Farewell Services Begun at the Old Home on Fifth Avenue.

STORIES FROM ANCIENT RECORDS.

Minutes of the Board on the Only Body-Snatching Case.

BILL FOR OIL AT ONE DOLLAR A GALLON

The closing exercises of the First M. P. Church, Fifth avenue, were begun last evening, and will be continued every evening up to and including Sunday. The meeting last evening was held in the Sunday school room, which was crowded to its utmost capacity. The services consisted of devotional exercises conducted by the pastor, Rev. D. Jones, and an address by Rev. J. D. Herr, D. D., a former pastor. The programme for the balance of the week is as follows: This evening, social reunion from 7:30 to 8:30; address by Rev. J. F. Dryer, President Pittsburg Annual Conference; Friday evening, meeting of all the societies of the church, reports of organization, work, condition, etc., and address by Rev. D. S. Stevens, D. D., editor Methodist Recorder. Sunday, Sunday school 8:15 A. M.; baptism 10:30 A. M.; reception of members and sermon by Rev. J. J. Murray, D. D., of Baltimore; 2 P. M., historical meeting, addresses by Rev. John Cowd, D. D., Rev. D. Jones, and others; 7:30 P. M., last services in the church—sermon by Rev. John Scott, D. D., and communion services.

The date of the charter of this old church is March 5, 1828, and on March 18, 1828, the first meeting of the chartered trustees was held at the residence of P. Leonard, food street. The trustees were Edward Moore, Thomas Robinson, Joseph Taylor, Adam Baker, L. Remington, Adam Applegate, John Bayard and P. Leonard.

Moved There Just 60 Years Ago. A peculiar coincidence of the removal from the present site is that in June, 1832, the congregation removed to that location, and on June 1, 1892, 60 years afterward, the property will be turned over to Kaufmann Bros. The original minute book of the Board of Trustees is still in use. The first entry is dated March 18, 1828, and the last, May 10, 1892. There are many quaint and curious entries under the old dates, of which, through the kindness of Secretary Moore, a DISPATCH representative was permitted to copy a few. One bears the date October 4, 1828, and reads:

"The committee agree that the preacher in charge, Brother Lumbdin, shall have $450 for his ministerial labors this year without any further allowance for fuel or table expenses." On October 13 it was resolved that the sexton receive $1 for digging graves for children under 14 years and $1 25 above that age in the Methodist burying ground, N. Holmes, and Rev. J. Verner appointed committee on burying ground.

Body snatching seemed to be in vogue in those days, for another record says:

On December 23, 1828, with J. Verner in the chair, whereupon it was laid before the board and stated by the sexton, Robert White, that he had been informed on Monday, the 8th instant, that there was taken and carried off from the Methodist grave-yard the corpse of Mrs. Cunningham dead, also certified that he did decently inter the aforesaid corpse on Monday, at 8 o'clock, being the 8th day of December, 1828. It was then moved by C. Craig that a reward of $50 be offered for the discovery of the person or persons that he or they shall be convicted of such offense before a proper tribunal according to the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and to the full intent that a discovery be made and the offender be convicted. The President of this board, Thos. Robinson, shall and is hereby authorized to advertise the stolen corpse in the newspapers three successive weeks, offering the reward of $50. Moved that the sexton be allowed the sum of $2 for examining the grave and other matters in trying to find some trace that would lead to the discovery of the stolen corpse.

Oil Sold for a Dollar a Gallon. At a special meeting held April 25, 1829, it was moved that "P. Leonard's bill, now before us, showing a charge of 7, 1828, for one barrel, 30 gallons of oil at $100, $30, etc., account current balances in his favor $42 75. All moneys received from graves to go toward liquidating debt. The Treasurer was notified to make a report, and having failed to do so, was deposed and Henry Palmer was elected in his place.

At a meeting on August 23, 1829, the following was adopted: "Whereas, Some mischievous persons have been seen on the Methodist Church out of this house and by putting a lock in place of one by which the sexton had the key to enter the house as well as other keys, rendered useless to those where doors have been barred and other depredations committed. Therefore, Resolved, That the sexton be assisted with a sufficient guard to protect the house from violence or house-breakers, and keep possession of the house agreeably to the directions of Thomas Robinson and S. Remington, who have now and are instructed by resolution to see that no intrusion be made upon a church service, and to permit no one to enter the house, except as they may be invited by the sexton, or as he may be directed by the sexton. This to be paid out of the graveyard fund.

