POLITICS WARM IN EVERY QUARTER.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. COLUMBUS, O., May 11.—The friends of President Harrison here in Ohio's capital city are, to put it very mildly, mad as wet hens at the attitude of Senator John Sherman toward the President. They claim Sherman is mean, selfish, cold-blooded, and worse than all ungrateful, and is now working for the Presidential nomination.

Last winter, the President's friends say, at the beginning of the Ohio Senatorial campaign, "Fire Alarm" Foraker had the Legislature by 20 majority, and the administration went to work and helped Sherman out of the hole. Jake Donaldson, Senator Sherman's able lieutenant, came on here from Washington and found, after a careful canvass, that Foraker would win unless some heroic measures were adopted to change votes. Donaldson has the knack of working hard while not appearing to be doing anything. He also keeps a padlock on his lips.

CLEVELAND UTTERLY IGNORED.

By Iowa Democrats, Whose Only Voice Is Loud for Boies.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IA., May 11.—The Democrats of Iowa to-day pronounced their unshaken loyalty for Horace Boies for President of the United States by a unanimous vote and without a dissenting voice either in committee or in convention. Resolutions were adopted instructing the 25 delegates of the Hawkeye State to vote as a unit for Governor Boies, and use every effort in their power to secure his nomination for the Presidency. As the first State in the great West to pronounce in unequivocal terms for the candidacy of a favorite son, Iowa must occupy a prominent position in the National Convention, and the friends of Governor Boies are to-night rejoicing over the auspicious which today's action must give to the Presidential boom of the Farmer-Governor.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE DELEGATE.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 11.—The Transportation Committee looking after the Republican National Convention has issued an important circular regarding the checking of baggage by delegates and others coming to the convention, the object being to avoid delay in handling. It is suggested that small baggage be carried; that all baggage be marked for quick identification; that those going to St. Paul or to any of the suburbs of the city check their baggage direct; that clubs and special trains appoint a committee to look after their baggage; that omnibus transfer agents will be allowed to secure baggage on the train. All the suggestions are made simply for the convenience of visitors.

DEMOCRATS BOLT A CANON.

THRENTON, N. J., May 11.—The Board of Freeholders recently elected under the new law organized to-day amid much excitement, caused by the bolting of five Democrats, who refused to stand by the slate as arranged in the caucus several days ago. The board is composed of 12 Democrats and six Republicans, and with the aid of the latter the bolting Democrats elected one of their men as director of the board.

CLARKS NOT A CANDIDATE.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 11.—[Special.]—J. H. Clark, a prominent Democratic attorney residing here, has been urged to allow the use of his name as a candidate for Congress in the Eighteenth district, but has refused. On being interviewed to-night, he said: "While many men of both parties have urged me to become a candidate, I cannot entertain any ambition outside of my profession for the next ten years."

A CONVENTION OF COLORED CITIZENS.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 11.—The Executive Committee of the New York State Colored League of colored citizens, a State Democratic association, has issued a call for a State Convention to be held in Albany, Thursday, May 26.

MINOR MATTERS OF POLITICAL INTEREST.

THE FIFTH MISSOURI DISTRICT CONVENTION AT WASHINGTON, IND., NOMINATED FOR CONGRESSMAN FROM THE SECOND DISTRICT M. W. ACKERLY, OF KNOX COUNTY.

JOHN L. WILLIAMS, President of the American Exchange Bank, of Buffalo, N. Y., has been elected by the Republican Executive Committee of Erie county, the successor of the late O. G. Warren, as delegate to the National Convention.

HENRY C. PAYNE, a member of the Republican National Committee, said yesterday that H. Stuart Fassett, of New York, would succeed J. S. Clarkson as Chairman of the National Committee, providing Mr. Fassett would accept the office.

A CHANGE OF ENSIGNS.

To Be Made on the Two Big Iron Steamers This Fall—The Officers Must Be American Citizens, to Obey the New Law.

NEW YORK, May 11.—[Special.]—Although the act of Congress admitting the Iron Line steamships City of New York and City of Paris to American registry has become a law by the affixing of the President's signature, it will be some months before the blue ensign of the British royal navy reserve which those vessels now fly will be replaced by the Stars and Stripes.

James A. Wright, the Second Vice President of the International Navigation Company, said to-day:

"The company will take immediate steps to perform the conditions imposed by the bill. Designs for the new vessels to be built in American shipyards will be prepared as soon as the act of Congress is passed. The building of the new vessels will not be completed till next fall, until which time the ships must continue to sail under the British flag. It is our desire to retain the present captains and other officers of the two vessels, which, I think, can be done. I believe the simple renunciation of allegiance to the British Government and the declaration of allegiance to that of the United States is sufficient to bring them within the requirements of the law, which provides that all vessels sailing under the Stars and Stripes must be officered by citizens of the United States."

Mr. Wright said it had not yet been determined by the company how many big ships it would build nor what tonnage they would be. It is the general impression in shipping circles, though, that at least one of the new boats will be even larger than the City of Paris, to compete with the new White Star and Cunard ships.

Captain Arthur W. Lewis, of the City of New York, which arrived from Liverpool to-day, was asked if he would continue in command of the ship. He said he would if the company wanted him. He knew his retention would necessitate a change of citizenship, but that would be no obstacle, and he thought other officers of the vessel would be willing to remain on the same conditions. It was of Captain Lewis that the story was told that he would not allow "The Star Spangled Banner" to be sung at a concert on board his vessel. This story was denied, however, and explained on the score of there being no music for the song on board and nobody who seemed able to sing it.

