Secretary of State Harrity Talks a Bit on

Timely Topics. HILL'S INABILITY TO SHOW STRENGTH

IFFECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATOR. latest delegations to wait upon Mr. Cleveiand and his ex-Secretary of the Navy included Secretary of the Commonwealth William F. Harrity, Attorney General Hensel and ex-District Attorney John R. Read. These gentlemen were in New York yesterday. They returned this morning and evidently were well satisfied with the result of their pilgrimage. They ad-mitted that they had been on a political mission and had been in consultation with the Cleveland leaders, as they also had been on previous visits.

Secretary Harrity, with his usual diplomacy, was to-day quite guarded in his utterances, but he did not besitate to declare his belief in Cleveland's nomination at Chicago on the second ballot. "It Senator Hill wishes to appear in the convention as a formidable candidate," said he, he must mass his full strength on the first ballet, in order to attract the wavering or doubtful delegates. The friends of Cleveland are now convinced that they can easily control the convention and count on at least 500 votes at the first roll call. There will naturally be a number of compli-mentary votes cast, but after the first show of strength there will be a rush on the part of the doubtful men to get under the banner of the strongest candidate.

A Split After the First Ballot, The attitude on the floor of the New York delegates will of course have considerable to do with the first ballot. Many shrewd men do not believe that Senator till will be able to control the full delegation from his own State at the start, and many more are confi-dent that there will be a split after the first ballot. The delegates from New York are men of high standing, intelli-gence and breadth of views, and I do not think after they reach Chicago and see the drift of public sentiment for Mr. Cleveland they will stand in the way of his nomina-

Mr. Harrity declined to discuss the merits of the rival Democratic conventions in New York State, but it is evident that great care is being taken to guard against-intemperate action at the coming Syracuse convention of delegates chosen by voters who are openly disgusted with the Tammany tactics used in February to advance Hill's interests. The Syracuse body will be composed of careful men, who will avoid placing themselves in the posi-tion of a party of "bolters." When asked if it was likely that Cleveland would write a letter on the rival conventions Mr. Har-

None of Mr. Cleveland's Business. "My judgment is that there is no call for any such action on the part of the ex-Presi-dent. The movement, which is in the nature of a protest against what is styled the map call for the February convention, is not in the control of Mr. Cleveland. He has nothing to do with it, and has not been consulted in the matter at all. He could with no more propriety edject to its being held than he could have protested against the action of the conven-

"But will the fact that a contesting deleration goes to Chicago in Mr. Cleveland's interests not be used to work him injury among the other delegates?"

"I do not see that it will, but the propriety of its being held is entirely a question for the people of New York State, and I do not want to speak of it further than to say much would depend upon what was said Mr. Harrity further stated that he be lieved the Pennsylvania delegation would vote for Cleveland, and in reply to the question, "What, then, becomes of Governor Pattison as a candidate?" he said: Governor Pattison has declared again and again that he was for Mr. Cleveland. The sentiment in the State convention was strongly for him, and you know that the convention instructed the delegates to vote as a unit. have seen declarations that the vote of Pennsylvania will be divided, but I think will be united when the ballot is taken. If you meet a man who says that any large number of votes will go to any other canlidge ask him to name them. I do not think he can count six, and if he does count six he will stop there."

KERNAN WILL BE CHAIRMAN

Of the Anti-Spap-Anti-Hill Convention Be Held at Syracuse

NEW YORK, May 28 .- The "Anti-Snap" State Committee has decided upon John D. Kernan as Chairman of the convention, which meets at Syracuse on May 31. Mr. Kernan is an Independent Democrat, and was a protege of the late Horatio Seymour. Mr. Kernau favorathe renomination of Grover Cleveland for President, and has the utmost faith in that gentleman's ability to preside over the cares and responsibilities of the White House for another term. Almost all the arrangements of the "Anti-Sneppers" are now completed for the convention. A special train will leave the Grand Central not at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning, arriving in Syracuse the same night. It is expected that over 10,000 enthusiasts will join the delegates and participate in the movement that has for its object the smash-ing of the Hill "machine."

The Provisional Committee wishes it nderstood that the delegates selected at Syracuse will go to the National Convention, not as a protesting, but as a contesting delegation. They further expect, they say, to be accorded at least half the New York State representation. Judging from the ening at Syracuse on Tuesday will be one of the greatest ever made at a convention in

NEW CASTLE'S CONVENTIONS.

