THE STEEL RAIL MARKET PICKING UP

OFFICE OF THE DISPATCH, PITTSBURG, FRIDAY, June 24, 1892. Raw iron and steel-The unsettled condition of the labor question here and throughout the Shenango and Mahoning Valleys is calculated to seriously interfere with business. There are all kinds of rumors affoat, but up to this date nothing of a definite character has been decided on. The men and manufacturers differ so widely in their views as to give rise to the suspigion that both parties are prepared to yield something and that the adoption of a compromise scale may satisfactorily settle the introversy. Meantime the uncertainty is causing some consumers to place contracts at other points that would otherwise have been made here, and certain Western manufacturers are insisting mon strike provisions in their contracts, butil this matter is definitely arranged the rade will be disturbed and but little rogress can be made toward a permanent roved condition of affairs.

An Eastern Manufacturer's Views.

well-informed Eastern dealer thus deeribes the situation: "In nearly every canch of the trade conditions are as un-atisfactory as it is possible for them to be, he close competition for business among the various producers making the margin of profit on sales extremely narrow. When sumers insist upon a special brand of prices are more satisfactory, but even outh all the advantages of efficient and conomical plants there are many furnaces but find it difficult to make iron for prices low ruling. The principal pressure to sell schiefly of brands that are not so well ly of brands that are not so well as to be classed among the stand-the leading furnaces reporting a i sufficient to absorb the larger their current output, and are thereof maxious to offer concessions as or in date of delivery to orders outside their regular line omers. Notwithstanding the liberal ice of fron that are offered for variliveries, at prices below anything ported in this market, there appears better feeling manifested. This is a better feeling manifested. This is ably due to the fact that the more e demand of the past few weeks has ted in reduction of accumulated , showing that production and conption are more nearly equalized."

Than Has Been Going on for a Great Many Weeks Past.

CINCINNATA, June 24.-[Special.]-Rogers Brown & Co. say: The buying for the past week has been on a larger scale than for many weeks provious. The orders taken in this market since the 18th will aggregate something over 20,000 tons. This has come argely from leading agricultural imple enerally through Southern coke irons, Onio brands and Lake Superior charcoal authern coke irons, however, took the bulk of the tonnage, Deliveries in s run to the end of the year. The comcases run to the end of the year. The com-petition of the larger business was very close, and quoted prices were shaded some-what. Some surprise is expressed that in the face of favorable underlying conditions ill along the lim, the market for pig fron will remains weak and unsettled. While an advance is fully expected by most furnhous before the end of the year, nevertheless here is great competition for orders run-fing six months shead, and at present prices. that the present season of discouragement and distrust is a pretty sure sign that a reaction is near. It is pretty certain things cannot go on indefinitely as they are, for it is well known that stocks are being reduced, that many furnaces cannot realize cost on the present market even after the most rigid economy and reduction of cost have been put into effect. This general view of the situation has led to some inquiry from investment quarters and some sales of size have been consummated, taking the iron off the market until better times. It is rumored that 30,000 tons of furnace iron will also be put into storage to await an improvement in the market. The wage matter being unsettled lends uncertainty to the operation of rolling mills and adds weakness to the market for gray forge irons. In car wheel irons there is more than the usual quiet out with malleable works there is general activity, resulting in the ciosing of large transactions each week. It is understood that most of the malleable iron concerns have pretty fully covered their wants for the coming season. that the present season of discouragement and distrust is a pretty sure sign that a reac-

No New Features at St. Louis.

St. Louis, June 24.—[Special.] — Rogers, Brown & Meacham say: The past week has developed no new feature in our local market. Purchases for current requirements continue on a moderate scale at previous prices, but consumers appear indifferent to offers for later deliveries, arguing that they will do better by waiting. Most of the furnaces are indisposed to make any concessions below present prices, consequently parties are only buying as their needs actually require. They then want it shipped by fast freight, and delivered at the earliest possible moment.

Awaiting a Settlement of Wages, Philadelphia, June 24.—[Special.]—The labor question must be settled before any large buying movement can set in. Although the mili men are the only strictly in-terested parties, yet it seems to affect the buyers of foundry irons, particularly in the vicinity of Pittsburg. If an amicable ar-rangement is made on June 30 we may exrangement is made on June 30 we may expect to see quite an improvement in the volume of business in iron and steel of every description. There is a marked scarcity of steel for early delivery, and nothing under $23 at Pittsburg or Wheeling would be considered.

No Change at Birmingham.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., June 24.—[Special.]—The iron market continues without change. Production here is heavy, stocks are large Production here is heavy, stocks are large and prices lower than they have ever been nefore. The only incident of any importance for weeks has been the signing of the scale by the coal miners. No change was made in that already existing, and there was no friction in regard to it. It is 45 cents per ton at the mines of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, sliding upward with the prices of iron. The scale goes into effect July 1.

A Little Improvement at Chicago. CHICAGO, June 24. - [Special.] - Rogers improvement in the demand since last re improvement in the demand since last re-port. A fairiy good volume of business is going in Northern and Southern coke irons, and while orders are being placed mainly for early needs, a few buyers are covering their season's requirements. Lake Superior char-coats remain unchanged with prices holding firm.

SEVERAL NEW BUILDING SCHEMES Good Offers for Property in East Liberty

Declined With Thanks. CHARTIERS PROUD OF ITS NEW BANK

Outside business and capital continue to point toward Pittsburg. W. A. Herron & Sons yesterday leased for a long term of years to an Eastern firm the large new building on Seventh street, near Penn, lately finished and owned by Mrs. Ross, of North avenue, Allegheny. It will be occupied as a furniture and general installment house. In regard to business stands a member of the firm above named said: "While large, old style structures are occasionally hard to rent, good, new, modern ones in fair locations and on long leases are in good request. Owners would run no risk in putting up buildings of this kind. They would be sure of a fair income on long leases."

