FELL WITH THE ROOF.

Six Men Buried Beneath the Debris of the Home Church by the Perilous Positions.

PATHETIC SCENES AT THE HOSPITAL

An accident occurred at 8:30 o'clock vesterday morning in which six men were badly injured at the old First Methodist Protestant Church on Fifth avenue just above Smithfield street, by a joist bearing a two years in the penitentiary, which term large number of men being precipitated to the has just completed. the floor, some 40 feet below.

None of the men were fatally injured, although a report to that effect spread rapidly and caused considerable excitement. The injured men were removed to the Homeopathic Hospital. The list of the victims

CALEB JUKES (colored), internally injured, legs and feet crushed and back hurt. Resides at the head of Twenty-second street incline, Southside. Married and a family.
SAMUEL HENRY DWYER (colored), left leg fractured and slightly injured about the back. He is married, and lives with his family at 21 Pasture street.

CHARLES JANCE (white), injured about the ba. k. Single and boards at No. 6 Francis street.

WILLIAM SARSVIELD (white), head and face badly cut and bruised. Married and lives down on Soho street. ALONZO LONG (colored), neck out and bruised about head. Married and lives at No. 39 Clark street. SAMUEL CLARK (colored), head badly bruised. Single and lives at No. 39 South Clark.

The Cause of the Accident,

The cause of the accident is probably due to improper calculation being made regarding the time the soartling and timbers were to fall. In consequence of this the bolts had been removed selore anyone had time to sound a warning to the men in the perilous position 40 feet above the floor. Part of the roof had been removed previous to yesterday and the men started to take down the frame. This is composed of a number of heavy timbers 35 feet in length and about 12 inches square. Attached to these strong timbers are a number of smaller scantlings, and it was upon these that the men were standing busily removing the lesser ones so that the large timbers could be swayed down. The main girders are bolted to the eaves of the building, and while the joints and beams were being removed men were busily loosening the bolts so that at the proper time the mass would fall together to the floor.

While the men were busy removing the bolts there was an ominous cresk, a swav-ing of the heavy rafters and then the whole mass, with a thundering crash, was precipi-tated to the floor below. Vast clouds of suffocating dust arose, and it had not cleared away when the work of rescue be-

The Work of Rescue.

The work of extricating the men from the debris was a difficult task as the men were held down and pinioned, some of them as in n vise. One poor fellow was seen lying bent double, with his head and body held tightly by the same piece of timber. Another man was pinioned in a peculiarly horrible manner. He was held in a perfectly inverted position with his left foot held tightly some distance in the dust-lacened air and a large plank crushing his head to

The men were removed to the hospital and their families summoned. As the women came in and saw their husbands lying swathed in bandages there were some pa-thetic scenes. Mrs. Jukes happened to come in as an awful groan escaped her hus-band's lips. She tell upon her knees without the door and made a tearful plea to God to spare her loved one. The men were in the employ of Contractor Scanlon, and he was near by when the acci-dent happened, but escaped being injured. The property is being torn down to make om for a second addition of the Kaufmann

Look over your Furs? Mind, this is the season for the festive this is the season for the festive moth, that relentless enemy of Fur. Why take chances when you can have your Furs preserved at my place for a trifle? But I do not only preserve them: I also renovate, alter and repair. What to the inexperienced eye seems impossible, I will do with your damaged Furs.

will do with your damaged Furs.

Also that my summer rates for all work in fur are now in force. Not only applies this to the making of new Fur Garments, but also to all repair work, be it altering, renovating or otherwise repairing. It means a big saving to you in dollars and cents and to me it means that my Fur Department will know no dull season. These summer rates are aiready telling; the work is coming in faster and faster, day by day. Very likely you have been patronizing my Hat Department ere this. Then you know that I do not do things by halves; just as painstaking, as prompt and conscientious as I am with my Hats, I am with my fur work. I do not ask you to patronize me once. I am striving to enjoy your patronizes methods, promptness, fairness and superior work.

It will not raise the dead; but hear what a New York gentleman has to say about it: New YORK, May 4, 1892.

McKinnie & Chessman Mig. Co., Pittsburg, Pa.:

GENTLEMEN:—For several years I have been troubled very badly with rheumatism and learning of Rheumacura and its certain cure, I purchased a bottle, and after the use of half the bottle I was entirely cured. I then gave the remedy to Mr. O. S. Bailey, the well-known livery man, and cared him. Then I went to New Orleans, where I met Mr. Chas. Johnston, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who had just returned from Hot Springs and got no benefit. I gave him a bottle and cured him in three days.

The reason I give this letter, is because I think it is my duty to relieve the suffering of mankind. Yours very truly.

Are enjoyed by every wearer of a "Walk Well" Shoe, Here is the reason: The "Walk Well" (as the above cut neatly illustrates) follows the natural outline of the foot, holding it firmly through instep and heel, and allows the weight of the body to rest squarely on the ground, instead of on the toes and joints. The soles are of pecu-liar shape and of sufficient width to allow the foot and the joints the necessary expansion without the uppers losing their natural shape and extending over the sides, thereby giving elasticity to the step and lessening the liability of the uppers to crack. Remember, the "Walk Well" Shoe can be had at Kaufmanns' only. Price, $1 98