PRINTERS' HOME, COLORADO SPRINGS.

officials, the county and city officials from every county and city in the State; a detachment from the Chaffee Light Artillery; delegations from many of the principal typographical unions and other labor organizations of the United States, in addition to the officers of the International Typographical Union and Board of Trustees, under whose direction the Home was constructed, will take part in the ceremonies.

The George W. Childs party reached here this evening, and a banquet was tendered to the visitors later at the Antlers Hotel, where apartments had been engaged for the party.

A Site Suggested for Scenery. The Home is located one mile from the center of the city, on a site that overlooks the entire surrounding country, and nowhere in the United States can be seen a more beautiful picture. On the north is Austin's Bluff, from which point, gradually turning westward and south, the vision scans Glen Eyrie, Garden of the Gods, Pike's Peak, Colorado City, Manitou, Cameron's Cone, North and South Cheyenne Canons, and Cheyenne Mountain, while Broadmoor, Colorado Springs and Prospect Lake are in the far distance.

The building is of stone—white lava with red sandstone trimmings—and the interior finish is what is designated as "natural," with copper colored hardware trimmings. The style of the architecture is Renaissance, and the cost of construction has amounted to a little more than $20,000. The engraving herewith gives an accurate idea of the structure.

The Childs and Drexel Parlors. On the first floor are the executive office, the chapel, the Childs parlors, the San Francisco room and the Drexel parlors, with many other rooms that have not as yet been assigned to special uses, but which will, undoubtedly, be fitted up as memorial or endowment rooms by the several unions throughout the jurisdiction of the international body.

The Childs parlors are in the north end of the building and virtually include three rooms, one 14x18, one 14x20 feet, and a circular room in the round tower 12 feet in diameter. They are being fitted up in blue, gold and white, with sliding doors. The effect being very pleasing. The walls are in old gold, with ornamentation, oak molding and natural finish on wood work.

The Drexel parlors are to the right of the main entrance, being two rooms about 14x20 feet in size, connected by sliding doors. They are being fitted up in the same style, the effect being very pleasing. The walls are in old gold, with ornamentation, oak molding and natural finish on wood work.

A Room That is Characteristic. The room furnished by San Francisco Typographical Union, the first union to make application for the privilege of furnishing a room, is located in the square tower corner of the building, is 14x14x14 feet, and has entrance to the splendid balcony surrounding the square tower, and the furnishings are characteristic of the State from which it comes, being manufactured from California red wood, which, in addition to its beauty, serves a purpose, that of showing that California red woods can be worked up into furniture, which in appearance presents as pretty an effect as dark mahogany and looks as solid. The set of furniture consists of a large round table, a lounge, three high back arm or reading chairs, a folding bed in the shape of an armchair with heavy plate glass front, and in addition to this there is a wooden mantel that is set up at the fireplace. The upholstery is of the finest kind of leather. The wood is of the quality known as wavy and burl. The one shows innumerable wave lines, while the other has spots very much like those seen in bird's-eye maple. In the center of the round table is sunk a gold oval plate on which is inscribed:

From San Francisco Typographical Union No. 21, to the Childs-Drexel Home for Union Printers, May 12, 1892.

SHOT TO DEATH.

Judge Lynch Adds His Quota to Some Tragedies in West Virginia.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., May 11.—[Special.]—The mining region in the vicinity of Goodwill, Mercer county, was the scene of two horrible tragedies last night, and this morning. In the first, D. M. Justice, a local storekeeper and a citizen of good reputation, was murdered in cold blood by Luther Wells, one of four negro miners who invaded his residence during the night. In the second Wells was shot to death by a mob of indignant citizens. Wells, Webb, Hunt, J. R. Haskins and Robert Phillip, all miners, had a difficulty with Justice yesterday afternoon, and in a spirit of revenge the four men went to Justice's house about midnight. He refused to let them in and barricaded the door, being alone except for the presence of a neighbor's boy.

The negroes broke the door down with crowbars, and Webb fired a bullet through Justice's head. The boy had a bullet put through his hat, but escaped and gave the alarm. Officers pursued the negroes and captured them, but were met by a mob of citizens who took Webb and shot him to death, a score of bullets being fired into him. The others are in jail, but may also be lynched.

AN ABSOLUTE DIVORCE WANTED

By a Woman Who Has Married and Has a Daughter Who Is Now an Heiress.

BOSTON, May 11.—[Special.]—Mrs. Maria Egery, of Bangor, on the Supreme Court of this State to declare absolute the decree nisi which divorced her from her former husband, Elmer Bolton, in this State, nearly 25 years ago. According to the rule of the court the decree could be made absolute, thus giving her the right to marry again six months afterwards. After that time had expired her lawyer, E. H. Appleton, handed a petition for the decree absolute to Clerk George G. Wilde, who was a personal friend of Mrs. Bolton and who assured him that the petition would be attended to. No notice was taken of the petition, and no mention of the decree absolute appears upon the records of the court.

In November, 1867, Mrs. Bolton married Marshall J. Egery, of Bangor, Me., and they have had a daughter. The cause of the renewal of the Bolton divorce matter was the recent death of Mr. Egery's mother. Among the heirs is her illegitimate child, the young lady's interest is contested by some relatives, who contend that, as her mother did not get an absolute divorce from Mr. Bolton, who is an illegitimate child, and not entitled to inherit.
