GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Isn't it exciting and delightful to win a neck-and-neck contest on the post? To b · sure it is and that'

from the Cincin nati Reds yesterday alternoon at Exposition Park. Those who did not see the game lost lots of fun, and one of the best opportunities in the world to test their lung power. To say that the crowd yelled and gave vent to Indian wa whoops is only very mild way of explaining the fact. There were only about 1,000 people present owing to the bad weather, but they jumped and velled and yelled and jumped like as many wild men and women, when real tall and unadulterated slugging won the game in its

it was to that last stage. The fates were so terribly against our home representatives that almost everybody had given the remotest hope of victory up. Let nobody say there is no luck in baseball. The woods were full of it yesterday, and it was strongly against the home team. They fought against it like demons, particularly Baldwin, and too much credit cannot be accorded them for their pluck. The most astonishing reverses met them so often that if they had "fallen to pieces" there could have been an excuse for it. Surely, there will be a few kind words for them this morning.

The contest was certainly one of the most exciting that has been played in the city. It was a struggle between Baldwin and Chamberlain, and the former carried off the laurels in great style. He pitched one of the best games seen on the home grounds, and without doubt displayed remarkable nerve. Had be not, the jig would have been up early in the contest.

One of the Best of litchers. Mark is a great pitcher, indeed, and those who have claimed that he is not must now admit the fact. The team can play ball, and the way in which they let loose on Elton Chamberlain in that ninth inning gave everybody who saw them to under-stand that they are not misnomers in the

Just to show what a hard fight it was may be explained. In the fifth inning there were three men on bases and nobody out. One or two runs looked certain; just safe as cheat in the mill. Baldwin with the bases filled struck out and still that was considered much of a downfall. Miller tollowed and even a long fly would tie the score. But George only knocked up a little infield fly to third base and Comiskey "scooped" it touching both Miller and Corkhill out. With a tremendous moan everybody said

"That is tough luck." In the seventh inning the bases were full again and only one man out, when Miller once more walked up to the plate to try and bring in victory.

Some Very Unlucky Stages,

Everybody thought again that a run was sure to score. But George knocked up an-another little fly to third base, and Latham "scooped" the ball and easily touched out Farrell and Corkhill. Once more the crowd with one voice, "You bet that's tough luck." After these disasters everybody was certain that victory was possible for our sluggers. But the time for slugging came, and it was done to the Queen's taste. The run-getting commenced in the first inning and it was in favor of Comiskey and his men. McPhee made a single to right field, a very lucky one, but was forced out at second by Latham. The latter started to steal second, and in trying to head him off Miller threw the ball into center field, al-lowing Latham to reach third. A sacrifice hit by O'Neil scored Latham, and that run looked as big as a block of houses right nway up to the ninth inning. Both pitchers were pitching in the very best form, and that one run had a terrible look to the home players and the crowd when the ninth inning was started.

Where All the Fun Started.

That old war horse, Ed Swartwood, started the inning and also the fun. Swarty got a good swipe at the ball and knocked i down the left field line for two bases. Had Ed been a reasonably good runner he could have made a triple of it. The Duke of Mariborough, Charley Farrell, followed with a terrific hit, driving the ball into center. The ball bounded off Holliday's foot and Farrell made three bases, of course scoring Swartwood. Then there was cheering both by men and women. "Pop" Corkhill came next and he scored victory by a neat single over second base and then the crowd became franctic with excitement. Baldwin made a sacrifice hit sending Corkhill to second and Miller followed with a long single to center, scoring Corkhill. Bierbauer's sacrifice sent Miller to second. Shugart continued the cannonading by banging the ball into right field for a single. Miller tried to score, but Halligan made a splendid throw home and Miller was nabbed at

BURNS WILL NOT SIGN. Unless He Gets a Three-Year Contract With

out the Release Clause. CHICAGO, May 19.—[Special.]—To-day Tommy Burns received his contract from Pittsburg, but it was not to his liking. It was an ordinary player's contract, and while it stipulates that Burns was to captain and manage the team for a period of three years at $5,000 the team for a period of three years at $5,000 per annum, it contained the usual ten days' notice of release clause.

