THREE NEW TEMPLES

Added to the Already Long List of Pittsburg Churches.

BUILDING ON HISTORIC GROUND.

Laying the Cornerstone of St. Andrew's

English Lutheran. TWO HOUSES FOR WORSHIP DEDICATED

Pitteburg is rapidly becoming noted for the number of its churches, and yesterday three more were added to the already long list. The corneratone of one temple of worship was laid, and two more were dedi-

The cornerstone of the new St. Andrew's English Lutheran Church, corner of Stevenson and Colwell streets was laid in the afternoon. Addresses were made by Rev. Frank Brand, of Braddock, and Rev. R. Walz, of Sharpsburg. The services were conducted by Rev. A. W. Meyer, the present pastor of the church. Many of the English and German ministers of the city were in at-

The St. Andrew's English Lutheran, congregation has but a brief history. Last spring the German Lutheran congregation on Sixth avenue, recognizing the necessity of an English organization, called upon her membership for volunteers in this undertaking. H. H. Neiman, A. C. Succop and A. H. Schewe responded to the call and formed a committee for further work.

A call was extended to the present pastor, Rev. A. W. Meyer, then at Winfield, Kan., who accepted. The hall above the Fifth Avenue Bank, at the corner of Stevenson street, was secured for services, and a permanent organization was effected on October 16 last. The ranks, of membership have shown a steady increase, both from the German church on Sixth avenue and the one on Pride street. The Sunday school has 17 teachers and a total enrollment of over 200, while a Ladies' Aid Society, with 30 members, has been formed.

Built on the Foundry Property. On April 1 the officers of the church purchased a lot 94x120 feet, part of the old Price foundry property at the corner of Stevenson and Colwell streets, and donated a lot 44x94 feet to the church for a building which, when finished, will cost $30,000. At which, when finished, will cost $30,000. Atpresent only one story of the church will be finished. This will be ready for the congregation about October 1. It will be used until the congregation gets sufficient money to finish the structure.

The officers of the church are Rev. A. W.

The officers of the church are Rev. A. W. Meyer, pastor; H. H. Neiman, G. Wamhop and C. F. Ahlers, elders; A. E. Succop, G. E. Klingelhofer and C. D. Fortlage, deacons; A. H. Schewe, W. H. Voscamp and W. R. Neibaum, trustees.

The Duquesne Heights M. E. Church, corner of Oneida and Sycamore streets, was dedicated yesterday. The church was first organized in the fall of 1881, with Rev. Edward Williams as pastor. At that time the ward Williams as pastor. At that time the church had but six members and a Sunday school of about 30. They held services in the school house on Sweet Briar street, for some time and then built a small church near the school house.

The Congregation Needed More Room, The Congregation Needed More Room.

The membership grew rapidly and the church in which they were holding services was not large enough to accommodate them. About four years ago the Ladies' Aid Society took upon themselves the task of building a new church. With the promise of aid and support from the trustees, they purchased a lot upon which the new church was built, for $1,600. Then by subscription $6,500 was $1,600. Then by subscription $6,500 was raised, and work was begun on the new church. The church, which is frame, cost $8,500, and was completed about two months ago and is one of the neatest and prefficst churches in the city. It is built on the side of the hill, and the Sunday school room is in the lower part of the building, and the large room above will accommodate 600

Yesterday forenoon the services were conducted by Rev. Dr. C. E. Locke, who preached the dedication sermon and raised presched the dedication sermon and raised $1,900. In the afternoon the services were conducted by Rev. Dr. S. T. Mitchell, and the addresses were made by the Rev. S. W. McCurdy, Rev. Edward Williams and Rev. M. G. Montgomery. There was $600 raised by subscription. In the evening Rev. Dr. by subscription. In the evening Rev. Dr. J. W. Miles, presiding elder of the district, conducted the services and succeeded in raising nearly all of the $1,700 required to pay the indebtedness.

Worked Hard to the Same End.

Much credit is given to the pastor, the Rev. W. H. Rodenbaugh, the Ladies' Aid Society and the Epworth League for their work in erecting the church. The Epworth League and Ladies' Aid Society each placed a handsome memorial window in the church. The new Greek or Russian United Catho-lic Church located on South Seventh street was dedicated yesterday morning. Previous to the dedication services there was a short street parade of a half dozen Slavonic and street parade of a half dozen Slavonic and other societies. The service of itself is the same as followed in all Roman Catholic churches. The mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Father Vislocky, while the sermon was preached by the Rev. Father Obuz Kicsuick, of Oliphant, Pa., whose remarks were confined to telling the people that date at Christians. their duty as Christian The church is the old building formerly used by the Evangelical Lutheran congregation, and was built nearly 50 years ago. The old structure has been repainted and refitted in a handsome style, and looks almost new. The congregation numbers about 800, and is made up of Hungarians, Slavs and

Twenty-Two Lives Lost by the Bursting of a

. Boller of a Steamer. GENEVA, July 10.-The latest reports from the Ouchy disaster in Lake Geneva place the number of deaths at 22 and say that four of the persons who were wounded will not survive their injuries. The metal dome of the boiler blew off with terrific force, crashed through a stateroom as if the walls were made of paper and emerged at the other end of the steamer. In its flight through the vessel the dome struck and killed five passengers, mangling their bodies in a horrible manner. The other persons who lost their lives were scalded to death by the immense volumes of steam which escaped from the broken boiler and which escaped from the broken filled the staterooms.

