ALL EUROPE IS REPRESENTED.

Scenes in the Discoverer's Life Will Be

Faithfully Reproduced. WHAT THE NEW WORLD CONTRIBUTES

MADRID, June 15 .- The huge building about to be finished in the Pasco de Recoletos, intended for the new National Library, is not to be used as a library until after the Columbus celebrations. It will first be utilized for the art, literature and science exhibitions, to be held shortly to commem orate the discovery of the New World. An entire floor of this large building will be reserved exclusively for American exhibits. A special commission has been appointed by the United States to proceed to Madrid. Besides the most interesting contributions and co-operation of the South American Republic, Mexico will send the treasures of her museums of antiquities, of art and of science. She has voted $100,000 to cover expenses.

Every nation of Europe, including Turkey, promises co-operation. The Pope is to send everything in the Vatican relating to the discovery of the New World, including the celebrated bull of Alexander VL, the Spanish Pope, who drew the lines of division of the possessions beyond the seas of Spain and Portugal. Austria and France will send their most interesting relies of art and science.

A Fine Art Exhibition Promised. All the private collections of Madrid will be installed in the new building, where these exhibitions are to be held. In addition to the interesting exhibits of the retrospective arts and sciences of Europe and America, there will be a special exhibition of fine art in the large palace near the hip-podrome, wherein will be installed a com-plete collection of the modern school of Spanish painting. agricultural and industrial exhibitions in the park of the Pretiro will be increased by the addition of a special exhibition of the Madrid local small industries. Most of the cities of Spain will celebrate the event by local festivites, but the grandest display, next to that at Madrid, is to be at Huelva. The convent of La Rabida is being put back into the primitive condition in which it was when Columbus, in his humble pilgrim's garb, came to its door and begged the monks to give him a glass of water for his sick and wayworn son. The restoration is so complete that the Moorish Marabut, about whose remains the edifice of modern construction was erected, is laid open to view.

The 60 meter column is progressing well. The new quay is finished, as is also the road leading from it to the convent, and the road from the convent to Palos is also well

Getting Up a Fete Programme.

The Sociedad Colombina Paubense, of Huelva, the President of which is Mr. Sundheim, has been very active in getting up an interesting programme for the coming fetes. There will be a musical competition for bands, boat races and pyrotechnic displays. The Bishop of Seville has been invited to deliver an oration August 1, when the Queen is to visit La Rapida. By that time the carabel Santa Maria is to be ready and lying at anchor in the port of Palos.

Foreign warships are also to be there to fire salutes to the Spanish flag. It is a very curious coincidence that the present Mayor of Huella is of the same nam ineal descendant of the man who was Mayor of the place when Columbus sailed forth to discover the New World. The two small carabels, Pinta and Nina, to be built at the expense of the American Government, will be ready before October. The authorities of the Canary Islands, reminding the Centenary Committee that Columbus touched at those islands on his way to discover the New World, request that the three carabels should also touch at those islands on their way out to America next year. The committee has promised that this shall be done.

Convicts Will Ask for Clemency. A petition has been drawn up and signed by 30,000 inmates of Spanish prisons, begging the Queen Regent, the Senate, the Chamber of Deputies, the Pope and the United States Ambassador to have compassion on their lot and have an act of clemency extended to them in memory of Columbus and of the discovery of the New World. It is very probable that some attention will be given to this petition.

Besides the exhibits of antique literature, charts and arts, the displays of ancient charts and maps will be very interesting, showing the Old World's position in those days, maps in later date with the addition of America and the Indies, and more specimens of chartography that do credit to the framers will also be shown.

Among the most interesting of these maps, so far as America is concerned, is that of Juan de la Cosa, pilot or sailing master for Columbus, who went out with the latter on his voyage of discovery and accompanied him home, and again went out with him on his second voyage, in 1493. Fac similes of this map are now being made by the Spanish Government for distribution in the coming

DILLON AND O'BRIEN SPEAK.

They Tell Their Countrymen What Anti-Parnellites Are Doing for Them.

DUBLIN, June 14 .- John Dillon made a speech at Cork to-day. He said the Parnellites were boasting because the anti-Parnellites were short of funds, but that shortage was due to their liberality to evicted tenants. Out of £20,000 collected £17,000 had been given to evicted tenants. The anti-Parnellites, he added, had done everything possible to restore unity, but the Parnellites had rejected all offers, and now the battle must be fought out.

