SOLD INTO SLAVERY

How the Proprietor of the Great Springer Estate Was Kidnaped.

STOLEN FROM HOME WHEN A BOY.

Local Heirs Preparing to Make a Hard Fight for the Fortune,

ONE IS MARRIED TO BLAINE'S SISTER

The publication in THE DISPATCH that the great Springer estate of Wilmington, Del., was awaiting the heirs has brought to light the fact that a number of them reside near Pittsburg. It also developed a romance about the life of the Springer who founded this estate. He was kidnaped, brought to America and sold as a slave. He was known as Lord Essley.

The circumstances during the time of his servitude are not well known. He was brought to America from his home in Sweden. One of his countrymen, happening to be in this country, saw him and the father sent over the boy's old nurse to identify him.

Mrs. Virginia Evans is one of the heirs, and it was through her the above information was obtained. She lives at 47 Thirteenth street, Sharpsburg. She is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Loomis, of Elizabeth. The whole family is naturally interested at the prospects of a fortune. Mrs. Loomis has written to her daughter, Mrs. Mary Large, of Montana, for the genealogical tree and the family Bible in order to trace out the other heirs.

Other fielrs in This Country. Mrs. Loomis has another daughter, Mrs. Josephine Struckell, employed in the Dead Letter Office at Washington. The family of Captain Gordon, near Springdale, are of Captain Gordon, near Springfale, are also heirs. Senator Springer, of Illinois, is another of the heirs. All of them are pre-paring to make a hard fight for the million's worth of real estate in Wilmington.

Mrs. Mary Loomis, of Elizabeth, Pa., in a letter to her daughter, Mrs. Evans, of Sharpsburg, recounts a number of peculiar incidents in the family history. Mrs. Loomis is a granddaughter of Elizath Springer, one of the original Springers of Wilmington. Mrs. Loomis attended her grandmother much of the time in Wilmington during her last illness. Elizabeth Springer often told parts of the family history. Once, as a great secret, she told her granddaughter that her great-grandfather had been kidnaped. His father's estate in Sweden was an immense one, and the oldest son was, of course, idolized by all. Wandered Off Never to Return

One evening he wandered off into the forest and did not return. He was mourned for years as dead. A gentleman whose lands adjoined those of the Springers came to America. Near Philadelphia he saw a boy that greatly resembled his neighbor's child. All the boy knew was that he had been brought to America and sold as a

The gentleman went home and told the father of having found his son. The father, however, to be certain it was his child sent the nurse who had cared for him as a boy to America. She recognized him by a mark on his back. He was taken back to Sweden, but on the death of his father he returned to America and bought the immense tract of land at Wilmington, Del. This was the land that he leased for 100 years and which is now to revert to his

The gentleman to whom the kidnaned boy had been sold said the boy would not work, but would read and study all the time. After his return to Sweden he was known as Lord Essley, though he took the family name of Springer when he returned nel Walker in Wilmington. Eight chil-dren were born there. Charles, Gabriel and Rebecca Walker died at Wilmington while they were young. When the war of 1812 broke out Samuel and Hugh Walker enlisted under the American flag. They served with honor during the greater part of the war. Then both fell victims of the fever. One died in the hospital at Fort Meigs and the other near there.

During the war the English stole Elizabeth Springer's driving norse. She was a large woman and very fair. She had auburn hair and her cheeks were red as long as she lived. She had dark eyes and always dressed in Swedish costume. The British occupied her house as headquarters when in Wil-One of the Walkers came West and married a sister of James G. Blaine. The family

Died From His Injuries William Merrick died at midnight at the Allegheny General Hospital on Saturday night from injuries received on the Ft. Wayne road at the North avenue crossing wayne road at the North avenue crossing six hours before. His legs were cut off, his left hand amputated and the right arm cut open from the wrist to the shoulder. His home was at 2107 Vine street, Philadelphia. He was a brakeman and 24 years of age.

The entire Allegheny department was called out at 10:30 yesterday morning for a fire in the stable at Heinz's pickle works on Main street. There were 30 horses in the stable, but all were saved by Mr. Schmoder, who lives near there. Two tons of hay were burned. The loss will amount to

The Daintiest Lunch.

With the thermometer at 100° or so what could be more delightful for a noontime luncheon than a glass of cold milk and a few of Marvin's crisp, fresh soda crackers? That's what the physicians would call a "hygienic luncheon." You'll grow lat on it and forget that the weather is at the boiling point. You can get Marvin's crackers from your grocer.

MESSAGES BY THE CYCLE ROUTE.

One to Be Carried From Washington by Wheelmen in Twenty-Four Hours. Local wheelmen have determined to demonstrate that it is possible to bring a message from Washington, D. C., to this cityris the bycicle route—in 24 hours.

They have induced the cyclers between Pittsburg and the nation's capital to aid them in the laudable enterprise, and arenow perfecting arrangements for the test. The idea is to have the message, which is to be written by President Harrison and addressed to Mayor Gourley, carried in relays of 12 miles each. The race starts from the White House on the morning of the ninth day of next month and, if all goes well, will terminate at the steps of the City Hall on the morning of the following day.

Mr. George Petticord, of the "East End Gyms," has charge of the affair at this end of the line and expects the complete all are of the line and expects to complete all ar-rangements in a few days.

THE DOG GOT AWAY.

Two Shots Were Fired at It, but It Made Its Considerable excitement was created in the West End Saturday night by a dog supposed to be mad. The animal belonged to Michael Dougherty, of West Carson street, About supper time people along the street were startled by the cry of "mad dog." The dog came running down the street snapping at anybody that opposed his prog-ress. It collided with the four-year-old son of Humphrey Bluch, knocking him over, but did not bite him. Officer Dawson was attracted by the noise and fired two shots, but failed to hit the animal. It was not captured, and did not return home.
