

THE FINANCIAL YACHT

Applied by a Congressional Committee to Extravagances for the Fair.

SOME FANCY SALARIES

That Must Be Scaled Down Before All Will Be Exactly Right.

THE DIRECTOR GENERAL'S WAGES

Shouldn't Be Twice as Much as the Pay of a Cabinet Officer.

GEN. ST. CLAIR TALKS FOR SOUVENIRS

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Chairman DeLoach, of the World's Fair investigating subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations, today submitted to the full committee the report agreed on by himself and his associates. The report recommends that the Department of Foreign Affairs be abolished and its duties discharged under the auspices of the Director General.

"It further appears," says the report, "that officials connected with the local board are also salaried officers of the United States. The committee is impelled, therefore, to suggest that the compensation of such officials, together with those of the chiefs of the 15 great departments, shall in no case be fixed at an amount to exceed $4,000." The report continues:

It is also recommended that the salary of the Director General be reduced from $28,000 to $8,000 per annum, and that the compensation of the Secretary of the Commission be fixed at $5,000. While it is true that the Director General is a man of great dignity and responsibility, yet it would not seem that in these respects it surpasses the positions of the members of the cabinet of the United States.

Recommendations That Should Be Made. It will be noted that these reductions were made subsequent to the investigation at Chicago, and amount to $21,700 annually, exclusive of the salary of $6,000 allowed the president and which he voluntarily renounced. Your committee is persuaded that reductions should be made in the salaries of other officials, but for the time being suggests, inasmuch as the board of directors of the Exposition contemplates direct scrutiny of the expenditures of the President's committee, that the President's committee resolution will, in our opinion, result in the decrease of compensation to employees of the Exposition.

Some Suggested Reforms. Under the head of "suggested reforms" the committee recommends that the Board of Reference and Control of the National Commission and the Executive Committee of the Board of Lady Managers be abolished, and that the duties of their respective bodies be transferred to the respective bodies in the National Commission and the Board of Lady Managers.

NINE NEW-MADE ORPHANS. A Violent Hungarian Shoots His Wife and Himself. The Double Crime Witnessed by a Little Child.

NEW YORK, May 20.—[Special.]—In East Orange, Ferdinand Palkovic, a middle-aged Hungarian, enraged by jealousy which was intensified by bad beer, shot his wife this morning through the heart, and afterward lodged a bullet in his own. With his two sons, Louis, aged 18, and Stephen, aged 14, he was employed in a wagon shop.

OFFICERS IN REBELLION. Against the President's Order for Them to Keep Quiet. Five Minnesota Men Have Taken Them Worked Hard to Get a Prize They Are Loath to Give Up.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—[Special.]—Some of the Cabinet officers and other high officials are disposed to inquire into the reports of the President which was suggested by Secretary Foster, that they refrain from taking an active part in the proceedings of the Republican National Convention.

NOT EVERYBODY'S WIVES. The Coroner's Jury Finds That John Klimehappie Died From Heat.

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—The hearing between Attorney General Hensel and general Counsel Campbell, of the Reading Company, was held this afternoon. The meeting was fixed by the Attorney General to determine the merits of the suit of the Reading Company to furnish him with documentary evidence that the suit of the Commonwealth against the company could be pushed.

SHARPSBURG TO HAVE ELECTRIC LIGHTS. A committee consisting of Councilmen Reithmiller, Farrell and Bellman, of Sharpsburg, investigated electric light plants at Braddock and Irwin one day this week with the view of ascertaining the cost of lighting Sharpsburg with electricity.

MISS JACOBS WANTS $50,000. Because Her Recent Lover Had Her Car Run Over by a Horse.

NEW YORK, May 20.—[Special.]—Miss Esther Jacobs has sued Henry R. Sire for $50,000 for breach of promise. The former has sung in concert both in Europe and in this country, and is now contralto soloist of the Fifth avenue temple. She is 25 years old, and lives with her father on West Ninety-eighth street. Mr. Sire is a real estate dealer, part owner of the trotter Harry Wilkes, and is interested in turf matters generally.

ONE TERM FOR A PRESIDENT. A Resolution in Congress Making the Length of Time Six Years.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Senator Wallcut, of the Committee on Civil Service and Retrenchment, today reported a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution, making the term of President and Vice-President six years, instead of four, and making a President ineligible for reelection. The change is to take effect March 4, 1917.

A Presbyterial Acquitted of Conspiracy. SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—The suit of Rev. Dr. John W. Ellis, ex-pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of this city, to recover $100,000 damages for alleged defamatory character and conspiracy on the part of the San Francisco Presbytery, has been dismissed by the Superior Court. Judge Wallace held that no malice on the part of the presbytery had been shown by the plaintiff's testimony.