William O'Brien also spoke at Cork to-day. He declared that Mr. Harrington's proposals were not intended to be accepted; they were merely intended for consumption in America. It was less important, he said, to avoid petty election squabbles than to allow Ireland to speak with no uncertain

REDMOND AND IRELAND.

He Denounces Healy's Methods and la Indorsed-He Has Falth in Gladstone-A Good Sam Secured for His Cause in New

NEW YORK, June 15,-The Academy of Music was tastefully decorated to-night with the green flag of Ireland and the Stars and Stripes, the occasion being a reception tendered by a number of Irishmen to John E. Redmond, M. P., the Parnellite leader. The house was comfortably filled when Judge Wanhope Lynn called the meeting to order. The enthusiasm was great. There was a tempest of cheers when Mr. Redmond stepped forward. He began his address with a glowing tribute to Parnell. Said he:

with a glowing tribute to Parnell. Said het With a glowing tribute to Parnell. Said het Parnell preached the doctrine that we Irishmen were the equals of Englishmen who sought to be our masters. He tought, and even when he had but a band of men less than a score by his side, he defeated one after the other of the great political parties and finally he brought one of these great English parties to admit the justice of our claim. This was the position when last I stood on an American platform. What is the position to-day? The National unity has been destroyed. The National party is destructed, the National hopes are jeopardized, the National lopes are jeopardized, the National lapers jooks around in vain for a man fitted to take that place. [Cries of "You, you; you will do."]

The first proposals for peace made by the opposition came from T. P. O'Conner in a public speech. He stated that in the struggle for Home Rule for Ireland the representation in the British Parliament should include all shades of Nationalists. It should not be considered the triumph of a party, but the nation, I am for a policy of conciliation, consideration and kindness, a policy of fair and proportionate representation for the followers of Parnell.

Sympathy had been their principal opponent, and Mr. Redmond appealed to the Irishmen of the United States not to let his party be driven from public life. He then reviewed his personal efforts to bring about unity, all of which came to naught through the bitterness of Mr. Healy. He con-

The Irish members will never consent to half measures. Come weal, come woe, we are prepared to stand on Parnell's principles, and we will refuse to merge our forces in any English party, no matter how fair it may appear. We will never barter away our independence.

Next Mr. Redmond read a cablegram which he to-day received from Mr. Harrington, in which it was stated that every proposition had been rejected and that the Whigs were determined to expel every man who stood by Parnell. He then concluded: Then I demand of you, if you are in earnest and have not come here to hoodwink me fories of "No, no!"] that you will resist this attempt on the part of Healy to drive us from public life. I demand your support, and in closing let me say, lift up your hearts, for Ireland has suffered too much and encountered too many defeats to be disheartened now, even as this blow came just as she stood on the threshold of freedom. # PITTSBURG

At- Atlantic City, Where the Wild Waves Are Never Sad.

THEY HAVE FADS AND FANCIES

And Also the Cold Cash to Command Respectful Attention.

FIRST WHIFF FROM THE HAPPY LAND

ATLANTIC CITY, June 15 .- Despite the fact that the country is about to plunge wildly into that great social disturbance, national campaign, the residents of this famous lounging spot by the sea look forward with assurance to a season of the liveliest and most brilliant character. Indications of it are to be seen on all sides, and when the season was formally opened to-day a glimpse at the different hotel registers was sufficient to explain the contented smiles of anticipation which, even at this early date, adorn the visages of the army of landlords. Even the allurements of national politics will not be tempting enough to keep the great leaders away, and the "game" will go on all summer with the ablest exponents of each party battling for the supremacy from this point.

Chris Magee, whose temporary victory over his old-time foe, Quay, at Minneapolis has made him a conspicuous figure of the country, will spend the season at the Traymore, where he has engaged the most elab-orate and expensive suite of rooms in the house. Hitherto Mr. Magee has contented house. Hitherto Mr. Magee has contented himself with a modest room on the second floor of that famous hostelrie, but during the present season he will disport himself in apartments big enough for ten persons. The utterance of Chauncey Depew the other day to the effect that Magee's methods, coupled with his knowledge of politics, would make him in-valuable as a leader and counsellor in the Republican party, is particularly signifi-cant so far as Atlantic City is concerned, for it indicates that the political Mecca of the coming campaign will be cooled by the breezes which blow from the ocean at this

Where Harrity Will Cool Off.

