HE WROTE FROM OHIO.

Prof. Arbenkue Sent a Postal Card From Ohio to a Woods Run Acquaintance—The Board Meets and Dishonorably Discharges Him From the Ninth Ward School.

A clew to the direction Prof. J. B. Arbenkue has taken in his flight from prosecution for nefarious preceptions was obtained by a Woods Run resident yesterday in a postal card from the professor.

It was sent from Ohio, it was short and it was very much to the point. In it he made no mention of the cause of his sudden and mysterious departure nor of his intended destination.

In fact, the professor studiously avoided mentioning such momentous topics and confined himself to a mere statement of his desires and wishes. These were, briefly put, that his former assistant, Miss Boice, take full and complete charge of affairs at the Ninth ward school.

In addition to this the professor said "Truly yours, goodbye" and then signed his name in his own fictive style.

As was announced in yesterday's DISPATCH the board met last night and the matter was brought before them in an official manner by Mr. Boyle, who made the original charges against the professor, presenting the charges in a written statement.

The matter caused a heated discussion as the gentlemen of the board were wroth and indignant at the gruesome thought that the school they were the directors of should have such a disgrace attached to its name.

A resolution was presented and adopted, dishonorably discharging Prof. Arbenkue from the position of principal of the school, in absence of any explanation, excuse or denial of the charges preferred against him by the parents of certain of his pupils.

Miss Julia Donovan was appointed as principal of the school to succeed Prof. Arbenkue, whose position to the principalship was confirmed.

President Stewart was seen after the meeting by a DISPATCH reporter, and persisted in talking about a certain well known board member residing in the school yard, and which will be a great blessing to the inhabitants of Woods Run, instead of answering direct questions.

Mr. Stewart thought it was possible that an information had been made against the absent professor, but as to who made it, or when it was made, or what were the charges, "Why—but you really should taste that delicious well water, Mr. DISPATCH man," and Mr. Stewart, following the preceptor of a direct baffle, closed himself as it were, and refrained from putting himself on record.

WANT TO TURN BACK.

A Great Surprise Planned by the Allegheny Reformers

FOR THE OPPOSITION'S DEFEAT.

Reformers to Ask the Court to Annul the City's Charter.

IF THE MAGISTRATE ACT IS DEFEATED

A bomb is being prepared by the Allegheny reformers to hurl into the camp of the opposition that will cause more interest than anything the reformers have yet attempted.

If the ordinance for the appointment of the five police magistrates for the city of Allegheny does not pass Select Council tomorrow night, when it will be presented, the reformers will retaliate and pray the courts to annul the order making Allegheny a city of the second class, and upon the courts granting the prayer the city will revert to the position it occupied up until one year ago, when it was a city of the third class.

This will take the responsible office holders out of office and will give the reformers the full sway.

Alleghenians were greatly exercised over this yesterday and the reformers who have been conducting this grand coup with the utmost secrecy were abeam with anticipated success.

REFORMERS HAVE NOT BEEN RESTING.

For some time past there has been more or less comment caused by the seemingly apathetic interest taken by the reformers in the momentous question of the appointment of police magistrates, and those without the circle who knew nothing of the reformers' plan of campaign watched the doings of the opposition with ill-concealed suspicion.

When Mayor William McKelvey took the chair of the majority he said he would conduct the police hearings with the assistance of an alderman, until Council took the necessary action in regard to creating the officers of police magistrates.

The anti-reformers were not to be deterred by the seventh amendment to the charter presented to Allegheny as a city of the second class which declares the appointment of five magistrates to be necessary, and for this reason the majority of the reformers.

Councils have not as yet created the necessary officers.

The matter will be brought before Council tomorrow night, however, in an ordinary manner, the division of the city into five districts.

A Schemes to Give Kennedy More Power.

It is expected this ordinance will receive bitter opposition, and will go through only after a hard-fought battle, if it goes through at all. In truth, the reformers are not great admirers of the ordinance as they have the courts to fall back upon in case the measure is lost, and the city of Allegheny will revert to a city of the third class, thereby giving the appointment of the principal officers to the acting Mayor, and by the Hunter faction will be founded.

In speaking of the matter a prominent and active reformer said yesterday that the city was in the peculiar position of being neither a city of the second class nor a city of the third class, and that the office holders are there without the authority of law, he continued.

"The charter for making Allegheny a city of the second class has not been adopted in accordance with the law, and the amendment has not yet been put in force. Now it is an easy matter to have the courts annul the charter just upon those grounds and in case some decisive action is not taken at once it will give the reformers the opportunity of taking the matter into their own hands and they will undoubtedly have their plan granted."

CURSED BY HIS MOTHER.

Fitzpatrick, the Murderer, Believes He Is Resisting His Fate.