BECAUSE THEY PAY. Patronage increases faster than ever as time goes on. The Adlets for the month ending April 30 gained 4,368 subscribers as compared with April, 1901. For 8 months ending same date the increase was 23,341.

SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIANS. A Proposition Looking to the Gathering of the Southern Presbytery. The Southern Presbytery, organized in 1845, was read by the Secretary, Rev. Walter Roubenouch, which declared the probabilities against an organic union on account of the greater desirability to create a new religious bodies, the frequency of theological disputes and the tenacity with which men cling to their opinions.

GRANT A PEACEMAKER. HE TRIED TO INDUCE CONKING TO MAKE UP WITH BLAINE. An Earnest Letter Opposing the Third Term Project—He Hits at the Present Denial of Blaine and Blaine Being Satisfied—The Fickleness of Fame.

COLUMBUS, O., May 20.—The Columbus Dispatch today makes public a copy of a letter written by U. S. Grant to Woodcock Conkling regarding his effort to have the General nominated as a candidate for President for the third time. The following is the letter: NEW YORK, May, 1880.

GORMAN AND BOIES.

That's the Ticket That Blackburn, of Kentucky, Wants to See.

HE IS SHOUTING LOUD FOR IT.

It Would Sweep the Country, He Declares, While He Thinks

CLEVELAND WOULD SURELY BE BEATEN

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—At Chamberlain's last night, to a body of politicians discussing the Presidential situation, Senator Blackburn said: "I have already waded—of course with heavy odds in my favor—that I could pick out nominees at Chicago. I do not need to ask me the details of the bet, but it was not of a peculiar character. I had to make a selection from the entire field, and took Gorman and Boies. Isn't that a strong team? And would not the Democrats from one end of the land to the other support the ticket with glad enthusiasm. Gorman and Boies it ought to be."

"Could they win? Can a duck swim? Seven States west of the Mississippi would fall to the Democratic column as surely as those names were put up. The ticket would almost elect itself. Now, our Northern and Eastern allies are making a great, though natural, mistake when they count the opposition to Cleveland as a Southern States as sure for the Democratic candidate, regardless of his personality and the platform on which he is nominated."

Believe States Ready to Elong. "I believe sincerely that if an anti-silver plank is inserted, and a man put at the head of the ticket, who is a native-born citizen, both Virginia, both Carolina and Georgia, too, will renounce their allegiance to the Democratic party."

Money to Be Made Out of It. It was a joint stock company, and plenty of persons could be found who would like to stock for the purpose of controlling it. They would make money out of it, even if it were denationalized and made a local enterprise. The President's committee would be imposed upon and taxed to an extent which would bring scandal and dissatisfaction. For instance, a charge of 13 cents per hundred would be levied on the exhibitors should be required to pay the cost of installation of exhibits, but not that they should make an enormous profit, as would be the case if the exhibitors were not State governments would treat with the Illinois corporation. The Government should take the hands of the National Commission.

To Representative Little, Mr. St. Clair added that anyone might now buy up the stock of the Exposition, and that the danger of a loss would be the same as if more money had to be raised.

OSWEGO ON FIRE. THE WORST CONFLAGRATION IN THE HISTORY OF THE CITY.

About All the Elevators There in Ashes—Big Lumber Yards Destroyed—Firemen Powerless to Stay the Flames—Help From Other Cities.

OSWEGO, N. Y., May 21.—A great fire is raging here along the water front, sweeping through the line of elevators. It started in the big Washington Mills. A brick break is blowing and it looks at this hour, 2 A. M., as though the lumber district is destroyed. The fire has backed up and has destroyed the Corn Exchange and the Continental Warehouse on the north, has also burned, and the Oswego elevator interests have been practically ruined. The fire started in the East side, and that is the Marine, owned by Thompson Kingsford. It is in imminent danger, however, and is liable to go at any minute.

The fire presents a magnificent spectacle. The flames have leaped over to the islands in the center of the river, which are piled full of lumber, and it is burning fiercely. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000. There is no telling where the fire will stop. Syracuse firemen are on their way by special train, and will render all the assistance in their power to check the progress of the flames. A number of firemen who were fighting the fire on the top of the Continental elevator were suddenly cut off by the flames and had a narrow escape from death. They had to be rescued by means of ropes. Six elevators have already been destroyed. The heat is fearful, and the firemen, although they are working heroically, can do little to stop the spread of the flames. The fire has just abandoned Kingsford's big Marine elevator, which is filled with corn. The great coal trestles of the New York, Ontario & Western Railway, and the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company are next in line. A dozen fires are burning on the west side of the river, with no streams playing on them.

