CINCINNATI ..... 7 Washington ..... 5 Those Giants from New York put up quite a spicy article of ball yesterday.

which, in some respects, gave one a dim notion of what the Giants of Jim Mutrie used to be. They played a really brisk game and defeated our sluggris by a pop. The game was an excellent one up to the eighth inning when a chapter of very bad mistakes was introduced by the locals and that cast the die gainst them. The Giants were just waite for such shortcomings and sure enough y appeared in the eighth inning, and, of arse, they were taken advantage of by e visitors. But the visitors had to hustle or everything they got at that, and taking verything into consideration the contes was a very interesting one and the 3,500 people present enjoyed it.

King Was the Stumbling Block. Charley King was in great form, and probably the "Silver"-haired young man never pitched better ball, and do as they would the local representatives couldn't get away with him. His greatest ambition was to down his old pals, and he did it. But his present colleagues gave him ad-mirable support. They made a few errors, of course, but they stopped several base hits. Doyle, who played short, really crowned himself with glory, and so did Burke. Boyle also caught well and threw to bases in a way that soon stopped our worthies from trying to steal bases.

And "Red" Ehret pitched in splendid form, and it was only in the eighth inning, when everybody thought that victory was sure to perch itself on the local banner, that he made one or two fatal mistakes. A double was made off his delivery at that stage, and he supplemented that by giving a base on balls and bitting the third man with a pitched ball. And there was nobody out when these disastrous things occurred. But despite that inning he pitched a great game, and even amid his mistakes there not a run should have been scored had Shugart and Bierbauer not blundered.

An Argument About the Umpire, before the game started there was some ontroversy about who was to umpire the ame. Early in the morning, in answer to game. Early in the morning, in answer to Mr. Day's protest, President Young wired hat Terry or Mack umpire the game in-stead of Mitchell. To this the officials of the local club strongly objected on a matter of principle, and notified Mr. Young to this effect. Mr. Young finally wired that Mitchell could umpire the game, and he did so. He did it well, and it is hard to understand why Mr. Day made the protest on Friday night. In all fairness to Mitchell and everybody else, that gentleman umpired a really good game. Yesterday the visitors against every close decision made against them, and their own sense of manhood and fair play caused them to desist.

It is needless to say that hits were as scarce as sunbeams on a rainy day. The visitors were the first to get a man across the plate and they did so in a somewhat the plate and they did so in a somewhat remarkable manner. After two men were out in the second inning, Denny Lyons picked out a good one and knocked the ball high into the air far into left field near the foul line. Smith got partially in under the ball and it struck his fingers' ends and bounded into the bleachers. Of course Lyons ambled home.

Our Singgers Took the Lead. The fifth inning came round before any more runs were scored and then the home players took the lead. After Smith was out Farrell got his base on balls and reached third on Corkhill's single. Corkhill got to second on the throw to nab Farrell at third. Ehret followed with a fine single to center, scoring the two runs. These were all the like getting.

It looked like another home victory up to the eighth inning. In the second half of that inning Doyle started off with a hit for two bags, the ball striking the left foul line. Tiernan got his base on balls, and, as ill luck would have it, Ehret hit H. Lyons luck would have it, Ehret hit H. Lyons with a pitched ball, filling the bases. O'Bourke's grounder to Farrell forced Doyle out at the plate. Ewing was up next, and knocked a grounder to Shugart, who fumbled the ball a little, but got O'Bourke out at second. Bierbauer threw the ball wildly to Beckley to effect a double play, and the bad throw allowed both Tiergan and Lyons to score. Had the risy been nan and Lyons to score. Had the play been clean there would have been a double play and no runs made. Ewing was put out try-

MONEY IN PITTSBURG.

Visiting Baseball Clubs Have Quite a Bo

nanza in This City. Everybody must admit that Pittsburg is one of the best baseball cities in the coun try. Visiting clubs know this full well, al though they almost always try to down Pittsburg when they have a chance when deals and meetings are going on.
Secretary Scandrett's official statement shows that up to June 30 the visiting clubs to this city have received $15,409 while the Pittsburg club while away from home this season has only received $7,350 from the other clubs. These figures are very important and ought to be pendered over by those impecunious clubs that are always trying to give their benefactors the worst of it.

Manager Buckenberger has secured Joe Kelly, the Omaha left fielder, providing Kelly leaves the Omaha club. It is thought that the Omaha club will either disband or that the Western League will collapse. Kelly has signed an agreement to come here as soon as he is at liberty. He was with the Boston League team awhile and is only 20 years old. He is one of the most promising players in the country.

The local club does not want Clarkson or Gore. though they almost always try to down

Gore.

Harry Stevens yesterday signed a contract with the local club securing the local score card privileges for three years. This is certainly a very wise proceeding on the part of the club as Mr. Stevens stands without an equal in his business to-day.

CINCINNATI, July 2-A war upon sacrifice hitting is the latest incident in base ball in Cincinnati. Capt. Anson, of the Chicagos, thinks the "bunt" has about outlived it thinks the "bunt" has about outlived its usefulness, and says:

"I'd like to see a rule passed abolishing that sort of play. There is no denying the fact that sacrifice hitting has been too strongly worked, and base running, one of the prettiest features of the game, has become almost a lost art. The lovers of base half do not like acciding they have been come almost a lost art. The lovers of base ball do not like sacrificing; they have been getting too much of it and pooh pooh the players who indulge in the 'bunt' method of play. To abolish the bunt is a measure that should be accompanied by another reform. The pitchers who make so many balks should be made to suffer. With those changes would come plenty of stolen bases and a renewal of old enthusiasm."

