

TILT IN THE CHAMBER.

Captain Dravo Wants Section 4 of the River and Harbor Bill

INDORSED BY THE DIRECTORS.

John H. Ricketson Objects and Says Rivermen Are Selfish.

NUMBER OF NEW MEMBERS ELECTED

The recent banquet of the Chamber of Commerce has infused more spirit into the meetings of the board of directors, and yesterday's session was characterized by an unusual degree of liveliness, including a little breeze between Mr. Ricketson and Captain Dravo and Batchelor.

When Chairman Kelly called for new business Captain Dravo presented a resolution which he asked the Chamber to adopt. In explanation he said that at the last session of Congress a river and harbor bill had been adopted. Section 4 of this bill specified that in case of an obstruction in the rivers any one might, through their own lawyer, enter suit in any of the United States courts and thus speedy action could be obtained without waiting, as heretofore, for the United States District Attorney.

Mr. John H. Ricketson objected strongly to the consideration of any such resolution. The speaker said that the rivermen respected no person's rights but their own. The section referred to would give the rivermen entirely too much power. All they would have to do in case that was adopted was to get some shyster lawyer and go before an alderman and compel a bridge company to tear down spans of its bridge, or some manufacturer to cut away 50 feet of its embankment. The measure was entirely too radical and the Chamber should not consider it.

Mr. Ricketson hastened to inform Captain Batchelor that he had misunderstood him and that he did not call rivermen shysters.

Mr. Ricketson hastened to inform Captain Batchelor that he had misunderstood him and that he did not call rivermen shysters. Captain Dravo explained that the measure would not hurt any present bridge or slack-water company, but was for any continued obstruction in the river.

Chairman Kelly ruled that as there were two objections to considering the resolution it would have to go to a committee, and he therefore referred the resolution to the Committee on Rivers and Harbors.

Colonel T. F. Roberts, of the special committee on the bill, called on the Chamber, reported in favor of a committee on membership and that instead of hiring anybody to go out and secure members, that the members of the Chamber go to work and secure names. It was pit that every one should have a statistical library, where business men could come for information. He also suggested that quarterly or monthly meetings be held at which the members of the Chamber be invited to attend and questions of national importance discussed. This paper was adopted.

A communication from the New York World's Fair Commission, asking the Chamber to take action on the postponement of the opening of the World's Fair from October 12 to October 21, was referred to the World's Fair Committee.

W. P. DeArmit was elected a member of the committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of B. L. Wood. The following were elected members of the Chamber: James Colvard, L. D. DeWolf, W. P. Potter, A. M. Jenkinson, A. H. Wilson, Joseph T. Brown, John C. Kohse, J. C. Lappe & Son, Eisner & Phillips.

APPROVED THE PLANS.

Judges Indorse the Commissioners' Scheme for a New Power Plant. A meeting of the Judges of the three Common Pleas Courts was held yesterday afternoon in the County Commissioners' office. All were present, except Judges Single and Ewing. The object of the meeting was to ratify the action of the Commissioners relative to the erection of a new building on the site of the old Criminal Court building, for a plant for light and heat, etc., for the Court House and jail.

It had been the intention of the Commissioners to erect a one-story building, merely for the batteries of boilers, machinery, etc., to cost from $50,000 to $75,000. When plans were prepared, however, it was found this would not answer and they decided to put up a two-story structure, the second floor to be used for offices and the attic for storerooms.

This extra room will soon be needed as the Court House is now becoming crowded in some portions and will need some place for the records before long. The structure proposed will cost from $150,000 to $170,000, and it is expected there will be enough surplus in the treasury to meet the expense.

The judges yesterday unanimously approved the new plan. Of the absentees Judge Slagle has approved it, and Judge Ewing is out of the city.

CAN'T FIND HIS FRIENDS.

Looking for Somebody Who Knew the Late O. N. Johnson. Clerk of Courts McGunagle yesterday received a letter from Coroner Newell, Washington county, Oregon, asking for information as to the relatives of Mr. O. N. Johnson, who was accidentally killed near Hillsboro, Oregon, June 2. His relatives or friends could not be found, and the only clue among his effects was a receipt for a registered letter sent from Mr. McGunagle's office. The man was buried at the expense of the county, but his relatives are sought for.

Mr. McGunagle knew nothing of the man Johnson, and no one in the office remembers sending the letter, though it was likely sent in the course of official business.

Beer Bottles Used for Weapons. James Murphy, Mrs. Mary Goner and Mrs. Daniel O'Neill, were arrested by Lieutenant Cramer last evening, and locked up in the Fourteenth ward station, on a charge of disorderly conduct. Lieutenant Cramer alleges that the prisoners were engaged in a general fight at the home of Mrs. O'Neill, on Forbes street, near Brady street, in which beer bottles and glasses were used. Mrs. O'Neill received a severe scalp wound. Murphy was cut about the face.

If in search for a room, don't fail to read the rooms-to-let advertising columns of THE DISPATCH.

CLEVELAND'S TRAIN.

Pennsylvania's Delegation to the National Democratic Convention at Chicago Will Carry Their Favorite's Portrait Through the Country—Cars Decorated With Banners and Branches.

