Charitable Citizens to Form a Permanent Organization to Answer

ANY CRY FOR ASSISTANCE.

Mayor Gourley to Call a Meeting to Put the Plan in Execution.

A FUND TO BE ALWAYS ON HAND.

More Money Needed for the Relief of the Cil City Victims.

CONTRIBUTIONS STILL POURING IN

Charity is becoming practical in this city. There is a movement now on foot for the organization of a permanent relief committee to be ready for emergencies such as have been precipitated upon this end of the Stare so frequently of late years, and to which Pittsburg has contributed so liberally to relieve those who have suffered. The suggestion was made by S. S. Marvin at the meeting of the Titusville and Oil City relief committee held yesterday morning, and was taken up promptly as an excellent idea by the balance of the members.

The plan as explained by Mr. Marvin is to make the Mayor chairman of the permanent organization so long as his tenure of office holds, and when his successor is inaugurated he takes the place. Other officers are to be elected by the committee from its membership for a stated period. The principal object of the organization will be to be ready at a moment's notice to proceed with the work of relief in any case of accident, flood or other disaster without the delav necessary where, as now, a public meet ing must be called, committees appointed and moneys collected before a step can be made.

To Be Ready for any Emergency. Under the supervision of the main committee there will be sub-committees to whom will be apportioned certain lines of work so that every contingency will be covered and met promptly without consultation with other persons. One feature of the organization will probably be the creation of a permanent fund of ready cash that will be available for the immediate relief and assistance always necessary in a great calamity such as that which devastated the Oil Creek Valley ten days ago.

Mayor Gourley is heartily in sympathy with the proposed organization and at the suggestion of Mr. Marvin will call a meeting of the prominent citizens of the two cities who, in time of necessity, are always ready and willing to do more than their share in relieving suffering and distress, for the purpose of discussing the proposition. If it meets with favor the organization will be formed at once. The meeting will be held this or early next week.

Demanded by Pittsburg's Location. "The commercial and geographical situation of Pittsburg," said the Mayor last night,

"demands that she be always ready for emergencies. I don't believe there is a city in the country where a greater necessity exists for a permanent relief organization than this. Philadelphia and other more important cities of the country already have such bodies, and they have, upon more than one occasion, rendered invaluable service in time of disaster. Pittsburg is the great manufacturing center of the country, and n our countless great workshops and lac tories there is an ever-present danger to hu-man life among the toilers upon whom our prosperity depends while there are numer-ous other possibilities of disaster here such as any other city has cause to fear. More-over history has demonstrated that our geographical situation is such that we are likely at any time to have precipitated upon us or our neighbors a flood like that which only recently visited Oil City and Titusville and within a few years other districts in our State. With such a committee as this the moment a flood or other calamity octhe scene and within a few hours substan-tial, intelligent aid could be rendered.

The Mayor Expects a Ready Response, "I believe that if a permanent relief fund were established under the care of such a committee it would be as generously supported as have been calls for relief in time of disaster in the past, and opportunity would be afforded to charitably inclined men of wealth to make subscriptions to a charity of the most practical kind. The lessons our people have learned in matters of this kind have educated them to such a movement as this, and I expect that at the meeting to be held this week or next no difficulty will be experienced in perma-nently organizing."

In connection with the Oil Creek disaster the local relief committee yesterday re-ceived information that somewhat surprised them. It nad been supposed that when the funds on hand would be distributed among the sufferers there would be comparatively little more to be done, but from a report made by John Eaton, of the Oil Well Supply Company, who has been making an investigation of the necessities of the people in the stricken district, $200,000 more will be required to meet the absolute wants of the suffering people.

Sending Money to the Sufferers. The committee yesterday sent $6,500 to Titusville, and $3,500 to Oil City. From Titusville, and $3,500 to Oil City. From all the information the committee has received $80,000 has been sent to the two cities from all sources, of which $28,000 has been contributed by Pittsburg and Allegheny, the Pittsburg Relief Committee having raised $20,295 of that sum. The committee hopes that the contributions from Pittsburg and Allegheny will be increased to $50,000. There is now just $200 in Treasurer Thompson's hands, and the com-mittee earnestly begs that those who have not already contributed will forward such sums as they may feel able to give at the earliest possible moment to Treasurer

Thompson.

