to see the local

ings and before a man can turn twice round the fig is up. This was the case in a game the local team played here with the Bostons, and it was the case yesterday again. There probably never was an easier game to win than that of yesterday at Exposition Park against the Washingtons. Victory could have been resided without enviting like. have been nailed without anything like a struggle, but suddenly in the eighth inning the visitors were presented with eight runs and victory was theirs.

It Is Becoming Somewhat Frequent. Such like work must be very depressing on the directors of the club who are doing so much to have a winning team, and it is needless to say that it disgruntles the baseball public to a very great extent. Everyone of the nine runs made by the Senators was presented to them by bad playing as not a run was earned. The scource of that awful run getting in the seventh was Shugart, who at critical stages has become proverbial for making mistakes, but after his mistake no less than six safe hits including a home run were made off Baldwin's delivery. It is only fair to suggest that when such occurrences are frequent they ought to be looked into. The team can play great ball and are better satisfied to do on on with an ever they were.

The local players, generally speaking, were in winning humor. Early in the morning they had been indulging in plenty of practice, batting left handed pitchers. Elmer Smith, Ed Morris and Jake Beckley all were left-handed "trial horses" in the box for the local sluggers before dinner and the work done by the locals was highly satisfactory to Captain Burns. The good ball slugging done by the home players in the afternoon against left-handed Killen showed that the practice had been bene-

Big Hitting All in Vain. But all the practice and big hitting were of no avail. Charley Farrell banged out two home runs and Smith and Bierbauer each whacked out a three-bagger, together with doubles by Bierbauer and Beckley. It really was hard lines to lose a game with such thumping as that. One cannot help grumbling about it.

In the first inning Miller got his base on balls and reached second on Mack's sacrifice. Bierbauer's triple to right scored the run. In the third, after Miller had struck out, Mack got his base on balls; reached third on Bierbauer's two bagger to left field, and scored on a wild pitch.

In the sixth inning, after Beckley was out, Smith made a three bagger to right field, and Farrell made a splendid home run to right center, earning both runs. Everybody was certain of a local victory then, as Baldwin was pitching in excellent form. Only one little hit had been recorded against him. Hoy started off in the ninth for the visitors and got his base or A Very Painful Stage Indeed.

Larkin fouled out to Beckley and Hov stole second. Milligan knocked a grounder to Shugart, who threw the ball awfully wild past first base, allowing Hoy to score and Milligan to reach second. Duffee followed with a single and Milligan scored and Richardson fouled out to Beckley. Killen faced Baldwin next and knocked the ball over the right field fence near to the foul line. Many people de-clared the ball foul but the umpire declared it all right and the hit was a home run.

Then Robinson, Radford, Dowd, Hoy and Larkin tollowed on with each a single and these with three stolen bases sent in four more runs, making the total up to eight for

They Made a Final Effort. In the eighth the home players made plucky effort to redeem the mistakes. After Shugart was out Beckley knocked out a two-bagger to left. Hoy tried to catch the ball, but failed, as he had to run too far. Smith got his base on balls and Farrell knocked the ball to the left fence for his second home run, which brought the local score up to 7 against the visitors' 9.

The visitors were blauked in their half, and the home players again began to try to win in the ninth. Miller reached second on a fumble and a wild throw by Robinson and Mack was hit by a pitched ball. Things looked hopeful when Miller stole third and Mack landed on second, but Bier-bauer struck out and Miller scored on Shugart's sacrifice. Beckley knocked an easy fly to Dowd and the agony was over. The Inasmuch as both men are now in good condition I think it unreasonable for Mr. Crowther to ask us to wait for nearly two months; therefore, let the race take place two weeks from date.

of signing articles. To ensure fair play to both competitors, let the Sporting Editor of The Disparch either act as referee or appoint one. We will pay Mr. Crowther's expenses to swim here. Should Mr. Crowther also desire a race in a bath, John Taylor will swim him one hundred yards in the Natatorium on Philadelphia handicap terms same day, day before or day after the mile race, also for a $35 medal.

We teel we were unfairly dealt with at Philadelphia on Saturday last son, but not until after August 27, I make race, also for a $35 medal.

We teel we were unfairly dealt with at Philadelphia on Saturday last, and the foregoing propositions are made in order to bring about one or both matches talked of.

bring about one or both matches talked of.
We are willing to race; if Mr. Crowther Is as willing as he professes to be there ought to be no difficulty in arranging matters to the satisfaction of all concerned.

THEY WANT THE CUP,

English Yachtmen Send a Challenge to This Country for the American Trophy. NEW YORK, July 6.—A challenge for the American cup has arrived here from England and it will be presented to the New York Yacht Club as soon as the present land and it will be presented to the New York Yacht Club as soon as the present deed of gift is so modified as to do away with the objectionable "dimension clause." A prominent member of the New York Yacht Club, who is also well known in shipping circles, has recently returned from England with the challenge which he is instructed to present to the New York Yacht Club the minute the deed of gift is modified. The challenge comes from the Royal Yacht Squadron of England, and while the name of the person in whose behalf the Squadron challenges has not been made public, it is supposed to be the Earl of Dunraven. The bearer of the challenge told the fact of his being commissioned to offer it a few nights ago in the house of the New York Yacht Club, before a gathering of some of the most active yachtmen in the club. The matter will probably be considered at the next meeting. If any way can be found by which the last deed of gift can be stripped of the objectionable clause known as the dimension clause, a boat will at once be built in England to compete for the cup.

The bearer of the challenge is hopeful of making some arrangement which will make possible next season another international yacht race, and his hopes are shared by all yachtsmen outside the New York Yacht Club, and by a strong party in the club.
