Secretary Reisfar did not know what to do with the list after a copy of names bad been given to the newspapers. Mr. Holmes settled this by staying and taking the list home with him. The percentages were carefully guarded, but such a glance as could be obtained showed that the averages were unusually high and that the first honor had been carried off by No. 452, Maggie Schade, of the Bedford Twenty-ninth-ward school, with 96.3 per cent. It is certain that this was the highest average, and almost equally certain that

Breaks are being made in the ranks of the iron and steel manufacturers. During the past two or three days the complete scale of the Amalgamated Association has been signed by several firms, both in this section and in the Western States. Consequently, the delegates to the convention of the Amalgamated Association have been given renewed courage. They believe that before to-morrow night, when the present scale expires, at least a dozen more firms will be gathered into the fold. One of the firms expected to sign is the Illinois Steel Company. They employ several thousand men. The firm has already signified their intention of signing the Western scale with a few changes for their Bay View mills. These changes are not of a radical nature, and are acceptable to the employes. The company may at the same time sign the scale for their works at Joliet, 11l. It has also been announced that if everything is favorable, the owners of one of the largest industries in the Sixth district will affix their signatures to the Amalgamated scale this morning. The company has a large sheet and tin plate works in connection with its plant.

E., and tional Tube Works Company at McKeeswere met at the park by an equal number from Oil City, they having arrived two hours earlier, Coleman's orchestra, of Titusville, and the Germania Band furnished the music for the occasion. Throughout the day the large pavilion was crowded with merry dancers, while others passed the time rowing on the lake. One of the most interresting features of the afternoon's sports was a game of base ball port signed the scale yesterday for another vear. When this announcement was made in the Amalgamated Convention last evening it was received with great applause. The mill will be shut down for one week beginning with July 4. This brief suspension is for the purpose of taking account of stock and making repairs. The company afternoon's sports was a game of base ball between an Oil City and a Butler nine. The game was hotly contested, but Oil City employs about 3,000 workmen. It was thought probable that communications of a decisive nature would be received from Kansas City, Mo., and Irondale, Minr. Up until a late hour last night the scale had won.

Officials of the company present were General Superintendent G. T. Braden, A. S. June, C. R. Watson, E. P. Shetler, Charles Braden, William Lemmon and A. L. Shultz. The Southwest was represented by A. C. Beeson, General Mazager of the W. & A. Pipe Lines; E. G. Wright, Superintendent of the Southwest Pennsylvania Pipe Lines, and C. E. Riddle, formerly of the right of way department. The annual gatherings are becoming more and more interesting and more generally attended every year. The present one was larger than on any previous occasion. not been signed at these places.

While it remains true that the Oliver Iron and Steel Company has signed the steel scale as published exclusively in THE DISPATCH of yesterday morning the action of the firm, it states, does not affect the position it has held in reference to the iron scale. Mr. D. B. Oliver said yesterday: There was no contention between the company and our men on the steel scale of prices. When we signed the scale the abandonment of the two weeks' stop in July was not taken into consideration. Our employes can have their usual vacation. The fact of our signing the steel scale has no ef-feet whatever on the iron wage list." Presbytery was held in the Hebron Church, The third and last conference of the Amalgamated Association with the repreday. It was well attended. Dr. W. The two committees met at 7:30 o'clock and remained in session until an early hour this morning. The same point of contention that marked the two previous sessions was raised. . This was over the wages paid to the shearman and the matter was thoroughly ventilated in a debate which consumed several hours.

The programme arranged for the day was very interesting. Bev. J. M. Patterson delivered an address on "The Pulpit;" Rev. J. D. Irons spoke for "The Pastor," and Rev. J. M. Wallace took for his subject "The Congregation." All the speeches were well received. S. H. Hart, a graduate of the Allegheny Seminary, presented successful trials for ordination. He was highly recommended by the Presbytery, and will be ordained in a few weeks. He will then embark for Egypt as a missionary. A Settlement Looks Favorable, A number of committeemen, going to and from the place of meeting, were questioned. All united in saying that although the session promised to occupy some hours, everything pointed to a complete settlement. Concessions had been made by both sides, and before the final adjournment the Amalgamated scale for the ensuing year, with a few changes, would very likely be signed by the dozen or more firms represented.