Prohibitionists and People's Party Adherents Select Some Delegates,

NEW CASTLE, May 28 .- [Special]-New Castle was the scene of two political gatherings this afternoon. The Prohibition Congressional delegates for this district met and ominated Prof. J. W. Vandeventer, of Mercer county, for Congress. J. S. Dushane, of Lawrence county, and J. W. Orr, of Butler, were elected delegates to the National Convention at Cincinnati, June 29. Beaver and Mercer will name the alternates, and the electors will be chosen by Beaver. The Prohibition Senatorial delegates also met here and nominated William Patterson, of Lawrence, for State Senate.

About 70 delegates representing the People's party of this Congressional district met at the Court House here this afternoon and nominated Lewis Edwards, of James town, Mercer county, for Congress. Ten delegates from each of the counties in the district were elected to attend the State Convention which meets in Franklin June
22. The following were elected delegates to the National Convention at Omaha, Neb., July 4: J. A. Welsh, Lawrence; George W.
Dawson, Beaver; C. M. Searing, Butler, and J. B. Maxwell, Mercer. The platform, as adopted at St. Louis, was indorsed by the convention.

Mr. Emery Not a Candidate. BRADFORD, PA., May 28 .- [Special.] Lewis Emery, Jr., said to a Disparch reporter to-day: "The report that I propose

AN EX-BALL PLAYER HUSTLING.

He Succeeds in a Hot Fight for a County Committee Chairmanship. HOLLIDAYSBURG, May 28 .- [Special.]-

The Blair County Republican Committee met in the Court House of this city to-day. There was a spirited fight for the party leadership in the coming campaign, Charles H. Manlove, of Altoona, defeating PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—One of the Lawyer John K. Patterson for County Chairman by a close vote. Manlove caught professional ball for the Altoona and Reading teams, a few years ago, and has become an aggressive party worker. The following were elected Secretaries: H. C. Tuzzey, George H. Olewine and John R. Frazier, of Altoona; James S. Robb and E. A. Feight, of Roaring Springs; David T. Caldwell, of Tyrone, and Dr. H. H. Brotherlin, of Hollidsselves.

IRELAND AFTER A PAPER.

The Archbishop Pulls Down the Civilta Cattolico From Its Assumed Position of Mouthpiece of Pope Leo-Its Interpretation of the Faribauit Decision.

ROME, May 28.-Under date of May 22 Archbishop Ireland wrote to Cardinal Rampolla, Papal Secretary of State, stating that the article that appeared in the Civilta Cattolico on May 18 perverts the meaning of the decision of the Commission of the Propaganda Fide ratified by the Holy See in relation to the Faribault and Stillwater question. The article, the Archbishop adds, has already been announced in the United States as one containing the formal official interpretation of the decision, and efforts have been purposely made to extol the authority of the Civilta Cattolico that the article may have more weight upon public opinion. The Archbishop further says:

I have received newspapers from the United States in which I have read clear and positive declarations made by Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, and Father Jerge, Assistant Provincial of the New Jesuits, that Articles in the Civilla Cattolico are of extraordinary authority because they are approved by the Vatican before they are printed.

In reply to this letter, Cardinal Rampolla wrote as follows:

Having brought to knowledge of the Holy Having brought to knowledge of the Holy Father what Your Grace related in your letter of vesterday it is my duty to inform you that it is in no wise correct to say that articles in the Civilia Cattolico are, as held by some, submittid before being printed to the revision or approval of the Holy Sec. I can assure Your Grace in the most formal manner that no previous communication whatever was made to the Vatican of the article, the appearance of which you deployed. In conwas made to the Vatican of the article, the appearance of which you deplore. In confirmation of this I wish to add that, not long ago, some rumor having come to the Holy Father that certain articles were being prepared on this question, he made known to the directors of the Civilta Cattolico that the publication of such articles are unbecoming while the question was before the Holy See for independ Holy See for judgment.

THE FARMERS' NEW MIDDLEMAN.

Rural Organizations Virtually Indorse the National Union Company.

CHICAGO, May 28.-The National Union Company will be allowed to pursue its plan of establishing co-operative stores in Illinois. The Executive Committee of the F. M. B. A., Farmers' Alliance and the State Grange, which has been investigating the charges against the National Union Company, adjourned to-day after an all-night

The committee came to the conclusion that the company did not have sufficient funds to carry out the scheme as originally proposed. The plan, however, of establish no co-operative stores was not impaired hereby. The hints that the National Company was controlled in part by the Cordage Irust were ignored. The committee also decided not to take any action regarding the claims that the company did not eliminate

Father and Son Try in Vain to Defend Each Other From a Mad Bull.

