been idle for some time past. Of the 400 in operation until last night nearly 300 are altuated west of the Allegheny Mountains. Quite a number of these bave signed the scale, leaving about 250 mills which are at present lying idle. These employ upwards of 100,000 men. The number of glass tactories which are not in operation to-day is placed at 200, and the men are estimated at nearly 50,000.

AS SEEN IN NEW YORK.

A Metropolitan Opinion on the Labor Situ-ation in and Around Pittsburg—Machin-ery Makers Laying in a Stock of Raw

A New York special to THE DISPATCH gives the following extract from the fron Age's latest trade report:

Age's latest trade report:

Interest of course centers in the labor situation in the West. A sharp distinction should be made between the steel and the iron mills, although in many cases both are made by the same concerns. First of all, the rail mills are not involved, nor are quite a number of seed works which are non-union. The keenest struggle will be made at the Carnegie Homestead mill, or "Fort Frick," as it is now called in Pittsburg. Thus far the men have been outgenmade at the Carnegle Homestead mill, or "Fort Frick," as it is now called in Pittsburg. Thus far the men bave been outzeneraled, the machinista, mechanics and engineers inving made their own terms. The steel mills running under the Amalgamated scale are Jones & Laughlins and Oliver (who has signed), in Pittsburg, the Bellaire and Mingo, in the Wheeling district, and Belleville, in Illinois. We are advised that no signatures are expected at Wheeling for a week or two. The open hearth works running under Amalgamated scale are Linden, Jennings Bros., Apollo and Kirkpatrick. The fron mills working under the Amaigamated are much more numerous, and among them the only important one which signed thus far is the National Tube Works. The wire, rod and sheet mills have practically signed. The men have abandoned the effort to have two weeks' holiday in July, thus putting some pressure on the recalcitrant manufacturers. It should be understood, also, that those who sign the new scale receive the benefit of any concessions squarely made. Looking over the whole field, there seems little prospect that the capacity East and West, which will not be affected, will not be fully able to cope with the current demand. The Lenigh mills in Eastern Pennsylvania have announced a lowering of wages.

Probably the most interesting matter in demand. The Lehigh mills in Eastern Pennsylvania have announced a lowering of wages.

Probably the most interesting matter in connection with the markets of the country, taken as a whole, is the fact that the large Western agricultural implement unkers are arranging for a 12-months' supply of raw materials. They have been trying to buy joundry iron for a year's delivery at present prices, but have found some Sonthern makers unwilling to commit themselves beyond this year. They are figuring in Chicago on about 20.000 tons of bars, and one of them has already bought there last week 7,000 tons of merchant steel. The lowering of vessel rates on ore to Cleveland is interesting, principally because some of the large ore contracts by buyers this year were made on the basis of a guarantee of rates by the steel works. It may be of interest to note, also, in this connection, a somewhat unusual series of transactions made a few weeks since, but not yet alluded to in print. A very large concern in Pittsburg bought 50,000 tons of Bessemer piz from four makers, two of them in Pittsburg buncht for in the Mahoning valley, paying for the iron in Lake Superior ore. In pig fron there has been quite an active move in the Eastern primary markets, Chicago noting a number of renewals of contracts for local coke at low prices. In the East its practically decided that a cut of $1 per ton will be made.

THE CONFERENCE POSTPONED.

Youngstown Manufacturers Will Meet the Wage Committee To-Morrow.

A telegram from Youngstown states tha information was received at that place last evening that the conference to have been held at that place between the iron manufacturers of the Mahoning Valley and the Amalgamated Association regarding the scale question has been postponed until tomorrow.

All the rolling mills through the valley ceased operations with the close of the night turn at an early hour this morning.

Several days ago a special meeting of the Retail Grocers' Association was called for last night, it being then supposed that a general strike of iron and steel workers general strike of iron and steel workers would be declared. The special object of the meeting was to be the adoption of resolutions expressing sympathy for the workingmen and encouraging them in their position. The meeting was held last night, but as no strike had been declared there was a small attendance. Resolutions were read, but under the circumstances were referred to a committee, which will report at the next regular meeting of the association.

A Southside Man Arrested on a Charge From Uniontown.