A brief statement of the condition of refairs at Oil City and Titusville was re-ceived by the committee yesterday from Chairman Hosg, of the Oil City Relief Committee. It states that the circumstances of last week were such that accurate statis-tics could not be prepared, that all their time was employed in burying the dead and caring for the living. A careful estimate places the number of houses burned, flooded or destroyed at more than 200, and the number of people assisted will exceed 700.

Several Bodies Are Still Missing. The number of burials to date has been 61, and several are still missing. There is no insurance whatever on the loss by flood and very little on dwellings burned. The total receipts have been $45,000, of which total receipts have been $45,000, of which $10,000 has been spent. By the destruction of manufactories the earning and supporting power of the working people has been lost and they must be maintained for an indefinite period. They must be provided with homes and support until they can be self-supporting. The letter also states that a committee from Eric examined the district vertexels. trict yesterday morning and believed the loss much greater than had been reported.

The following contributions were received by Treasurer William R. Thompson yester-day: Wellsville Plate and Sheet Iron Com-pany, Wellsville, O., $100; J. S. McCaleb, $7 92; First English Lutheran Church, Pittsburg, $133 03; W. M. Leatherman, $2; Y. P. S. C. E. of Mt. Washington Baptist Church, $2; E. A. Kitsmiller, $25; cash, $5; the Klein-Logan Company, $25; employes Pittsburg, Allegheny and Manchester Traction Company, $20; Kings Daughters, Emsworth, $27; St. Paul's German Congregation of Allegheny, $8 50; cash, 50 cents; M. P. C., $1.

NEARLY KILLED THE BABY.

Charles Kopf Hurls a Mirror With Prob ably Fatal Results. Charles Kopf, a stonemason, who resides on Bryant street, Nineteenth ward, was arrested and locked up in the Nineteenth ward station vesterday afternoon for assault-ing and nearly killing his baby child. Kopf was drunk and on going to his home got into a quarrel with his 19-year-old stepdaughter, Bertha Bunker. The man became enraged at something the girl said and grasping her by the throat choked her until she was black in the face when the mother interfered and saved the girl from further injury. Kopt then went into the kitchen and finding his face scratched became enraged and grasping a looking glass from the wall made for the stepdaughter once more, when the wife, who had picked up the 4-weeks-old baby from the cradle, again interfered. The infuriated father hurled the glass at the stepdaughter, but instead of striking her the glass caught the baby on the head, inflicting a deep and ugly gash, producing daughter, Bertha Bunker. The man be inflicting a deep and ugly gash, producing unconsciousness, in which condition the child was still laying at a late hour last night, notwithstanding the efforts of physicians. The weather took an unkind turn about 8 o'clock yesterday morning, when it frantically rushed to the 80° mark, and a little later climbed up a little higher, and staved there until every man wished himself an Esquimaux or something else delightfully cold. An Alleghony Man Secks Revenge After Family Quarrel.

Joel Crawford, of No. 5 Manhattan street, Allegheny, was arrested yesterday on a charge of arson. Late Monday night he went home intoxicated and began quarreling with his wife. Becoming very angry he rushed down stairs into the cellar, and securing a hatchet he commenced to cut the gas pipe. Having severed the pipe he ignited the gas and an explosion occurred. This aroused the neighbors, who rushed to the scene of the explosion.

Crawford's wife met them at the door and explained that her husband was trying to explained that her husband was trying to blow the house up. Two men entered the cellar, and, after a struggle, overpowered Crawford, but he broke away and escaped and was not captured until yesterday. In the meantime an alarm had been sounded, and on the arrival of the engines the fire was easily extinguished. No other reason is assigned for the deed than that Crawford had been on a protracted spree of several months and was temporarily insune.

The illness of Father Mollinger has caused the immense throng that eagerly watched for an opportunity to get an inter view with the aged priest to give up in despair, and yesterday the crowd had dwindled away. Many lett because their money, of which none of them have a very liberal supply, gave out and they were compelled to go home. None of the patients are of the wealthy class, most of them being very poor and could barely raise sufficient money to pay their fare here. Father Mollinger is still confined to his room, but it is thought he will be able his room, but it is thought ne will be able to be out to-day. Father Myers, of Pitts-burg, conducted services yesterday in Father Mollinger's place, but the multitude was not satisfied—it is Father Mollinger they want, for in him is their faith.

REACHING THE TEST. Iron Workers and Their Employers

to Hold a Conference To-Day.

