything in a favorable condition. Lebanou, Harrisburg and Readto enter, reports everything in a favorable condition. Lebanou, Harrisburg and Read-ing are particularly infused with the base-ball fever, and residents there are halling ball fever, and residents there are halling the innovation with joy.

All these places have excellent grounds, and already in the two latter places they are being put in condition. The grounds in Harrisburg can be rolled in a few hours, needing no other repairs. Williamsport has always been a good town for the national game, and the local backers there have plenty of money to further the scheme. York is also ready to go ahead. Mr. I. C. Missler, of this city, says managers and backers from the six cities will uncet on Monday and take final action. He said: "I have been on the lookout for players, and if the rest are as sincere we will have a club in ten days. The baseball enthusiasts are much pleased with the prospects for a club, and will certainly give good patronage."

One for the Eclipse. East Liverroot, April 22 .- [Special.]-The bell season opened here to-day with the Alliance team. There was a drizzling rain, and 1,200 people were present. The visitors presented a carefully selected team of Pitts-burg, Canton, Wooster and Alliance players. Young, for the Eclipse, pitched a phenome-nal game, and was strongly supported. England's support was poor. Score:

Beat the Genevas. BRAVER FALLS, April 22 .- [Special.]-The Geneva College team was defeated this after-noon by the Beaver Grays in a highly excit ing game by a score of 5 to 12. The Genevy attributes the defeat to the fact that the team opposing them was composed of a choice picked nine. Score:

tory, as it conflicted with a number of race meetings. The new schedule as arranged provides for the opening games to be played on April 28 at Joliet, Peoris, Evansville and Jacksonville, the contesting clubs being Rockford, Rock Island, Terre Haute

A LIVELY MEETING.

The County League Members Meet and Discuss the Climax Claims. There was quite a lively meeting of the County League last evening, and it may be accepted as a fact that things are not going smoothly along with the League. Mat Thompson, of the Climax team, demands a revision of the schedule, and the majority of the League are opposed to any change. They so decided last evening, and the Cli-They so decided hist evening, and the Chimax lot threaten to withdraw. Manager Thompson also claimed at the meeting that two of his players had been taken from him by other County League clubs. It was agreed to allow him to have the players if he will play on his team.

It is generally thought that the schedule is not a good one and is unfair to the Climax team. Another meeting will be held next week to try and fix matters up.

Another Local Ball Team. Another amateur baseball team has been organized in Allegheny and they will be known as the Brownlees. The players are: Stinkel, catcher: Ernest, pitcher; Do Stinkel, catcher: Ernest, pitcher; Dosson, shortstop; Hutchinson, first base; Seifert, second base; Brown, third base; Cahoon, left field; Montgomery, center field; Smith, right field. They want to play any of the amateur teams in Western Pennsylvania, the Jeannettes, Uniontowns or Jolinstowns preferred. Address J. J. Brownice, 288 Beaver avenue, Allegheny City.

The Diamond. JOCKO FIELDS leads the Giants in batting. SHINDLE is evidently not in his old-time form. OH, what a drubbing that was for the Browns. Tur Comiskey-Von der the war is very torrid. BILL BROWN may be signed to catch Tim Keefe War weather is certainly injuring the local club IF we can only make it three straight won't it be SHOCK is doing good work at third for Baltimore and batting well.

W. C. Wilson is doing well as umpire in the Southern League. THE magnates over the country are anxiously canning the skies. OLD GALVIN was loudly cheered vesterday after RAIN prevented the League games at New York and at Boston yesterday. T. OYSTER BURNS, of Brooklyn, has already been fined $50 for kicking. SID FARRAR has left for Providence to captain the team and play first base.

