It is reported to-day that he contemplates writing an open letter to Cleveland, proposing that both retice from the contest in the interest of har mony, but it is very doubtful if he will take any such step. The first object of Hill's candidacy was to defeat Cleveland, and he knows he can best do this by making he break between the New York factions appear as wide as possible at the Chicago nvention. A Bit of Double Political Magnetism.

It is a political magnetic movement which no one can explain and no one can ignore, like the law of gravitation. Men of the highest intellectual type and to of the highest intellectual type, and to whom great social questions are paramount in importance to all party considerations, may demut as they will to these phenomena of gravitation toward persons instead of principles, but the fact remains, and what may be called the psychic force in the poli-fies of time seem to decree, if the general verdict of to-day is not at fault, that Blaine and Cleveland shall head the tickets of the wo great parties in 1892 as in 1884. After waiting for several days after his arrival here, after publishing an interview in which he wirtually pronounced Sec-retary Blaine to be the only sure winner in the Presidental race, after hob-nobbing intimately and estentationaly with the great leaders of the Republican party who support the candidacy of Mr. Blaine, Chairman Clarkson, of the Republican National Committee, called to-day on the president and remained with his candid President and remained with him nearly two hours. The meeting must have been a peculiar if not an embarrassing one. It is difficult to imagine the cold and selfish Harrlson grasping the hand of Chairman Clarkson with any sincere, cordial feeling.

WASHINGTON, May 27.-The Congressional friends of Senator Hill express great annovance at the repeated statements that the New York delegation to the Democratic National Convention contemplate abandoning Senator Hill after a ballot or two and casting the votes for some other candidate. Hon. W. Bourke Cockran strongly resents the insinuation that the Tammany delegates are not loyal to Senator Hill, and he, as well as General Slocum, asserts that Hill is in the fight to the finish, that not one of the 72 delegates will abandon him, and that if the New York candidate is to be defeate he will go down with the 72 votes of the Empire State loyal to him to the last.