W. J. Brennan went to Philadelphia last evening to ask the Supreme Court for a stay of execution in Fitzpatrick's case. Mr. Brennan is not receiving a cent for his services, but he earnestly believes that Fitz should not be hung. The prisoner, himself, is indifferent to his fate. He is not considered insane, but he is a very odd character. He used to swear a great deal, but three months ago he quit, and an oath hasn't dropped from his lips since.

He says one day when he was a boy in Ireland his mother cursed him, and he believes he is now reaping his just deserts. This is how Fitzpatrick feels about the breaking of his neck. He is so frank in his manner that Warden McAlleese and everybody about the jail likes him.

Shortly after Gerade was found guilty of murder in the first degree for the second time, the pair were walking together in the jail. A woman was scrubbing the floor with soft soap and Fitzpatrick said to her at the moment and then said to his companion: "When I am hung and they send my body to the soap factory they will make finely scented toilet soap of me, but when you are strangled up only soft soap like this woman is using can be made out of you." Gerade was mad and since then he hasn't spoken to Fitzpatrick.

THE TARIFFS' HOUSEWARMING.

An Enthusiastic Gathering at Republican Headquarters Last Night.

The Young Men's Republican Club was crowded to the doors last night, the occasion being the house-warming given by the club. A meeting was held early in the evening at which Sheriff McCandless presided. Colonel Brady read a history of the club, of its organization six years ago with 16 members and its prosperity at present with 600. Speeches were made by C. J. Magee, Hon. A. C. Robertson and others and a pleasant experience meeting was held.

A sumptuous luncheon was spread and the evening was spent in mirth and music. Messrs. J. McCloskey, James Jiles, William Emerson and Mr. Harris sang a number of songs and contributed largely to the general enjoyment. The evidence of the club being one of strongest politically in the State was shown by the large number of politicians who graced the occasion by their presence.

Looking for Eggle Conroy.

The police were notified yesterday to be on the lookout for Eggle Conroy or Condry, who escaped from the penitentiary at Moundsville, Va., on Sunday night with three other prisoners. Conroy's home is in this city. He was arrested May 11 one year ago on suspicion of being one of the murderers of Mrs. Paul Ruder, of Tarentum, but proved he was in the Columbus Penitentiary at the time and was released on bond.

Conroy is believed to have been in the city for breaking jail and shooting the Town Marshal of Benwood.

H. B. Mease & Son Sued for $10,865.35.

In the United States Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, this day issued an execution for $10,865.35 against H. B. Mease & Son. When a reporter called at the residence of H. B. Mease it was learned that Mr. Mease was in the East and would not return to Pittsburg before Saturday evening.

Green Goods Swindlers at Work.

Green goods dealers are flooding this section of the State with circulars, bogus newspaper clippings and other articles of the business, and many honest men receiving them are notifying the authorities. Superintendent O'Mara is in daily receipt of such notices, and has notified his police to be on the outlook.

GOURLEY WILL GO SLOW.

He Is Not in a Hurry About the Market Street Railway—Merchants Will Protest—How the Bloomfield Fight Stands—O'Donnell and His Ordinance.

Mayor Gourley will go slow in the consideration of the ordinance known as the Exchange Railway and that providing for "obviating the danger at Fifth avenue and Liberty streets," both of which provide for the laying of a track along Market street.

The Mayor says he does not fully understand the ordinance, not having read them being, but he knows that under a single track on Market street is provided. He refuses, therefore, to say what he will do when the ordinance comes before him, but will give respectful audience to both sides before taking definite action.

He was informed yesterday that a number of leading business men would petition him to veto the ordinance, but he gave no indication of his intentions in the premises further than is suggested above. The trend of public opinion is against the proposed route.

The general discussion yesterday regarding the claims of the Bloomfield and the Schenley Park street railway companies for the right of way from Lawrenceville to the park, seemed to be in favor of the former, on account of the superior advantages it will be in a position to offer, and the differences between one and two fares to extreme points. It was generally conceded that the people of Bloomfield get a shade less for their money.

The result of the Council action and that the fight between the two companies is not a matter of public concern. The Schenley Park and Lawrenceville company talk of bringing suit against the city.

There is much speculation as to what will result from the resolution adopted in Councils requiring Chief Brown to prepare an ordinance taxing street cars. Mr. O'Donnell, of Common Council, charges that Chief Brown is not to protect the street railway people by offering a bill giving them policemen for crossing protectors in return for the tax to be imposed, thereby making the city liable for damage or injury resulting from the negligence of the policemen from the companies.

Mr. O'Donnell claims that his ordinance, presented on Monday, is the only correct idea for such a measure, and Controller Morrow, who prepared it, is of the same opinion.

IT WILL COME UP TO-DAY.

The Injunction Suit Against the Builders' Exchange for Alleged Conspiracy.

