to a storm of applause, while the affirma-tion that this convention and its constitu-encies would support the nominee at Chi-cago, whoever he might be, was greeted by a burst of cheers that left no doubt as to the purpose of the convention. At the close of the reading the throng was again upon its feet, and the applause was long and

Ulster county, was upon his feet on the stage to second the resolutions. He said:

Of the favorite sons of the different States no one of them seems now to be urging him. self. When they thoughtfully consider the question, it comes back to the old maxim, "The office of President is not to be sought or declined." We are not, therefore, troubled with candidates. The office is once more seeking the man, the man logical to the sit-uation. In all the States the logic is under-stood. It is in some places under a haze, as in South Carolina, or under to strong a lens, as in Kentucky. But it is clear and bright enough so that we can tead the hand-writing on the wall. Cleveland is to be nominated, by two-thirds or by acclama-tion. As to the matter of platform, we have an equally clear course. The triumph of the doctrine of measuring tax by need of government in 1846 left the subject out of dispute until the needs of war inaugurated protection-not as a doctrine, but as a condition. When the ware needs were over a revenue tariff became a condi-tion. It was demanded by successive Demo-cratic conventions, and became woven into our party creed as the stream wears into the Of the favorite sons of the different States our party creed as the stream wears into the mountain side. It was announced by Presimountain side. It was announced by Presi-dent Cleveland, as soon as the Democrats had a Fresident to announce it. He spoke the party belief in words of fire. He welded the broken and tangled threads of individual tariffs and made a solid party with an un-broken line, speaking out to the people the witalizing hopes of a resurrected nation. Through temporary defeat he has lived to see the people educated to their own inter-ests, and speaking out, stronger where need was stronger, but strong and sure all over, until to-day there is no certain Republican State, with the possible exception of Ver-mont. Cleveland is the nominee of logic, and we only need to stand by and see that "truth is mighty and will prevail."

A Wave of Genuine Enthusiasm. The entire body seemed to be upon its feet, with lifted voices, waving arms, slash-ing canes, waving fans and handkerchiefs, hats and umbrellas. The ladies caught the enthusiasm of the moment, and added to the scene by waving their fans and 'ker-chiefs. The speaker's reference to Horatio Seymour was met with quick recognition, as was his reference to silver and silver leg-At the close of this address the work of organization was concluded before the noon recess. CONTEST WINS AND PROTEST LOSES

SYRACUSE, N., Y., May 31 .- The anti-Hill, anti-"snap" convention was called to order shortly after noon by ex-Secretary of the Treasury Charles C. Fairchild, Chairman of the State Committee. The convention met in the Athambra Rink, a great hall with a gallery along either side and another at the rear. The building was well crowded. The Cleveland fans grew in number as the delegates settled in their places, and the hideons travesty of a Cleveland portrait paddled the hot, still and moist air with unceasing movement. On an aisle chair four or five rows back from the stage there was seated a little figure behind a pair of gold-rimmed glasses. The

Chairman Fairchild's short speech was frequently interrupted by applause, as were the more lengthy remarks of John D. Kernan, of Oneida county, Temporary Chairman of the convention. He was enthusiastically received when he arose, and when in his speech he referred to the fact that the convention knew something about Grover Cleveland, the convention felt that it had just cause for enthusiasm.

Fred W. Hinrichs, of Brooklyn, and Robert McCarthy of Syracuse, who was State Charity, Commissioner under Gover-nor Hill, also spoke. The platform was then adopted.

Mr. Pease, of Saratoga, a member of the Resolutions Committee, then presented as a supplementary to the platform the follow-ing resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That this convention approve indorse and point with pride to the adminis-tration of Grover Cleveland, and we recom-mend him to the Chicago Convention for nomination, and to the Democratic party and the patriotic people of the country for election again to the Presidency.

Judge Sunderlin, of Schuyler county, read the list of district delegates and dele-gates at large chosen by the districts and by the Committee on Delegates to the Chicago Convention. The work of the committee was approved, and thus the question of protest or contest had been determined, and the course of contest and demand at and the course of contest and demand at Chicago for the 72 seats of New York had been fixed upon. The delegates at large will be R. F. Coudert, of New York; Alex-ander E. Orr, Brooklyn; Charles F. Bishop, Buffalo, and Edward Fitzgerald, ex-Mayor of Troy. The convention adjourned sine die at 5:50 P. M.