"They could fire me in a month if I signed such a contract," said Burns. "My lawyer will draw up an ironclad contract, running absolutely for three years. There will be no release clause in it. I will send it to Pittsburg for approval, and if the officials telegraph me that the contract meets their approval and that they have signed it I will take charge of the team here on Saturday. take charge of the team here on Saturday. Of course, it will be impossible for me to play for some weeks yet, but as soon as I am able I will cover third base. My position will be the same as Anson's. The County League.

There was quite an enthusiastic meeting of the County League last evening to discuss the situation. It was agreed that Manager Walker, of the Wilkinsburg club, visit Brad dock to-day and confer with Manager Schwab with a view of getting the Braddock team to join the League. If that team will join they will play at Wilkinsburg to-mor-row and fill out the dates scheduled for the Climax team. If the Braddocks do not join the League will continue with five clubs. Everything is prosperous. The umpires have been instructed to enforce the rule against players kicking about umpires' de-

Still Another Victory.

Massillon, O., May 19.-[Special.]-The Pittsburg State League wrested another victory from the Russells to-day. The grounds were in fair condition, though very damp from last night's rains, and the las inning was played in the rain. The batteries to-day were: l'ittsburg, Baker and Hartman, Russells, Heyman and Flickinger. The score was 9 to 5. Pittsburg made 8 hits and 4 errors, with the Russells 5 hits and 6 errors. The Pittsburg cub left for home at 849 to-night and play Saturday in Harrisburg.

Rain Stopp of Them. Marierra, May 19.—[Special.]—The fourth game of the championship series of the Ath-letic League of Ohio Colleges for the baseball pennant was scheduled to be played in this city to-day between the teams of Marietta and Wittenberg (Springfield) Colleges, but it was declared off on account of rain at the end of the first half of the second inning. The Wittenberg team will play the Ohio University team at Athens to-morrow, and return here on Saturday to play the game scheduled for to-day.

Beat the Alliance Team.

Youngstown, May 19 .- [Special.]-The Alliance baseball team, which has been de-feating nearly every club it tackled this senson, was laid out cold here this after noon by the Youngstowns, who defeated them by a score of 11 to 3. The Youngs-towns will play in Alliance Saturday. Bat-teries to-day: Alliance, Ingram and Markle; Youngstown, Doty and Bates.

Won Quite Easily.

Johnstown, May 19.-[Special.]-The local State League team played a match game with the Athletics here this afternoon, winning by a score of Il to L. As the Athletics have recently downed everything that came in their way, including the Greensburg team, the supporters of the League team are

WHO says Mark Baldwin is not a pitcher?

There is little or no harm done yet, THE H. Raymonds, Southside, will play the Beitzhoover Blues on Decoration Day. THE Mansfield and East End County League teams will play at Mansfield to-morrow. THE manager of the Keystones says his team will blay the Jeannette team for a guarantee or for all

THE A. C. Buckenbergers would like to play any junior team. Address Manager, 150 Madison ave-nue. Allegheny. THE Homestead amateur team would like to play any team whose members are not over 17 years old. Address Oliver Gardner, Swissvale.

It has been finally decided that in the case of a tle between Harvard and Princeton, the deciding game will be played in Boston June 24. THE Alvin Jrs. want to play any local team whose members are not more than 15 years old. Address John Quinlan, Alvin Theater. RAIN prevented the League games at Philadel-phia and Chicago yesterday, and the Western League games at Indianapolis and Toledo. The wind carried a high fly ball, knocked out by Halligan yesterday, far out of Corkhill's reach, and the batter had to be credited with a two-bag.

New York, 3—Baltimore, 1.

New York, May 19.—Rain stopped the Meadville, two Butler and games at Philipsburg,

East Liverpool, Massillon, Canton, Akron, Alli-ance and Columbus. SANDY GRISWOLD says: "Eitel Eddlejorg got tangled up with his name in a game recently and gave 12 men bases on balls and bored a hole in two others; still the Cowboys won the game."

Tire Harvards have not been able to do much with Pitcher John Kiley in the two games they have faced him. It is a wonder that some New England league nine has not secured him. THE Senators have pushed Yank Robinson to the wall. Tommile Dowd tried his hand at short yesterday and made three errors, but even that didn't prevent them from lambasting the Quakers.

