The latest phase of the controversy that has risen over the reports of a reconciliation between the Emperor and Prince Bismarck discloses the rottenness of the whole affair. The West Deutsche Allegemeine Zeitung, Bismarck's new organ in Cologne, denies that any overtures looking to a reconcilitation have been made by either side. It says that Baron Stumm, after the Emperor visited him, was the guest of Prince Bismarck. The Baron communicated to the Prince certain remarks that had been made by the Emperor, disapproving of the tone of certain semi-official papers toward the ex-Chancellor. Nothing more was said, except that Baron discloses the rottenness of the whole affair. Nothing more was said, except that Baron Stumm seems to have suggested that Prince Bismarck take the initial in seeking to re-

some form of apology to His Majesty.

On this point, adds the paper, Prince Bismarck cannot admit, even if the admission led to his reinstatement in office, ever trying to do wrong to the Emperor. It is the Prince's enemies who ought to ask pardon before the Emperor and the country. The internal history of the events which led to Prince Bismarck's retirement from the Chancellorship cannot be revealed now, but all precautions have been taken to pre-vent the future passing an incorrect judg-

CURE FOR IRELAND'S CURSE.

A Simple Remedy Recommended to Get Rid of the Potato Disease (BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.)

LONDON, June 18.-The potato disease. one of the great curses of Ireland, has lately been occupying the minds of the British Board of Agriculture, and they have after many experiments hit upon a remedy which has been embodied in a small pamphlet. The treatment is simple, expeditions and cheap. It consists in the application to the growing crops of a mixture of sulphate of copper and lime dissolved in water. From obser-vation and record of innumerable experiments carried on in France, Belgium and the United Kingdom, it is found that 25 pounds of sulphate of copper, with 123/ pounds of lime dissolved in 100 gallons of water, makes the proper strength of so

The first dressing is given between the 15th and 25th of June, the disease usually making its appearance in the first fortnight of July. The second dressing is applied after an interval of 18 to 20 days, and further dressing if the disease persists. As to the quantity put on, it curiously varies from 53 gallons per acre, recommended by one authority, to 150 by another. The result is said to be successful in all cases.

Among them is the tea gown for the Lendemain de Mariage, and the ball dress for the party on the et e of the wedding. The young Countessaugue, as she is called, is very young and slender and sylph-like, with blue eyes that have a dreamy look in them, and a crown of golden hair. Notwithstanding that she has a Hungarian tather and her cradle was on the Adriatic, she is numistakably English in appearance and in manner, and only the graceful courtesy with which she greets the stranger is Italian. She showed all the pleasure of an unspoiled young girl, as she tried on the preety gowns that had been prepared for her, each of which brought to light some new grace in the lithesome figure.

BOIES NOT IN PAVOR IN NEW YORK

IFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.! CHICAGO, June 18 .- After finishing this dispatch a high character from New York, Mugwumpish Republican, said to me: Keep you reve on Whitney as the dark horse. The Tammany men have served notice that they will not support Cleveland nor any Mugwump, which disposes of Boies. Hill has a splendid organization here. His committees are all picked out. I think that Whitney and Grav will be the ticket. It is clear to me that Cleveland cannot get two-thirds," In a few moments I met one of Mr. Whitney's household, who said: "It is true that they have tendered Whitney the support of New York, but he told me, only ust now, that under no circumstances would be accept. He has written a letter, and he says that to write one thing and wink at his own nomination would be a hypocrisy he could not commit. He feels that he owes a debt to Cleveland for putting him in his Cabinet. He says, moreover, that Cleveland has got this convention, and he believes will be nominated on the first ballot, but if not, the Cleveland men are prepared to stay here three months rather than see any combination prevail

Plan of the Anti-Cievelandites. I told this to John Fox, of New York, who said: "We would like to vote for Whitney, but he is emphatic in refusing to take it. Nevertheless the friends of the different candidates other than Cleveland have concluded upon an agreement. They are going to vote each delegation for its own candidate, in the belief that upon the failure of the first ballot Mr. Cleveland will be given up. Illinois, for example, is committed to Cleveland, but not beyond one ballot. We have counted the delegates, and are satisfied that he has not two-thirds to common with. We can then adthirds to commence with. We can then ad-journ and work over night to accomplish

