REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE.

Conduct of the Assistant Superintendent is Indorsed.

SENATOR OSBOURNE'S CHARGES FAIL

James B. Scott, a member of the State Board of Charities, and Chairman of the committee appointed to investigate alleged irregularities in the management of the State Reformatory, at Huntingdon, has prepared and will probably this week submit to Governor Pattison a report of that investigation.

The report will be comparatively short, but it will review in detail the cause of the trouble in the Huntingdon institution, will fully and thoroughly vindicate the management and will indorse in positive terms the assistant superintendent of the Reformatory, upon whose account the investigation is alleged to have been instituted and whose dismissal was asked by those who instigated the inquiry.

The story of the investigation and the cause leading to it is interesting. Senator Frank Osbourn, of Philadelphia, is a lawyer of standing and reputation. Shortly after the adjournment of the last Legislature, and after Senator Osbourn had returned to his law practice, the son of one of his clients was convicted of some petty crime, and was sentenced to the Reformatory at Huntingdon.

A week after the boy had been committed Senator Osbourn wrote a letter to the management of the Reformatory asking for the boy's release. The Superintendent at Huntingdon wrote back to the Senator refusing to release the boy, and assuring Senator Osbourn that only the Governor and the Pardon Board had the authority to release a prisoner from that institution. The Senator immediately replied, saying he knew thoroughly well where such authority rested, but he asked for the boy's release as an act of Senatorial courtesy. The Assistant Superintendent then wrote back to the Senator saying that Senatorial courtesy could not be extended to a violation of the law, and that the boy would not be released.

Then Senator Osbourn threatened that he would present a bill to the Legislature, and from receiving an appropriation from the State.

Judge Arnold, of Philadelphia, then ordered that ten of the worst inmates of the Huntingdon institution be turned over to him. The Huntingdon authorities obeyed the order of the Philadelphia court, and ten boys who had been sent from Philadelphia were released, and sent with an officer to Philadelphia, where they are confined at Moyamensing. On the testimony of these boys, Senator Osbourn instigated the investigation. The Senator at once visited the Governor, and told him the disclosures made by the released boys. The Governor assured Senator Osbourn that he would at once go to Huntingdon and look into the alleged irregularities.

His Own Investigation. "Governor, you need not go to Huntingdon," the Senator said, "I will go there myself." The Senator did go there. He was met at the institution by the Committee of the Board of Charities to whom he said: "I did not want the Governor here. This is not Pattison's investigation. It is Osbourn's investigation. It is Osbourn's investigation."

The inquiry was then instituted. The charges of mismanagement, incompetency and cruelty were laid against the assistant superintendent, but the report which is now prepared will declare the institution to be thoroughly managed and will especially applaud the conduct of the assistant superintendent. The action of Judge Arnold in ordering and securing the release of the ten boys from the Reformatory will not be approved and the enforcement of the law governing such cases will be recommended.

In a recent opinion on the law governing the Reformatory, Judge Samuel L. McHardy, of Mercer county, decided that the management of the Reformatory had authority under the law to send reformatory inmates to the penitentiary of the State. That is, a boy sent from the eastern end of the State can be sent by the Huntingdon management to the Eastern Penitentiary, and one committed to the Reformatory from the western end of the State can be sent to Riverside, there to remain always under the jurisdiction of the Huntingdon management.

The enforcement of this feature of this law will be recommended by the report of the Investigating Committee, and hereafter all refractory prisoners at Huntingdon will be sent to the penitentiary in the district from which they were sent to the Reformatory. This arrangement, it is argued by the report, will keep down disturbances and will tend to allay the ugly rumors which it is claimed are always started by the inmates of the concern, and upon investigation have always been found to be without foundation.

WANTS MORE CARBAGE FURNACES

Mr. Patrick Doesn't Think Well of the Plan to Make an Island Dumping Ground. W. W. Patrick, who is President of the Ricker Carbage Furnace Company, talked a little about the carbage question yesterday. He says what the city needs is more furnaces. He built the one at Hardscrabble and it was to have a capacity of 30 tons per day. The city undertook to overload it, and to facilitate combustion put in gas at a cost of $500 per month. This was spending money at a lively gait, and it was too expensive. Mr. Patrick says 20 bushels of slack coal per day will run any of the furnaces, and the cost of one should not be more than $10 per diem.

DRANK HUMAN BLOOD.

Death of an Iowa Man Who Thirsted for Gore for Seventeen Years. BENTON, IA., May 8.—Joseph Hamilton, who has spent the last 17 years of his life in chains, died yesterday. He had a terrible mania, a thirst for human blood, which nothing could appease, and he had to be kept in irons all the time. When about 25 years of age Hamilton acquired this appetite by tasting blood in a fight.

He was watching a sparring match when he saw blood flow from the nose of one man and went wild instantly. Drawing a knife he plunged it into the heart of a bystander and drank his blood as it flowed. He killed another man before he was arrested.

"Looks like a ghost!" That's what they say of the pale, thin, weak woman who's "run-down" and over-worked. Probably she knows it herself. But there's one thing she can't know, or she wouldn't feel so and look so—and that is, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is guaranteed to help her.

It's a legitimate medicine, made especially for women's needs; an invigorating, restorative tonic and a soothing and strengthening nervine, imparting tone and vigor to the whole system.

But it isn't a mere stimulant. It's a remedy, safe and sure, for all the functional disorders, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses that make women suffer. In "female complaints" of every kind, periodic pains, internal inflammation, ulceration, and kindred ailments, it's guaranteed to benefit the sufferer. The money is returned. No other medicine for women is sold so. Proof that nothing else is "just as good."

Rheumacure. A SURE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM. HARRY S. HEACOCK, 425 Wood St., Pittsburg, Pa.

At times I have been so crippled with rheumatism that I have had to be carried from my car and taken home in a conveyance. About Jan. 1, 1892, I was attacked again with my old complaint and was about discouraged. I learned of your remedy, Rheumacure, purchased a bottle, the result has been beyond my most sanguine expectations. I have had no trouble since using it, and feel myself a new man physically and an certain of a permanent cure.

I can cheerfully recommend Rheumacure to all persons afflicted with rheumatism. Very truly yours, HARRY S. HEACOCK, 425 Wood St., Pittsburg, Pa.

I am familiar with the above case and can say that the facts set forth are correct. J. D. ZIMMERMAN, Agt. United States Express Co., Pittsburg, Pa. Price $3 per bottle. For sale by all druggists.

MEN'S FINE SUITS.

KAUFMANN'S ORIGINATORS OF THE "WALK WELL" SHOE. The old fallacy that the foot must fit the shoe, instead, vice versa, the shoe the foot, has been thoroughly dispelled by the introduction of KAUFMANN'S celebrated "Walk-Well," but the result is a triumph of modern shoe making. It means the redemption from corns, bunions and the pains in general produced by ill-fitting shoes. The "Walk-Well" is made with a view to perfect ease and comfort. It follows the natural outline of the foot, holding it firmly through instep and heel, and allows the weight of the body to rest squarely on the ground, instead of on the toes and joints. The soles are of peculiar shape and of sufficient width to allow the foot and its joints the necessary expansion without the uppers losing their natural shape and extending over the sides, thereby giving elasticity to the step and lessening the liability of the uppers to crack.

$12 THE "WALK WELL" SHOE FOR MEN. Comes in both lace and Congress styles, and is made of first-class American Tannery Calf, with genuine flint oak sole; solid inner sole and counters, and, while we sell it for only $1.98

Per pair, it excels in durability any $3 shoe offered in this town. THE "WALK WELL" CUT OPEN.