NED HANLON was practicing vesterday morning, and found that he could run quite as well as before he injured a tendon. He will probably begin playing with the team in a day or two.—N. Y. Sun. It is said that a combine exists among League players to work out nou-playing managers. The successful playing managers are Ward, Anson, Comiskey, Tebeau and Hanlou. The ambitious captains are Ewing, Richardson and Pfeffer. It seems rather strange that "Nick" Young does not assign either Gaffney or Lynch to umpire such important games as those between Boston and Brooklyn. When New York and Brooklyn meet both of these judges of play will doubtless be needed.

THE Omaha Fee says: 'The only place when Halligan could be profitably utilized in fast company is at the bat. He is more than an ordinary clever backstop, throws finely, and with the stick can generally be relied on, although he fails down for weeks at a time,"

THE report that Pitcher Clarkson is to be re-leased by the Boston club is authoritatively de-nied, but it is understood that he is to chiefly figure on the bench and at the turnstile during the remainder of the season. A good offer for Stovey would doubtless accure his release.

PITCHER MULLANE, of the Cincinnatis, rises to remark: "The ery goes up from every quarter that the Bostons are lucky, that they are winning games on their gail. If they are winning now without hitting, what will they do when they get down to their real gail. It is a great batting as well as a great fielding and base-running team."

THERE seems to be some unasiness amont the Washington players over the expectation of the release of Hoy and the succession in the field of Dowd. Rumor has it that Hoy has not given satisfaction. Yet, according to statistics, he has been leading the club in hatting. He outranks in fielding Walsh Gore and Duffy. The real trouble is that Hoy is drawing too much money, and if he is released it will be to reduce expenses.

released it will be to reduce expenses.

A LITLE trick that Ward played in Louisville that prevented Taylor from being credited with a stolen base, is still being laughed over by the Brookly, players. Taylor had made a double, and was moving toward third when Kinslow threw down to catch him napping. The ball went wild, but Ward clapped his hands together and touched Taylor on the back as he slid over the bag. Before the Louisville player knew what had occurred the hall was fielded and Taylor could not reach third base.

TURF RECORDS AND TALK.

Garrison Resppears at Gravesend and Win a Race-Some Close Finishes.

GRAVESEND, N. Y., May 19 .- A cold wind accompanied by rain blew across the track this afternoon and greatly interfered with the sport. Had the day been pleasant an immense crowd would have been present to see the running off of the Seaside stakes for two-year-olds and the Carlton stakes for sixyear-olds. The former was won by Sir Walter, who was made a gift of the stakes through Starter Rowe's failure to send the field away on anything like even terms. The Cariton, however, resulted in a stirring finish and a victory for Charade who was ridden by Garrison in his oid-time style. The spectators gave the Snapper a grand ovation when he returned to the judge's stand to weigh.

ovation when he returned to the judge's stand to weigh.

Raceland, 7 to 10 favorite for the first race, won by a fluke. Hamilton was winning with Masterlode in the last furlong, but he became overconfident, and Fitzpatrick nipped on the post with "Old Bones." The third close finish of the afternoon was that of Void, who just got up in time to defeat the Lady Longfellow colt for the second race. Patron, the favorite for the Carlton stakes, was knoced to pieces on the back stakes, was knoced to pieces on the back stretch. He was running well and undoubt-edly would have been a contender at the finish.

An Excellent Day's Racing at Louisville-

The Runnemede Stakes Winner. Louisville, May 19 .- The next to the las day of the Louisville Jockey Club's spring meeting was one of the best and saw a rattling finish in the event of the day-the Runnemede stakes worth $1,200 to the win ner. It was at three-quarters of a mile, and six were entered. Buck McCann and Belfast were invorites with Longer and Courtleve as the Railley entry and Ferrier and Ducat as the Brown entry. Odds of 5 to 1 could be had against the latter with 12 to 1 against had against the latter with 12 to 1 against the former. It was anybody's race till the head of the stretch was reached, when Courtlove and Buck McCann drew out. Then came the fight. Nose and nose they raced. On the outside, however, there came with a magnificent rush the colt Ducat. Almost all noses lined together as they flew under the wire. All attention was on Buck McCann and Courtlove, and many declared Ducat had won the battle by a nose. The judges, however, made it Courtleve first by a nose, Buck McCann second, a nose before Ducat. Ducat.

