On June 13 we advertised a special sale of Baby Carriages. Although our stock was exceptionally large at that time, yet so numerous were our sales that within a week our assortment was broken, and we were completely sold out of some of the lines advertised. Hundreds of would-be purchasers went away disappointed, as much to our regret as to their own. But, "it is an ill wind that blows no good," and the fact that our own stock was almost entirely sold out enabled us to go into the market ready to buy large lots; and as the season is about over for the manufacturers we were able to practically dictate prices. Consequently we offer inducements this week even surpassing the sale of June 13.

A SHIP CUT CLEAN IN TWO

That Is Thought to Be a Nova Scotia Vessel With 23 Men.

SOME CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

Both Boats Overdue, and the Sailing Port of the Taylor

FOUND ON ONE HALF OF THE WRECK

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, June 26.-The identity of the vessel cut in two on or just before Thursday last by the iron prow of a swiftrunning steamship, about 260 miles east of Sandy Hook, has been pretty well established. It is believed that she was the Nova Scotian ship Fred B. Taylor, which left Havre in ballast for this port 43 days

She was spoken on June 12, about 960 miles east of New York, by the White Star steamship Majestic, bound west. On Thursday last, her atter-half, floating bottom up, was passed by the Dutch tank steamer Ocean, which arrived on Saturday from Amsterdam. The forward half was passed on Wednesday last by the steamship Stuart Prince, which arrived on Friday from Mediterranean ports. The Ocean passed the after-half in latitude 42° 22', longitude 68° 10', and the Stuart Prince passed the forward half in latitude 40° 21', longitude 68° 20'. They were thus only a few miles apart. The cap tain of the Stuart Prince says that the shaven part of the wreck he saw was under The jibs and all head sail were set, and most of the foremast was out of the

A Minute Description of the Wreck. vessel in ballast, otherwise it probably would not have been afloat. That the vessel was a ship was evident from her mizzen channels, which were very long. Her stern was large and round, like that of the Fred B. Taylor, and she was painted black. That part of her counter on which her hailing port, "Yarmouth, N. S.," was

All this answers to the description of the | many buildings are weakened-Taylor. She had been struck on the port side, and the cu: was as clean as if it had been made by a gigantic ax. It looked as if it was only a few hours old. The fate of the Taylor's skipper, Captain E. F. Hurlship down is heard from, unless she too was

There is a chance that some of the Taylor's crew may have clung to the after-half of her and may have been rescued.

Description of the Missing Vessel. The Taylor was a sturdy double-decker, of 1.798 tons, and was built at Tusket, N. She was 237 feet long, 42 feet beam, and 24 feet deep, and was constructed of hard and soft wood. She was overhauled and repaired last year, and was in first-class shape. She was owned by William Law &

Captain Hurlbert, who is, or was 28 years old, was accompanied by his young bride on the ship's last voyage to Havre. She left him there and came to Brooklyn. On Wednesday Mrs. Hulbert became a mother.

The ship was chartered by Paul Gerhardt, of the Brazil Mail Line, and was coming here to load for Buenos Ayres. The fate of the ship naturally started the nautical sharps guessing what steamship it was that had run her down. The fact that the Por-tuguese steamship Vega is five days overdue at this port, from Lisbon, whence she sailed June 5, caused the linking of her name with that of the luckless Nova

The Vega's agents, G. Amsinck & Co., are vegas agents, it. Amsinck & Co., are somewhat uneasy about her. One of their representatives called at the Barge Office to-day and said she had been confidently expected on Wednesday last. He had a tug ready to-day to go down and meet her, under the impression that she might be reported disabled.

Five Hundred Lives in Doubt. When the Vega left Lisbon she had 316 steerage passengers aboard. She called at the Azores and got probably 100 more. Her usual time between this port and Lisbon, including five days at the Azores, is from 15 to 16 days. She is now 22 days out. She is an iron vessel of 1,943 tons and was built at Newcastle by A. Leslie & Co., in 1879. If she or any other westbound steamship ran down the Fred. B. Taylor, the Nova Scotian must have been standing to the south on the starboard and otherwise she probably would not nek, otherwise she probably would not have been struck on the port side. A blow on the same side might have been inflicted by a steamship bound east, if the Taylor was standing to the north on the port tack. If the steamship was bound this way, and was not damaged, or sunk in the collision, she ought to have been heard of before to Three steamships, La Gascogne from Havre, the Brittania from Gibraltar, and the Fulda from Genoa, arrived to-day and saw nothing of the Vega, and nothing of the drifting halves of the Nova Scotian. Some of the experts were inclined to doubt that the Vega had the speed to make such a clean cut through the Taylör. They said it was more likely that the ship had been hit by one of the twinscrew racers, but there was none of them there The nearest was the Majestic, which on her last west-bound trip spoke to the Taylor and brought news to the Captain's wife that his ship was nearing New York. wife that his ship was nearing New York. The Majestic did not leave this port, on her return, until Wednesday afternoon, the day the wreck was first seen.

AFTER THE ALLIANCE VOTE.

A Georgia Democratic Platform Maker Analyzes the Chicago Affair.