The injunction suit brought two weeks ago against members of the Builders' Exchange by non-members in the contracting and building business will be taken up to-day at 10 o'clock in Common Pleas No. 3.

The suit will be the most important point of law in no decision has ever been handed down on the question.

The plaintiffs in the suit allege that on account of the influence of the Builders' Exchange in the building material markets, notwithstanding that they cannot purchase material at prices as low as they would if they competed with the Exchange members, and charge the defendants with conspiracy to drive them out of the trade.

The Court's decision will simply be one of whether a conspiracy exists to injure them and for what price he wishes.

The petitioners to the suit are Constantine Sweeney, Thomas Buchanan, Alexander Cairns, John Crawford, Samuel Sempie, Joseph Kelly, Isaac Register, Joseph Kocik, Richard Whalen, William Busang, John B. and Joseph K. Crawford, William E. Miller, George Speed, William Elford, Robert Palmer, C. K. Kelly, P. S. Lovell, J. W. C. Carter, J. R. B. Nicholson, and David Eagan, represented by Attorneys Fitzsimmons and Porter.

FOOLED TO BELLAIRE.

Angelo Subillo and Arnaldo Sadoro, contractors and employment agents, had a hearing last evening on 10 charges of false pretense preferred by many of their countrymen. The Italian testified that they paid the defendants $2 in fees and $5 in railroad fare, for which they were to be furnished work at Bellaire. When they arrived there was nothing for them to do, and they were left to find their own way. The agents made no defense, and were held for court under $300 bail on each charge.

MAGEE PUTS UP $100 FOR THE FOURTH.

An early response was received yesterday from Mayor Gourley's call for a patriotic celebration of the Fourth of July. The first contribution to defray the expense of the affair was made by C. L. Magee, who handed the Mayor $100 as a personal donation and not as coming from the Times.

WON'T CONSENT TO A SETTLEMENT.

It was reported yesterday that there was good prospect of a settlement in Banker Dill's case. District Attorney Lyon said he would not consent to any agreement, and only a trial in court would satisfy him. The case will come up at noon to-day.

TROY HILL'S TUNNEL.

The Off-Projected Enterprise Once More Said to Be a Certainty.

ALLEGHENY TO BE ASKED TO HELP.

And Substantial Capitalists Will Push the Improvement.

SOME OF THE ADVANTAGES DISCUSSED

At a meeting on Monday night of those interested in the off-projected tunnel between Herr's Island on the Allegheny river and Spring Garden avenue, Allegheny, it was decided to construct the tunnel at the earliest possible time. The proposed tunnel will be about one-half mile long and will be built under Mont-Troy. It will be wide enough to contain tracks for an electric road and drive way and foot walks.

This tunnel has been talked of for years. Several surveys have been made. Another survey has been made recently, however, and the project is again being discussed with more enthusiasm than ever before. The proposed tunnel will begin near the Island bridge and will end near Hippley & Son's brewery on Spring Garden avenue. Hippley & Sons, Louis Zoller, Philip Peifer and others of wealth and extensive interests are interested in the enterprise and they say they will not stop until their mammoth undertaking is accomplished. It is argued by many of those directly interested in the project that the city of Allegheny should help materially in the enterprise, and an effort is being made by the property owners interested to have the subject called up in Allegheny Councils at their next regular meeting after this week.

The City Hesitates to Invest. On different occasions efforts have been made to have the city build the proposed tunnel, but Councils have always refused to act in the matter on the ground that the improvement would benefit only those people who live on Spring Garden avenue and on Herr's Island.

"It will be a great public benefit," one of the Hippleys said last night. "The city should have built this tunnel long ago, but now all we can do is to get some help. We have undertaken the job and will likely finish it. Our taxes go to make improvements in other parts of Allegheny, and there can be no good reason assigned why the general public should not contribute toward an improvement that is general in its character. Of course, the tunnel would be a great advantage to property owners and business people in this end of Allegheny. It would not only materially increase the value of property in this neighborhood, but it would be open to the world and if there is any sense in the talk of free bridges made free by general taxation, then certainly our people should be entitled to a free tunnel for their own use."

Great Necessity for This Tunnel. "There is no doubt that our people are at present much inconvenienced through want of a tunnel. We have, for instance, most of the butchers of the two cities out here. They go to Herr's Island or elsewhere for their cattle and then have to get home by either drive or foot. They have to make a way of nearly four miles or drive there up the steep incline to Mr. Troy, then down again just as steep an incline. This is just a sample of the inconveniences to which our residents are put. We claim as our right that the city should help us out of the difficulty."

It is emphatically declared that as the city does not help the project financially it will be pushed forward as a private enterprise. It is probable that an organization will be formed.

