PORTLAND, Ore., May 21.-The Judicial Committee of the Presbyterian General Assembly, before which the Briggs case is to come, and upon whose finding the Assembly will be called to act, is by no means unanimous, and apparently cannot be brought to unite. There will, it is said, certainly be a minority report, and it will be in favor of the appellants in the case. A member of the minority stated that not

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

Adopted by the Methodists as Their Recognized Young People's Societies-The Y. P. S. of C. E. Allowed to Continue, but Are Urged to Join the Epworth, OMAHA, May 21.—Bishop Andrews was the presiding officer at the M. E. Conference to-day. Bishop Andrews announced that Dr. A. J. Kynett and Dr. W. A. Spencer had been elected secretaries of the Church Extension Society. A report from the committee on the Freedman's Aid Society recommended the election of two secretaries for the Freedman's Aid, instead of one, as heretofore. The recommendation was carried. It was believed Dr. Hartzell's chances for reelection were critical, and that his friends saw the only sure way to save him was to have two secretaries. After 20 minutes of pandemonium the ballot was taken. Drs. Hartzell and Hamilton were cletted.

The report on the Epworth League presents an amendment to the discipline pro-viding for a Board of Control of 15 members, one of whom shall be a Bishop. It also provides that the local leagues shall be under the supervision of the annual con-ferences with which they are connected. The amendment also provides for the publi-cation of the Epworth Herald as the official organ. The executive office is located at Chicago. The report was adopted seriatum. The

Dr. Pullman, of New York, pleaded for the Christian Endeavor societies. He held that there are nearly 200,000 young people in the Methodist Church who belonged to the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. The proposed amendment was finally worded so as to allow young people's societies not already organized as Epworth Leagues to come in as Epworth Leagues if they so desired.

Rev. Dr. Hayes, of Tennessee (colored), arose to a question of privilege, and severely criticised Rev. Charles Parkhurst, D. D., ditor of Zion's Herald, for what he deemed offensive comment on the colored delegates in that paper. The erticle complained of touched upon the alleged overwhelming propensity of the colored brethren to speech making. A lively discussion fol-lowed, and Dr. Parkhurst explained that he had written the article without the intention to offend anyone. It was decided to allow the Board of Con-trol to elect the Secretary of the Epworth League, but to have the Conference elect the editor of the Epworth Herald. It was also finally decided that all young people's societies connected with the church, whether Epworth Leagues or not, should come under the jurisdiction of a presiding elder.

Bismarck Warns the Dreibund Not to Ask Too Much From Italy.

[COPYRIGHT, 1892, BY N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS.] BERLIN, May 21.-The absorbing topic of conversation in American society here is the expulsion from the country of the Russian, Herr Wesselitzka, director of the Allgemeine Correspondenz, for circulating alarming reports concerning the Sultan of Turkey's health. The Turkish Ambassador held several interviews with Chancellor von Caprivi, and insisted upon summary treatment being meted out to the author of the reports.

Herr Wesselitzka's wife, nee Monroe, is a native of Central New York. She belongs to a good family. Herr Wesselitzka and his wife, together with Mrs. Mouroe and two of his wife's sisters, lived in a tashionable house in the Unter-den-Linden. They entertained the cream of the American colony. General Count von Waldersee and the Countess, who is an American by birth, and many officers of the guards were frequent guests of the Wesselitzkas.

The Conspirator's Career in Austria. The police some time ago suspected that Herr Wesselitzka was engaged in pan-Slavist intrigues, and an inquiry into his antecedents showed that he had previously peen expelled from Austrian territory for his close connection with the Insurgents in Bosnia at the time of the Austrian occupa-tion. The Prussian officials declare now that he was scheming to destroy the entente between Berlin and Constantinople to the advantage of Russia. The event in the Landtag during the past week was the announcement, made by Herr Herrfurth, Minister of the Interior, that at the next session the Government would in-troduce a bill for the redistribution of the seats. It is generally conceded that it is a triumph for the Progressists. When Prince Bismark was in power he stubbornly re-sisted similar demands, foreseeing that they would inevitably result to the advantage of the Socialists.

A Crusada Against the Upper House, The Progressists are organizing a strong agitation to abolish the extra vote power of the richer classes, while the Freisinnige Zeitung leads the attack upon the Upper House of the Prussian Diet. In the course of a trenchant article, that paper says it is impossible to reform the Upper House, and that it must be abolished. It only delays legislation. Its talented members should be elected to the Lower House, where their abilities could be utilized.