Outsiders Meddled With the Candles. On November 23, 1829, it was resolved "that it shall be the duty of Robert White as the proper sexton of the corporation of the Methodist Church, of Pittsburgh, having the charge of and he is required to stay in the Methodist meeting house in Smithfield street at the time of holding all and every meeting or assembly for divine service, or any other religious meeting, or meeting or assembly for business whatsoever doing or to be done in the said house, and to keep and things pertaining to the said house in order and prevent any person or persons from meddling with the fixtures of said house and from trimming the lamps, candles, or from meddling with the stoves, doors, windows or any other thing belonging in or about the said meeting house that is or shall hereafter be under the care of said sexton other than he shall direct by the direction of the Board of Trustees." January 8, 1830, the sexton's salary was raised $25 per year, to be paid from the graves.

On September 16, 1833, it was resolved "that the sexton be allowed $125 per annum for keeping the meeting house in Fifth street in good order, and giving good attention to all its parts and meetings held therein, and all other duties and services that properly devolve upon a church sexton, together with keeping the gutters and water courses around the house in good order. Two dollars were allowed Superintendent Lewis for hanging up a church notice, and nothing to be construed to prevent our friends in Allegheny town from boarding Brother Dunlavy."

All through the book are strange phrases, but space will not allow the producing of even one-third of them. The handwriting is clear and legible, although the pages are yellow with age. Great care has been taken in the book, as it is invaluable in the eyes of the members.

Absolutely the Best.

"I never hesitate to recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as absolutely the best," says Mr. F. B. Kemp, assistant business manager of the Youngstown, O., Daily Telegram, one of the most influential and valuable newspapers in the Buckeye State. Mr. Kemp also says: "I have found it a certain cure for the cough usually following an attack of the grippe, and I keep a bottle of it in the house." 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

SEALS BEING KILLED

By British Columbia Sealers Who Do Not Know the Law.

PORT TOWNSEND, WASH., May 11.—[Special.]—No words can describe the wrath of the owners of the British Columbia sealing fleet of vessels that started from this port for Bering Sea. They swear they have been enticed out of thousands of dollars by Sir Martin Tupper, who failed to notify them of new rules for capturing any vessel found within Bering Sea. Although they must have known of this new interpretation of modus vivendi several months before it was given out, an early tip to Victoria sealers would have saved them thousands of dollars. As it is now there are thirty vessels cruising along Aleutian Islands and following seals in their course to Bering Sea.

They will strain every nerve to enter Bering early and secure a big catch as possible before American cruisers appear, and warning them will be difficult, as they will naturally seek to avoid cruisers, hence their capture is morally certain and loss of vessels and the season's catch inevitable. A letter from the revenue cutter Corwin shows that she has done good work in securing statistics of destruction of seal life by hunters in open sea. The Corwin took four native hunters and every pleasant day they went out sealing in cases. They kept careful record of seals taken as well as those which escaped wounded and from those records estimates may be made of the slaughter which goes on in Bering Sea.

A TRIP ON A SNOW SLIDE

Five Bears and Fourteen Goats Ride Down the Mountains to Death.

SEATTLE, WASH., May 11.—[Special.]—The warm sun of the spring time are starting the usual snow slides and avalanches in the Cascade and the Olympic mountains. From Sultan City, a mining camp in the Cascades, northeast of this place, a curious sight is reported. The men at work in the Silver Top tunnel heard a noise, and rushing out, found a vast snow slide coming down the mountain, not 300 yards away. In the middle of a mass of snow ten rods wide by a quarter of a mile long were five bears and 14 mountain goats. The animals were hurled over the edge and the whole menagerie, except one bear, was buried in the debris.

A Big Real Estate Deal.

In addition to the single lots sold yesterday at Allegheny, one whole tier of 22 lots were sold to several prominent capitalists of the city. They intend building houses on the property immediately for rental purposes. In speaking of their purchase one of the gentlemen interested said: "Yes, we bought that tier, and I don't think we have made any mistake. No, we didn't get out rates for cash. The Allegheny people think their lots are too low now, and now we have got our deal through, I think they're right. We figured the thing all out, and at the low estimate it will pay us 10 per cent as a rent investment. One thousand workmen will demand a monthly supply of lumber, and we will have the supply for the demand. Another matter we consider very favorable to our investment is that with the completion of the dam at Beaver, Allegheny will be a way ahead of its present advantages as a manufacturing town; and when the canal from Lake Erie comes through, which I think it will be in about six months, in all probability its Ohio river terminus will be so near Allegheny that its power as a commercial center will be increased. In all probability we have unlimited confidence in the future of Allegheny, even if I had no more evidence than the monumental success attending its first month's existence."

Machinery Doesn't Ferpize.

That's why Martin's bread is kneaded and mixed by machinery, and that is also why it is the cleanest, purest bread made. It is the kind you want, especially during the warm months. Your grocer keeps it, or he doesn't; he ought to, and he can get it for you if you demand it. Always ask for Martin's, and be sure that every loaf has a Marvin seal.