Pleasant Valley and Manchester Roads Ready to Consolidate.

NEWS FROM THE WORLD OF LABOR

Will it be peace or war? is the all important question agitating the minds of the ron and steel manufacturers and the delegates to the Amalgamated Convention. At o'clock this afternoon a committee representing the manufacturers will meet a committee from the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers when the scale of the latter organization for the ensuing year will be presented for approval and then it will be definitely decided whether the manufacturers and their men will continue their present friendly relations and work in narmony for another 12 months or whether there will be a strike.

What the outcome will be no one is prepared to venture, but that the matter will e practically decided to-day is a foregone conclusion. President Weihe said last evening: "At the close of to-day's meeting the delegates were still discussing the scale, but by noon to-morrow the arrangements will be so far perfected that we will be ready to meet the manufacturers. I believe the time set for this meeting is 2 o'clock in the afternoon, but where it will take place I am not at this time prepared to state. However, the manufacturers will send us word early enough to enable our committee to be present.

The Delegates Were Deeply Interested.

During the afternoon session yesterday the character of the business transacted must have been of the utmost importance, for at no time during the convention has the gathering been so demonstrative and noisy. Shout after shout rang through the hali and re-echoed until it reached the ears of the pedestrians on the street. The usual mystery which has characterized all the meetings of the association prevailed. No outsiders were allowed near the entrance to the hall and Madden would at interesting. Secretary Madden would at intervals run out into the corridor and whisper some intelligence to a few of the delegates outside, when all would speedily return to the meeting room and be lost to sight behind the large folding doors. When the meeting finally adjourned the delegates seemed in a more enviable frame of mind than they were the day before, as with few exceptions the men were smiling and seemed heartily pleased.

About the same time the Amalgamated delegates were in session yesterday after-noon a committee of manufacturers were holding a meeting in the People's Bank. This was also an executive session, and what steps were taken has not been made public, but it is pretty well established that no very important business was considered, the meeting being merely a preliminary one in which it was decided how, where and at what time the Amalgamated committee would be met by the manufacturers.

Welho and Madden to Retire.

Officers of the association for the ensuing year will be elected next week and it is exected President William Weihe and Sec etary Stephen Madden will retire after their official term expires in October next. The withdrawal of both gentlemen was not hastily decided upon, but was contemplated for some time past and after due consideration. There were at different times stories between the gentlemen above named, but s no truth in the statements. most friendly relations bave steadily existed between them, and both have aided each other in the performance of their respective duties at all times. As to the successors of the retiring officers, although nothing posi-tive is known, it is presumed that Assistant President M. M. Garland will be elected chief officer, while John C. Kilgallon, the assistant secretary, may succeed Mr. Mad

Mr. D. B. Oliver, general manager of the Oliver Iron and Steel Company, when seen last evening said: "I would rather not talk in reference to the situation between the Amalgamated Association and the mauufacturers just at present, as the more the matter is agitated now the worse it will make it." When informed of the Intention of President Weihe and Secretary Madden to retire at the end of their present term, he further said; "I am very sorry to hear of it as matters are now assuming a serious outlook and the association needs old and experienced men at the belm.

No Politics in the Amaigamated. Mr. B. F. Jones, of Jones & Laughlin, last evening referred to the report which claimed that some of the members of the Amalgamated Association had said all Annagamated Association had said all along they had looked to the Republican party to uphold the standard of their wages, and intimated that if the scale was reduced they would renounce their allegiance to that party and turn toward the Demograts. Mr. Jones said: "The interests of the manufacturers and men are alike in many respects. One thing is positive, what will affect the men will affect the manufacturers, therefore I do not believe that there is any truth in the report. Another point which contradicts it is that the Amalgamated Association is not a political organization, being made up of both Repub the proper time arrives cast their individ-all of the iron mills of the Mahoning Valley will shut down if the manufacturer's reduction of an average of 20 per cent in wages is not accepted by the Amalgamated Association.

Such was the statement made by Henry B. Shields, of Girard, O., to a DISPATCH man at the Duquesne Hotel last night and corroborated by J. Morgan Coleman and General Asa W. Jones, of Youngstown.

Manufacturers Want a Reduction. "Business is miserable," continued the iron manufacturer, "and we find it im-possible to operate the mills at the present rate of wages. There must be a substantial re-duction made, and if the workmen do not agree we will be obliged to close the mills until the present stagnation of business is over. The cause of this state of affairs is overproduction, as we have on hand much more material than there is any demand for." "Has the iron production of the South anything to do with the Northern over-production?"