A panic spread among the passengers when the explosion occurred, and those who had escaped death or serious injury fought savagely to gain the ganyway leading to the deck. Many passengers were knocked from their feet and trampled upon in the mad rush for safety. A number of persons were seriously crushed and bruised during the anic, and there were several narrow escapes from drowning.

A Government Ordnance Test Proves Too Much for a Smart Little School The Crew Saved by a Yawl and

NEW YORK, July 10,-[Special.]-To be wrecked in a placid sea, under a smiling sky, is a fate that has seldom overtaken even the skipper of a yankee schooner. But it was under these propitious conditions that the trim, three-masted centerboarder, Henry R. Tilton, came to grief four miles off the Jersey coast, just below Sandy Hook, this afternoon.

The Tilton left New York early to-day, best down through the Narrows, and started down the coast for Philadelphia. Captain T. E. Harris had command, with a Captain T. E. Harris had command, with a crew of six men—Charles Goss, mate, and five seamen. About 2 o'clock there came a big white puff of smoke like a cloud from the point of Sandy Hook. The man at the wheel was knocked down, and a sailor dozing in his bunk in the forecastle was thrown to the floor. Before Captain Harris could send a man below to investigate, the schooner began to sink by the stern. He had time only to rush into the cabin, grab a satchel containing a change of clothes and rush out again before the Tilton began to settle.

The American ensign, union down, was run up to the mizzen peak to attract help from shore, and the men made ready to launch the schooner's vawl. When the last man to leave the Tilton's deck was safe in the vawl, the schooner gave a lurch and keeled to starboard, nearly capsizing the yawl in the splurge she created.

Sheppard Knapp's naphtha launch, the Sheppard Knapp, was out with a fishing party within a mile or so of the sinking craft. She headed for the men in the yawl, got them in tow and took then to Sandy Hook.

Captain Frank Heath, of the Ordnance Department, U. S. A., in charge of experiments at Sandy Hook, said that he was experimenting with the ten-inch rifle to test the velocity of the projectile, a 500-pound shell, 10 inches in diameter and 5 feet long. He saw the schooner beat down the coast, but thought she was about three-fourths of a mile out of the line of fire, but the shot was deflected by a high, hard sand dune, just enough to send it through the counter of the smart little schooner.

GEORGIA'S PREACHER MURDERER.

plice, Tells the Story of the Crime. ATLANTA, July 10. - Detectives Looney, Cason and Greene and Sheriff N. A. Glas have just unraveled the mystery connected with the murder of Dr. A. N. Sloane, which occurred in McDonough several months ago. Saturday they arrested in Atlanta Ben Bivens, the colored pastor of a Methodist church in McDonough. From him they obtained a working clew, and night before last Joe Greene and Sheriff Glass arrested Henry Harrison and Jim Shafer, two of the deacons of the church, on the charge of being accomplices.

The detectives have succeeded in secur-ing a confession of the crime from one of the negroes. He said that Bivens accom-panied his wife to church the night of the murder. He left her there and, accom-panied by Harrison and Shafer, his deacons, went to Dr. Sloane's house. Bivens car-ried the shot-gun and did the killing. They returned to the church, and Bivens went around to take up the collection. While he was doing this the congregation sang, "Play on Your Harp, Little David." It is thought by detectives that the murder was a conspiracy on the part of the members of the church. Warrants will be sworn out for the church. Warrants will be sworn out for the three men arrested. They will not be re-turned to McDonough, as they will cer-tainly be lynched if they go there. They will be held in the station house here until the detectives conclude their investigation.

PHILADELPHIA, July 10 .- A visit to Cramp's shipyard to-day revealed the fact that three vessels in course of construction for the new navy of the United States are affected by the labor troubles at Homstead. affected by the labor troubles at Homstead.

There are five war ships under way at the yards, but the contract for armor was received by Carnegie only upon battle ship No. 2, cruiser No. 12 and armored cruiser No. 2. The last mentioned vessel is better known as the "New York," and was launched last winter.

She is now ready for her armor, but owing to the suspension of operations at Carnegie's works her completion is now delayed.

I had a terrible running sore on my leg, resulting from milk leg. The flesh was black around the sore, which seemed to be eating into the bone. My mother says she never saw such a sore le any good till I began to prove the suspension of operations at Carnegie's works her completion is now delayed.