Harry Varndell, of the Southside, was arrested last night on his return from a visit to Uniontown on a charge of assaulting Belle Ream, aged 13 years, who is an inmate of the Soldiers' Orphan school at Jumonville, near Uniontown. The arrest was made on a telegram sent by Constable was made on a telegram sent by Constable Wilson. An information had been entered against Varndell by W. O, Cropp at request of his neighbors.

It is alleged by Cropp that on Monday evening Varndell called at the school and evening Varndell called at the school and asked that Miss Ream be permitted to accompany him to his mother, who lived two miles away in the mountains, and who had been an intimate friend of the orphan girl's mother. Varndell took her to a deserted cottage in the mountains and assaulted her. Her screams brought neighbors, who compelled him to release the girl, and she was cared for by Varndell's sister. Superintendent Waters, of the orphan school, was notified on Tuesday, but, it is alleged, refused to prosecute because he desired to avoid a scandal about the school.

Varndell is 24 years old, and it is said his father is toll collector of the Tenth street bridge. After his arrest he admitted that he had been with Miss Ream, but denied the assault.

Winding Up the Turnfost.

Yesterday was the last day of the annual turnfest which has been occupying the attention of the Southsiders for a week past. During the day the visitors took in the parks and points of interest in the two cities. In the evening a reception was given in Hummell's resort, near the Twelfth street incline, which was followed by a dance. This closed the lestivities of this year's

High Echool Committee Will Discuss the

Matter on Monday. THE OLD PLAN LIKELY TO BE CHANGED

Superintendent John Morrow, of the Allegheny schools, refused yesterday to furnish for publication the names of the pupils who had successfully passed the examinations for admission to the High School. He said that it had never been done, and he would not make a departure. The list, he thought, could not be secured from the principals, but it was, and all are published herewith except the names of nine of the herewith except the names of nine of the nuccessful ones from the Ninth, Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth wards. The names were furnished by the principals of the several ward schools without hesitation. The principals of the four missing wards were absent with their scholars and teachers, holding pienies outside the city, and they could not be found.

There will be a special meeting of the High School Committee next Monday evening, when the question of publishing the remainder of the list will be raised. The decision will doubtless be favorable to the publication. The question has not been raised in former years in Allegheny and attention was this year called to it only by the action of the Pittaburg board in directing Superintendent Luckey to furnish the

They Favor the Publication of Names. Rev. Dr. B. F. Woodburn, one of the leading members of the High School Committee, said last evening: "As the question was not previously raised in this city I had not given it any consideration. It was thought that the publication of the names of those who passed would cause an em-barrassment to those who failed. I see, however, that the general public would not know the names of the unsuccessful ones. They would be known only to the imme-diate relatives, and would be known to them anyway. I see no objection to the printing of the names of the winners."

Secretary R. B. Scandrett said: "If I had the list I would give it to you. I think Hugh Portes. the friends of those who succeed would be interested in reading the names. Those who failed ought not to be published. The reason the matter has never been discussed before is that it has never been raised in the School Board or the High School Com-mittee. "Oh, no; I have no objections to them doing as they please, but I don't believe you will be very successful."

"Does this man want the names of your pupils who have passed the High School examination?" asked Superintendent Luckey of Superintendent Morrow.

"Yes, and he has the life pretty nearly worried out of me about it," replied Mr. Morrow. But stiff the Superintendent shook his Four Boys Make an Appeal.

By this time quite a crowd had gathered around and this last remark caused a roar. In the number that surrounded Prof. Morrow were four boys from the Fifth ward school, who had passed, and they put in a personal protest against the position of the Superintendent, saying they would very much prefer seeing the names printed. Mr. Morrow grew obstinate finally and said he would not only refuse to give out the names, but he desired to hold no further conversation about the matter.

No difficulty whatever was experienced in getting the names from all the schools that were in the parks. The other schools were away from the city holding pienies or the list, below would be complete. During the afternoon such men as Dr. McMillan, Dr. Woodburn, John Fielding and many others equally as prominent in educational affairswere seen, and all united in favoring the publication of the names of the successful pupils, and the freedom with which the principals furnished their lists is sufficient guarantee that Mr. Morrow was alone in his opposition to it.

guarantee that Mr. Morrow was alone in his opposition to it.