IT will keep the League clubs rustling to catch up with all of their postponed games. ELMER SMITH was presented with a hand bouquet yesterday when he went to bat, COLONEL JOHN I. ROGERS has suffered a relapse Early baseball has not agreed with him. THE players of the local and the St. Louis club were guesis at the Opera House last evening. It is worth going to Exposition Park for an hour or two if only to see and hear Harry Stevens. EVEN Jack Chapman was suprised at Pitche Jones' fine work in his game against Pittsburg. SOMETHING alls Rettger. Cleveland's pitcher and he will not be in condition to play for some

MIKE KELLY declares that Boston ought to win the pennant, but that he fears Brooklyn and Cleveland. BUCKLEY will do the receiving for the Browns until he is injured or his hands give out. He is a valuable man. GLASSCOCK actually wanted Umpire Emstle to call the game during the fourth inning yesterday on account of darkness. Cluss who have any more left handed phenominay be inclined to keep them away from Pittsburg after yesterday's example. THE Mansfield County League team and the Keystones will play at Mansfield to-day. The con-test promises to be a good one. Tom Brown writes: "We had the keys to the city the night of our opening game. Each player had a five-bone hat given him." MIKE SLATTERY, once a league star, has accepted Secretary White's terms and will play in the Binghamton in the Eastern League. HARRY STOVEY'S absence from the Boston field was caused by a wrench. He nurt his side, and Bob-O'-1.thk Lowe has been playing in left. THEY call him Alexander Marvelous Jones in Louisville now. The little Pennsylvanian had a tough day in which to make his debut, but he's a hero now. CATCHER CONNIE MURPHY, released by Chl-cago, has been assigned to the Albany, N. Y., ciub of the Eastern League. He left for Albany

LOUISVILLE and St. Louis have turned out bigger FRED PFEFFER denies that there is lack of harmony in the Louisville team and thinks that if the Chicago papers would look for trouble they could find it in their own team. THERE are at least three first basemen in the big league who are treading on quicksand, and they do not know it. Perry Werden may be succeeded by Long John Reilly, and the latter is also wanted to take Lou Whistler's place at Baltimore.

Inwin's contract with Washington is for two years. The Philadelphia Press says of Irwin: 'The Wagners and the Washington club are to be congratulated on the step, as thereby they gain the headlest and most experienced general in the baseball profession. Such a man at the head of team of strong players like the Washingtons ought to make it give a creditable account of itself." Fon a new player, Pitcher Bowers, of Yale College, is a wonder, says the New York Telegram. He has faced the Boston League club, and kept the hits of that strong aggregation down to single figures and prevented them from being bunched. He has terrific speed, and can vary his delivery at will. In the box he is as cool as ice, and is not rattled by the forging ahead of his opponents.

The Bellefield Grounds Purchased by the Tennis Men and A NEW CLUBHOUSE IS TO BE BUILT.

Important Meeting of the County League Held Last Evening.

UNIVERSITY ATHLETES NOW TRAINING The Pittsburg Tennis Club has secured its Bellefield grounds at a cost of $17,000. The deal was made yesterday, by which members of the club come into possession of an excellent piece of property for their purposes. A land company was recently formed and ten shares of stock taken at $500 a share to secure the grounds. That com pany will be incorporated, as will also the Tennis Club. Now that the grounds are held by men bers of the club, there will no longer be any hesitancy about making improvements, and in less than two weeks, if the weather permits, work will begin on a clubhouse, which will be both handsome and convenient. With the club in its present position there will be no trouble to secure the funds to erect a suitable building. Heretofore all improvements of an extensive nature have been deterred by the fact that the club was been deterred by the fact that the club was liable to lose its grounds at any time, holding only a year's lease at a time.

Though the new and prosperous condition of the club will have a tendency to draw a large membership, it will be found necessary to limit the list because there will be a lack of accommodations. Just where the limit will be made is not yet known. If there are a large number of insertive membership was a large number of insertive membership. there are a large number of inactive mem-bers the limit will not necessarily be so low as it otherwise would be.

Two new courts will be added to the which will be the highest number possible to have. That will make a total of ten courts, which will, during the course of the day, accommodate quite a number of players. The Pittaburg Tennis Club courts players. The Pittsburg Tennis Club courts are the finest in Western Pennsylvania, and will compare favorably with those of the Eastern colleges, which stand at the head in lawn tennis. The club will keep up its reputation by making everything in keeping, and there will be nothing which is not strictly first class. strictly first-class.

The plans for the clubhouse have not been settled upon; in fact they have hardly been discussed. There has, up to the present time, been too much uncertainty about the affairs of the club for the projectors to even think about plans further than the purchase of the grounds. Everything will be ready within a few days, however, and the new clubhouse will be ready for occu-pancy before the season is very old.