The rumors of the rapprochement be-tween the Emperor and Prince Bismarck, in consequence of the reported felicitous elegram the Emperor sent to Count Herbert Bismarck on the occasion of his beto Countess Margaret daughter of Count Hoyos, gain little cre-dence here. This telegram was said to be as follows: "Many thanks for your kind news, and sincere congratulations upon your engagement to Countess Margaret Hoyos." Statements from a reliable source throw doubt upon the alleged congratulations.

Bismarck's Warning to the Dreiband. An article by Prince Bismarck in the are lightened, a strong reaction of public opinion will occur in Italy, forcing King Humbert to withdraw from the Dreibund. The article affirms that Italy's adherence to the Dreibund mainly depends upon the protection she expects to receive from a British fleet in the event of war with Another Alsac -- Lorraine Trouble There is a strong feeling in Germany against the tetes of the French Gymnastic Society, which occur at Nancy in June. The preparations for these fetes indicate that they will take on an anti-German character. Invitations have been sent to all the European Universities except those of Germany. A circular addressed to those in Alsace-Lorraine specially invites their attendance, in order to demonstrate that Nancy's, not Strassburg's University, is the true Alsace-Lorraine institution. The event takes on additional importance owing to the fact that President Carnot will at-

Government circles in Berlin and Vienna observe a very cool attitude toward the In-ternational Monetary Conference. The Politische Correspondenz says there is a lack of a concrete programme, which may lead to the conference being used for purposes of agitation. It is a question, it adds, whether the European States having a gold coinage system would do well to take part in the conference at all.

Danger in American Dried Apples. Mr. Phelps, the American Minister, has received a letter from the official chemist at Hamburg declaring that half of the imported American dried apples contain zinc. He advises that the driers use sheet iron instead of zine plates in the evaporating process, saving that otherwise they will lose the entire German trade.

The American Legation here calls attention to the trouble of Americans of German birth revisiting Germany, owing to papers. The legation is unable to protect them or issue passports to them unless they produce their papers.

LONDON, May 21.-In view of the recent utterances of Lord Salisbury, the Cobden Club has adopted resolutions declaring that it will welcome all efforts that are based upon economically sound painciples, to draw closer the relations between Great

The only practical fiscal federation of the empire must be based on free trade, and the self-governing colonies adopting the non-protective policy of Great Britain.

He accused Lord Salisbury of trying to promulgate "vicious, pestilential tariff doctrines." If Lord Salisbury is insincere, he is hoodwink-ing the people; and if sincere, he intends, in the event of his return to power, to make tariff reprisals on other countries-a pro which would inflict the greatest in

Three Kittanning Thieves Learn Enough to Crawl Out of a Hole

CUT THROUGH THE PRISON WALL

Reed, the Murderer, Felieved to Le Now in the West Virginia Hills.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEARBY TOWNS

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 KITTANNING, Pa., May 21.-Late last night three prisoners in the county jail, Kline, Donaldson and Sarver, all charged with larceny, escaped, and as yet have not been heard from. Both the Sheriff, G. W. McNees, and Deputy Jared Crum, were absent at the time, therefore no slarm was given. Only a small boy was in charge of the jail, and he was told of the escape by four prisoners who were unable to get out. As a still hunt was made for the prisoners, the public knew very little of the escape.

The delivery had evidently been planned for several days, and was put into execution at the right time. The custom has been heretofore to allow all the prisopers to roam about the jail and do almost as they pleased until 9 o'clock, when they were locked up in their respective cells. They took advantage of this. They first broke a lock on an nfrequented cell on the second floor. In this cell is a window very high up, about 20 feet from the ground outside. By the aid of some iron instrument part of the stone above the window was chipped off. This was, no doubt, slow work, as they had to cut enough away to admit the body of a compact, and by tearing their bed clothes into strips made a stout rope which reached to the ground. The three successful men, who were the slimest of the seven, were the only ones who could get through the opening and slide down the rope. The other four were compelled to be witnesses to a successful escape which they helped to plan.