ATLANTA, GA., June 26.-L. F. Garrard, the Georgia member of the Platform Committee at Chicago, says: "I insisted that for 25 years the Southern States had appeared in the National Democratic Convention and were told what was necessary to be done to carry New York and Indiana for the Democrats, but that the time had now come when they were brought face to face with the problem of retaining the solid South in the Democratic ranks and that the views of the South must be respected. By a careful reading of the platform adopted it will be seen that almost every material idea in the Georga platform is covered by the national platform."

Summarizing, he declares that the arraignment of the force bill is the most prominent plank; that the tariff plank is all that could be asked for, the amendment adopted being a mere change of phraseology; that the denunciation of trusts and syndicates is complete, the section being written by him. The silver plank he holds to be for absolute free silver, its declaration for free minitage covering gold and gilver, and the fact that gold is already free giving the same character to the demand for kindred metals, which is to put it on a parity with it in all respects. The platform, he argues, should raceive the support of every Alliance man in the South.

The People's Farty Expects to Gather it the Malcontents Who Bolted the Minneapolis and Chicago Conventions-Chairman Taubeneck Expresses His Opinions Sr. Louis, June 26.-H. E. Taubeneck Chairman of the People's Party National Executive Committee, was seen to-day at the committee's 'headquarters in this city and questioned regarding the party's prospects. Said he:

"You can rest assured that our National Convention will be a big concern. It will be a deliberative body, not influenced by Federal officeholders or those who expect Federal offices." Regarding the platforms adopted at Min-neapolis and Chicago, Mr. Taubeneck said that so far as he could see they were, except in the tariff planks, identical. As to the attitude the silver-producing States would probable take during the company companies.

probably take during the coming campaign

Mr. Taubeneck stated:

From the correspondence I am receiving, especially from Colorado, they say that ne ther Harrison nor Cieveland can poll over 5 per cent of their respective party votes. This holds true in every other mining State. Colorado has 40,000 votes enrolled in her silver clubs. Every one is pledged to vote for no man nor pariy unless they favor tree and unlimited coinage of silver, and my opinion is that these people mean just exactly what they say.

The Democratic delegates from Colorado at the Chicago Convention have called a convention of Democrats for Colorado. I think they will declare both the nominee and platform at Chicago as undemocratic, repudiate it, and elects delegates to confer with the People's Party at Oundan. They will also call on every other silver State to do the same, and I think it will be done. The Executive Committee of the Bimetallic League is in session, and from information I have they will deciare both the old patties as enemies to bimetallism, and issue a call to the tree silver clubs and the Bimetallic League to send delegates to Ounhan and conenemies to bimetallism, and issue a call to the iree sliver clubs and the Bimetallic League to send deletates to Omaha and con-fer with the People's Party. With the proper nominations and with a good canvass we will sweep the South and West-everythin south of the Ohio and west of the Mississippi rivers.

GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Von der Ahe's Team.

CLUB OFFICIALS FEELING HAPPY.

CINCINNATI 7 Lonisville... The officials of the local ball club are in strong hopes that the team have now gotten fairly down to work for the balance of the vear. Yesterday afternoon Treasurer Brown

"Our team will face the St. Louis Browns to-morrow, and the form displayed recently by our players has been such that I expect them to win. It seems as if our pitchers are now all in good form, and if they keep all right I think we have just as good team as there is in the country. Just think where we would have been had Terry and Ehret been with us in good form for the past few weeks. We would have had seven or eight more games won and so many less lost to our credit, and that would have put us high up in the race."

Mr. Temple was also in a good humo the local team last week, and he expect that the players will now keep on winning more games than they lose. They have wor of the last five played, which is a splendid showing.

Baldwin will likely pitch to-day, and he will probably be opposed by Breitenstein, the left-hander. Our sluggers polished "Breit" off to the queen's taste when he was here, but he is pitching very effectively now. It is generally understood that the Pittsburg sluggers are easy marks for left-handed twirlers, but it will not be a surprise if the St. Louis South-paw gets a thumping by them if he faces them.

The team have four games to play away from home this week, and they will finish the first championship before leaving again. The wind-up of the first half will be with the Bostons, and that ought to make mat-ters extremely exciting. If the Philadel-phia team keep on winning during their Western trip, the Boston series here may be one of the most exciting of the season. The struggle for positions ranging from fourth to eighth or ninth places is sure to be a great one, and as the New York and Washington teams finish away from home, that ought to give the Pittsburgs a good advantage in the struggle. So far this season there has been one fac fully demonstrated, viz., that such cities as Louisville are not profitable enough for the League. Manager Buckenberger states that it does not pay a team to go there. This feature is likely to be seriously considered by the magnates before the year is ended.

Should he be successful in this second series of games, Sir Patrick will rival Adrian Anson of Chicago, who enjoys the distinction of being the best manager of a baseball club in the country.

Captain Johnnie Ward, of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, will win considerable money on the result of the first baseball series. He made a number of wagers with New Yorkers before the season opened, betting that the Brooklyns would beat the Giants in percentages.