EAST LYNNE, Mo., May 28.-A report has reached here of a horrible accident which happened near the southeastern corner of the county. William Purcell and his 7-year-old boy, while traveling along the road, were attacked by a savage bull. The father made a desperate attempt to protect the boy, but the animal dashed upon him and hurled him to the ground, tearing open his abdomen in such a manner that his

The boy, instead of running away, at-tempted to drive the bull from his father, when the animal turned upon the little fellow and threw him to the ground, tearing his face and neck in a terrible manner. Just at that time several farmers appeared and rescued the father and son, who were given medical attention as soon as possible. The bull was afterward killed by another farmer whom it attacked. Both father and son will probably die.

JULIA MARLOWE'S FAREWELL

Twelfth Night Weil Done and the New

Viola Is Charming. Julia Marlowe's farewell-fora brief while 'tis to be hoped—last night was given in the graceful character of Viola in "Twelfth She brought all the gentle persunsiveness of her nature to the part, and Viola as she presents part, and Viola as she presents her, would make Shakespeare content. It was plain, too, that last night the hard work of the week had told upon her, and that Viola might be more vivacious with Miss Marlowe wholly herself. Still it was a grateful glimpse for the last time this season at this young genius, and the audience appreciated the performance so highly that they gave her and the whole company a hearty curtain call at the end of the play, a rare compliment here. The company deserved the applause, too, for everyone seemed better cast than in the other plays, with a few exceptions.

Mr. Taber's Matrolio was admirable and true to the best traditions. Mr. Weaver's true to the best traditions, Mr. Weaver's Thy was unctuous and good, and Mr. Shine's laugh alone, a piping explosion with a painful finis, would have made his Sir Andrew Aguecheek a clever interpretation. Friends of a Southside Slavonian Can't Explain His Absence.

HE WAS ASSAULTED ON MAY 16.

Had Ilis Assailant Arrested and Is Now Mysteriously Missing.

THE POLICE HAVE SEARCHED IN VAIN

The friends of George Stacker, who lives near Twenty-eighth and Carson, on the Southside, are considerably excited by his sudden disappearance. Stacker is a Slavonian, and resided in that community on the Southside until about one month ago. He changed his place of residence to another part of the city, and one night about the middle of May he returned to the district to see some of his friends there. There were some of his old neighbors who did not like Stacker, and on the night of his return, May 16, they laid hold of him in the darkness and beat him to such a degree that he was not able to continue his work for a few weeks. However, he appeared before 'Squire Caldwell the day following the assault and made information against the principal of his assailants, one Paul Spisvok, whom Stacker had recognized in the darkness. The police have been hunting high and low over the two cities for Spisvok, and finally ran across him yesterday and have him in prison to await the day and have him in prison to await the hearing.

Stacker, the prosecutor, can be found nowhere, and it is thought that he has been foully dealt with by his own countrymen for having arrested one of his own people. The friends of Spisvek, who committed the assault on the night of May 16, are very reticent about the matter, and say that they say Stackers for weeks ago but his pressure. saw Stacker a few weeks ago, but his present whereabouts is unknown to them.

The friends of Stacker, the prosecutor, have every reason to believe that there has been a dark crime. If he was going away, they say he would have told them where he was going.

The whole affair is shrouded in the deepest mystery. The police have been hunting a week to find the prosecutor, Stacker, but have tailed. The hearing in the case before 'Squire Caldwell had to be dismissed on account of the non-apppearance of Stacker. Every effort is being made to solve the mystery, and it is said a search of the rivers will be made next.

CONVERTS OF CONGRESSMEN.

Poor Exhibition of Paintings Makes Some

Believe in Freer Trade. WASHINGTON, May 28.—[Special.]—While the recent meeting here of the National Art Association has undoubtedly accomplished much with Congressmen in the way of converting them to the idea of the free admission of art works of foreign artists, the loan exhibition of works by American artists was one which must have pained the soul of every patriotic lover of art. It was intended to be representative of American art. It was not even representative of the artists represented. Such great artists as Inness, Sargent, Carl Marr, Alexander Harrison and others were represented by pictures loaned by owners who had purchased them years ago, and which are positively wretched com-nared with the later work of the artists. Probably the only artist present in one of his best works was Charles H. Davis, whose his best works was Charles H. Davis, whose great twilight landscape, from the gallery of John F. Waggaman, of this city, fairly saved the exhibition from general and deplorable mediocrity.

It should be said, however, that at least one Congressman was converted by this exhibition. He declared that if the exhibit were representative of American art the sooner foreign works of art were admitted free the better for the country. It is said that the loans would have been of a much higher standard had not Miss Kate Field, sincere and enthusiastic, interfered with the session. The decision is regarded as a compromise. No open indorsement of the National Union Company was made, still the plans of the committee of local artists who had the collection of pictures in charge. It is charged that in some instances she attempted to dictate to art associations and artists of other cities what works they should forward and the collection of pictures in charge.