Mr. Fox added that Mr. Boies was not acceptable to the New York Democrata. "Do not join the Democratle party, for there you must go to the tail of the class," was the advice given by a Democratic editor to his Republican contributor, and Boies, Gray and even Campbell are finding it out. Perhaps Tammany Hall has the least big-Perhaps Tammany Hall has the least big-otry in this respect of any element of the Democracy. They have always been ready to take up a Republican or war man and faithfully support him. They are now here with General Sickles, who left the Democracy in the anti-Nebraska times, and never returned to it till 1880, when his felow soldier, Hancock, was nominated. Then soldiership and the good things Tammany Robert Garrett, just before his mind weakened, met B. F. Jones, the Chairman of Blaine's campaign, and said to him: "If you count Blaine in you will be killed." Norvin Green is said to have received word from Gorman that if he did not stop putting out dispatcaes claiming Blaine's election, Mr. Gorman, who did not live in New York, would not be responsible for the property of his company nor the lives of its inmates. This sort of Democrat does not like to see Mr. Boics enter the party and get anything. They sav he cannot re mark like Governor Hill, "I am a Democrat," for he was not born there. Campaign Fodder for the Northwest, All these points are liable to be used in the campaign in the Northwest when Boies s turned down and Gray for the second time set underneath some old gentleman like Thurman. The nomination of Thurman is hitterly reterred to here among the instances of Cleveland's headstrongness. When Tammany Hall got in its work all day and night Friday, as some of the Souththe Morrison boom was being strenuously urged, and it may be said that Carlisle favors it, for he was Morri-son's creation. Morrison, commencing in 1874, made all the Democratic program electing Kerr and Carlisle and bringing free trade to the front. The weakness of his movement is that it is partially accessory to Cleveland, and he would drop the Vice Presidency gla dy. Having been a soldier he would supply the military requisite, while he is esteemed by the South-erners. But he was made officeholder by Cleveland, and so continued by Harrison

He fills the vacant places in Boies' record, having been always a Democrat.

At the Richelieu Hotel, late Friday night, a large, lat, inoffensive-looking man, who might have temporarily supplied the place of the fat boy in the dime sh caning upon the desk. It was Baby Bissell, of Buffalo, that beautiful alliteration in the flesh, who was Cleveland's partner. He was sending up his card to William C. Whitney, the general of all our forces, who, after getting a pint of champagne and som lunch, and retusing all cards, came downstairs about midnight to see Mr. Harrity, ot Pennsylvania. Why Dan Lamont Isn't Present. I inquired anxiously for Daniel Lamont and was told that about five months ago he and been stricken down with some disorder of the brain, and left a parcel of bonds unigned, and going to Europe, has never ince been heard of. He was getting $10,-100 a year, and his business was to do the nterviewing at the door and put the busi-less in shape, that Whitney in the rear

It owns one of the bridges at Albany, and may some day tackle the Vanderbilt combination.

Whitney's brother owns all the street railways in Boston, or combines them. This combination began with Republicans in Philadelphia, who sent Yerkes to Chicago, to see if there was anything to pick up.
Their programme is to discount the prosperity of the country, which, in their platforms they question. They will bet you that every city franchise is worth three times as much as it stands at in the stock list.

Then they will take two times the stock capital and let you play with the other third for a period of years.

Mr. Whitney set Mr. Cleveland on his feet as a real estate man in Washington, and made for him full two years of the Presidental salary. The big outside man of this combination is Ryan. The aldermanic man is Crimmins. The Republican end is Widener and Elkins, of Philadelphia.

Three Wise Men of the East. When Baby Bissell and Whitney and Harrity had drawn together it looked like the three wise men of the East who had seen the star and traveled toward it. Whitney got a place in the Cabinet after Manning had been put there, Manning being less de-had been put there, Manning being less desired than Whitney.

Here I see Al Fietcher, for years Randall's appointee in Congress, and afterward under Whitney in the Navy Department.