First race, five and one-half furlongs — The Hero first, Bagpipe second, Lady Jones third. Time, 1:14. Second race, one mile and twenty yards—Critic first, Reveal second, Frank Elsenman third. A Big Horse Sale.

ZANESVILLE, O., May 19.-[Special.]-Per-haps the largest sale of blooded horses in which only two individuals were concerned that ever occurred in the State took place here to-day between D. M. Harris, of this city, and Hon. Frank B. Selph, of Murfrees city, and Hon. Frank B. Seiph, of Murtrees-boro, Tenn. Ten head of horses were sold by Harris for $44,000. Prophet Wilkes, son of George Wilkes, by Mollie, who was the dam of Angelina, with a record of 2:273/2, brought $15,000, and Dictated, who is by Dictator, from Lady Patterson by Burbon Wilkes, brought $7,000. The horses were taken to Murfresboro by Mr. Seiph and placed on his stock farm there.

Fmery-Fasig Horse Sale. CLEVELAND, May 19.—[Special.]—The most important sales at the Emery-Fasig stables to-day were as follows: Julia H. Mona co, to H. J. Morningstar, Cleveland, $750; Branilia, SUNDAY'S New York Press says: "Ed Corrigan sent a telegram to Green Morris yesterday asking him about Judge Morrow. "Telegraph him, Mac," said Green. "inat the Jedge hoss is a better hoss than the Riley hoss. He'll know ther that the hoss is a race hoss." "Will I say anything about yourself?" asked Mr. McCullongh, to whom the words were addressed. "You may," answered Green with his sweetest smile. "If Corrigan has to pay for it say that I'm all right, except for a little rheumatics off and on, but that I expect to cool out the winner of the handicap if the Longstreet hoss gets disqualified for going the wrong course."

TOO DESPERATE TO ARREST.

A Yankee Shoots a Man and Works All Day in the Field With Him. DANBURY, CONN., May 19 .- [Special.]-

A feud has existed between the Woodward and Worden families of New Fairfield for several years. Early this morning Dow Worden and Nehemiah Woodward met on the highway just this side of the New York State line. The trouble was over Worden's daughter-in-law. Worden sat down on a log and when Woodward approached he leveled his gun at him and shot him in the head. Then he fired again and shot him in Worden worked all day in a field ten rods from where Woodward lay, and when the wounded man was found by Joel Joyce, Worden calmly said: "I shot the ____ sucker, and I don't care." Woodward is dying in the Danbury hospital, but no attempt has been made to arrest Worden, who is a desperate man.

Ten Cars Are Piled Up and a Man Is Killed in a Uniontown Wreck.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEARBY TOWNS

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

COLUMBUS, O., May 19. - Frank Van Loon, the man who murdered the cashier of a bank in Columbus Grove, and who was tried and sentenced to be hanged November 2, has written a letter to Governor McKinley in which he makes a novel proposition. The letter is now in the hands of Warden James. The epistle abounds in very bad spelling.

In it he protests his innocence, declaring he was convicted by perjury, and finally requests the Governor to have the "officers of the law" lay him up on a cross, "and," he says, "I will hold the spikes while they drive them in my hands and teet, If one man can be found who will truthfully say he believes me guilty." The letter was written Monday night and enclosed in an envelope which contained a letter to his wife. When it reached the Warden's office that official quietly took charge of it, and it will never reach the Governor's office. The letter covers four pages of note paper, and is incoher-ently pathetic. The Warden declines to give the letter out for publication.

Van Loon addresses Governor McKinley as "Dear Governor," and says he does not ask that the Governor shall come down to the pen and open the doors of the annex to let him step out free. "But," he writes, "for the sake of the little baby and the wife, whose heart is broken and whose blood is frozen to icicles in her veins, I do ask to be given a chance to prove my inno-

This, he thinks, will be an absolute test of his innocence or guilt. The letter is, apparently, the product of a disordered

TOO POOR TO MARRY.

He Becomes Insane and Tries to Drown Himself in Jail.