MECKLENBURG'S DECLARATION. Celebrated at Charlotte, N. C., by an Oration Pronounced by Senator Hill.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 20.—Senator Hill, of New York, who is to deliver the oration to-day at the one hundred and seventh anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg declaration of Independence, arrived here this morning. Thirty thousand visitors are on the streets. A sham battle was the feature of the morning exercises, and was participated in by 1,000 troops. Senator Hill and party reviewed the military parade. At 1 o'clock Senator Hill delivered his oration. The following is a passage of his address:

The great central and important thought of the Mecklenburg Declaration was the self-government of the people. It was a protest against oppression. It was also a declaration of the right of the people to the peace and order of society, that the only proper attitude toward it for Christians is that of religious hostility. It can never be legalized without sin.

The report further declares that men engaged in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors are to be regarded as the commercial patronage of Christians.

A Threat to Political Parties. The traffic is stoutly condemned, and the whole licensing plan for liquor saloons is declared to be a means to foster and sustain the traffic in its various forms. The report says that while it is not the province of the Conference to suggest or dictate as to the political proclivities of any man, yet it is the duty of the Conference to advise the party has a right to expect, neither ought any party to receive the support of Christian men so long as that party stands committed to the traffic in intoxicating liquors.

The Committee on Lay Delegations has prepared a report, which will be read at the annual meeting of the Conference of 1902. During the proceedings to-day it was decided to instruct the Central Conference in the adoption of changes to be made by the General Conference looking to the establishment of a new constitution, and three resolutions, introduced by Dr. Hamilton, were adopted declaring that the iniquitous traffic in making dreadfully heavy on those cities, and a vigorous step should be taken to stamp it out.

A Movement for Methodist Unity. Judge Lawrence offered a resolution to have a commission appointed to ascertain what steps can be taken to have the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, united into one organization. Referred to committee.

Mr. Shaw, of Iowa, introduced a resolution to call a constitutional conference in Chicago in 1902. Though a long list of well-known names are appended to the resolution, the resolution was referred to the next General Conference—a mild way of strangling the project.

It is reported that Dr. C. H. Payne, Secretary of the Board of Education, was officially reported after adjournment that Drs. Kynett and Spencer had been elected Secretaries of the Church Extension Society.

THE TEMPERANCE COMMITTEE OF THE M. E. CONFERENCE WILL REPORT FOR LEGISLATIVE PROHIBITION.

Political Parties to Be Notified They Must Not Favor License.

A FEW MORE OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

OMAHA, May 20.—Bishop Foss presided at the Methodist Episcopal General Conference today. About the first thing that was sprung was a question of finance. Amos Shrinke, Treasurer of the funds to pay the traveling expenses of the delegates, announced that the funds had not been paid in full. The conference treasurer in a sufficient amount to pay all the traveling expenses of the delegates.

Some one suggested that the amount be borrowed from the Book Concern. Some very vigorous remarks were offered in reply. One delegate declared it was nonsense to talk about borrowing the money from the Book Concern, because the amount would never be paid back. The General Conference had borrowed from the Book Concern time and again, but had rarely, if ever, repaid the money. The Conference ought to be honest, and simply make an appropriation.

The Book Concern Bears the Burden. Dr. Maxfield moved that the amount needed, about $4,000, be borrowed from the Book Concern, and that the amount be assessed against those Annual Conferences which had failed to pay their assessments for the traveling expenses fund.

You might just as well apportion the deficit to the Annual Conferences, and state as to the Annual Conferences, "I move that the amount be drawn from the Book Concern, and that the agents of the Book Concern be authorized to charge the amount to profit and loss." [Laughter.]

After much wrangling the Conference did what General Conferences have done before—decided to draw the amount from the Book Concern.

HOT AGAINST WHISKY.

The Temperance Committee of the M. E. Conference Will Report

FOR LEGISLATIVE PROHIBITION.

Political Parties to Be Notified They Must Not Favor License.

A FEW MORE OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

OMAHA, May 20.—Bishop Foss presided at the Methodist Episcopal General Conference today. About the first thing that was sprung was a question of finance.

Amos Shrinke, Treasurer of the funds to pay the traveling expenses of the delegates, announced that the funds had not been paid in full. The conference treasurer in a sufficient amount to pay all the traveling expenses of the delegates.

Some one suggested that the amount be borrowed from the Book Concern. Some very vigorous remarks were offered in reply. One delegate declared it was nonsense to talk about borrowing the money from the Book Concern, because the amount would never be paid back.

The General Conference had borrowed from the Book Concern time and again, but had rarely, if ever, repaid the money. The Conference ought to be honest, and simply make an appropriation.