THE BETTING BEGINS. No Truth in the Story About Corbett Send ing Some Money to New Orleans. New York, April 29.—[Special.]—Betting on the fight between Sullivan and Corbett has already commenced. It was learned this evening that Mattle Corbett, the well-known bookmaker, had a commission to bet $1,600 against $2,000 that Corbett wins. It has just against $2,000 that Corbett wins. It has just come to light that the story about Jim Corbett forwarding $2,500 to the Olympic Club of New Orleans as a deposit to insure his presence in the ring with John L. Sullivan is without foundation. A well-known sportsman of this city said yesterday that the amount had not been sent at all, but that Phil Dwyer had pledged his word that he would guarantee Corbett's presence in the ring, and that Charley Johnston, Sullivan's backer, through a prominent New Orleans sportsman, had done the same.

The following cable from the editor of the London Sportsman was received to-day: "Johnson accepts offer to box Dixon. Will sail next week on transfer of expenses."

SECRETARY HARRY KUHL has just issued the programme of the Chicago Racing Association's spring meeting at Hawthorne, it calls for 17 days of racing, beginning June 4 and ending June 23, with the Chicago Derby slated for the first day. The purses are $500 and $500, with five races provided for each day, the conditions of which are so apity phrased that no trainer or owner can fall to understand them. THE enterprise of George Hankins in making nominations for the English Derby and other classic events across the ocean is deserving of highest commendation. The presence of American horses in England will create an international rivairy and interest that cannot have any effect other than a most beneficial and attimulating one. We wish Mr. Haukins success, and trust that his venture may induce others to aspire in the same direction.—New York Press.

Borax or boracic acid is only an antiseptic to be used in ulcerations to prevent decomposition. Even for this purpose there is not enough in the above formula to be of any value whatever.

Common salt is claimed by many of the foremost catarrhal specialists to do more barm than good in this trouble. Every catarrhal subject, however, is familiar with the cleansing properties of salt, but this is all that can be said of it. Common salt is not curative, simply cleansing, and there is not enough salt in this combination to cleanse anything. Cyanide of iron is a poison. good. Catarth can be cured. Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers have abundantly proved this. The voluntary statements of nundreds of grateful patients prove it. But the experience of these same hundreds of grateful patients who have been cured by Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers is also conclusive to the point that patent medicines will not and cannot cure eatarth, and also that it is only the skilled specialist who sees and understands every form and phase of the disease, and knows exactly what to do at every point that has any chance of success in this trouble. This is the secret of the success of Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers. They understand their business and therefore cure catarth.

CATARRH OF THE HEAD, THROAT AND STOMACH. The Case of a Well-Known Steel Worker of Jones & Laugh'ins' Large Establishment. Jones & Laugh'ins' Large Establishment.
A typical case illustrative of catarrh is added this week in the statement of Mr. Conrad L. Sanders, No. 2716 Shelly street, Southside. Mr. Sanders is employed at the large establishment of Jones & Laughlins and makes the following statement:
"It has been for eight years that I have suffered from catarrh, but recently it grew so serious that I felt I could not endure it longer.

through my mouth. The mucus would accumulate in my head and throat and keep me blowing my nostrils and raising and gagging all the time.

"The secretions would drop back into my throat from behind my palate.
"I suffered terribly from headaches. At times I was entirely unfit for work. No one who does not appreciate the ravages that this disease of catarrh can make on the system, can understand anything about how thoroughly broken down and miserable I was. Every morning I would have to cough and hawk and gag to remove the accumulation of the night. My stomach became so badly affected that it could scarcely retain food. There was nausea and distress after eating. My bowels were constipated, my appetite fickle, and I was indeed a sick man. "It was in this condition that I went to Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers. Under their treatment a change for the better speedily took place. I improved greatly. My head is clear and I am like another man. I didn't know that medicine could work such a change in a person. I am more than pleased with the result. I had doctored a great deal and never received any benefit whatever.

"I willingly make this statement publicly for the benefit of others who may be similarly afflicted. I believe Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers use the only rational and scientific treatment for the cure of catarrh, and anyone giving thems a trial will not be disappointed. I heartly remommend them." Conrad L. Sanders, 2716 Shelly Street, S. S.