Bur the Pittsburg politician and his lieutenants are not to be left alone in their glory by any means. Secretary of State Harrity, who is as regular as clock work in his weekly pilgrimages to Atlantic City, and who is at present engaged in grooming that darkest of dark horses, Governor Pattison, has rented a roomy cottage located not a stone's throw from the Traymore. With this fact in hand it would not be impossible for even a modern detective to guess out the loca-tion of the Pennsylvania Democracy during the hot months.

A Well-Known Lawyer's Fad. THE amusement providers, of which a large percentage of the population of Atlantic City is composed, treat the average Pittsburger just as he really is-a very clannish mortal. He has fads in all things, including eating, drinking and smoking, and he is particularly "faddish" in bathing suits. For illustration of this latter "fad," take the preparations made by Major Montooth for his bathing this summer. The handsome Major, who has engaged rooms at the Windsor, which he is to occupy for six weeks, beginning he is to occupy for six weeks, beginning July 2, spends two hours in the surf every day, no matter what the weather may be. The people who run the bathing establishment take nothing for granted in providing bathing apparel for Montooth. They obey

The Major has a suit for every day of the week. They are of varied colors; but the fit, about which the wearer is the most particular, is always the same—perfect. Mr. Montooth has caused to be fitted up for his own individual use a bathing parlor which liffers from the ordinary dressing room, inasmuch as it is carpeted and upholstered.

Wherein Bathers Differ.

THE Major is not alone by any means in his desire to enjoy the best that old ocean affords. Major Moreland, George Westinghouse and Calvin Wells have also engaged exclusive bathing parlors at Rutters. Major Moreland is also very tond of having bathing suits that fit perfectly, and blend beautifully with all colors of the rainbow. Mr. West inghouse is always content with a dark blue jersey suit, but in Mr. Wells, the ordinary athing master sees a customer that is easy to fit and easier to please. So long as suit serves the purposes demanded by mod-estly and the public, Mr. Wells does not care whether it is made of calico or cretonne, silk or satin, jersey or jeans. At the end of last season, just before Mr. Wells departed for his own bustling city, he expressed a wish that the somewhat dilapidated suit he had worn all season be laid away for another year, as he had become somewhat attached to it. Your correspondent was shown the suit yesterday, and a thoroughy disreputable and froway-looking piece of property it is. But the camphor has been shaken out, and it hangs ready for Councilman Flinn Secretive but Confident. ROBUST looking Phil Flinn put in an appearance on the board walk yesterday. Mr. Flinn modestly declined to state his plans for the summer, but he vouchsafed the information: "That's a mighty good ticket we made at Minneapolis, and we're in it, see? Bill is coming down here next month and he's going to stay all summer. But Harrison will be elected all the same."

Some New Amusement.

THE new opera house of Young, McShea & Fralinger, at New York avenue and the beach, is fast nearing completion and an effort will be made to open it on the 20th inst. The new theater is quite metropoli-tan in its dimensions and is modern. It will seat 1,400 persons. There are 600 opera seats. The stage is 58x60 with a 50-foot opening and six exits.

Pittsburg Is Getting Thera. A GOODLY number of Pittsburgers are already registered at the different hotels, but the number is hardly large enough to make a respectable advance guard to the army that is expected to arrive by next army that is expected to arrive by next week. As a general thing, at least so tra-dition goes, the ordinary Pittsburger does not arrive in large quantities before the latter part of June. But when he and she do get here they get here to stay, and very often the flurrying snowflakes of early win-ter alight on more Pittsburgers than on persons from any other locality.

AT THOUGH the season is in its infancy the devoted fishermen of the island have already determined to raise an issue in order to protect the scaly beauties that find their way into the thoroughfare. It is a question which involves the right of visitors largely. There is a State law which prohibits the taking of fish by nets, but it is a law more honored in the breach than in the observance. Thousands of weak fish have been taken by the netters this season from the thoroughfare, and the number is hable to reach hundreds of thousands if the authorities do not step in and interpose the the strong arm of the law. A great many who come here to fish do not care to risk the chance of seasickness and therefore are compelled to resort to the thoroughfare to enjoy their piscatorial pastime. The First Big Event Scheduled.

