FREE SILVER NOT IN IT.

Once More It Is Knocked Out in the House of Its Best Friends.

ANOTHER DECISION HELD OVER.

The Senate at Last Passes the Naval Appropriation Bill.

MORE ABOUT THAT ALLEGED SURPLUS

WASHINGTON, May 18. - The silver question was the feature of interest in the House to-day, and, much to the disappointment of the silverites, the Speaker sustained the point of order raised against Mr. Bartine's free coinage amendment to the sundry civil bill, and the House clinched the matter by upholding the Chairman's decision. Later on Mr. Bland offered an amendment for the coinage of all silver bullion purchased and now in the Treasury into standard silver dollars. Points of order were raised against the amendment, and the Speaker reserved his decision, which will be awaited with interest and impatience by the free coinage men and their opponents alike.

After the transaction of routine business the House went into committee of the whole, Mr. Lester, of Georgia, in the chair, on the sundry civil bill Mr. Smith, of Arizona, moved to increase from $100,-000 to $400,000 the appropriation for surveying the public lauds. After some debate a compromise was arrived at and the appropriation fixed at $200,000.

The Chairman then proceeded to pass upon the point of order raised by Mr. Tracey, of New York, against the clause providing for the cleaning and reissue of minor coins. The Chair ruled that there was existing law for the paragraph, and overruled the point of order. The second part of the same paragraph, providing for the recoinage of uncurrent minor coins, he ruled to be out of order, being unable to find any law authorizing such recoinage. The Chair also overruled the point of order raised against the clause for the recoinage of abraded minor coins.

B and and Bartine Ruled Out.

The Chair then ruled on the Bartine free coinage amendment. It was plain to him that it was a change of existing law, and therefore not in order. He sustained the point of order. Mr. Bartine appealed from the decision of the Chair. Mr. Bartine's appeal was lost—137 to 25. Mr. Bland voted with Mr. Bartine.

Mr. Bland then offered an amendment providing for the coinage of all silver bullion purchased and now in the Treasury into standard silver dollars, the cost to be paid out of the seigniorage arising from the coinage of the bullion, the remainder of the seigniorage to be covered into the Treasury as available money.

Mr. Dingley, of Maine, and later Mr.

Tracey, of New York, raised points of order against the amendment. Mr. Dingley, in support of his point of order, said that the new legislation proposed to impose on the silver profit fund in the Treasury a new and distinct charge, viz., the cost of the coinage of the standard silver dollar. So that, in-stead of reducing the amounts the bill now covered it increased them to that amount. The Chair reserved his decision until to-

Mr. Herbert, of Alabama, moved to strike out (under the head of geological survey) the appropriation for paleontologic researches. Agreed to.

Mr. Simpson, of Kansas, offered an amendment providing that $60,000 of the appropriation for topographic surveys be expended in North and South Dakota, Nebraska. Kansas and Oklahoma, for the pur-pose of the development of the water supply of those States. Subsequently, after debate, he modified his amendment by striking out the words "for the purpose of de-veloping the water supply of those States," and as modified the amendment was agreed to. Pending further action, the committee rose and the House adjourned. The Senate Passes Another Bill.

President pro tem Manderson presided to-day in the Senate. Mr. Pettigrew, Chairman of the Quadro-Centennial Committee, rising to a personal explanation. sent to the clerk's desk and had read a Washington dispatch to the Chicago Tim of April 20, charging that he wanted a $200,-000 public building at Deadwood, S. Dak., and had told Representative Newberry, of Illinois, in the House, that if he (Mr. Newberry) did not report that bill favorably in the House he (Mr. Pettigrew) would not re-port the World's Fair bill in the Senate. The statement, Mr. Pettigrew said, was un-true in every part; and in proof of its falsehood he had read a letter from Mr. New berry confirming his statements.

consideration of the naval appropriation bill was resumed, and Mr. Cockrell continued his argument against the amend-ment reported by the Senate Committee on Appropriations for the construction of one sengoing coast-line battleship, one harbor detense double-turret ship of the monitor type; four light-draft gunboats, and six tor pedo boats. Referring to Mr. Allison's as-sertion that there would be a surplus of $25,000,000 in the Treasury on the first of July next, he said if there were such a sur-plus, or any surplus, it would be because the adjustment and payment of large items would be delayed and postponed in the Treasury Department. He opposed the pending amendment as he also opposed the increase provided for in the House bill. Passed With the Greatest Ease, Mr. Butler said he would vote with great pleasure for the Senate amendment, and if he had his own way he would provide for four battleships. After a long discussion the question was taken on the Senate ment, and it was agreed to -yeas, 33; pays, 18-as follows:

Yeas—Messrs, Aldrich, Allen, Blackburn, Butler, Casey, Chandler, Cullom, Davis, Dawes, Dolph, Dubois, Felton, Frye, Gallinger, Gorman, Hale, Hansbrough, Hawley, Higgins, Hisoock, Manderson, Mitchell, Morgan, Patdack, Proctor, Ransom, Sanders, Sawyer, Sloup, Stanford, Stockbride, Teller and Washburn—33.

Nays—Messrs. Berry, Blodgett, Cockrell, Coke, Gray, Hill, Jones, of Arkansas; Kyle, McPherson, Mills, Palmer, Pasco, Peffer, Pu-li, Turpie, Vilas, Voornees and Walthall

Mr. Teller offered an amendment appropriating $50,000 for the purchase of one 8-inch 50-caliber high power steel rifle, and $50,000 for making trial tests of three or more rapid-fire twisted one-pounder breechloading rifled guns, and an equal number of three-pounders and 32-pounders, and it was agreed to without discussion or division. Mr. Manderson offered an amendment ap propriating $100,000 for the purchase of torpedoes, and it was agreed to The bill was then reported from the committee of the whole to the Senate. The amendments were all agreed to and the bill was passed without a division. Adjourned.

WHERE SCALING WAS DONE.

Details of the Cut Made on Rivers and Harbors by the Senate. WASHINGTON, May 18 .- The Senate Committee to-day applied the knife to the river and harbor appropriation bill. The committee has decided that the total of the bill as reported to the Schate-$21,346,975-was large, and, realizing the endless trouble and dissatisfaction that would follow any effort to discriminate between the various contracts and continuing appropriation projects which it was determined should projects which it was determined should bear the brunt of the reduction, adopted the course of reducing the appropriations of all of them 25 per cent. The result was the reduction of the total appropriation made by the bill by $2,088,750, bringing that total down to $20,281,368, which is nearly $1,000,- own to 220,281,308, which is nearly $1,000,-000 less than the appropriation made by the bill as it came from the House. The projects which, among others, were scaled down were as follows: Sayannah, Ga., from $250,000 to $318,750; Mobile, Ala., from $250,000 to $187,500; Humboldt, Cal., from $200,000 to $150,000; Upper Mississippi, from $1,500,000 to $125,000; Lower Mississippi, from $2,945,000 to $2,208,750; 20-foot channel Great Lakes, from $500,000 to $375,000; cascades of the Columbia, from $435,000 to $362,500; Great Kanawha, West Virginia, from $300,000 to $225,000; Lower Missouri, from $750,000 to $562,500; dalles of the Columbia, from $250,000 to $562,500; dalles of the Columbia, from $250,000 to $187,500.

No Fension Payment Departure. WASHINGTON, May 18. - A new de parture in pension legislation is suggested in a joint resolution introduced in the House to-day by Representative Hayes, of Iowa, proposing an amendment to the Constatution of the United States, providing that no pension nor any pay or emolument that does not cease with actual service shall hereafter be granted, allowed, or paid to, or account of, any soldier or sailor, except un-der the provisions of law existing at the time of enlistment, or unless claimed within two years from the time the right to the same act under law.

DEATH WITHOUT PAIN

At Last Surely Attained in the Electric Chair at an Execution.

JOSEPH TICE, A WIFE MURDERER,

Dies in One Minute and Three Seconds After the Current Bits Him.

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. AUBURN, N. Y., May 18 .- Joseph L. Pice died in the death chair this morning bravely and without bravado. He was the second man to be executed by electricity in Auburn and the ninth in the State. He died instantly and without pain. The execution, from beginning to end, lasted 234 minutes, and the quickest rope execution in this State is said to have been 26 min-