"Indeed, it has," spoke up Mr. Coleman.
"The Southern manufacturers are rapidly coming into the foreground, and Northern iron men are beginning to feel their weight. Why, about one-third of my iron ore comes from Alabama, where a short time ago I thought it was too poor for any uses of value, but I erred greatly in my surmises, as I have since found out. The South has some very desirable ore within her hills," concluded Mr. Coleman.

LESSENING THE COST.

Green Bottle Manufacturers Considering Mammoth Combination.

There has been a quiet movement on foo for some time past among the green bottle manufacturers of this city for the purpose of organizing a combination similar to the United States Glass Company. The plans of this combination, if successful, will differ from the new company in one respect. Instead of operating the plants now owned by those interested in the new scheme, it is the intention to dispose of the different pot furnaces now being operated and in their place erect a number of continuous melting place erect a number of continuous melting tanks. In this movement alone the manufacturers will be enabled to considerably lessen the cost of production.

Mr. Thomas Wightman, whose company, it is said, is interested in the new venture, when asked last evening what progress had been made, said: "Seweral meetings have already been held, but nothing has been done outside of discussing the feasibility of organizing such a company. There is no organizing such a company. There is no truth in the statements that the new company is all but organized and that the site, mode of manufacture and other details have been completed, and as I said before, the matter is merely being discussed, and so far as I know nothing has been done toward com-pleting the deal."

EX-SECRETARY CAKE INDICTED.

The Bigamy Case Falls Through Owing to a Peculiar Law.

The grand jury yesterday acted on the ease of George L. Cake, the ex-Secretary of the Window Glass Workers' Association, who is charged by his brother-in-law, D. L. Williams, with infidelity and bigamy.

They returned a true bill in the infidelity case, but ignored the bigamy charge.

Under the interpretation of the act of Pennsylvania relating to bigamy a man is not indictable on that charge unless he marries both wives in this State. Mr. Cake married his first wife in New Jersey, and therefore under this interpretation could not be indicted.

Mammoth Foundry at Braddock. A large foundry adjunct will be erected at the Edgar Thomson mills at Braddock. The work will be commenced in a few days. The site will be on the west side of Turtle creek, near the main plant. The new con-cern will be one of the largest of its kind in the country and will give employment to 100 workmen. Here moldings for the Edgar Thomson, Homestead and Duquesne works will be manufactured.

Settled With the Engineers,

The trouble between Manager Dillon and the engineers at the Carnegie Union Mills was definitely settled yesterday by the demands of the engineers being granted. Con-sequently a strike that would probably have closed the works was avoided.

AFTER THE DOCTORS.

The Coroner Insists That They Did Not Properly Care for John Olexi.

The Coroner's investigation was begun vesterday on the death of John Olexi, the Polish laborer run over by an engine on the Monongahela connecting rallroad on Monday, and who died after being three hours at the Homeopathic Hospital. The hospital physicians testified that death had esulted from shock. They had been waiting for a recovery from the shock to begin an operation, but the reaction did not come.
The doctors maintained that the femoral artery had not been severed, as claimed by the Coroner, but he insisted that it had been torn open and was clogged with dirt, which had not been washed away by the physicians. He adjourned the inquest un-til to-day, and will have further evidence produced. He intimates that carelessne on the part of the doctors will be shown.

For a New Hospital,

Negotiations for the purchase of nine for the erection and establishment of a water cure hospital have been formally consummated. An Eastern syndicate, represented by Mr. Kelly, of this city, are the purchasers, while John L. Vaughn, of the West End, made the transfer. The site commands a delightful view, and is in every facility an ideal spot for the use of such an institution.

The Last Dividend.

Fifteen per cent is the amount of the div idend which the defunct Farmers and Mechanics Bank will pay to the depositors some time during next week. This dividend, added to those already paid, makes 50 per cent that the depositors have received in settlement of their original claims. This will in all probability be the total amount that the creditors will obtain, as the last assets of the institution have been dis posed of.

Vicissitudes of a Soldier.

Hugh Hanlon, an old soldier, entered suit before Alderman McPike yesterday, charging Mrs. Kinney with disorderly con duct. They reside on Twenty-sighth street and he alleges that during a quarrel she called him a "miserable Democrat," and said: "You were in the army two months resting and now you draw a pension from a Republican administration." She was held for a hearing.

