A negative answer from the railroad officials would be welcome to the comrades and their friends, and the railroad officials should so arrange that a negative answer shbuld so arrange that a negative answer could be given. The many complaints made after last Grand Army Day about the lack of accommodations on the grounds for the convenience of the visitors will not be forgotten. The railroad has a good thing in this picnic ground, and if the condition of the grove has not been bettered since last summer the officials should see to it that at least the commonest necessities be provided for. The Grand Army Day Committee met in Municipal Hall yesterday and transacted routine business relating to the Rock Point pionic. The matter of the privileges of the grounds was left in the hands of the Subsistence Committee to hold under advisement. The committee adjourned to not meet again until the last Saturday in July, which will be the 30th.

Indianapolis wants the National Encamp

Indianapolis wants the National Encampment next year and is going to make a good fight for it. Lincoln, Nebraska, made a hard fight last year for this year's Encampment and will in all probability enter the lists for next year's. Chicago has been much talked of as the place of meetin 35 and two Southern cities have wanted a National Encampment for years. So there promises to be a lively contest in Washington in September.

The Commercial Club of Indianapolis is sending out letters to prominent comrades urging the claims of that city. One of these letters was sent to Past Department Commander Joseph F. Denniston. It is in part as follows:

"It was here that the G. A. R. held its first encampment and it is a cherished hope of the patriotic people of the city to see the veterans return after a quarter of a century to participate in the dedicatory ceremonies of the greatest soldiers' monument in the world erected by the State at a cost of over $400,000. The monument has been in course of construction for several years and it is the purpose to have it completed in time for dedication by the Grand Army during its National Encampment in 1856. Ample arrangements will, of course be made for the entertainment of the great number who will be expected to visit the city. A fund of $30,000 for this purpose has already been raised by the Commercial Club. The city has for years refrained from urging that the encampment be held here until this time, and it is hoped that this patience and the nature of the occasion will be thought worthy the acceptance of this invitation to come here in 1858, when, in accordance with custom, a Western city will be chosen."

A reply being requested, Major Denniston wrote that, all things being equal, he would favor Indianapolis. In answer to this, Mr. William Fortune, Secretary of the Commercial Club, of Indianapolis, wrote as follows: "Your opinion as to the advisability of the Grand Army meeting in Indianapolis instead of Chicago in 1893 is in accord with that of the majority of the commandes f

Comrade Russell's Visits. One of the most enjoyable of the official visits of Senior Vice-Department Commander W. O. Russell was that to Posts III and 329 at Elizabeth last Monday night. He was accompanied by Comrades Head, Sample and Hart from the city. Post 329, of West and Hart from the city. Post 323, of west and Elizabeth, met the party with a brass band and other marks of honor, and while supper was being eaten the band serenaded the party. Then the visitors and Post 329 crossed over to Elizabeth on the lerry and were met by Post 111. At the hall of the latter an arthurstile marting was hald at which over to Elizabeth on the lerry and were met by Post 111. At the hall of the latter an enthusiastic meeting was held at which visitors and visited made some pertinent speeches as to the duty of G. A. R. comrades, etc. The Senior Vice and his companions from the city will remember forever the way they were so handsomely entertained by Poets 111 and 329.

The official visit to Tarentum on Wednesday night was not such a success. Comrade Russell had to go alone. Post 135 did not have a quorum present, Post 289 was represented by one comrade, and Post 470 was not represented at all. These visits on the part of the Senior Vice Department Commander are entirely voluntary, and it is too bad that some of the posts do not show a little more appreciation. Last night Comrade Russell went to McKeesport. The visit to the Verona Post No. 380, scheduled for to-morrow night, has been postponed.

Next Tuesday night Posts 117 and 489 will be visited. It will not be the regular meeting of either of these posts, but a hall has been secured for this special purpose and all arrangements made to entertain a large crowd of visiting comrades. Comrade Russell expects to be accompanied by a large number of comrades from other posts and this meeting promises to be one of the best of the series. The visit to Post 128 scheduled for next Thursday will not take place till the following Thursday.