THE chief event of the early season and one in which many Pittsburgers will participate will be the National Council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics to be held in this city June 21 to 23, inclusive. That the convention and the atcharacter is assured by the fact that no less than 25,000 members of the order, of which a fair proportion represents Pittsburg branches, will be here during the three days. Fully impressed with the importance of making the visitors feel thoroughly at home, the city authorities are making elaborate preparations for their comfort and entertainment. Hotel proprie tors with an eye to business are getting ready to decorate their caravansaries, and private citizens and cottagers will flaunt from their residences the Stars and Stripes in honor of the patriotic guests. ### ORANGEMEN ADOPT A PLATFORM

In Which Vigorous Denunciations of a Certain Religious Body Are Made-The Election of Officers and the Reception Finish the Day's Work.

At yesterday's morning session of the Orangemen's Convention a platform was adopted that contained most vigorous denunciations of a certain religious body much power, the members which were declared to be disloyal to the Constitution of the United States and utterly unworthy the honor of the title of citizenship. The Orangemen of the country were called upon to be loyal to the Stars and Stripes of the Nation and to show their patriotism upon all occasions. Expressions of sympathy were extended to Orangemen of Ireland who opposed the oppression of landlords.

At the afternoon session the order of business was the election of officers. This occupied the entire time, and it was 8 o'clock in the evening before the body adjourned.

The following officers were elected: Most Worthy Grand Master, Robert G. Padew,
Pittsburg; Deputy Grand Master, H. H. Minneapolis; Grand Secretary, Thomas Milligan, Everett; Grand Treasurer, James Caldwell, Philadelphia; Grand Lecturer, William Gillen, Philadelphia; Director of Ceremonies, John Beatty, Cleveland; Grand Chaplain, G. H. Thomas, Detroit; Deputy Grand Secretary, J. R. Smith, La Crosse, Wis.; Deputy Grand Treasurer, S. A. Rodgers, Pittsburg; Deputy Grand Chaplains, W. J. Kyle, Pittsburg, and William Dawson, Boston; Deputy Grand Lecturers, A. M. I. McLeod, Quincy, Mass.; A. A. Patterson, New York; William Stevenson, Pittsburg; J. H. Johnston, Michigan; John Marshall, New Jersey; Henry Trotter, Connecticut; James Thomas Milligan, Everett: Grand Treasurer. Jersey: Henry Trotter, Connecticut: James McKelvey, Delaware; James F. McDowell, Maryland; Grand Trustees, W. J. Lees, Pittsburg, and M. A. Ross, Boston; Tylers, William Blaine, Oleveland, and John Wood,

Pennsylvania. In the evening a reception was accorded the delegates in Carnegie Hall by the mem-bers of Keystone district. John Wilson presided and made a brief speech, extending the welcome of the district's homes to visit-ing members. Rev. Mr. Donaldson, of Pleasant Valley, John Thresher, Rev. M. D. Lickliter, J. T. Knox and others made addresses, commending all members to be loval, patriotic and faithful to the various institutions of the United States. The public school system was highly spoken of. The G. A. R. Band furnished the music.

THE ELKS NOT SO FUNNY.

The Order Makes Some Sensible Recom mendations—The New Officers.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 15.-The first atter considered by the Grand Lodge, R. P. O. Elks, this morning was the annual report of Grand Exalted Ruler Hay. It was intimated that all legal and other difficulties connected with the separation of the Grand Lodge from the original New York City orvanization were in a fair way of being tled. It is proposed to revise the ritual and consolidate the present two de-grees in one. This matter is in the hands of a special committee The Grand Exalted Ruler deprecated senseless buffoonary in the initiation of candidates. He denounced the organization of "clubs" in connection with the lodges of Elks. He deprecated the custom of some lodges of meeting on Sunday. This sentiment met with very general approval. The suggestion to maintain the B. P. O. Elks as a special American institution was received with favor, as was the recom-mendation to reduce the per capita tax. The election of officers resulted as follows: Grand Ruler, E. W. Hay, Washington;
Grand Esteemed Leading Knight, Peter

Omaha: Grand Tyler, Edwin D. Lenox;
Grand Trustees, W. C. Vanderlip, Boston: P.
J. Campbell, Baltimore; J. W. Laube, Richmond, Va.

Detroit was chosen as the place for the next lodge.

