THE SECOND STRUGGLE AT HAND.

Sentiment for and Against the Bill Being Manufactured.

CONGRESSMAN CRAIN TAKEN VERY ILL

WASHINGTON, July 2 .- According to the rules of the House the free silver bill, which came over to the House from the Senate, will lie on the Speaker's table for one legislative day, and will then be referred to the Committee on Coinage. Weights and Measures. As the House adjourned from to-day until Tuesday the bill will not get before the committee until that Wednesday is the regular meeting day of the Committee on Coinage, and it is probable, if nothing unforeseen occurs, that a meeting will be called for that day. Repre-sentative Bland, Chairman of the commit-tee, has been absent from the city at his home in Missouri about two weeks. On hearing the news of the passage of the bill he promptly telegraphed that he would start immediately on his way to Washing-ton, and he will be here in time to authorton, and he will be here in time to authorize the calling of a meeting for Wednesday.

Representative Enes, of Virginia, and Representative McKeighan, of Nebraska, also members of the committee, both of whom are in favor of free coinage, are also absent from the capital, but it is expected they will be here in time to assist the free silver men in getting a favorable vote on Sentiment Makers All at Work.

Pending action on the bill by the commitcreate sentiment for or against the bill among the members of the House, and this the managers of the respective sides are doing, with more or less vigor and success. As there would be but small prospect of reaching a vote on the bill if unlimited debate were allowed, and the necessity for a cloture rule to close debate is admitted, the talk to-day has primarily been confined to a discussion of the question whether there will be a cloture 'rule; and, secondarily, if there is one, how the Republicans will vote if such a rule is reported.

The anti-silver Democrats have as yet held no formal conference, but they are do-ing a great deal of missionary work. They believe that they have sufficient strength to defeat cloture if they can obtain the assist ance of the Republicans, but the Repub licans will not commit themselves. When the bill gets on the calendar the Rules Com-

The Senate's Action App'auded.

The Journal having been read in the House this morning, a message from the Senate announcing the passage of the free silver bill was received with applause.

On motion of Mr. Catchings it was ordered that when the House adjourn to-day it be to meet on Tuesday next. A disagreeing conference report on the District of Celumbia appropriation bill was presented. A further conference was ordered, and the conference were instructed to urge are amendconferees were instructed to urge ar amend ment providing $75,000 out of District revenues for expenses attending the Grand Army Eucampment at Washington. Mr. Bianchard, of Louisiana, submitted the conference report on river and harbor bild. The previous question on the adoption of the report was ordered. Yeas 152,

After eulogies delivered by Messrs. Paige of Indiana, Herbert, McKaig, J. D. Taylor, Tracy and Cummings, to the late Senator Wilson of Maryland, the house adjourned

Congressmen on Both Sides Taking Steps to Stop the Legislative Windmills-A Steering Committee Gets to Work on the Matter In Question.

WASHINGTON, July 2 .- [Special.]-The leaders in both Houses are somewhat anxious about the state of the public business as affected by the general desire to bring about final adjournment before the close of the present month. As a rule the Republigans and Democrats are united in the desire for the dissolution of Congress immediately upon the disposal of the pending appropriation bills. There are, however, enthusiastic gentlemen in both Houses who claim that it would be better polities to keep Congress here until the opening of the campaign for the purpose of grinding out speeches and other material to be made use of on the stump.

This feeling crept out at the caucus on Thursday of the Democratic Senators called for the purpose of appointing a steering committee to arrange with the Republicans as to what legislation should be considered during the remainder of the session. Five or six of the Democrats in attendance at the caucus strongly opposed the plan of closing up business and adjourning Congress, and held that the paramount political questions of the day, such as the tariff, the silver and Southern elections, should be freely and fully discussed.