He, like Lamont, went into the street car combination, being appreciated for his mixing capacities to make the acquaintance of the aldermen, all of whom, he says, keep release. The advantage of having an aldersaloons. The advantage of having an aider-man with a saloon is that he is always at ne, you need not send him your card, for the price of a glass of beer you can call him by name, and for half a dollar, with which you treat, can even become his friend.

This is not like ex-Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild, who, at his hotel, yesterday, was called upon by a parcel of those reporters who come in with nothing in particular to ask and expect the great man to supply his own questions as well as man to supply his own questions as well as answers. Mr. Fairchild was not loath to golden buttons upon him, who extended a silver tray and took the reporters' cards, and after some minutes of mystery the door opens, and his countenance completed the statement: "The Department is now open half an hour for visitors to shake hands with my master."

Mr. Fairchild announced that he had n further business before this convention the disposition of its delegations. He was opposed to the maxim of "I am a Democrat," thus meeting the Western Bourbonism half way which said: "You are not a Cleveland's Nomination Expected. Said Mr. Fletcher, who seemed to have no side in this conflict, "I am expecting Cleveland's nomination, but if they can stay him off a ballot or two, he may go under. That hardly looks probable. There is too much ambition, and there are too many State favorites. In reality, we ought to look out for New York and Indiana, and let the whole of the North heading of let the whole of the North beside go. I tell you, gentlemen, that if the Democratic party is beaten this time I believe it will go down for good. The strain to work and raise money for eight Presidental campaigns will cause a snappage, some day. Nothing holds us up now but the solid South and the two States I have mentioned, both of which we have to carry. This man Harrison is unusually smart. He can make a hundred speeches, and you can turn them over and over and get nothing out of them to comment on. His appointments show that he is a fine politician, and that is why his convention so easily renominated him. He had laid the pipes for it from year to year, and when he found Mr. Blaine was preparing to run, three or four months ago, Har-rison just got ready for him. He held his negroes firm, although Sherman lost them after he had bought them."

A bystander remarked that only the negro vote kept the Northern States Republicar and that the negroes were fast dividing.

An Unexampled State of Affairs. "Pshaw!" said Mr. Fletcher. "I did a large part of Randall's work in the Fourth ward of Philadelphia. I have bought negroes time and again. They will stand by you in a local contest, but for Governor or President, I do not believe you can buy a negro in the land unless he has received counted, and that is all there is to it. Now while I have nothing more to do with politics, I have been too long in it not to under stand it. It is unexampled for a State to come here with a candidate and have the convention nominate from the same State a totally different man. If there are any precedents for this I do not know them. They state their case frankly. The City of New York is all in all to the Tammany delegation. Mr. Grace, who is here for Cleveland, heading the outide delegation, wants to be Mayor of New York. His organization has completed a State Committee, and they mean to fight Hill, Murphy and Tammany. The idea is to recognize the County Democracy. Now, do you know how Tammany Hall would meet them? They would say to the Republicans: 'Here are 30,000 votes; take your President and let us have our Mayor. Of course, it might be possible for the Cleveland interest to pull Grace out and break up his campaign, but he thinks more of carrying the City of New York for himself than for National politica. Where the Democrats Are Intrenched. "The Democrats have got a surer thing or New York, if they are united, than they ever had before. The Republicans in the last Legislature allowed their State system of election officers to apply to the 900 elec-tion districts in New York. In the country districts the Republicans have two to one of such officers who do the registering and tary. supervise the voting. They weakly let the same system go to New York, and Tammany has two to one there. Hence, the challeng ing of registration and or voting will be of no avail in New York City, and they can put 50,000 more votes into the box than they ever did before.

"The so-called Federal Detective Agency there I have always believed to be an appendage of Tammany Hall. Did you ever read of anybody being convicted for talse registering or voting? Now, Hill can hardly expect to be nominated, but there are lenty of Democrats whom every Democrat could vote for, in both New York and In diana. Campbell or Morrison would do

THE PEELING AT JAMESTOWN.