At midnight Guard McNaughton awoke the prisoner, and he arose and dressed. He was shaved, and then lay down in his clothes. At 5 o'clock Chaplain Yates and Rev. Mr. Penny visited the prisoner. To Mr. Penny he said: "My back pains me, but soon I shall know no pain." At 6:30 o'clock the witnesses filed to their places in the execution room. There was a largely increased voltage over the Kemmler execution, and some of the straps to be affixed to the face had been changed. Experts Among the Witnesses. Among those who stood about the chair were: Electrician Davis, of New York; Drs McCort and Remington, of Rochester; Under-Sheriff Bailey, of Monroe county; Dr. Erving, of Sing Sing; Warden Brown, of Sing Sing; Dr. Sawyer, of Auburn; Dr. Daniels, of Buffalo; Dr. Smith, of Auburn; Rev. F. D. Penny, Chaplain Yates, of Auburn; Dr. Arthur G. Root, of Albany; Dr. J. P. Ruff, of Clyde; Dr. G. C. Fell, of Buffalo; Dr. C. O. Banker, of Auburn, and Bullalo; Dr. C. O. Banker, of Auburn, and Dr. H. D. Peck, of Auburn.

Electrician Davis pressed the signal button five times and the row of 16 electric lights in the closet glowed brightly. He pressed it twice again for more current, and then quickly switched it into the row of test lamps on the chair. lamps on the chair. The response was instantaneous and satisfactory. Warden Durston then stepped to the door of the corridor to Tice's cell and said: "All right; bring him in."

The guards said, "Come, Joseph," and Chaplain Yates assisted Tice to rise. His face was pale, and every bit of color had left his lips. He took his cane, and without aswalked into the execution chamber He kept his eyes fixed in front of him, and did not shrink as the warden said: "Sit down, Tice.

Shocked by 1,700 Volts.

Neither chaplain nor prisoner said a word. The guards hastily adjusted the straps. The head electrode was a metal cap filled with sponges and bringing the current to both temples. The other electrode was affixed to the calf of the left leg. It was exactly 8:39 o'clock, one minute after the prisoner had seated himself, that Dr. Daniels raised his hand. Warden Brown, of Sing Sing, had turned on the salt water to the electrode sponges. Electrician Davis moved the switch and the body straightened up against the straps as 1,720 volts were driven through it.

For 15 seconds Dr. Daniels kept his hand raised, then he dropped it and the body sank back almost imperceptibly. For three seconds the current remained off, and during that time there was not a quiver of the lips nor a move of the fingers. The doctor signaled again, and after 15 seconds it was switched off for five seconds. Again the body collapsed, but there was no sound or emission from the mouth.

After ten seconds more of contact there was an interval of five seconds, and then ten more of contact. "Drs. Erving and Banker will examine the pulse," said the warden. The victim had been in the chair one minute and three seconds. They pronounced the man dead.

The only visible effect of the current had een a slight steaming from the evaporation in the leg electrode.

Just before turning on the current Tice had closed his left hand. As the current struck him he was closing the right. The movement stopped instantly and the fingere remained in a natural position. The head did not move, and there was no contraction of the lips or of the legs. The face was found to be exactly the same in appearance as when the old man had sat down. The lips were not drawn, the eyes were closed naturally, and except for a slight blister on the right side, caused by the hot salt water, the face was that of the living.

The Most Successful Electrocution. Dr. Daniels, of Buffalo, said that he used the short alternating currents, and made brief intervals between the shocks, so as to preclude any possibility of returning ani-mation. Warden Brown, of Sing Sing, mation. Warden Brown, of Sing Sing, said: "It was the most successful execution

After the autopsy the body was put in a plain pine coffin and carried to the prison cemetery, where it was buried in a quicklime grave, covered with an American flag, as he had requested. Almost the last words of the man were to thank Warden and Mrs. Durston for their kindness to Tice was 63 years old, and was a veteran of the War of the Rebellion. Four years ago he began drinking because of his second wife's alleged intemperate habits. On July 11, 1891, he met her in Rochester and demanded that she should live with him. She refused, and he drew a knife and stabbed her to death. His defense was irresponsibility through intoxication.

The autopsy was performed by Dr. Daniels and Dr. Banker. There was nothing to indicate the cause of death. The vital organs were in a normal condition, and there wa absolutely no indication that nearly 1,800 volts of electricity had passed through the body. Specimens of blood and tissue were taken by Dr. Daniels for microscopic study.

Might Have Been More Serious,

An accident happened yesterday about 1:15 o'clock to the Brownsville accommodation on the Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston Railroad at Fourth street, Southside. At that point a flying switch is made to place the engine in front of the train. It failed to get out of the road in time for the train to pass and the engine and combinacollided. Both were thrown from the rails and damaged. The car was badly broken. No one was injured, but the passengers were badly shaken up. The track was blockaded for some time.