The Champion Gyms were caught yester day with almost half of their regular team away, and the result was they were easily taken into camp by the Indians from Mans field, who played a fair all round game. The Gyms outbatted their opponents, but on account of the patch work they were not able to field with confidence. Walter Thompson pitched a good game, and with good support could have won. Gumbert pitched the last three innings, and he had it all his own way, not a hit being made off his delivery. The features of the game was Gumbert's home run hit over left field fence. Other Interesting Races at Sheepshead Bay and Chicago.

ENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE TRACE, July -About 20,000 men and women, lovers of the race horse, saw Marons Dalv's threeyear-old colt Tammany win the Realization

Stakes at the Bay this afternoon in a common hand gallop. Garrison rode Tammany and he never had to urge the great colt at any stage of the mile and five-furlong journey. After the preceding events had been captured by Jockey Jimmy McLaughlin's Key West, 10 to 1; the Double Event by August Belmont's Corduroy, 7 to 10, and Father Bill Daly's Cynosure, 5 to 1, the spectators began to lay out their commissions on the various candidates in the Realization. The Pepper, the Western colt, was the first to be plunged on. His average opening odds were 334 to 1, but here and there could be seen 4 to 1. In a twinkling 4 to 1 had disappeared and a moment later the 334. There appeared to be a world of Pepper money among the speciators. Lakeland's victory was pounded by the Brighton Beach talent, and a steady stream of big money kept Tammany from going higher than 3 to 1.

Tammany and Victory Were Favorites At post time Tammany and Victory were equal first choices at 5 to 2. The Pepper being a close second choice at 7 to 2. There was no delay at the post. They were sent was no delay at the post. They were sent away at the very first attempt, Entre and Marcus Daly's second representative, Shellbark, being the leaders. It was understood that Entre was simply to cut out the pace for The Pepper, while Shellbark was to do similar work for Tammany.

At the end of five furlongs The Pepper was sent out from the bunch, Jockey Simms finding Shellbark and Entre unsatisfactory pace makers. Garrison held Tammany back in last place, two lengths behind the bunch After seven furlongs had been covered The Pepper was running under a pull three lengths in front of the field, and Garrison let out a wrap of Tammany's reins and shot through the tail end of the bunch into fifth place. He tossed his competitors aside one by one, and at the end of a mile and a furlong Tammany was third, a length be-hind Victory, who already had grown leg weary and was receiving the whip and Turning into the home stretch Garrison and Tammany bade adieu to Victory and Hamilton and made giant strides toward the Western colt, who was still three lengths in front. With three lengths of the home stretch to travel, the spectators, or at least that portion of them that knew Garrison's tactics, were confident that the race was Tammany's, barring accidents. With a quarter of a mile to go, Jockey Sims turned about in his saddle and saw Garrison laughing at him. The colored boy brought his whip down repeatedly on The Pepper's sides, but he could not gain an inch on Tammany. The great colt's legs worked with the precision of a piston rod, and his machine-like motion forced him past the swerving Western colt a sixteenth from the finish, which was reached with from the finish, which was reached with Tammany first by a length and a half, The Pepper second by eight lengths, Patron third by a length, Victory fourth by a head and Charles fifth by eight lengths, the others being beaten off. It was a decidedly uninteresting finish, but the spectators very generously applauded Garrison and the great colt for the impressive manner in which they had defeated their opponents. The stake is worth about $35,000, the owner of the second horse to receive $5,000 and ELECTRICITY has been applied to establish the state of a horse's foot. Usage is to put one pole of a battery in contact with the inside of a hoof, the other pole in contact with the iron shoe. If the hoof has been pierced with a nail to the quick, the horse will feel the electrical current and become irritated; in the other case the current cannot pass through the foot.

the last event of the most successful field meeting the Allegheny Athletic Association has ever held was decided. The announcement had been made that the start would be made at 2 o'clock, but owing to the fact that the Detroit contingent could not reach the grounds from the train by that time, it was nearer 3 when the first event, the men in the half-mile bicycle race, were sent around the course. At that time the grand stand was filled. Every seat was taken, and there was an array of beauty and fashion in the boxes above as well as in the circle below. The sight of so many there recalled the time when the "3 A's" grounds were called Recreation Park and the National League ball games were played there. The grand stand was handsomely draped with the national colors and a band of music helped to

The track was in a good condition except at one point and the grounds generally presented an improved appearance.

Perhaps as much interest was taken in the 100-yard dash as in any other event on the programme. There were 16 starters in four heats and a final between the firsts and seconds of the preliminaries. Among these was Jewett, of Detroit, who was the only scratch, and it was expected that he would win even with the handicaps, which were in the opinion of many, too large. He did win the third heat in 10 seconds, but he was not in it in the final with Stage, of the Cleveland Athletic Club, who had eight yards start. However, he came in second, passing six other com

Men Who Were in the Finish

Detroit's men were handicapped heavily all through except in the bicycle races, and in these its representative, W. C. Rands, won with ease. The East End Gym men carried off a number of events, notably the 880-yard run won by John McGrew; throwing the 16-pound hammer, won by Addison Boren with 91 feet 9 inches (8-foot handicap); the running broad jump, won by Charles S. Miller, 19 feet 834 inches; the mile run won by John McGrew in 4 minutes 45 4-5 seconds.

The mile run was one of the prettiest that has ever been seen on the course. Harry Austin, of Detroit, started at scratch and the live McGrews, of the East End Gyms. had 50 yards start. Austin caught up with the leaders in the third lap and held even until the runners came down the home stretch. Here John McGrew let himself out and took a good lead, while Austin's strength was unequal to the task and he came in second.

The 440-vard dash was also a very pretty event, the scratch men being left consider-ably in the lurch. Nesht, of Cleveland, who had a 30-yard handicap, had a close finish with Thomas Jackman, of the Michigan Athletic Association, and won by a neck