Delegate Futler Sava Blaine Republica Will Wager Money on Cleveland. CHICAGO, June 18. - Frederick A. Fuller. Jr., of Jamestown, N. Y., a member of the Democratic State Committee, and one of the Presidental electors in 1884, said to-day:

The sentiment of the people of Western New York, and of the independent voters as well, is unanimous for the nomination of Cleveland. The Democratic vote of Jamestown would be inc.eased from 500 to 1,000 it Cleveland is the choice of the Chicago Convention, as against Harrison. The nomination of Harrison in this strong Blaine district is a great disappointment to the Republican voters, and there is no one who could command the independent vote but Cleveland. It might be well to say that some of the leading Republican politicians of Jamestown are offering to wager money on the election of Cleveland if nominated. This sentiment exists all through that section of the State. The nomination of Cleveland would create great enthusiasm through the State and in my judgment he will carry the State by at least 60,000 majority. The independent voters of the State of New York have the balance of power in the State, and they to a man will support Cleveland.

Bill's Own District Against Him. CHICAGO, June 18.-Senator C. E. Walker, who hails from Senator David B. Hill's district, addressed a large crowd of Democrats at the Cleveland headquarters, last night. Senator Walker's arguments were cheered wildly. He informed the crowd that seven-eighths of the people in Hill's district are for Cleveland. "We live too near him to favor him," continued Walker. 'Tammany does not hope to nom-inate Hill, and it would not if it could. DEPEW RIGHT IN IT. Little Doubt That Blaine's Late Position Has Been Tendered Him

AS A REWARD OF POLITICAL WORK

It Is Even Said It Is Meant as a Stepping-Stone to His Succeeding

TO HARRISON'S SHOES IN FOUR YEARS

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] WASHINGTON, June 18 .- The presence here to-day of Mr. Chauncey M. Depew, an early call upon him by Mr. Halford, the Private Secretary of President Harrison, with an invitation to luncheon at the White House, the acceptance, and the prolonged visit of the glib-tongued New Yorker with Mr. Harrison, are thought to be good reasons for the assumption that the place vacated so unceremoniously by Secretary Blaine, is to be, or has been offered to Mr.

This would certainly be in accord with the "policy" Mr. Harrison has steadily pursued in his personal associations and his appointments to high office. He has never been known to refuse the most luxurious transportation about the country in the special cars of railroad magnates, and he has never been known to offer pay for anything. Presumably he thinks he gives an equivalent in the tenderness with which he treats all great associations of capital. Not Kept Awake at Night. Mr. Harrison has never laid awake at night brooding over the encroachment of capital upon the rights of the general public. He has never sounded the serious note of alarm on the subject of corporations or trusts. Any utterance of his, in message or speech, squinting in this direction, has savored of the really admirable criticisms on the same subject which appear regularly in the platforms of both of the old parties— delightful in their evasion, fascinating in the cunning by which they say what seems to be enough, and yet which do not say anything.

Mr. Harrison is not even as explicit as the platforms. His utter indifference to the possibility of harm arising from "com-bines" of capital has appeared in what he has said as conspicuously as in what he has After the nomination of Mr. Whitelaw

Reid for the Vice Presidency, the selection of Mr. Chauncey M. Depew for the first position in the Cabinet would be entirely logical. Both have been fighting labor organizations for years, both are of the millionaire element which Mr. Harrison so dearly loves to mingle with. Both have succeeded in cajoling and "making up" with the labor organizations just at a time when to do so meant much more to them than to the or-

One Way to Down Opposition Any opposition manifested in labor cir-cles could probably be easily overcome by compliment and wheedling and the appointment, or promise of appointment, of the leaders to good positions, as in the case of the president of the printers' union which en fighting Mr. Reid for years, who is now the foreman, and the one union man in the "union" office of the Tribune. The ease with which such troubles are adjusted when they effect the election of an interested somebody, is instructive, if not amusing. With the printers and the rail-road employes satisfied, who else of their classes should "kick." And with Repub-lican laborers and mechanics all in line, the millions that can be commanded by Reid and Depew and their immediate friends, ought to do the rest toward carrying New York, even in the event of the nomination of Cleveland, and that without the assistance of Tammany.

