Philadelphia Clergymen Not in Favor of Radical Crusades.

VIEWS OF THE LEADING BISHOPS

And Representative Ministers of the Various Denominations.

AN ALMOST UNANIMOUS EXPRESSION

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—Representative clergymen of the Quaker City take practically the same position as their brethren in Pittsburgh against misguided and fanatical crusades such as the one against the printing and delivery of the news of the day.

The Rt. Rev. Ozi M. Whittaker, the Bishop of Pennsylvania of the Protestant Episcopal Church, was found hard at work at his office. He speedily demonstrated that he had no sympathy with the radicals who are injuring the cause of real Sunday observance in the Western part of the State.

"I have certainly no objection to a paper just because it is dated on Sunday morning. The approval or disapproval of a paper issued on Sunday, or any other day, should be based entirely on the character of its contents. Of course we all understand that the work on the Sunday issue is practically all completed by Saturday midnight.

A Feature of American Life. "The Sunday paper is now so important a feature of American life that it comes into close competition with the magazines," continued the Bishop. "There is another feature I have noticed. Some years ago there were a large number of special Sunday papers, issued on no other day, which were without the regular news facilities, and therefore depended largely upon reading of an inferior grade.

Perhaps no clergyman in Philadelphia is more popular than Rev. Joseph May, whose handsome Chestnut street church is always filled by an intelligent congregation. Rev. Mr. May presided over the annual meeting of the Law and Order Society a year ago, and has been active in the work of that organization. In answer to inquiries he said:

"Yes, I have taken an active interest in our Law and Order Society, but I would not even be a member of it if it adopted any such idea as a crusade upon the Sunday papers. The Sunday paper is an established fact and a feature of our American civilization, and what I want to see is for the issue of that day to be made as excellent as possible. Why, nearly every Sunday school in the land gives out papers to the pupils each week. How, then, could we condemn those who deliver other papers? I can see many things to criticize in some of our Sunday papers, and would like to see the general standard raised, but that must be done by the education of the public taste.

The Crusade Surely Harmful. "Such a crusade as has been instituted in Pittsburgh," continued Rev. Mr. May, "can hardly fail to be harmful. I do not think there is the slightest chance of the movement being initiated in Philadelphia, at least by the Law and Order Society. I am pretty well acquainted with the general sentiment of the members, and am certain that the majority will not agree to any such proceeding."

Archbishop P. J. Ryan, of the Catholic Church, was found just as he was preparing for a journey, and the interview was consequently brief. He left no doubt, though, as to his position. He inquired as to the views expressed by Bishop Heelan, and expressed his hearty approval of the progressive ideas of the Pittsburgh prelate. As to the bare question of Sunday papers the Archbishop said that in his opinion it depended entirely upon the class and merits of each publication. The following letter, written to the chairman of the recent public meeting of the Philadelphia Law and Order Society, shows that the Archbishop is not opposed to the legitimate work of such an organization:

Dear Sir—I find that my appointments will not permit me to attend the meeting of your society. I am desirous, however, to express to the members of the Law and Order Society in their efforts to insure the enforcement of the Brooks high license law, with such amendments as will prevent the abuses now arising from the traffic of liquors by wholesale on the part of those whom the law excludes from retail licenses. I hope the members of the Catholic Church in this city, and especially the members of our temperance organizations, numbering nearly 10,000 men, will unite with their fellow citizens in this important movement. I have the honor to be, Dear Sir, your obedient servant, P. J. Ryan, Archbishop of Philadelphia.

SACRED MUSIC AND SECULAR MUSIC.

Two Instruments in One. The only instrument upon which secular and sacred music can be played with equal effect and ease is the new seven octave Pianorgan sold at Kieber Bros', 506 Wood street. It is a marvelous invention, and covered alike by the rich and poor. For the expression of devotional feeling, the tender strains of love and affection, and the exhilarating excitement of the mazy dance, it cannot be equaled by any other musical contrivance. The price of it is very moderate, with, only one-third the cost of a piano, which it closely resembles, and hence it suits all pockets, all tastes and all musical desires. Call and see it and you will not resist the temptation of buying it.

Young and beautiful woman, suffering from general debility, indigestion and weakness. There are thousands of women in the United States in a similar condition. Can't sleep. Cannot retain food. Beauty spoiled. Looks old before 30. The proper thing is to use the genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract, which has attained a world-wide reputation for its beneficial effects in building up a weakened constitution. It is used by the first ladies in the land, by crowned heads abroad. It is in daily use by the Courts of Germany and Austria, and recognized as the best nutritive tonic and dietetic table beverage for invalids and dyspeptics.

Lots of counterfeits on the market. Avoid them; they are dangerous. The genuine must have the signature of "Johann Hoff" on the neck of every bottle. Eisner & Mendelson Co., Sole Agents and Importers of Mineral Waters, 6 Barclay street, New York.

The Baltimore and Ohio Shops and Yards, Adjacent to the Humboldt Land and Improvement Company Lots, Cumberland, Md. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, recognizing the importance of Cumberland as a distributing point for the large territory lying around and the further fact that its location made it desirable as the terminus of three of its divisions, namely, the second, third and Pittsburgh, proposed to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland that in consideration of the loan of $250,000, without interest by the city, the company would make Cumberland the end of the above divisions, and in addition, would purchase a large tract of land within the city limits, upon which they would erect machine shops and round houses. The proposition was submitted to the voters of Cumberland on the 17th of June last and carried by a majority of four to one, showing that the people are in favor of an improvement of the Pennsylvania Railroad shops at Altoona, Pa., and will give employment to 1,300 men. The train and other roadmen numbering at least 1,000 additional, will necessarily make their homes in Cumberland. From these sources alone an increase of population is confidently expected of 6,000 to 8,000. It necessarily follows that the addition of the new shops and round houses will bring others, of all professions and trades, and it is safe to predict that the building boom during the year 1892 and 1893 will assume immense proportions.

The Humboldt Land and Improvement Company has purchased the first great public sale of lots on the premises, Wednesday and Thursday, June 8 and 9, 1892. Reduced rates on the year 1892 and 1893 will be offered. For further particulars, address the company's office, No. 9 South Liberty street, Cumberland, Md., or Washington Dancowater, real estate broker, 180 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., or W. O. Beckenbaugh, auctioneer, Baltimore, Md.

The Iron City Brewing Company uses nothing but the choicest quality of malt and hops in the manufacture of its favorite brands of Lager and Pilsner beer.
