

FROM EARLY MORNING IT LOOKED AS IF HARRISON HAD WON NEARLY EVERYTHING. JUST AS HE WANTED IT. Nevertheless, Reed, McKinley and Several Others Were Ready IF CALLED ON BY THEIR PARTY.

A MATTER OF UNIVERSAL COMMENT. MINNEAPOLIS, June 10.—After the extraordinary scenes of Thursday night, those who were to be seen in the morning came in with a thunder storm. The sky was full of rumbling sounds and now and then a bolt was driven like the firing of a battery.

As the morning proceeded everything brightened up, and with returning brightness to the world men's minds shed their troubles. The first impression seemed to be that the nomination of Harrison simplified the business of the Democratic convention two weeks hence.

It was said that the primary effect of Harrison's nomination would be making weak west of Illinois, and that therefore Cleveland could afford to lose New York. The Harrison men, trimming to the end, began to ascribe to other persons than Blaine his attitude in this convention.