The Book Concern Bears the Burden. Dr. Maxfield moved that the amount needed, about $4,000, be borrowed from the Book Concern, and that the amount be assessed against those Annual Conferences which had failed to pay their assessments for the traveling expenses fund.

You might just as well apportion the deficit to the Annual Conferences, and state as to the Annual Conferences, "I move that the amount be drawn from the Book Concern, and that the agents of the Book Concern be authorized to charge the amount to profit and loss." [Laughter.]

After much wrangling the Conference did what General Conferences have done before—decided to draw the amount from the Book Concern.

Rev. Mr. Beardshire, Fraternal Delegate from the United Brethren Church, was present. The delegate read the report done by him during the last year. He said the United Brethren had reached the point where the holy right of women to preach the gospel when they felt called from home to enter the ministry would not be refused them. He hoped the great Methodist Church would soon come to a proper light on the question.

Out and Out for Prohibition. The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

HOT AGAINST WHISKY.

The Temperance Committee of the M. E. Conference Will Report

FOR LEGISLATIVE PROHIBITION.

Political Parties to Be Notified They Must Not Favor License.

A FEW MORE OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

OMAHA, May 20.—Bishop Foss presided at the Methodist Episcopal General Conference today. About the first thing that was sprung was a question of finance.

Amos Shrinke, Treasurer of the funds to pay the traveling expenses of the delegates, announced that the funds had not been paid in full. The conference treasurer in a sufficient amount to pay all the traveling expenses of the delegates.

Some one suggested that the amount be borrowed from the Book Concern. Some very vigorous remarks were offered in reply. One delegate declared it was nonsense to talk about borrowing the money from the Book Concern, because the amount would never be paid back.

The General Conference had borrowed from the Book Concern time and again, but had rarely, if ever, repaid the money. The Conference ought to be honest, and simply make an appropriation.

The Book Concern Bears the Burden. Dr. Maxfield moved that the amount needed, about $4,000, be borrowed from the Book Concern, and that the amount be assessed against those Annual Conferences which had failed to pay their assessments for the traveling expenses fund.

You might just as well apportion the deficit to the Annual Conferences, and state as to the Annual Conferences, "I move that the amount be drawn from the Book Concern, and that the agents of the Book Concern be authorized to charge the amount to profit and loss." [Laughter.]

After much wrangling the Conference did what General Conferences have done before—decided to draw the amount from the Book Concern.

Rev. Mr. Beardshire, Fraternal Delegate from the United Brethren Church, was present. The delegate read the report done by him during the last year. He said the United Brethren had reached the point where the holy right of women to preach the gospel when they felt called from home to enter the ministry would not be refused them. He hoped the great Methodist Church would soon come to a proper light on the question.

Out and Out for Prohibition. The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

HOT AGAINST WHISKY.

The Temperance Committee of the M. E. Conference Will Report

FOR LEGISLATIVE PROHIBITION.

Political Parties to Be Notified They Must Not Favor License.

A FEW MORE OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

OMAHA, May 20.—Bishop Foss presided at the Methodist Episcopal General Conference today. About the first thing that was sprung was a question of finance.

Amos Shrinke, Treasurer of the funds to pay the traveling expenses of the delegates, announced that the funds had not been paid in full. The conference treasurer in a sufficient amount to pay all the traveling expenses of the delegates.

Some one suggested that the amount be borrowed from the Book Concern. Some very vigorous remarks were offered in reply. One delegate declared it was nonsense to talk about borrowing the money from the Book Concern, because the amount would never be paid back.

The General Conference had borrowed from the Book Concern time and again, but had rarely, if ever, repaid the money. The Conference ought to be honest, and simply make an appropriation.

The Book Concern Bears the Burden. Dr. Maxfield moved that the amount needed, about $4,000, be borrowed from the Book Concern, and that the amount be assessed against those Annual Conferences which had failed to pay their assessments for the traveling expenses fund.

You might just as well apportion the deficit to the Annual Conferences, and state as to the Annual Conferences, "I move that the amount be drawn from the Book Concern, and that the agents of the Book Concern be authorized to charge the amount to profit and loss." [Laughter.]

After much wrangling the Conference did what General Conferences have done before—decided to draw the amount from the Book Concern.

Rev. Mr. Beardshire, Fraternal Delegate from the United Brethren Church, was present. The delegate read the report done by him during the last year. He said the United Brethren had reached the point where the holy right of women to preach the gospel when they felt called from home to enter the ministry would not be refused them. He hoped the great Methodist Church would soon come to a proper light on the question.

Out and Out for Prohibition. The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

The delegates who clamored for the election of more Bishops at the present session, made a frantic effort to open the question again. A motion for reconsideration was laid on the table in a twinkling.

FOUR INCHES OF SNOW