THE second annual reunion of the Twelth Post 155 held an interesting session Friday and Ladies' Circle No. 52, next Friday even-ing, to discuss a project the post intends to push. JOHN. M. BISHOFF, late of Company G Fifth Begiment, Pennsylvanta Heavy Ar-tillery, was reinstated a comrade of Post 151 last Tuesday evening.

COMBADE JOSEPH B. EATON has gotten up a directory of the Allegheny county posts. It is very handy: Comrade Joe uses it as one of his many cigar "ads." General J. R. Sweitser Post No. 48 had five new applications last night a week with three more coming. None of these have ever belonged to the Grand Army. Bravo, 481 Post 88 received two acquisitions to the membership roll last Tuesday night, one by muster and one by reinstatement. The good work is pushed right lively by Post 88's re-swered the last roll call Friday. The funeral will be to-day at 3 r. x. from the late com-rade's home on Webster avenue, and the in-terment will be in the Allegheny Cometery. A LAWN fete will be held on the grounds of the Ladies of the G. A. R. Home, Hawkins station, next Thursday afternoon and even-ing. The proceeds will help to pay off the debt on the institution. A large number of the city comrades will likely go out. Post 259 was officially visited by Senior Vice Department Commander William O. Russell last Tuesday evening. Although the night was a "roaster" there was a good attendance and a number of visitors were present. The meeting was a very enjoyable one.

COMBADE EDWARD PISHER, of Post 3, who has been laid up for about two weeks with a black spider bite, is on the high road to recovery, and is expected to be out in a few days. It was leared at one time that it would be necessary to amputate the injured foot.

at its last muster accepted the invitation of Post 128 to attend the encampment at the Beaver fair grounds Sunday July 8. Post 181's comrades will go by the P. & L. E. R. R. leaving the Southside station at 9 o'clook, city time. They expect to take a good-sized delegation. THE Executive Committee of the Seventy-

THE Executive Committee of the Seventyeighth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, has decided to hold no reunion thus fall for the reason that a large majority of the comrades desire to attend the National encampment of the G. A. R. in Washington, September 16, and have requested the committee to postpone the tenth reunion until 1893.

COMBADE ANTON WOLF, of Post 117, died

Friday morning at 5 o'clock. He was a gallant soldier, serving as color bearer in the First Pennsylvania Cavalry. He kept a hotel on Penn avenue, East End, for many years and never was a poor old soldier turned away hungry from Comrade Wolf's door. The funeral will take place this afternoom. SENIOR VIOS DEPARTMENT COMMANDED RUSSELL paid an official visit to Post 157 last Thursday evening. He was accompanied Thursday evening. He was accompanied by a delegation from Post 151. The colored troops—Post 206—turned out in force and played the role of visitors. Post 230 was represented by Commander Taylor. Robert Whitehouse was mustered in in first-class style, and all the work was so good that the visitors gave 157 the usual amount of taffy. The post is used to this.

Post 3 has been discussing the proposed changes in the method of taking care of the different cemeteries in the old city on Memorial Day. The sentiment in Post 3 seems to be that Posts 3, 41, 256 and 480 ought to take care of Allegheny and St. Mary's Cemeteries, and that Posts 157, 206 and 330 ought to take charge of Oakland, Miners-ville, etc., without having a General Memo-rial Day Committee of all the posts in the old city.

Post 162 has what is probably the handsomest thing of its kind in the Department. The cabinet-sized photos of 200 of the comrades have been arranged by Photographer Mahan on a 4x5 foot card. This will be placed in a handsome oak frame, finely carved, in the four corners being figures and symbols representing the four branches of the service—infantry, cavalry, artillery and navy. This will make a notable addition to the many ateractive features of Post 163; hall. Small copies of the large arrangement will be gotten up for individual comrades.