The Fifth ward had the largest class 57, and all passed. The Sixth, Eighth and Tenth also passed their entire classes. So far as could be learned, Miss Nors Kohen, of the Sixth ward, had the highest average. She is credited with 92.6 per cent. This ward made a splendid record. Out of a total of 30 papils in this ward 15 made over 80 per cent. 80 per cent.

A ROUND DOZER.

That Is the Number of Informations Made Against Robert Riddle.

Two additional informations were made yesterday against Robert Biddle, alias Albert Berg, alias John Caler, the alleged forger who was arrested in Lawrenceville last Saturday night.

George Kiel, a Lawrenceville hardware dealer, entered suit before Alderman Leslie charging Riddle with larceny. Riddle went into his store Monday of last week, and after purchasing about $10 worth of hardware, offered a check for $36 in payment. Mn. Keil refused to take the check and a quarrel ensued. Keil alleges that Riddle pocketed a penknife valued at $1.50.

The other information was made before Alderman Aurin, of the West End, by D. Handmacher, a clothing dealer. Mr. Handmacher alleges that on Wednesday of last week, Riddle came into his store and purchased a suit of clothes for $27. He received $15 in change. The check proved to be worthless. This makes a total of 12 charges against Riddle. George Kiel, a Lawrenceville hardware

Kickers Keep the Water Assessors' Porce Hot and Busy.

MEETING OF THE FINANCE COMMITTEE

The City Pressurer received considerably over $250,000 yesterday in water, business and State mercantile taxes, and as the bulk of the mency came in checks there were enough of them to fill several bushel baskets. It was the last day before these tax accounts became delinquent and as usual about one-third the taxpayers had put off payment to the limit where it was either pay or have added 5 cents more on the dollar.

The City Treasurer's office was througed from the time it was opened in the morning until 6 o'clock last evening, but those who came personally to pay were generally those whose assessments were small. Chief Clerk Torrence said last night that the Clerk Torrence said last night that the amount taken in this year compares favorably with last year at a corresponding period, though he could give no figures until the checks pouring in at every meil delivery were counted.

In the Water Assessor's office there was a lively time. People from all over the city were coming in all day objecting to their water assessments, and kept the place in an uproar with their demands for exonerations. Uharges of discrimination were made against certain of the clerks who had made the assessment.

Didn't Come in Good Time, Assessor Miller and his clerks were behind the counter all day receiving complaints, and, where it was shown a mistake had been made, exonerations were granted. All exonerations had to be approved by Chief Bigelow before they were allowed, and the work of attaching his signature and filling out the blanks kept the Chief and his clerks busy all day. In many cases exonerations were refused because the applicants could not make out a clear case, and there were many diagrantied ones and much complaining in consequence. The Chief stated last evening that if the people had only come in earlier much annoyance would have been avoided for all concerned.

The Finance Committee meets to-morrow afternoon and will have considerable business to dispose of. Among other things there will be the ordinance prepared by Controller Morrow and presented by Mr. O'Donnell, providing a $50 assessment on street railway companies for each car on their lines. An ordinance to impose a tax on bicycles, which was presented in blank a month ago, is also to receive consideration.

Chief Bigelow will have before the committee several resolutions for the purchase of more Highland Park property, the location of which could not be learned. Ferguson's Motion Not in it.

Councilman Ferguson's resolutions demanding that the City Attorney turn over all city money in his hands to the Treasurer, and demanding that all city modey be hereafter paid direct to the City Treasurer are before the committee, but will hardly receive consideration.

The Mayor and Controller are busily engaged these days signing the 2,000 warrants necessary to pay off the city employes for June. Many of the warrants have been issued and will be cashed by the City Treasurer to-day. An effort is being made to pay everybody before the Fourth of July.

The Government ordered the removal of a dump boat, owned by John Clark, at the Tenth street bridge, on the ground that it was filling up the channel near that point. The Bureau of Health thereupon secured another location at the foot of South Third street, but as it will be a month before it can be used, the night-soilers in that part of the city must practically suspend operations. There is an old law which requires that when such a dump boat is located it must be advertised for 30 days before it can be used.

"My trip this time was purely one of rest and pleasure," said he, "and differed from others I had taken, when on business, in every way. I did not come in contact with business people and paid no attention to anything but my family and the pursuit of pleasure. I am not actively associated with the Carnegie firm now, and therefore am not in a position to talk about its affairs."