One of the officials at the head of the question of meeting the cut of the Wheel-

Amalgamated Association, who is also a member of the Conference Committee, was seen during a brief recess of the meeting. He said: "From the way matters look there will be a settlement before we adjourn. The moment the manufacturers affix their Association will have scored another victory. It means a great deal to the Association to have the steel men make an amicable settlement. The majority of them operate puddling furnaces, and by effecting a settlement with them the $5.50 basis for a settlement with them the 30 OU basis for boiling iron will be maintained. Such a move will have a great deal of bearing on other firms, and will influence their future action. It will also have a more or less direct influence upon the Homestead mills, and trouble at that place may still be

The committees on the good of the order and appeals finished their reports at the and appeals finished their reports at the Amalgamated convention yesterday. President M. M. Garland has named as his assistant P. H. McEvay, of Youngstown. Mr. McEvay is at present Vice President of the Sixth district. E. A. Quinn has been elected Vice President of the Seventh district in place of Thomas Cunningham, who refused to serve for another year. The convention yesterday also re-elected Mr. W. A. Carney as Vice President of the first division of the First district.

What They Have Yet to Do. The business yet to be completed by the Amalgamated convention is of little importance. The principal matters on the schedule are the reports of the committees on Secretary and Treasurer and secret work. A great many delegates advocated that the convention hold an extra session last evening and complete their work. It last evening and complete their work. It was decided, however, to hold another session to-day.

A correspondent at Homestead last evening furnished the following: "The nerves of the workmen are at the highest tension as they patiently await the developments of the next few days. The least move is sufficient to excite them. In a saloon to-day a stranger said he had come to black-sheep' after July 1. He was hustled into the street and followed by a large crowd, then taken to the river and deposited on the other side. No violence was offered, but the men say that such persons must not but the men say that such persons must not be allowed in town.

"Another thing that has created some feeling in town to-day is the published statement that there are no differences between the men and the firm, except as to the termination of the scale. This is said to be the smallest matter, while the great reduction of 25 to 60 per cent is what the fight is being made on fight is being made on.

"Two suspicious characters were noticed about the plant last night. They were interrogated, and in response said that they were clerks. This statement will be investigated, and should their story prove islae they will be treated to a trip across the river. They are suspected as being Pinker-ton men or Coal and Iron Police. Armor Plate Mill Shut Down.

"The armor plate mill, and O. H. depart-ment of mill No. 2 were completely shut down at 6 o'clock to-night, so to remain until the wage question is settled. This shut down was rendered necessary by the tubes of the boiler in the open hearth department burning out. They cannot be repaired before the first of the month. The men expected to receive notice of discharge as soon as the department shut down. Up to late to-night, however, they had not received such notice. This delaw is unusual, and it is thought the firm did not desire to increase the excitement here by discharging the men even when it is rendered necessary.

by discharging the men even when it is rendered necessary.

"Another move was taken by the firm today which seems to point toward preparation for warfare. They placed two powerful pumps on flat cars. These pumps are said by the men to be ready for use in forcing water on the fences should any attack be made on the works. On the other hand members of the firm say they are simply to be used in case of fire, as the present system is believed to be unreliable. This fire apparatus can be shifted to any part of the works if they have men to man the engines.

"The men who will likely be thrown out of work by the accident in the armor plate mill to-night say they are not troubled, but they are glad of a few days rest before the auticipated struggle begins. The men are very good natured, and believe they will win if matters come to the issue expected."

The Largest in the World.

The Largest in the World. Furnace F, of the Carnegie plant at Brad-dock, the completion of which was delayed by the strike of the blast furnace builders will again be in operation the latter part of the week. It was blown out nearly four months ago to be rebuilt on another plan. It is now the same size as furnaces H and I, the largest in the world.

We have plenty of gas up there and if the winter is at all open we will be ready in plenty of time. We can run gas all over the building and keep the bricklayers working all the time.

"We will build for years to come and we will not spend all the money we have either. The building will have to be put up as carefully as if it was a private house. We will have the best kind of a hospital. I want to have avery protection, excitate fire want to have every protection against fire and particularly in the insane wards. added to the Fourth of July celebration at Schenley Park. Yesterday a gang of workmen put in the day clearing off the old buildings on the elevated ground to the left of the main entrance at the park and in a couple of days more the ground set apart for the Carnegie Library and Music Hall site will be in readiness to begin operations.

On the Fourth of July ground will be formally broken for the building. It is the intention of the Library Commission to have this first visible step toward the erection of the building made a ceremony to be remembered. Short speeches will be made by members of the commission, and Mayor Gourley, who is one of the Commissioners, is likely to be selected to swing the pick for the formal ground breaking. Other interesting features are being arranged for the Keeping the Matter a Secret.

