ALL THE BASEBALL NEWS OF INTEREST

Our sluggers won quite an interesting and a somewhat lively ball game yesterday, which gave them two victories out of the three contests against the Cincinnati Reds. Comiskey and his associates had made up their minds to have the VICTORY clincher on it b putting Antoni Mullane into th

They Made a Rattling Start.

The start off was such a lively one as far as the home players were concerned tha the Reds could never get within winning distance of them. The contest all through was one of the kind that keeps the spectators full of interest and expectations. There was some good hitting at stages; some rocky fielding and some very daring base running. It was really a spectators' game, because it was productive of lots of fun.

Hurst's decisions did not give satisfaction by any means, and in one instance Latham kicked, or at least rolled about the ground so grotesquely when the umpire called Vaughn out at third, that Arlie was fined a $10 bill and nearly ordered out of the game. The comicalities of Latham caused roars of laughter, and the latter made Hurst correspondingly mad. Doubtless Hurst's decisions were unfair to both | To the Sporting Editor of The Dispatch: sides, and he seemed to be rattled all through the game. On the whole, the home punvers took the worst of it.

Woodcock pitched for the local team and he kept the crowd on pins and needles from start to finish. The good lead that the hone players took at the start saved our young twirler. His support was not giltdeed by any means, but when men were on bases he was awfully slow and gave indica tions that in a tight game the opposing team would have opportunity to take any amount of liberties with him.

weather was very threatening and the attendance did not exceed 1,000 people. But what the crowd lacked in numbers was made up in enthusiasm, and it is safe to Bay that all present enjoyed themselves. The first inning began in real rattling fashion. Miller was easily retired at first but Bierbauer had quite an enjoyable time. He knocked the ball to right for a fine single and Shugart made a rather lucky infield hit and reached first all right. Big Jake Beckley was the next to face the Count and Jake cracked out a three-bagger to right field, scoring the two runs. Elmer Smith kept up the sport and touched poor Tony up for a two-bagger to right, scoring Swartwood fouled out and Farrell reached first on a fumble by Smith, but or Smith had no chance to score. Corkhill was put out at first and retired the

In the second inning Woodcock struck out and Miller got his base on balls. Bier-bauer came again with a single and Miller passed second and stole third on the hit. Holliday made a bad throw in to third and Miller scored, Bierbauer reaching the third bar. Shugart's sacrifice scored Bierbauer. The Reds Get a Few Runs.

In the second half Holliday started out with a single and Corknill caught Comis-key's fly. Burke knocked the ball to right field and Ed Swartwood not only misjudged the fly but tumbled the ball long enough to w Holliday to score and Burke to reach third. Burke scored on Smith's sacrifice. Duryen went in to pitch in the third inning and Smith started off with a single. He reached second on Swartwood's sacrifice and stole third. Farrell got his base on bulls and stole second. Corkhill made a single, scoring Smith, and Woodcock knocked the ball over O'Neil's head for three bases, scoring Farrell and Corkhill, Miller's sacrifice scored Woodcock.

In the second half a wild throw by Farrell to first; McPhee's two-bagger; Latham's single; two sacrifice hits and a passed ball cored three runs for the Reds. In the fourth Shugart started off with auother fortunate infield hit; got to second on a sperifice, and by during base running stole third. He reored on Smith's sacrifice. After that Duryea pitched like a demon, and our sluggers couldn't touch him.

In the sixth a bit, two errors and a stolen have scored a run for the Reds, and they secred another in the eighth on a base on palls and a three-bagger by Vaucho. While Durvea was at bat Miller threw the ball to Farrell when Vaughn was a little from the Vaughn rushed back and Farreli touched him. Vangin was declared out and this caused the mountebank perform-

Objectors to Burns, The following is one of several letters on the same subject received at this office yesterday: SiR-In behalf of self and many patrons of the game I would like to ask the directors of the local game I would like to ask the directors of the local club what has prompted them to bring a played out man like Tommy Burns to this city after letting Ed Haulon go? Burns is done as a player, and has not even had a day's experience as a captain. The policy of making important changes every time the team loses a few games is bad one, and shows poor judgment. We saw, give Buckenberger a chance. He has done well, and the patrong of the club like him. We don't want old stuff on the team. Anson is just trying to get rid of Burns. Yours truly,

GROUNDS VERY BAD AND TIME SLOW

The Western University of Pennsylvania inter-class field day, held on the Recreation Park grounds yesterday, needed something to add a tittle life to it, and evidently the sophomores were there to furnish it. The boys of that class took possession of one of the boxes and hung out three flags. They raised such a row about the flags that the freshmen concluded to stop it. Several of the latter were stationed below and some went above and knocked down the offending flags. They were soon seized by the conspirators and before the sophomores recovered from their surprise. all but one of the flags were torn into shreds. A general fight commenced in the box and in the grand stand below, but the sophomores only succeeded in rescuing a small portion of one flag, while the fresh-men wore pieces of the others as badges. The remaining flag was soon again floating deflantly in the breeze, but it did not stay long, as one of the freshmen surprised the sophs and tore the banner to pieces. The result of the melee was somewhat in favor of the freshmen, though the bumps and bruises were about equally distributed.

After this event the field settled down to a very uninteresting affair. The grounds were in miserable condition and the time of the races decidedly slow. There is some excuse to be found for nearly all the poor events in the rough and muddy grounds. The jumpers sank several inches each time and the sprinters were compelled to go up and down hill for the 100-yards. In some of the events there were only two starters, both from the same class, in which case there would be no contest, only a show. Following are the results in the 17 events:

M'KEESPORT MATTERS.

A Disappearance-A School Officer Salary Question-Military Matters. McKeesrort, May 20.—[Special.]—Charles Hersher, an engineer in the Taylor & Stroup planing mills, left his home Saturday night ast to come up town and pay his taxes, and since then has not been seen. He did not go to the tax collector's office, and no one saw him that night.

The McKeesport Board of School Control-lers recently decided, as it was operating under the act of 1874, it had no right to pay a salary to the Treasurer and City Controller, and stopped paying these officials. The Secretary then conferred with the school district officers for enlightenment on the subject, and from the Secretary of the Seranton Board it was found that the Treasurer is paid a salary under white of the Supreme Board it was found that the Treasurer is paid a salary under a ruing of the Supreme Court, but they do not ray the Controller, as the city pays him. The local board then decided to pay the Treasurer and not the Controller, and will let the court decide on the latter, if necessary. A letter from the Johnstown board shows that they pay both the Treasurer and the Controller, evidently not being aware of the point raised by the local board, where a board of a third-class city is operating under the act of 1874.

A German Conclave of Heptasonhs will be instituted here shortly with 100 members.