When Deputy Sheriff Crum returned he was notified of the escape. Taking a lantern of Daniel Carson and wife, charged with cruelty to the former's 3-year-old daughter, very damaging testimony was given against the couple. The trial was continued until GOVERNOR PATTISON yesterday appointed James Monaghan, of West Chester, Supreme Court Reporter, in place of Boyd Crumrine, whose term expired Friday. Mr. Monaghan is an attorney, and has been connected with the Weekly Court Notes, a legal journal. Amos Townsend, aged 14 years, has, by his ext friend, brought suit for damages of $10,000 against Jacob Lehman, a wealthy farmer living near Lectonia, O., for the loss of a hand and one eye by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge, which it is alleged the defendant carelessly permitted to fall into the hands of the plaintiff.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY NEGROES

Hanged, Seven Furned, One Played and

One Disjointed In a Year.

THE FIG RECORD FOR THE PAST WEEK

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, May 21.-When Dr. Charles I. Payne told the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, now holding its session at Omaha, that in the United States during the past year 150 negroes had been lynched, 7 burned alive, 1 flaved alive and 1 disjointed, the statement was received with amazement and horror. But a glance at the papers for the past week will go far oward proving that Dr. Payne is guilty of no overstatement. According to the week's record, on May 14 mulatto, Henry James, was hanged in the streets of the large city of Little Rock for Ar the hearing at Rochest er, Pa., Friday, assaulting the 5-year old daughter of Chas. Johnson, in whose house he was employed. On the same day, at Alexandria, Ala., Tobe Jackson was caught on the edge of a swamp near the town, and the mob, after debating for three hours whether it should hang or whip him, decided upon the lat-ter, took the rope from around his neck, and flogged him until the blood was streaming from every part of his body. He was then warned to leave the neighbor-hood on pain of death if ever seen there again. He had sent an insulting note by a negro boy to the daughter of his employer and she read the note before the boy could get away and fired a pistol shot after him. The crowd which assembled at the noise did the whipping.

Three of Them at a Time.

On May 17 a mob took three negroes from the jail at Clarksville, G., where they had been locked up for trying to rob a bank, and hanged them to an oak tree. The three and nanged them to an oak tree. The three negroes, shricking for mercy, were put on horseback, with ropes around their necks and over the limb. The horses were whipped and jumped away, leaving the negroes hanging. As the bodies hung the mob amused itself by firing shots into them. The bodies were not cut down all day. On May 18, at Chestertown, Md., a negro, the 11-year-old daughter of a farmer, was taken from the jail by a mob of about 100 persons and hanged to a tree in front of the jail. The mob had attacked the jail several days before, but the Sheriff had slipped away with the negro and taken him down May 19, at Manchester, Tenn., 30 men hanged Charles Everett, a negro, from a bridge. He was charged with entering a room where two girls were sleeping. After the hanging the mob shot the body full of holes. The negro was taken from the jail, and after he may have the state of the land of the land.

gave out his own name and assumed the not-at-all-perilous responsibility for the lynching. One Lynching for Every Day, Besides these cases of hanging there were everal cases of whipping of negroes caught by mobs and shot down, of negroes looked for and not found. But the cases specified above, taken from the papers in six days of the past week, make six negroes lynched in different parts of the South, and indicate that Dr. Payne's statistics may not be wide of the mark. Nor are these lynchings done by persons without standing or character in the various communities. When the crimes of which negroes are not fit the original purchaser or was guilty, or whenever the crimes are commit-ted against the people of their own race, are not too atrocious in their details, the bought up by our FOURTEEN people generally permit the law to take its course. But the understanding is that no negro must lay hands upon a white man of the better class, and the certainty is that if he attempts an assault upon a white woman, death, swift or accompanied by torture, will be his fate. The whites say they have found this the only way of keeping the more shiftless and ignorant of the negroes from numerous murders and from daily as-fegroes of Boston Taking Lessons of An archists, to Use in the South. BOSTON, May 21.-The Boston Republican printed by colored people in this city, has an article to-day to the effect that certain colored men of Cambridge and Boston, beonging to secret societies, have for some time been earnestly discussing the numerous lynchings of colored men in the South.

These men have been taking lessons from Socialists and Russians as to the making of dynamite bombs and other explosives, with which they propose to return to the South and take revenge unless the outrages are on oath, and indignantly refuse to be classified as Anarchists. The Iron Molders 'djourn.