Colonel Elkins says that the recent court decisions threatening the right of railroad companies to erect trolley wires in Philadelphia will in no way interfere with the contemplated electric road in that city. He also said that the electric road will be promptly built in Philadelphia. Besides being a street rail-way magnate Colonel Elkins is a politician. Newton J. Richey, the oldest passenger engineer on the Ft. Wayne Bailroad, last evening seriously wounded his son-in-law, Myron Welch, and then surrendered to the police. Hisbey was trying to prevent Welch from entoring his house and tearing from Mrs. Welch their little baby.

Richey has been for 28 years an engineer on the Ft. Wayne road, and he and his brother Issae are two of the trusted men who draw the limited between Pittaburg and Cresuline. Issae was nearly killed in the wreck of the limited at East Palestine, C., last summer and was able to resume his work only three weeks ago. Newton Richey lives at 181 Pranklin street, Allegheny, and has a grown daughter and two younger sons. Two years ago the daughter married Myron Welch, a tool dresser for E. A. Allen, the contractor. They lived with Welch's mother on California avenue, near Superior station. They now have a daughter I year old. It is said they quarreled often, and about a month ago, the rage, Welch out his wife on the forehead with a case knife. Then she seized her baby and hurried back to her fasher's home.

Richey, not knowing how severely he had wounded his son-in-law, secured a friend as bondsman, and started for the City Hall. He appeared there at 9 o'clock, told his story and asked to be allowed to give bail. This was refused by Assistant Superintendent Glenn, and Richey was given a comfortable bed.

Half an hour later Dr. Gilliford appeared at the hall in company with Welch. The bail from Richey's revolver had entered the chin, passed backward along the inside of the right lower jaw, and was extracted by Dr. Gilliford at the angle of the jaw under the right ear. It was a serious, but not dangerous wound. Welch was unable to talk, but when he learned that Richey was in a cell he departed with the doctor. He will probably make an information to-day.

A Pretty Child-Wife Tells of Her Husband's Brutal Treatment.

SHE PITIED AND THEN MARRIED.

The Union is Proven to Be Only a Delusion and a Spare

THE ALLEGED HURBAND MUST ANSWER

Herrog was arrested and gave ball for a earing, which was held last night, when the strangest part of the story was brought

The girl-wife—she is only 16 years old-was the first witness. She said that she was the first witness. She said that she was formerly 'a domestic in a family in Allegheny. When she first met Herzog he had just buried a wife, who had left him a little child to care for. His circumstances were such, she said, as to excite her sympathy, and in two mouths' time she had promised to marry him. Her parents were dead and she had no home. Herzog represented himself as being 25 years of age, with a good trade, and she looked forward to a bright future. She then recounted Herzog's cruelty and abuses. She displayed the marriage license, issued on May 4, 1892, which showed that the coups had never been married. The license blank had not been filled out. The young girl had been led to believe that securing the license was equivalent to getting married, and never knew any better until informed by the magistrate last night.

A More Serious Charge.

After the hearing on the assault and battery charge last night, at the suggestion of Magistrate Succept, an additional charge was made against Herzog, and he was held in $1,000 ball, in default of which he was in $1,500 ball, in default of which he was sent to jail.

Magistrate Succept said last night that he had never heard of such cruel and inhuman treatment as was charged against Herzog. He says he intends to investigate the records, and if Herzog represented himself as being but 26 when he secured his marriage license he will have him prosecuted for perjuty, as he admitted last night he was 38.

The girl went back to Allegheny last night to the house of a friend. She is a handsome young German girl. It is said that Herzog has a wife in Germany.

If you don't feel like paying the price for Camellia try Bayard Amber. You'll find it a splendid all-round family flour.

Managers Confer.

The managers of the various branch houses of H. J. Beinz Company, the well-known picklers and preservers are now holding their midsummer conference at the company's offices, consulting as to the most successful methods of conducting their work. The branches located at New York, Brocklyn, Symones, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago, St. Paul, Denver, Indianapolis and other points are represented.

They will attend the annual outing of the firm's employes at Kenney's Grove to-day The steamer J. M. Gusky will convey the employes and their friends up the Monor gahels to the grove, starting from a poin just opposite the firm's works, above Six seenth street.