HOME OF COLONEL MORGAN, UNITED STATES ARSENAL off next Wednesday in St. Peter's Church

I confess if I were a bride I should rather face the prospect of old maiddom than that of a wedding in this weather. If succeed ing Junes keep pace with the present one, the beautiful legend of June brides will certainly melt out of existerce. Brides acknowledge that the marriage ordeal is trying when every circumstance is favorable: then how is it possible to conceive of a bride comforting herself with grace and dignity at the altar, when she is hotly conscious of one stream of perspiration gamboling down her back, another along the side of her cheek and that her upper lip is decorated with standing beads of a similar

A man's a man, and never so much so as when he is in love, and therefore as a bridegroom disposed to be more than ever profoundly critical. To be extremely damp from heat does not, to put it mildly, embellish any woman or accentuate her charms. The poets from the days of the first rhymster have raved over dewy kisses. But dewy kisses are another thing to damp kisses, and a bride who presents all her relatives and friends after the ceremony with her post-bridal lips might do well to remember this.

The second an nual river excursion of the Federal Club of Allegheny took place Tues-day evening and it proved to be one of the tenjoyable events ever given by this most enjoyable events ever given by this growing and popular organization. There were nearly 400 persons on the boat. Toerge furnished the music and the refreshments were supplied by a well-known caterer. While dancing was in progress on the lower deck, the Lone Star Quartet entertained the guests on the hurricane deck with suitable music. The boat was tastefully decorated with Chinese lanterns, bunting, etc. The club boys deserve great praise for the creditable manner in which the affair was conducted.

Wilkinsburg was a gay place last week. Thursday, Friday and Saturday the lawn fete of the Wilkinsburg fire department was held to the satisfaction of some was held, to the satisfaction of some hundreds of visitors, who listened to the music of the band, partook of soda water, lemonade, ice cream and other delicacles, and laughed, talked and flirted to their hearts' content. The annual lawn fete of the Wilkinsburg fire department is the most notable public occasion of the borough, and the ladies who were interested in it this year exerted themselves to an unusual the ladies who were interested in it this year exerted themselves to an unusual extent to make it particularly enjoyable. The grounds at the corner of South and Center streets were decorated with bunting in the national colors, and the booths all looked as gay as it is possible to imagine. The Homewood Band furnished the music, and the selections were of a character that could not fail to be popular. The music was one of the principal reatures of enjoyment at the fete. The celebration ended last night with a parade and speeches. A handsome sum of money was realized from the lawn fete given in Wilkin-burg under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Presby-

Society of Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian Church last week. The weather was beautiful, and this fact, coupled with that of the merry-making taking place on the beautiful grounds of the Hampton place, was enough to draw an immense attendance on both evenings. The ladies worked hard, and the arrangement reflected the greatest credit upon them. They were as nearly perfect as it is possible to make them in connection with that very uncertain prooceding, a church summer out-door entertainment. It is intended to give another fete on the same plan in the course of a few weeks, in response to a general request of those who were present at that of last week. The members of the Sunday school of the First Christian Church, West Braddock averue, Braddock, gave a very beautiful and interesting entertainment on Thursday evening. It was a "flower festival," and included all the orthodoxies, such as the crowning of the queen by the lord high chancellor, the offerings of flowers by the maids of honor and courtiers in singing and chancellor, the efferings of howers by the maids of honor and courtiers, in singing and acting. Flowers and plants in profusion gare the scene a wonderful simplation of the real thing. Miss Bessie Clay was queen, and she were crimson velvet trimmed in gold. Her maids, Misses Gardner and Nichol, wore white robes with trains. The affair was a monetary success, and one of the most artistic ever given in the town. The members of the Outing Circle of the The members of the Outing Circle of the Southside gave a delightful moonlight pienic on the grounds of the Point View Hotel on the Brownsville road last Tuesday evening.
