

LIGHT MAY YET COME

On the Circumstances of the Death of Mind Reader Bishop.

HIS MOTHER MOST DETERMINED

That the Physicians Who Held the Autopsy Shall Stand Trial.

HIS BOY'S SCREAMS UNDER THE SAW

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, June 3.—The case of Drs. Frank Ferguson, John A. Irwin and Irwin H. Hance, jointly indicted on a charge of illegal dissection, was on the trial calendar of Part 3, of the General Sessions to-day, but was adjourned until June 28, owing to the absence from the city of one of the defendants, who are each under $1,500 bail for trial.

Many sensational developments are looked for when the case is finally brought to trial, owing to the fact that the victim of the alleged illegal operation was Washington Irving Bishop, the mind reader, who died at the Lamb's Club, on May 13, 1889, under unusual circumstances, and also to the fact that his mother claims that her son was only in a trance when the autopsy was performed. Neither District Attorney Nicol nor Lawyer John M. Bowers, counsel for Ferguson, have any explanation to give why this is the first time that any serious effort has been made to bring the three physicians to trial, although it is three years since they were indicted.

Postponed on Account of Politics. Lawyer Bowers obtained an adjournment until June 28 upon the plea that notice of the trial was not served upon him until yesterday, and that his client is at present in Minneapolis attending the Republican convention. The other defendants are represented by Nelson Waters, Jr., and E. H. Moran.

"The defendant's counsel desired to have the trial put off until September," said District Attorney Nicol to-day, "but I would not consent to this, as I am determined to have the case disposed of during the present term. There is no particular reason why the case has remained untried so long, except that it is one of the old bail cases left over from District Attorney Fellows' term, being only one of a great number."

Mr. Nicol said that the offense is only a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $500 or one year's imprisonment, or both. He is not aware of any evidence to show that Mr. Bishop was alive when the doctors began the autopsy, but that point will be gone into fully at the trial. He is confident, however, that the physicians disobeyed the law which forbids an autopsy by any other than a coroner's physician, except the consent of the nearest relative of the deceased has been obtained.

Died While in a Trance.

Washington Irving Bishop went to the Lamb's Club on the night of May 12, 1889, upon the invitation of Henry Dixey and Sidney Drew, to give an exhibition of his mind-reading. While doing so he fell into a trance, from which he could not be awakened by ordinary means. Dr. Irwin was called in to attend him, and, after several hours, Mr. Bishop partially recovered his senses, but again went into a trance, and at noon on May 13 was declared dead by Dr. Irwin and other physicians. His body was at once removed to the undertaking rooms on Sixth avenue, where an autopsy was performed by Dr. Ferguson, with Drs. Irwin and Hance as his assistants.

At the coroner's inquest the physicians were declared innocent of causing the man's death, despite his mother's claim that her son was still alive when the autopsy was performed. A month later they were indicted on a charge of illegal dissection, and Judge Cowing held them under $1,500 bail for trial.

Mrs. Bishop was in the room of Assistant District Attorney Weeks this morning in expectation that the trial would go on to-day. She was dressed in deep mourning, and she told a sad story of her three years' fight to have the doctors tried for what she maintained was the murder of her son.

"I have come here hundreds of times to see when the trial would take place," said Mrs. Bishop, "but I was always put off with one excuse or another. It is not Mr. Nicol's fault, as the case should have been disposed of before he took charge. I am satisfied that he will see that justice is done. If these men only fear conviction of a misdemeanor, why have they so persistently evaded trial? I have a witness who heard my boy cry out, 'Mother, help,' as the surgeons saw entered his brain. I can get this witness, unless he has been spirited away. In my son's clothing at the time was a paper directing that no autopsy should be held, as he feared that just such a mistake should be made as did occur. If I cannot punish them for the crime, I shall at least see that they are punished for the offense which they cannot deny."

Dr. Irwin, when seen to-day, said he had nothing to say about the case, as he is attending to his business, and is conscious that he did nothing more than his duty in his connection with Mr. Bishop's illness and death.

Extraordinary Statement. The statement made by the Philadelphia Company, in defense to a suit brought against them, said: In all probability the natural gas supply would be exhausted in three years. This should not retard the people from buying natural gas appliances.

If this statement is true, the greatest knowledge it would pay you to investigate the workings of Jewett Gas Range and become posted on its merits and to its economy in the use of the most valuable fuel. If the supply would only last three years you would be ahead, for the Jewett Range would save the price of itself in that time. And you would have all the pleasure of using gas during that period. Call and see the Jewett in actual operation at the furnace, range and stove warehouse of J. C. Bartlett, 203 and 205 Wood street, Pittsburg, Pa.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR

Boy Almost Lost Use of His Limbs. Two Years' Intense Itching. Several Doctors Fail.

Instant Relief, Sweet Sleep, Speedy, Remarkable, and Permanent Cure by Cuticura Remedies.

When about seven years old, my son was afflicted with a skin disease which was distressing. The first appearance was of little pimples accompanied by intense itching, soon spreading into sores covered with scabs, except when scratched off. The entire body, except head, was covered. He almost lost the use of his limbs, and was so light I could carry him about like an infant. Used all remedies I could find recommended in medical works for itching without benefit. Applied to different physicians, receiving temporary relief, but the disease was sure to return. I sent for your pamphlet, read it, purchased a set of CUTICURA REMEDIES. I anointed him with the CUTICURA, bathing with the CUTICURA SOAP, and gave small doses of CUTICURA RESOLVENT. Oh, the soothing effect of that CUTICURA! After two years' search for something to allay that terrible itching, what a relief to see him sleep peacefully without any inclination to scratch. Less than two boxes of CUTICURA, one cake CUTICURA SOAP, and one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, performed a cure, with no return. Is now a strong, healthy boy of thirteen. We consider it a remarkable cure, as he had inherited scrofulous humor, and had lost hair, from infancy to age, from pimples to acrofolia.