Possibly the largest and most elaborately decked train for the Democratic National Convention at Chicago will leave this city on Saturday morning next at 2:10 o'clock. This train will leave Philadelphia on Friday afternoon with seven Pullman coaches, two parlor cars and one dining car and will take up on the route one Pullman car at Tyrore and one at Altoona, making 12, to which two and probably three cars will be added in this city, although the applications to State Chairman J. Marshall Wright up to Saturday for seats may make it necessary to add nine cars to the train in this city in the space of three hours. Nearly all of the national delegates from Pennsylvania will go to Chicago on this special train, as well as a large number of friends including most of the Democratic leaders of the State.

Every car has been provided with two beautiful banners of white oil cloth mounted on a substantial frame two feet wide by 20 feet long, on which the word "Pennsylvania" appears in large red letters with blue shading. George S. Fleming, one of the delegates, to whom was intrusted the work of decorating the train, said last evening: "All of the banners, except those for the sides of cars to be added in this city, will be sent by Adams Express to Philadelphia to-day. The work was done here, and it is the intention to make this train the largest and the handsomest that ever left this city. The ordinary canvas streamers have been dispensed with and for the first time the sides of each car will be covered with rigid signs that will not only resist the wind but will fill the eye in point of beauty."

The train will be drawn by two of the largest and finest engines in the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad car furnish, and they will also be profusely decorated with bunting and evergreens. A full-size lithograph of Grover Cleveland, bordered with garlands, will occupy prominent place in front of the engine in advance. Provision has been made for trolley engines, so that the decorations will be the same on all, and that no loss of time will result.

Every provision that care and comfort can suggest has been attended to by Cleveland's adherents, even to the right of way and unobstructed track from Pittsburgh to Chicago. All will put up at the Sherman House, where the headquarters of the Pennsylvania delegation have been established.

ALLEGHENY'S JUBILEE DAY.

The Board of School Controllers Complete All the Arrangements. The Jubilee Day Committee of the Allegheny Board of School Controllers met last night for the purpose of arranging for the annual jubilee of the school children on June 30. The committee decided to observe the same programme as that of last year and the positions held by the different schools last year will be the same this year. The seventh, eighth, eleventh and fifteenth schools have decided on holding picnics, so that they will not participate in the jubilee. The lost children will be cared for by Joseph Craig and Captain H. M. Dunlap.

SUED FOR SICK BENEFIT.

A Machinery Molder Recovers $20 From His Union. Patrick Deegan, who resides on Forty-fifth street, entered suit before Alderman Kerr yesterday against the Machinery Molders' Union No. 46 to recover $20 sick benefits. He is a member of the organization and when taken sick it paid the customary benefit of $5 per week for four weeks. His sickness lasted eight weeks, but it refused to pay any more to him, he brought suit. The hearing was set for last night and the union tried to prove that Deegan's ailment was chronic and therefore it was released from its obligation. A decision was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $20, the amount asked.

N. S. Wood at Harris'. Only one theater is left open. At Harris' yesterday, despite the boiling heat, two large audiences fanned vigorously and applauded heartily. The star, N. S. Wood, is a Pittsburgh boy who is very popular, and his company is above the average, Lotie Williams being a clever and pretty soubrette. The play yesterday was "Out in the Streets," and there will be two changes of bill during the week.

Touched a Tailor Shop. Burglars entered George W. Campbell's tailoring establishment, 104 Fifth avenue early yesterday morning and carried off about $500 worth of garments ready for customers. The miscreants failed to gain an entrance to the safe. None of the fabrics were touched. The police department has the matter in hand, with a clew to work upon.

WRITING ABOUT HIS WIFE. An Interesting Letter That Explains Itself. Mrs. Doherty Refuses to Give a Testimonial for a Medicine—Her Horror of Newspaper Notoriety—The Family Physician Is Nonplussed About Her Case.

C. J. O'Brien, one of the most popular clothing salesmen in Boston, has won considerable fame in writing newspaper articles relative to his remarkable recovery from rheumatism.

He has given to the press, both his own statements, and those of friends whom he has cured with the same means that restored his health and strength.

The last contribution from him is the following letter, the truth of which Mr. O'Brien vouches for:

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 30, 1892.

DEAR O'BRIEN:—In answer to your letter of yesterday asking Mrs. Doherty for a testimonial. Grace regrets very much that she cannot grant this request, as she has a particular horror of newspaper notoriety, and could not bring herself to write for you.

We thoroughly appreciate your kindness in calling her attention to the medicine that restored her health, and she also feels that she is under the greatest obligation to Palm's celery compound for the cure which it effected. Just think of it! she is able to walk from one to two miles without feeling the slightest fatigue, and her weight is increased from 80 to 125 pounds. Our family physician is completely nonplussed about her case, and I am convinced that he is using the compound in nervous troubles similar to what my wife has suffered from.

Grace and I intend to visit Europe this summer. We hope you will visit us before our departure. Hoping you and family are enjoying good health, I remain

Yours always,

GAROLD DOHERTY.

P. S.—If it was the person Palm's celery compound had cured, I would not have the slightest hesitation in sending you a testimonial. As it is, Grace is willing that you publish this letter in Boston, if you desire, but in Providence does not want her name to be used in the papers. G. D. Mr. O'Brien stated that his friend's wife is but one of many who were weak and suffering, but whom Palm's celery compound has restored to strength and health.

This compound is not an ordinary remedy; it is the prescription that made the name of Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth. It has undoubtedly done more for a diseased and ailing humanity than any medical discovery heretofore made.
