At Western Stock Centers Higher Prices

Than Last Week Ruled. SHEEP AND SWINE WEAK AND LOWER

OFFICE OF THE DISPATOR, PITTSBURG, WEDNESDAY, May 4. There have been all told close to 90 carloads of cattle on sale at the East Liberty yards this week, an excess of 25 cars over the late average. Quality of offerings was better than it has been for months past. Buyers were on hand in smaller torce than usual, and, in spite of the improvement in quality, markets were very heavy and slow at a decline from last week's prices ranging from 15c to 30c per cwt. At all Western points prices of cattle were higher this week than last, and Pittsburg drovers were left out in the cold. The highest price paid here this week was $4 65, and the same grade could a week ago find* ready buyers at $4 85 and possibly more. Fresh cows were in larger supply this week than last, and markets were steady for good stock and weak on common. The sapply of caives for the week raised very little from last week. The total so far has been a little above 200 before the week is our. Top price to-day was 4 per pound. Hogs—Market opened Monday with 23 loads on sale, and the total for two weeks has been a little above 20 loads. Top price on Monday was 44 90 and this morning 44 80. Sheep and lambs were in supply beyond demand, and prices declined a full quarter on some grades. At the decline markets were draggy.

A Live Stock Firm's Review.

Following is report of the week's transactions as turnished by Holmes, Briggs & Co.:

There were 80 loads of cattle on sale at the opening of the market on Monday morning and 5 loads arrived through the day. The attendance of buyers was scarcely up to the average, which gave a bad outlook, and the opening was very dull at 15@10c decline from the opening prices of same day last week on the desirable grades. Other grades were slow sale at 25@30c decline, and as the day advanced prices grow weaker until the close, when there were free offerings at 25@30c decline. At the close there were a number of loads unsold and carried over until Tuesday. On Tuesday there was no improvement in prices. There were some 6 or 8 loads shipped East in first hands. This we consider only due to an oversupply for demand for this week. We hope to see a reaction next week and stronger prices for next 60 days on good corn-ed stock. We quote brime to extra steers at $150@4 60; good. $4 25@4 40; fair, $10@4 10; common, $25@40 per bead.

83 50@3 75; cows and bulls, $2 00@3 75; stock-ers, $2 50@3 50; fresh cows and springers, $20@40 per head.

Hogs—Receipts of hogs on Monday were fair and demand was slow at 5@10c decline from the close of last week. Since Monday receipts have been light, and as the quality was had and demand light trade is very dull at a shade lower prices than the opening. As Chicago and other Western markets con-tinue dull and lower we cannot look for any improvement here this week. We quote best select at $4 85@4 90; good mixed, $4 80; best lorkers, $4 70@4 80; common Torkers and pirs, $4 50@4 65.

Receipts of sheep on Monday were 26 cars, which was quite enough for the demand, as Receipts of sheep on Monday were 25 cars, which was quite enough for the demand, as Eastern buyers refused to handle them short of at least 25c lower prices than last week on the better grades, while more undesirable grades suffered a loss of 30@10c per 100. We quote prime sheep, $5 00@5 25; good, $4 50@4 85; lair, $4 00@4 25; common, $2 00@5 35; good, $5 50@5 75; tair, $4 75@5 00. Calves are in light demand and trade dull at $4 00@4 15; by deckload small lots choice, $3 25@4 40.

CHICAGO-There was not much life in the wheat market to-day. Trade was nar-row and largely professional, and while there was a good deal of bull news the market was extremely dull most of the day, and while holding rather firm did not show any decided upward impulse. This was at-tributed entirely to the narrowness of speculation and the absence of outside sup-port. The crop news was still in favor of the friends of wheat. Cables were generally 40%@41c, and did not go higher than the outside price at the start, closing unchanged.

Oats were quiet but rather firm, in sympathy with corn, and also influenced some by bad weather.
Hog products were quiet and steady. There was some strength early, but later trade became dull and prices casier. The close for pork was at medium figures, and at 10c over yesterday's last figures. Lard is practically unchanged and ribs are 25c up. The leading futures ranged as follows, as cor-The leading futures ranged as follows, as cor-rected by John M. The Singer Property at Wilkinsburg Changes Hands Finally.

DETAILS OF THE TRANSACTION.

General Features of the Market Showing Confidence of Investors.

THE TREND OF MONEY AND SPECULATION

The largest transaction in real estate ever made in the Wilkinsburg district was brought to a conclusion yesterday. For months the Singer property has been an object of interest to investors and subdividers, and a number of offers for it have been made, but none of them were up to the mark. Believing there was money in the property, if judiciously handled, a short time ago a syndicate was formed for its purchase, headed by a former public school principal, and an offer of $135,000 made.

This was accepted and yesterday they acquired full possession. The property is among the finest in the county. It consists of about 30 acres, with an elegant stone mansion, the view from which takes in a large stretch of highly improved territory, beautiful valleys and gentle slopes. While the object of the purchasers has not been divulged, it is understood they will subdivide it into large lots for high-class rural homes. The price, $4,500 an acre, is considered reasonable in view of the superior character of the property and the high state of improvement to which it has been brought

Characteristics of the Market. Real estate is of perennial interest. Almost every tenant hopes to become a pro-prietor, and watches the market with ab-sorbing interest. The situation is one of real strength. While there is an absence of speculative activity there is no lack of investment interest. There would be more sales if owners would modify their views and meet buyers half way. But there is a good side to high prices. They show con-fidence in the future of the city.

It is fortunate for home-seekers that

It is fortunate for home-seekers that there is a large visible supply of residence property to keep prices within reach of modest purses. Fancy prices are asked in many cases for choice building sites. A rich man fixes upon a particular spot where he wants to establish his home, and is will-ing to pay roundly for it, even if it is surdesirable and much cheaper.