Cruelty to a Horse,

John Moore, known as "Happy Jack," of Fox alley, Southside, was arrested yesterday on the charge of cruelty and abandoning an animal. Agent McDonald, of the Anti-Cruelty Society, made the charge. Moore, it is alleged, owned a horse which was struck by an electric car. It was maimed for life. Moore tied it in front of a Twenty-second street blacksmith shop and left it. It was shot by Officer Brown.

Went Insane From Desertion.

Suzanna Shultz, 21 years old, was sent to the Poor Farm yesterday by the Department of Charities. She has been in this country since last February and lived with her brother in Johnstown. Here she met and engaged herself to a man much older than herself, who deserted her on their wedding day. His desertion made her despondent and she finally became insane.

A NIGHT OF HORROR.

Four Women Murdered in a Single Night in a Texas Town-Two of Them Ladies and the Others From Far Different

DENISON, TEX., May 18 .- [Special.]-Last night was a night of horror in Denion. Nothing like it has ever been known in the history of this city or in any city in Texas. Between the hours of 11 P. M. and 3:30 this morning an unknown assassin brutally and premeditatedly shot and killed four women, two of them leading ladies of this city and two members of disorderly

The first victim was Mrs. Haynes, the wife of Dr. Henry F. Haynes, one of Denson's most respected citizens, and a gentleman prominent in business and social life. Mr. Haynes, a young and very at-tractive woman, loved by all who knew her, was assassinated while she was alone in her home, or else was forcibly taken from the same and put to death by her captor outside and near the house.

Some five hours later, in the very heart of the city, a beautiful lady, Miss Teen Hawley, was killed by some unknown person. Miss Hawiey was killed almost without a word of warning in the privacy of her more in her mather's cetters home. room in her mother's cottage home.

Between the hours when these foul assassinations of two ladies occurred there was enacted in another and far different quarter of the city a double tragedy. Two women were quickly brought face to face with death and laid low by the bullets of the assassin. The last were inmates of the disorderly houses of Madames Lester and Rivers. The assassin fired the shot that killed Mrs. Haynes during the absence of her husband at the Elks' lodge. When his victim was dead the murderer took her gold watch and chain, also a valuable diamond ring and eardrops. After this murder he proceeded to the residence of Mrs. Hawley, where he shot and killed her daughter, Miss Floren-The assassin then directed his steps to the house of Madame Rivers, where he fired from the front porch, killing Maud Kramer. After this he crossed to the next street, where he mortally wounded Rose Stewart, who was about to retire. The fatal shot was fired from the sidewalk, the ball entering the side near the right arm.

The four foul murders have created a tremendous sensation. Business is at a standstill. Several hundred armed men are in pursuit of the murderer. The Sheriff and county officials have all arrived. Bloodhounds have been brought into requisition, but without success. Arrests have been made, but it is believed that the murderer is still at large.

WILL IMPROVE THEIR WORKS.

The Butler Chemical Company Decides to Push Their Enterprise.

The directors and stockholders of the Butler Chemical Company met at the Seventh Avenue Hotel yesterday and arranged to increase the facilities of their concern and put it, if possible, on a paying basis. A com-mittee was appointed to formulate a plan to improve the works. This committee is composed of George G. Perrie, Philadelphia; James M. Lambing, Corry, Ps.; Newton Black, Butler, Pa.: James W. Drape, Pittsburg; H. J. Troutman, Butler, Pa. The committee will report to a meeting of the directors on June 15. The meeting will be held at the Seventh Avenue Hotel, this city. H. J. Troutman is President of the company. The other officers are J. W. Drape, Vice President; J. W. Cassidy, Secretary and H. C. Heineman, Treasurer. The plant has already cost $223,000. It was arranged yesterday to issue $80,000 worth of bonds, which, it is argued, will provide all the betterments required to make the con-

The Butler Chemical Works has had somewhat of a checkered career. It has always been owned and controlled by substantial men, but it is alleged that it has never paid liberally. Several months ago James Whitler, who had been manager of the concern, committed suicide at the Hotel Boyer, in this city. It was then alleged that depression of his business had promptd his self-murder The meet officers yesterday was the first held since the death of their manager, and they now propose another effort to make the enter-prise pay.