All this aside, Mr. Depew would be a welcome addition to the Cabinet. He is affable and approachable. The social thermometer of Cabinet circles would go up to Depew to Succeed Harrison Moreover, the story goes, that if Mr. Depew accepts a Cabinet position, it is with the understanding that in the event of holding machinery of the country, which did such valiant and successful work at Minneapolis, will be well oiled and burnished for the purpose of carrying Mr. Depew to the White House as the successor of Mr. Harrison in 1896. This may the "takes" which occasound like one of the "takes" which occa-sionally originate here, but it is really such a nice and comfortable arrangement all around that there may be something in it. around that there may be something in it.

The death of ex-Secretary Blaine could hardly have given a greater shock to the public of the district had it been announced instead of that of his son Emmons. The feeling was painful, especially because of the thought that immediately followed a knowledge of the death in the minds of everyone as to the effect on the ex-Secretary Every entities in heared on Mr. Blaine.

tary. Every criticism heaped on Mr. Blaine a week ago is now changed to sympathy and multiplied a thousand-fold. Emmons was the most popular of the three sons of Mr. Blaine, all of them well known in this city. He had neither the uppishness and egotism of Walker, nor the giddiness and fractiousness of James. His own personality is apparently wholly for-gotten, however, in thoughts of the terrible shock the news will give to the ex-Secre-

The House, ning of the week after next. The House, after doing nothing yesterday or to-day, coolyl (if anything can be cool in this stiffing weather) adjourned until next Wednesday, as long as was possible under the law. Next Wednesday an adjournment will probably be taken until the following Monday. Time is now of less consideration than comfort, and it may be ex-

Such conditions must inevitably produce, possibly in connection with other things, a new party. GOVERNOR GRAY WILL BE NAMED.

nator Voorhees to Piace the Hoosier Candidate in the Field. CHICAGO, June 18. - Daniel W. Voorbees, United States Senator and delegate at large from Indiana, announces that Ex-Governor Isaac P. Gray is a candidate for the Presidental nomination. "Indiana will present Governor Gray's name," he said, "and I be-lieve will vote solidly for him on the first ballot." Senator Vorhees will make the nominating speech himself. nominating speech himself.

"Could he carry New York?"

"They tell us that Mr. Cleveland can't carry New York because of his antagonism to Senator Hill. And then we hear that Senator Hill can't carry New York because of Mr. Cleveland's friends. Well, I don't pretend to understand the situation in New York thoroughly. Mr. Cleveland is my friend. But if neither he nor Senator Hill can carry the State we must obviously look can carry the State, we must obviously look elsewhere for a leader. The Democracy must have New York. We have a clear majority of the voters of that State. The only thing a Democratic candidate has to do in New York is to get the full vote of his party. Governor Gray is not identified with either of the factions, and I see no reason why he should not get the full strength of the party."

"Is Governor Gray any stronger than he was four years age? He was rejected then for second place on the ticket."

"We lost Indiana that year, too," the

CAMPBELL'S TRIENDS ALARMED Over the Proposition to Make Him the

Permanent Chairman. CHICAGO, June 18 .- The friends of ex Governor Campbell, of Ohio, are somewhat alarmed over the proposition to make him Permanent Chairman of the convention. Bearing in mind the recent experience of the Republican delegation from Ohio at Minneapolis they are fearful history may repeat itself. While they are proud of the honor that it is suggested be given their favorite, they are apprehensive it may sub-ject him to charges of an embarrassing

They say that while the respective attitudes of Governor McKinley and ex-Govertudes of Governor McKinley and ex-Governor Campbell are not exactly similar, and Campbell has announced his intention of voting for Cleveland, occupying this position, should votes be cast for him by the anti-Cleveland men, with the hope of stampeding the convention in his direction, nothing could ever convince the followers of Cleveland that Campbell had not acted in consonance with a well-arranged plan. The Ohio men now here say they would much prefer that ex-Governor Campbell should take his place quietly in his delegation and await the drift of events.