The Canadian Pacific Outgrows Canada and Wants New York, Too. FIRES, FAILURES AND RAILWAY NEWS

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 TRENTON, June 15. - The proceedings in the action of the State against the Coalers to break the Reading deal have been postponed until July 7. The counsel for the State were ready for the argument in the matter to-day, but counsel for the Jersey Central asked for time, proving that the Wall street rumor that the New Jersey was erroneous. Indeed, Attorney General Stockton urged an immediate hearing. "If the statements in the information are true," he said, "large amounts of money are being drawn from the people daily by a combination that is in open violation of the law and in defiance of the authority of the State. The question must depend largely upon doc-uments attached to the information, the lease, the tripartite agreement and the charters of the corporations.

authorities were about to abandon the case

"When the rule to show cause was granted, returnable in 15 days, the defendants should have been ready on the return day; if not ready, it would seem to be the duty of the Court to grant the prayer of the information and give the preliminary injunction asked for until the case shall be heard. The injury is not only irreparable, but it is continuous, and the refusal of the Court to act, without any reason given to the contrary, would seem to be the denial of that protection which it is the duty of the Court to extend. If any delay is granted it should be short and defendants should not be permitted to come in at the end of that period to surprise the State with a new case which they could just as readily present now."
Chancellor McGill had pretty nearly the same notion about the matter, and he fixed July 7 as the latest date for the argument.

OUTGROWN THE DOMINION.

the Canadian Pacific Will Probably Make

Gotham Its Main Terminal, NEW YORK, June 15.—Is the great Canadian Pacific Railway seeking an American terminus? There has been no formal announce ment of the fact as yet, but well informe men declare that the boundaries of the Dominion have become too restricted for the vast corporation, and that preparations are now being made to run its rails through United States territory to this city. Less than three months ago the Hudson River Railroad and Terminal Company was or-ganized under the laws of New Jersey. Its parized under the laws of new Jersey. Its purpose is to construct a railroad beginning at Little Ferry, Bergen County, N. J., and ending at Edgewater, on the Hudson river, opposite this city. The entire length of the proposed road is three miles, of which more than a mile will be a tunnel through the Palisades.

proposed road is three filles, of which more than a mile will be a tunnel through the Palisades.

Since then a great deal of work has been accomplished. River front and hill property worth $200,000 has been obtained by the corporation, and the surveys for the tunnel are now being made. When the Terminal Company sprang into existence rallroad men concluded that its main object was an outlet for the New York, Susquehanna and Western Railroad, which winds back of the Palisades and sends its passengers into New York through traffice arrangements made with roads owning their own terminals. But there is a greater corporation than the Susquenanna—namly, the Canada Pacific—interested in the Terminal Company in the opinion of many persons, Henry Day, a patent lawyer in this city, and under whose property in New Jersey the proposed tunnel is to run, believes that it is a move on the part of the Canadian Pacific railroad to reach New York. The Canadian Pacific Company has had for some time surveyors in the Northern part of New Jersey, he says, in the Northern part of New Jersey; he says, and is evidently considering a plan of ex-

Mistakes in Treatment Were Almost Fatal-Food Brought Back Strength and Health-Diet Suggestions for Invalids, Bernardston, Mass. About ten years ago Mrs. A. C. Brooks, of that own, was taken seriously ill, and since that tim has been an invalid.

The simplest kind of food was rejected by her weak stomach and medicine had no good effect. She could not eat even broths or meat juice, and most of the time her stomach was so weak that it case excited a great deal of interest among the nedical profession. They agreed in saying it was the most severe case of indigestion they had ever seen. It looked as though her days were numbered for she was nearly starved to death. Yet whe hope seemed lost, there came a change and Mrs,

"Dr. W. H. Pierce recommended me to us actated food. I did so. Lactated food gave me health and strength, and my restoration is due to that alone."

There are many whose condition, though not s severe, is similar to that described above, where an easily digested, strengthening and appetizing food is an absolute necessity. In all weakened and debilitated conditions lactated food will give tone to the system, create an appetite, restore strength and hasten recovery. It is invaluable in fevers, dyspepsia and all wasting diseases. Invalids, dyspeptics, the aged, and all whose powers of digestion are weakened, find great good in this pure bank at the time of Bohm's failure and suicide held, or claimed to hold, an account against the estate for $587,000. The bank was the first to attach and would have had a clean sweep of all the assets, the demand amounting to $537,000. H. B. O'Reilly, representing $18,000 due the Mound City Distilling Company, of St. Louis, and the firm of Mihalovitch, Fletcher & Co., of Cincinnati, attacked the validity of the first attachments on the ground that the bank could not prevail in an implied contract and a tort as well. Judge Rising's decision was in accord with this view.
