At the M. E. General Conference by a Shrewd Piece of Strategy.

WHILE LAYMEN MEANS MEN ONLY,

The Decision Provides for Its Own Reversal by the Annuals.

MATTERS DISPOSED OF THE LAST DAY

OMAHA, May 26. - This was the last day of the Methodist Episcopal General Conference. Bishop Fitzgerald was in the chair. Bishop Andrews, from the Sifting Committee, reported that the committee appointed the evening before had done some vigorous slaughtering of insignificant reports, but the reports consigned to the waste basket would never be missed. The committee recom- efficacy. Small bottles 35 cents, mended that the reports touching the Book Concern be first considered.

Dr. Hunt, of the New York Book Concern, was given the floor to state several points in the law governing the Book Concern that needed to be disentangled. The report of the Book Concern, adopted the previous day, had run against some previous rules in the Discipline that needed to be adjusted harmoniously. The principal point that Dr. Hunt wanted cleared up was the change made in paying missionary Bishops. The Committee on Book Concern was instructed to fix the salary of the missionary Bishops.

Danger of Cripping the Missionary Work. Bishop Taylor is very much averse to taking his salary out of the missionary funds. He holds that this will cripple the work in Africa. The missionary society is obliged to support the missionary Bish

The Committee on the State of the Church reported in favor of the appointment of a commission of three bishops, three ministers and three laymen to consider the advisability of the organic union of all the Methodist churches in the United States. The report was adopted.

Indorsements asked for the Rocky Moun-tain Advocate, of Denver, and the Nebraska Christian Advocate, of Omaha, were accorded, but stirred up a hot fight. Dr. Buckley made a vehement speech, in which he de-clared it unfair for certain localities to be permitted to support private papers with the General Conference indorsement, and at the same time to reserve a proportionate share of the funds distributed by the official papers.

An effort was made by the Book Committee to make it more difficult for the independent church papers to get the indorsement of the Annual Conferences. Dr. Earl Cranston made a vigorous speech in favor of taking better care of the official papers.

Making Publishers Produce Their Books. Dr. Queal introduced a resolution to have publishers of private church papers report the profit of their papers to the General Conference, and to have a part of the profits paid into the benevolent funds.

It was a fight between the friends of the official papers and the independent papers. The former wanted it made necessary for private church papers to get the indorsement of the two annual conferences before they could have an editor elected by an they could have an editor elected by an annual Conference. This proposition was vigorously combated by the friends of the private papers. The whole question was finally laid on the table.

Dr. Moore made a desperate effort to get the woman question before the Conference. He moved that the rules be suspended to take up the discussion of the admission of women into the General Conference. The motion to suspend the rules required at wo. motion to suspend the rules required a two-thirds vote. It failed to carry. The galleries were filled with women, who appeared to be very much disappointed.

Ir. J. S. Peck arose to a question of privilege. He announced that a Nebraska minister had contributed $1,000 to the deaconess' cause, and another, a very wealthy man had authorized him to say that he would contribute $1,000,000 for missions during his life. This statement was received with applause. Put on Record Against Po'ygamy.

The Common Missions then brought in a red-hot report upon the attitude of the Church with relation to polygamy. It declared that the Church should under no circumstances admit any one who had not entirely abandoned the practice of polygamy.

A long discussion took place over the matter of church insurance. The committee recommended that the matter he referred to the Church Extension Society, but others favored the organization of a special com-mission to consider the organization of a Church Insurance Society, a substitute for the report of the committee recommended to organize an insurance society within the Church. Dr. Buckley and others fawestern the idea of organizing an insurance society similar to those conducted by the Wesleyan Church in England. The substitute was adopted. This provided for the appointment of a Commission on Insurance to report a plan of insurance at the next Grayard Conference.

General Conference.
On motion of Dr. Bristol, the Conference congratulated the United States Congress upon the action taken a few days ago, by which the $5,000,000 appropriation to the World's Fair was conditioned upon the proposition that no intoxicating liquors should be sold on the grounds.

The Last Bout on the Woman Question, Now, at last, the woman question got into the Conference. The Judiciary Committee reported that the word "layman" in the reported that the word "layman" in the Discipline did not mean both sexes, but that it had reference to men only. The committee did not mean to take the ground that the women should not be admitted, but simply that the meaning of the word "layman," as it was placed in the Discipline years ago, did not include women.

Dr. D. H. Moore, the women's champion, offered a substitute, declaring that the plan of lay delegation is not a constitutional question, but it might be decided by the action of the General Conference, and there-action of the General Conference, and there-fore, that the General Conference might decide the right to admit women to the Gen-eral Conference without constitutional change. He held, further, that the word "laymen" did mean women as well as men. The term might have been applied only to men at the time the words were adopted, but by justice and right the term ought to be applied to both men and women.

The Substitute That Finally Carried.

Dr. Hamilton offered a substitute, providing that the annual conferences should vote upon the proposition to make the word vote upon the proposition to make the word "laymen" mean men only, and in case the proposition was not carried by a two-thirds vote, then the word "laymen" should thereafter mean both men and women. This was received with hearty applause.

Dr. J. M. Buckley said he wanted the romen to come in early if they were interested.

women to come in early if they came in at all. Drs. Hamilton and Moore, he said, were trying to get the women into the Conterence by a trick. If this effort succeeded it would place a stain upon the record of the men who presented such a scheme, and would be a constituted by the succeeded. would be a questionable right granted to

Dr. Field, of Philadelphia, held that the admission of women would drive the young men and boys out of the Church. He pleaded for the young men, he said, by urg-ing the Conference and all the women of the Church not to insist upon admitting

Dr. Bristol was opposed to the scheme proposed by Dr. Hamilton. He held that the women should not come in by jugglery. Let them come in by a vote of the annual conferences, or not at all. This, he said, was the only way by which the women could come into the General Conference in a constitutional manner. Annual Conferences Must Decide, A motion to lay Dr. Hamilton's amend-ment on the table was lost. The WOMEN ARE WINNERS amendment was adopted by a vote of 234 to 174. The result was tumultuously applauded. The question was divided. Dr. Moore's part of the paper was laid on the table. Dr. Hamilton's substitute was then adopted by a vote of 241 to 160 to take the place of all other parts of the paper, and to be submitted to the annual conferences. The victory was greeted by a long burst of ap-

A resolution was submitted to ask the Annual Conference to reduce the ratio of representation from one delegate for each 45 ministers to one for every 90 ministers in the annual conferences. It was adopted by a vote of 167 to 123. The object of this is to make the General Conference a smaller body. The Conference then adjourned sine
