Where the Good Work Was Done.

It is worthy of note that after the second inning the visitors only made three single hits. This goes to show that Galvin is, indeed, a man of remarkable nerve. The huge pile of runs made by bad playing in the second would have stood the majority of pitchers on their heads. But not so with Jeems. He remained at his post like a veteran and put them across the plate as sorry this the running has been drougded that we, by signing Burns, intend to release Manager Buckenberger. Plense state for me that Buckenberger will not be released and that he will not go except I go. He will be our manager, and we will look to him as in the past. It is not our policy to cast men adrift so abruptly. Burns will be captain and have charge of the players on the field and this will give Manager Hucken-berger more time to look after other mat-ters. In short, we will have the two men somewhat similar to the engagement of Comiskey and Bancroft by the Cincinnati club. But let it be understood plainly, that Mr. Buckenberger will remain with us." The move of the local club gives promise of being a good one; at least it shows that the directors are anxious to do all they can to get their team into line. This ought to be satisfactory to the patrons. Burns is considered one of the brainiest players in the business and has had excellent exper-well as he ever did in his life.

But Autonio Mullane was in too good form to allow the home players to over-come the long lead. Tony pirched exceed-ingly well, although in the sixth inning he was touched up for two home runs.

Holliday led off in that terrible halt of the second. He got his base on balls and then Hatligan knocked a grounder to Bier-bauer, who tumbled the ball and the runner was safe. Then Galvin fumbled Comiskey' grounder and the bases were full. Smith made a single to center and two runs tallied. "Time" was then called on account of rain It was fully 30 minutes before the rain stopped and the game was resumed.

They Finished the Awint Inning.

On resumption of play Murphy made a safe bunt, beating the ball to first, and Comiskey went to third, the bases being again tull. Mullane's sacrifice scored Comiskey and then singles by McPhee, Latham, O'Neil and Holliday followed, Latham, which piled up a total of seven runs.

All interest was now dead and in the third inning Smith went to first on a wild throw by Shugart and a single by Murphyan out and a single by McPhee scored the run.

In the sixth inning the home players somewhat raised the hopes of their patrons. After Shugart was out Beckley knocked the ball over Holliday's head for a home run. Elmer Smith was put out at first and Swartwood got his first on bails. Charley Farrell then took a hand and thumped the ball to the 25-cent seats for another homer, and that was the last of the run getting. The score:

NEW YORK, May 18 .- [Special.]-The story elegraphed from Cincinnati yesterday that Pitcher "Silver" King and Catcher Jack Boyle, of the "Giants," had eloped with Miss Rosa Santman and Miss Kate Totenbier, of Covington, is strenuously denied by those players.

"I was never in Covington but once in my life," said King; "I know the two young ladies, however. They came to the depot at Louisville when we were leaving and said that they were coming to New York. They bought their own tickets and came all the way alone, as far as I know. I understood they had friends here. At least I think I

DUBLIN, May 18 - Another stormy meet ing of the shareholders in the Freeman's Journal and National Press was held to-day to decide upon the reorganization of the Board of Directors. Mr. Gray, the chairman, called upon Timothy Healy to withdraw from the directors' table, where he had taken his seat, and sit among the shareholders. Mr. Healy shouted in response, "Don't make an ass of yourself." This precipitated an uproar of cheers and hisses. Mr. Healy was requested to withdraw his expression, but he retused to do so. John Dillon exclaimed that it could not be expected that Mr. Healy should with-draw such expressions, for if he did he draw such expressions, for if he did he would be engaged in making withdrawals all day long. Mr. Gray said it was a great mistake to appeal to Mr. Healy on the ground of decency. Mr. Healy declared that Mr. Gray was a mere cipher in Mr. Dillon's hands. As soon as Mr. Gray left the chair, after going through his antics, they would get another Chairman. Mr. Gray retorted that he did not intend to leave the chair until everything was done legally, and then Mr. Healy could stew in his own fat. This remark evoked cheers.