After a free and informal discussion of the matter, however, it was found to be the opinion of a large majority of the Demo-crats that Congress should dispose of the necessary legislation at as early a date as possible, and then promptly adjourn. The canous therefore appointed a committee to consult with a like committee of the Re-publican Senators to record on managements. publican Senators, to report on measures to be considered and bring about an adjourn-

STANDING BY WANAMAKER

Republican Members of a House Commi tee Think the P. M. G. Is All Right. WASHINGTON, July 2.—Representatives

Raines, Hopkins of Illinois, and Brosius, of the House Committee on Civil Service Reform, to-day submitted a minority report in regard to the alleged violations of the civil service law by federal employes at Baltimore. It criticizes the action of the majority of the committee in disregarding the plain instruction of the resolution up der which the inquiry was instituted. This report says:

report says:

That portion of the majority report which presumed to inquire into the comparative trustworthiness and fidelity of eminent officers of the Government was altogether gratuitous, impertment and scandalous. It is not permissible to say that the majority was inspired by a desire to manulacture capital for campaign purposes, by wanton censure of a public officer of the opposite political party, and yet the minority is unable to discover any other motive for so flagrant a discover any other motive for the Postmaster General because he has not carried out the recommendation of the commissioner by making the removals designared. It is arrued that for this reason that official is in hostility to the civil service law. This position taken by the majority is not only absord, but is highly unjust to the Postmaster General. Had heated upon the recommendation of the Civil Service Commission he would have removed two men who are not under his jurisdiction at all. It does not appear to the minority that the charges made against the men recommended for removal have been sustained by that degree of proof which would warrant their being brought to the attention of the courts. The minority betieves that the action of the Postoffice Department was taken with due regard to the requirements of the civil service laws and the rights of the partless accused.

attended by a writhing of the muscles, while in his seat in the House this morning. He was promptly removed to Providence Hospital. Mr. Crain is apparently suffering from nervous prostration, and needs absolute rest and quiet to restore him to his pormal condition.

POLITICS IN THE STRIKE.

Jack Robinson Fays the Republican Party Must Stand by the Laborer as It Has in the Past-Other Republicans See No

Politics in the Trouble.

WASHINGTON, July 2 .- [Special.]-The Homestead strike was the principal topic of conversation among politicians about the Capitol to-day. The lockout is viewed differently by different people. The Republicans, with occasional exceptions, are inclined to look upon the labor troubles in a nonpartisan way, saying that it is a matter to be settled by the manufacturers and workingmen. They can see no politics whatever in the trouble. The Democrats are inclined to look at the situation in a more serious way. They claim that if the strike is not settled satisfactorily to the workingmen there will be a long and bitter fight. Politics, they say, will enter into the affair, and then there will be trouble for the fair, and then there will be trouble to the Republican party.

The Democrats say the Republican party will lose thousands of votes as it is, but if the strike is continued any length of time Pennsylvania and Ohio can be put down as among the extremely doubtful States. Talk of this kind is only laughed at by the Republicans.

Republicans Congressman John B. Robinson, President of the Republican State League of Clubs, is one Republican who is inclined to look upon the matter in a serious light. He said to THE DISPATCH correspondent to-day that the party leaders should serve notice on the manufacturers that they must not trifle with the labor vote this year. He intimated the manufacturers had been well taken care of by the Republican party in the past, and they must now stand by it, if they should lose money for a time.

MILLER MAY BE REAPPOINTED.

Mr. Magee's Wishes Expected to Be Re spected by the President. WASHINGTON, July 2 .- [Special.]-There is nothing new in the Miller case. Senator Quay is still determined to prevent his confirmation if possible, and the Magee-Dalzell crowd is waiting anxiously for the end to come. The President will no doubt comto come. The President will no doubt comply with Mr. Magee's request to reappoint Miller during the interim, thereby defeating Quay in the long run.

Congressman William A. Stone left for his home in Allegheny to-night, where he will remain until after the Fourth. Congressman Dalzell will remain in Washington. He is not feeling very well, and thinks rest will do him more good than any change of scenery and air.