Easton, May 19 .- [Special.] - Leonard Gehring, a fresco painter, came here from Frankfort, Germany, two years ago, and began a nice business. He has not been so successful of late, and recently has been acting queerly. He became violent last night, and was committed to the county jail, not, however, until he had made a great resistance. He kicked two of the officers, and the result of one of these blows has been that Chief Tilton was forced to take to his bed this evening, having become very ill.
Gehring, who is a church member, prayed all night for death. To-day he wanted his pastor to administer Holy Communion, so that he might be prepared for the end. This was denied him, and he became violent and tore out the water ripe in his ceil, flooding it. Gehring's case is a very sad one. He is engaged to a lady in Frankfort, and has been brooding over his inability to save enough money to return and marry her. He was very anxious to go home, but business did not admit of it. His only friends in this country are said to be in New York, but their address is not known. and the result of one of these blows has engines were pushing 50 cars of coke in front of them this evening, when the train hit a horse at the end of the Lemont trestle on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The horse was pushed ahead of the train until it horse was pushed anead of the train units to lodged in the middle of the trestle and the cars toppied over. Before the engineers could stop the train ten cars went over.

A HORSE WRECKS A TRAIN.

Ten Cars Fall From a Uniontown Trestle Killing One Man. Uniontown, May 19. - [Special.] - Two

Two colored men were stealing a ride in one of the cars that went over, but escaped unburt and started off on a run. William G. Thomas, a Welsh well driller of this place, was in a car with his machinery, and was instantly crushed to death by a car toppling upon him in the gulch 70 feet beneath.

Homestead's Elopement Mania. HOMESTEAD, May 19 .- [Special.]-This place and vicinity has the elopement fever bad. The case of William Downey and Laura Kirkland, of Hays station, who are missing to-day, is the very latest. What direction they took and when they will return, if ever, is unknown. James Straney and bride have is unknown. James Straney and bride have just returned from Chicago, where their lives were made one in spite of parental objections. John Williams, of this place, who eloped with Miss Bennett, of Braddock, last Tuesday, returned home to-day. In the last two cases the usual parental forgiveness has been obtained, and will not likely be withheld in the first case.

The Curry Hay Burning Case, WASHINGTON, PA., May 19.-[Special.]-The Commonwealth rested in the Curry arson case this afternoon, but not before it had introduced some very damaging testimony against the defendant, Hugh Curry. It was proved that the prisoner had threatened the proved that the prisoner had threatened the life and property of his brother, Marion Curry; that he had shot, also, at the guards on the farm of the prosecutor. The defendant denied having any knowledge of the burnings, and it was shown by other witnesses that he had been absent from the community at the time of at least one of the fires.

High Water Mark Preparations. GETTYSBURG, May 19.—Colonel J. B. Bachel der is here maturing arrangements for the dedication of the "high water mark" tablet June 2. To-day Adjutant General Green June 2. To-day Adjutant General Green-land, of Pennsylvania, and Colonel Mages, commanding the Eighth National Guard Regiment, had a conference with him. Presi-dent Harrison will be present at the dedica-tory exercises. The oration will be deliv-ered by James A. It is an eged ne accepted a note in payment for a scholar-ship and appropriated money obtained on the note to his own use. When brought here this evening, he entered a plea of not guilty, and was sent to juli to await hearing. Wood has influential relatives in Greenville, Mercer county.

Mischlef Made by a Bogus Obituary. ALTOONA, May 19 .- Miss Sadie Delosier, of this city, this morning read her own death notice in the papers. While she was visiting her brother some one sent notices of her sudden death to the various papers. When her mother read one of them she was pros trated by heart failure and is not yet out of danger. Miss Delosier was also greatly affected. Efforts are being made to discover the sender of the notices.

A Hydrophobia Scare at Bethlehem. BETHLEREM, May 19.-Gertie Heckman, 5-year-old girl, was set upon by a vicions mastiff yesterday afternoon. He bit her on the legs and about the body, lacerating the little girl frightfully. It is feared the dog was mad, and though the wounds were cau-terized, the greatest apprehension is left for her safety. The police have declared war on dogs, and all running the streets have been shot.

The Juniata Out of I's Banks.

HUNTINGDON, May 19 .- The continuous heavy raintall during the past three days has caused an overflow of the Juniata river, which is eight feet above the low water mark and suil rapidly rising. The low lands all along the banks in this section are flooded, causing considerable damage to growing grain.