The commissioners have for some reason been endeavoring to keep the proposed ground-breaking a secret until next Satur day, but it leaked out yesterday, and one member spoken to acknowledged that it but was true. Chief Bigelow has bought out at a reasonable figure the leases held by the parties who have been occupying the ground on which the library is to be built. with l The breaking of ground for the Phipps' Conservatory is to be done within the next ten days also, but it has not yet been de termined whether there will be any forma ceremony connected with it. It is ex-pected that the library will be completed and thrown open to the public in September, 1895.

Notwithsting the published statements that President Harrison will not be here on the Fourth, Chief Bigelow still maintains that he will. The Chief telegraphed to Washington last night for positive information and expects a reply to-day from C. L. Magee and seems to think it will be a favorable one. One indication that the President has changed his mind and intendent President has changed his mind and intends to come is that his trip to Adirondacks has been postponed from next Friday until one week later. The railroad lines centering in this city are anxiously awaiting positive information from Chief Bigelow and have arranged so that on two days' notice that the President is coming they will run big excursions here on the Fourth from all points within 100 milles.

Preparing for the Big Celebration. Rapid progress is being made in the arrangements for the big celebration. The grand stand has been nearly completed, and temporary improvements all over the park are being made for the occasion. Superintendent O'Mara was in consultation with the Mayor, Controller and Chief Bigelow yesterday, making police arrangements for the day. Two hundred men in uniform will be distributed throughout the park during the day to preserve order and during the day to preserve order and porform such other duties as may be required. A number of the officers will be mounted. At night 100 more men will be added to the force.

Stations where lost children can be found will be located at the Zoo and at the big barn near the entrance bridge. Telephones will connect these buildings and matrons from the police stations will be on duty to care for the little ones.

Good Beason Why It Should. Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past 12 years, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold."
There is good reason for this. No other will cure a cold so quickly, no other is so certain a preventive and cure for croup; no other affords so much relief in cases of whooping cough.

haide to Adjutant Bis Bride. Notwithstanding the fact that the Turner's Fest occupied the attention of the Southsiders, the Salvation Army succeeded in comfortably filling the Wharton M. E. Church on Twenty-fourth street last evening, where religious services were held and a reception tendered Adjutant and Mrs. Farver, who had just arrived from Chicago, where they were recently married. The meeting was conducted by Ensign Allen, of McKeesport, assisted by Captains Sanderron, of Homestead, and Purson, of McKeesport.

The addresses of the evening were made by the Revs. J. A. Ballantyne and J. H. Buckingham. The services throughout were characterized by much enthusiasm and showed that the workers were in account.

were characterized by much enthusiasm and showed that the workers were in earnest.

After the religious services, a reception was tendered Adjutant and Mrs. Farver, in whose interest the meeting was principally held, and they were warmly welcomed to their new field of labor. The Adjutant will have charge of the whole of Western Pennsylvania, which includes ten divisions, each in charge of a captain. He will have his headquarters in this city.

To-morrow will be a grand rallying day and a wedding banquet will be given in the army's barracks between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, beginning at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Captain Nankvell has the matter in charge and is working very earnestly to make it a success.

DIAZ TO BE RE-ELECTED.

Mexican Merchants Say He Is Popular and a Revolution Is Not Possible. M. Horner and P. Dreher, two Mexican merchants, registered at the Anderson yesterday. They had been in New York buying goods and stopped off here to see the city. Mr. Horner was averse to talking, he said in Mexico there is possibility of a revolution.

"We don't like the American tariff," he continued. "If it is kept up I suppose our people will have to retaliate by putting a stiff duty on articles from the United States that are not used extensively in our country. A reciprocity treaty should be arranged as soon as possible."

THE BIG DUNLAP ESTATE.

Letters of Administration Asked in th Absence of a Will.

Letters of administration have been granted to Mary J. Dunlap, widow of the late John Dunlap, who died on June 7. The application for these letters caused no little surprise, as it was generally supposed Mr. Dunlap had left a will. A bond in the sum of $900,000, supposed to be-twice the value of the personal property, was filed. It is thought the total value of the estate is nearly $3,000,000.

Last Night's Schenley Park Concert. The band concert at Schenley Park last night was a great success. Notwithstand ing the cool breeze that swept over the hill and made overcoats and wraps comfortable, there were probably 10,000 people in the park during the evening, and the sweet strains of the Great Western were enjoyed as they always are. The traction cars were crowded going to the park from east and west, and hundreds of vehicles and bicycles carried the amusement-loving crowd from all sections. The next concert will be at Highland Park.