Unless indications be misleading, the

market will improve as the season progresses. Good weather and dry roads are gresses. Good weather and dry roads are favorable to activity. Brokers are hopeful; owners are firm. Their ideas of values are as exalted as they were six months or a year ago. There is no sign of weakness in any part of the line.

Yesterday's Building Permits. Yesterday was another good day in the building line. Thirteen permits were issued for 16 improvements, aggregating $70,-625. Those of special value are: James Lewis & Co., iron and stone factory, Fifty-seventh street, Eighteenth ward, $20,000: Miriam Hays, four brick dwellings on Broad street, Nineteenth ward, $13,800; Joseph P. Reed, brick dwelling on Penn avenue, Twenty-first ward, $12,000; David Wirk brick dwelling on Denna avenue, Twenty-first ward, $12,000; David Kirk, brick dwelling on Darragh street, Fourteenth ward, $7,000; same, brick dwelling, same street and ward, $5,000; Miss Ruby Bruce, brick addition to dwelling on second street, First ward, $1,800.

Special Features of Trade. The vote of Wilkinsburg in favor of issu ing bonds for $150,000 for sewer purposes raises the borough indebtedness to $200,000. There is a movement on foot to make Eighth street full width from Liberty to Penn. With the Harper building in ruins, this is an auspicious time for the improve ment. Certainly better communication be-tween these streets is needed. The move-ment is sanctioned by a large number of business men.

A large number of buildings on Penn ave-

A large number of buildings on Fenn ave-nne are being overhauled and brightened up. In almost every square a new front is being put in, and in some cases two or three. W. F. Eichenland is building a three-story brick warehouse on Butler street, near Thirty-fith, adjoining his present place of business.

Bernard Gloeckner is excavating for a six-story warehouse on Penn avenue, near Eleventh street.

Thomas street, Fahnestock place, Home-wood, is being widened to 100 feet and graded.
Yesterday afternoon the street was talking 45 for Manchester Traction. Buyers are believed to be insiders.

THE MONETARY TREND.

Some Improvement Noted Locally and a Decidedly Encouraging Outlook, Local monetary matters underwent some improvement yesterday, but the demand for funds was not heavy enough to make much funds was not heavy enough to make much of an impression upon the store of surplus capital. There was a hopeful feeling, based on prospects of a steadily broadening market from this time forward. The interest rate was unchanged, 5@6 representing the extremes. A cashler said: "There is no cause for complaint. The volume of business is equal to any in the history of the country, but profits are small. That the people are prosperous and money well distributed is shown by the prevalence of cash sales. People are not rushing into debt. Mortgages are being paid off almost as fast as contracted. The situation is hopeful from all points of view."

There were no sales at either of the early calls. At the second Airbrake was bid up to 113%, with none offered. It was builted on the knowledge that the company is doing a rushing business and on talk of an extra dividend at the meeting this month. Other good features of the early calls were Manchester Traction and Philadelphia Gas. Duquesne was a little weaker and Birmingham steady.

At the afternoon session 100 sbares of Manchester Traction changed hands at 43, and 100 Philadelphia Gas at 19. Airbrake advanced to 114, the best price for nearly two years. Central Traction was a trifle stronger. There were no fluctuations worth noting in other parts of the list.

A broker remarked: "Easy money all over the country is favorable to greater activity and higher prices, and if the built would make an effort they would capture the market. A furry of this kind would attract

ome Animation and Firmness in the Early Stock Dealings-Arbitrage Purchases of Other Cities-An Upward Movement in Cordage-Final Changes All Gains, NEW YORK, April 4.- The stock market today gave no indication of getting out of the stagnation in which it has fallen; and while there was some show of animation in the early dealings, the intertracing was marked by even more intense duliness than has been seen at any time since the first of the year. A rather firmer temper prevailed.

been seen at any time, since the first of the year. A rather firmer temper prevailed, due in most part to arbitrage purchases between this market and those of London and Philadelphia.

Reading, Atchison, New England and St. Pani occupied the most prominent position in point of activity, but in neither were the movements of special importance, though New England in the late trading succeeded in recovering yesterday's loss. The features of the day were the continued pressure upon Northern Pacific and the subsequent recovery, with the strength developed in Missouri Pacific on light transactions and the advances in Cordage and Northwestern preferred. The upward movement in Cordage was principally a marking up of the stock on the short interest, but the buying in the other stocks mentioned besides Lackawanna, Reading, Louisville, New Albany and Chicago, Wheeling and Lake Erie and Lake Shore, was of the best kind.

The early dealings were listless, and after a steady opening prices in a few stocks advanced, but the movement spread to the entire list by the afternoon; and while the gains on most are for small fractions only, the advances in a few stocks were large and rave character to the whole market. There gave character to the whole market. There was no diminution of the strength. The close was quiet, but firm, at or about the best of the day. The final changes show gains invariably. Northwestern preferred is up 2; Cordage, 1½, and Missouri Pacific and New England, each 1½.

The total sales of stocks to-day were 191,592 shares, including: Atchison, 13 250; E/ie, 8,300; Louisville and Nashville, 7,400; Missouri Pacific, 4,106; Northwestern, 3,000; Northern Pacific, 6,035; do, preferred, 5,515; New England, 21,280; Reading, 39,255; St. Paul, 23,410; Union Pacific, 5,300; Western Union, 3,984.

The strength of the bond list was the most encouraging about the trading to-day. While the amount of business was not largely increased, there was a good demand throughout the day for all sorts of issues, and the specularive bonds in many cases scored material gains. The sales were $1,933,000, of which Wabash 2ds sold $301,000 and Atchison incomes $10,000. incomes $170,000.