OPPOSITION TO MUGWUMPS

More Than Hatred of Cleveland Cause the Hillites' Defiancy. CHICAGO, June 18 .- Ex-Secretary Whitney had some novel ideas on the situation to-day. He said: The opposition to Mr. Cleveland among the New York delegates is not opposition to Clevelend so much as it is to the independent vote that follows Mr. Cleveland, and what you might call muzwump methods in politics. The truth is we have our regular army and a lot of new recruits that have joined us on recent issues, and the regulars distruct the recruits, and the recruits don't much like the regulars, and Mr. Cleveland is between the lines and gets banged at by both sides. We have got to have the new recruits in order to win. Where I think mjustice is done is in statements identifying Mr. Cleveland with mugwump methods, as though Mr. Cleveland was not a good party man himself

Mr. Whitney declared that the vote o the State did not show any bitterness toward Cleveland, and cited figures to show that Cleveland got more votes in 1884 than in 1882, more in 1888 than in 1884, and more in 1888, also, than the total for the Democrati candidates for Congress, where there were contests. Cleveland Figures Show That Grover Lack 33 of Securing the Prize. CHICAGO, June 18 .- A member of the Executive Committee of the Syracuse delegation to-night gave out a statement claiming that Mr. Cleveland had 566 votes, or 33 short of the necessary two-thirds. He took for the basis of his calculation a vote of 461 given by an anti-Cleveland man as the given by an anti-cleveland man as the strength of Mr. Cleveland.

This 461 was made up by States. Illinois, with 48 votes, is the largest vote on which Mr. Cleveland's friends assert that the figures are wrong. This is given solidly to Mr. Cleveland, under the unit rule. Other States in which it is claimed the anti-Cleveland figures were too small were: Georgia, 2: Idaho, 6; Kansas, 12; Massa-chusetts, 7; New Hampshire, 2; Pennsyl-vania, 6; Texas, 14, and Washington, 8.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.-It is learned to-night that the vacancy in the State Department was referred to only incidentally at the conference to-day between the President and Mr. Depew and that their conference related almost solely to the Minneapolis Convention and the management of the fall campaign.

A gentleman who is on intimate terms with Mr. Depew and who was in his com pany for over an hour after his visit to the President, said to-night that it was absurd to suppose that Mr. Depew would sacrifice his important business interests for a Fed-eral office. California for Cleveland, CHICAGO, June 18 .- John Bryson, Sr.

of Los Angeles, Cal., a prominent banker of that place, and an alternate at large from the State, has arrived in advance of members. Mr. Bryson is 73 years old, though he looks to be a man of 50 or less. "Cali fornia is for Cleveland," he said, "and so far as I know we have no second choice. In case, however, Mr. Cleveland's nomination should prove impracticable, then it would be a question how the vote of the State would be cast. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) CANTON, June 18 -- During a severe hunder storm a house occupied by a man by the name of Barnes was struck by lightning. A 16-year-old girl, Anna, had her left shoe torn off and her clothes badly burned, but, strange to say, no injury was done to her body. Mrs. Barnes was badly injured, and five other members of the famlly were severely shocked. There was a large crowd in attendance at

About 2 o'clock a thunder storm suddenly came up, and flash after flash broke through the clouds. Five large trees adjoining the platform were struck, creating a panic among those assembled there for shelter. Five ladies fainted and a number of others were affected by the shock, but none fatally.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon a heavy hail storm passed over the southern end of Blair county, Pa., doing great damage to garden truck. At the County Home the windows in the front of the building were nearly all brokes. Acres of growing corn were ruined broken. Acres of growing corn were ruined and wheat and oats were flattened. A special telegram to THE DISPATCH from Wheeling says: The strangest electrical storm on record occurred here from 8 to 9 o'clock this evening. At times the earth and sky were as brilliantly lighted as at noon on a sunny day, yet there was little thunder. Balls of fire descended in the southern sky and burst in varied colored flames. At times the whole sky seemed to be raining fiery snakes. Only a slight shower followed, but at the height of the electrical display the wind was almost a hurricane. One minute before the storm every star was shining. It struck the streets full of people. Children were up-set; men and women had hard work to keep their feet, while barrels, boxes and the like were carried to the housetops.

A special from Plymouth, Pa, says that the house of Orlando Addison, 14 miles back from Shickshinny, was struck by lightning during Thursday's storm. The bolt killed a 15-year-old daughter of the owner and set fire to the house, which was entirely consumed. The body was rescued with difficulty.