An Allegheny Councilman stated last night that the proposed tunnel was to be built to open up a great new shopping property back of Spring Garden avenue, and to enlarge that part of the city. "It is a grave question whether the city should help in any part in building the tunnel, but there is no doubt that it would be a great improvement and a great convenience."

CONDEMNES THE L. & O.

A Prominent Washington Minister Thinks the Society Is Antiquated.

Rev. George A. Corey, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Church at Washington, was a passenger on the limited last evening, going to the convention in Omaha. Mr. Corey looks very much like Talmaage. He says he is opposed to women voting in the church. Mr. Corey condemned the Pittsburg Law and Order Society. He said the people here have the reputation of being religious and law-abiding, and he couldn't see the necessity for such a league in Pittsburg or in Washington.

Mr. Corey is a great admirer of President Harrison. He thinks the administration has been one of the best in the history of the country. He thinks Harrison will be re-nominated and re-elected. During the first year of his term he was not shrewd and offended many of the politicians, but the people have no fault to find with him.

WHI REPAIRS THE DOWNTOWN STREETS.

Soon all the downtown streets in the city will be covered with block stone pavements and the alleys with asphalt. Chief Bigelow is preparing to repair most of these public highways during the summer. All of Duquesne way and Water street now covered with cobble stones will have a block stone pavement before the snow flies again. The lower end of Fourth avenue, Second avenue from Grant street eastward, and a large section of Carson street will be similarly treated. A large number of downtown alleys are to be repaved with a smooth asphalt pavement suitable for pedestrians or vehicles.

WHITE MOUNTAINS.

The grand center of the entire White Mountain region, with all its famous attractions, the most noted health and pleasure resort in the world, H. located at the East End of the famous town of Bethlehem in the midst of a great dairy and stock raising country, is now in America. DIED FOR LOVE.

The Nude Body of a Beautiful Woman Found Below Niagara Falls—Identified as Mrs. E. A. Aupperler, of Philadelphia—Wealthy and Well-Known.

NIAGARA FALLS, May 17.—[Special.]—The remains of a handsome woman of 40 years of age, found floating in the river below the falls yesterday afternoon, revealed the first suicide of spring and one surrounded by romantic circumstances. The body was afterward discovered to be that of Mrs. E. C. Aupperler, of Philadelphia. It was perfectly nude, with the exception of a pair of fine kid shoes on the feet and a fragment of dress and stockings on the limbs.

The woman was of refined appearance with comely face and attractive form. The body was taken in charge by the Coroner and held for identification. A thinly worn wedding ring, upon the inside of which was an inscription in French, was used by the Chief of Police to help reveal her identity.

To-night the body was identified as that of Mrs. E. C. Aupperler, of Philadelphia, who has been stopping at the Hotel Kensington. To-night late Proprietor Kaltenbach viewed the remains and positively identified them as his guest's. Mrs. Aupperler was here two years ago. She is evidently wealthy and highly cultured. It was a clear case of suicide for love.

In the lady's room at the hotel were found letters to relatives, which the Coroner seized, explaining that she had been disappointed and did not care to live. Five or six valuable rings and over $500 in money was found in her room. She also left letters explaining what disposition of her effects she desired made. The Coroner will not divulge the contents of the letters.

TALKING FOR THE FAIR.

Manager Davis Says Sunday Closing Would Greatly Reduce the Receipts.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Mr. Davis, Director General of the World's Fair, advised the House World's Fair Committee to-day regarding the responsibilities of the Government in connection with the Exposition. Mr. McCreary called the attention of Mr. Davis to the question of closing the Fair on Sunday, and asked him what effect Sunday closing would have. Mr. Davis replied he was not authorized to speak on this subject for those connected with the Exposition, as it had not been discussed by them, but said that if the Exposition was closed on Sunday it would largely decrease the receipts.

Commissioner Walker stated that Messrs. Field, Armour, Palmer and other wealthy gentlemen of Chicago, had signed an agreement to furnish any money found necessary to run the Fair after the Government had appropriated the $5,000,000 asked for. These agreements, he said, would be presented to the committee.

RECEIPTS OF CHIEF BIGELOW'S OFFICE.

The revenues of the Department of Public Works collected for the month of April amounted to $12,506 $2. The Bureau of City Property had receipts amounting to $10,838 40; from markets, $8,780 48; wharves and landings, $1,927 53; Old City Hall, $250, and city weigh scales, $280 39. The Bureau of Water Assessments turned in $1,725 42, and $3 was received from a gate box.

ANOTHER TRIP LYNNING.

ATLANTA, May 17.—At Clarksville, at 2 o'clock this morning, a mob of 200 men broke into jail and took therefrom three negroes charged with the murder of Night Policeman Carter at Toxoca last week, and hanged them all on one limb of a large oak tree. The negroes all protested innocence.