Fresh Building Intelligence,

Building is going forward satisfactorily. Something new in this line transpires every day. W. A. Herron & Sons yesterday sold 100x200 feet on the south side of Center avenue, adjoining the fine residence of W. H. nue, adjoining the fine residence of W. H. Keech, to a prominent business man for $11,000, including cost of street improvement. The purchaser will improve during the season with a dwelling which will rank with the finest is that locality. J. B. Moreland, the East End undertaker, is erecting three elegant houses on North Highland avenue, near Penn. They will cost about $16,000. Robinson & Kennedy are the contractors. For & Watkins are finishing a ractors. Fox & Watkins are finishing a block of 10 brick houses on Rippey street, near Highland avenue. They are negotiat-ing for several acres in the Highland Park ing for several acres in the Highland Park district, Nineteenth ward, with a view to the erection of a considerable number of handsome homes. It is said a deal is on for four lots on Kelly street, Wilkinsburg, adjoining the Third ward school house, the object of the possible purchaser being the erection of four houses of a character similar to those standing on that thoroughfare. Ready for Business.

Yesterday President Pickergill, of the First National Bank of Chartiers, received a telegram from the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington to the effect that the charter for the institution had been granted. As this result had been expected quarters were secured a week or two ago and handsomely fitted up. The bank will be open to visitors from 7:30 to 9:30 this evening. to visitors from 7:30 to 9:30 this evening. It will be ready for business Monday morning. Citizens of the borough are highly elated over a consummation so long wished for. The bank will not only be a great convenience to business people, but it will add to the importance of the town. No community in this country is complete without a bank and a newspaper. It took the Chartiers people several months to work the Chartiers people several months to work up the proper sentiment, but when the time came the stock was taken in a liffy Twice the smount could have been placed. There is an urgent demand for property in what is known as the "hub" of East Liberty. This is a business quarter exclusively, and, as might be expected, values are pretty steep and very strong. In fact, so confident are the owners of future advancement resulting from commercial development, that in most cases they refuse to name figures for their holdings. One of them said yesterday: "I do not care to sell, for no matter what price I could obtain, I know of no investment having such possibilities as the property itself." Several good offers have been made within a week and refused. I. H. Coleman & Co. made a bid of $18,500 for 18 feet frontage on Frankstown avenue, near Penn, but it was not entertained. Kelly & Rogers offered $17,000 for 17 feet, occupied by Mr. Acker, on the same avenue, but received no encouragement. These are facts which buyers would do well to consider. It seems olear that they must accept the situation.

The Market Back in Professionals' Hands-Only a Few Features Relieve the Dullness-Nothing to Keep Back Better Prices-Railroad Bonds Heavy.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The stock market of ate seems to have again gone completely and, possessing this character, it remains narrow, with duliness the feature of the trading in the great bulk of the list, while one or two stocks are pushed up or down over a comparatively wide range, and by reason of their comparative activity sav the market from utter stagnation. The market opening was tame at practi-cally last night's prices, and the movements in the leaders being so well balanced during the early trading, no apparent tendency is peculators Think Because It's Raining it Chicago It's Raining Everywhere-The Anti-Option Bogie Won't Down-Prices Unsettled-Lower for Wheat and Oats. CHICAGO...The deluge in Chicago was so heavy that speculators found it hard to un-derstand how the growing crops could have escaped. That appeared to be the main cause of the advance in prices at the open-ing. As a result of better information by telegraph the close to night, compared with last night, showed a net decline of %c for wheat and oats with corn unchanged. The provision list was 7%200c up.

Only a light business was transacted in wheat. The opening was %c higher, and advanced %c or more; then became weak and declined %c%c for various futures; ruled steadier, closing %c%c from the bottom. The anti-option bugie poked its head into the hall at intervals and scared the traders, but the opinion gained in force that the bill will be shelved in the Senate.

The feeling in corn was unsettled. Initial transactions were at %cle advance. The shorts in covering bid the price up on each other. At the advance the offerings became large, a good deal of long property coming out, the impression that the local combination had sold out their holdings causing room traders to sell freely, and the price declined 161%c in short order, but rallied %c later. The cash market opened stronger. The market ruled easy, closing steady at last night's figures. telegraph the close to-night, compared with ruled easy, closing steady at last night's figures.

Oats were traded in liberally, and a stronger feeling prevailed, due chiefly to a fair demand from outsiders, and also to rather uniavorable crop reports.

The provision traders showed little interest in the market after the first hour, with a lighter run of hogs and higher prices at the yards, and corn le up from the close Thursday. All products started strong and higher. The advance was met by free offerings from scalpers and holders with profits. The grain markets weakened and provisions went off with them. Later there was a little life in ribs because of free changing from July to September, mostly at 5c difference, while lard and pork were mostly neglected.

The leading futures ranged as follows, as con-

ble stalls trade for the week has been quiet The strawberry season reached its height in the middle of the week, and the house keeper who failed to lay in supplies at that time has missed her opportunity for this season. Raspherries are now to the front and will occupy the field the coming week.

Among the new arrivals in vegetable lines

Among the new arrivals in vegetable lines are sweet potatoes and squash from the far South. Water melons and cantaloupes are in increasing supply and prices are lower than they were a week ago.

Dairy products have undergone no change in the past week. Fancy creamery butter is firm, but retail prices are unchanged. Dressed poultry has been scarce all the week and markets are active at an advance. The first roasting ears of the season have been on sale within a day or two. New apples are also to the front, but quality is thus far poor. At the fish stalls supply and demand are reported light. Florists report a fair demand for their products.