SHORT STORIES OF CITY LIFE.

Mrs. Maggie Cumnings, of No. 25 Federal stret, was arrested last night for running a "speak-easy." Ex-Councilman John Eurich, of the Sixth ward, is lying at his home on Bluff street critically ill with pneumonia, THREE cases of diphtheria and six of scar latina were reported to the Board of Health yesterday from different parts of the city. THE Ladies' Aid Society of the Southside Hospital met yesterday and dissensee plans for holding a lawn fete for the benefit of the hospital.

CLASS night of the Pittsburg Academy attracted a large crowd to the Opera House last night. An enjoyable programme was presented by the pupils. THE advanced pupils of the Curry Con-

FOR HARRISON ALL THE TIME.

Some of Mr. Blaine's Fatal Political Moves Pointed Out.

REPUBLICAN SUCCESS PREDICTED

"McKinley was not a traitor to President Harrison in the Minneapolis Convention, and Congressman Bergen, of New Jersey, was mistaken when he said he was."

So said General Asa W. Jones, of Youngs town, O., at the Duquesne Hotel last night. General Jones continued by saying: "I have known Major McKinley too long to doubt him now. Why Congressman Bergen made the statement he did, I do not know, but I am certain he was mistaken.

"Major McKinley went into the convention a Harrison man, he was a Harrison man during the convention and he came out of the convention a Harrison man. To be throughout.

"How would Major McKinley have re-ceived his own nomination?" asked THE "With deep regret," replied General Jones," I don't think he sought the nomi-nation at ail."

Mr. Blaine's Mistake.

"How about Blaine?"
"Blaine made one mistake," returned the Youngstown capitalist, "and that was his refusal to come out as a candidate four months ago. Had he done that, he would have been nominated by acclamation and he would have been elected. He hesitated too long. His own people were kept in suspense too long, and as a result they did not have an opportunity of working for him as they should have had to secure the nom-

"How do you feel towards the nominee?"
"I feel that his election means another four years of business progress and pros-perity. President Harrison has made a most satisfactory Chief Executive of this country. Coming East from Chicago I fell in with some delegates to the Ohio State Convention and learned the delegates to the National Convention would be just about evenly divided between Hill and Cleveland."

Mayor E. O. Emerson, of Titusville, was a guest at the Anderson last night. He emphatically told a DISPATCH man that he considered the New York story, that the Republican club had decided to request all the Republican clubs of the country to unite in asking President Harrison to withdraw his name from the ticket and if he refused, to refrain from registering, to be a canard. "Not a word of truth in the entire story in my estimation," he continued, "and it will take some good practical illustrations to disabuse my mind of the belief. President Harrison has a good record and it was man uncombant. Negotiations for the purchase of nine has a good record and is a man upon whom acres of land situated on Duquesne Heights for the erection and establishment of a political bodies of the country are not going to take any such action. The story is ab-surd upon the face of it."

Thomas Thompson, a young Englishman, was arrested and locked up in Central station charged with bigamy. Thompson came to this country about a year ago and was employed at an iron mill. FIVE VOTES THROWN OUT.

This Results in a Temporary Victory for Fielding-Judge Bredin Will Appeal to Court-A Peculiar Feature of the Baker

The special election in the Fourth ward Allegheny, to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Mayor Kennedy from Select Councils, took place yesterday. The contest was between John Fielding, Republican, and Judge Bredin, a Democrat, indorsed by citizens. The total number of votes cast was 1,165, Fielding receiving 587 and Bredin 582. There were 587 votes cast for Bredin, but five votes were thrown out on account of not being made out in the proper manner.

The five defective votes were in the Ninth precinct and were not counted be-cause the cross was made in the square op-posite the word "Citizens" designating the posite the word "Citizens" designating the party, instead of opposite Bredin's name. The law reads "A cross marked in the square at the right of the party name indicates a vote for all the candidates for that party." In this case it is held by Judge Bredin's friends, that as he was the only candidate on the ticket, it made no difference whether the cross was in the square designating a vote for the whole ticket, or in the square opposite his name.

The case will be appealed to court for a decision, and if the decision is reversed and the five rejected votes are counted it will result in a tie vote, and the election will have to be held over again.
