DESCRIPTION OF THE LANDING.

Captain Hines of the Pinkerton Force the First Man to Fall.

THE IDENTIFICATION OF THE VICTIMS

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Coroner McDowell began an inquest relative to the deaths of the men engaged in the Homestead riot, Wednesday, July 6. There were very few persons in the Coroner's office other than the witnesses, and not the slightest interest appeared to be manifested in the Captain William B. Rodgers, of the Little Bill steambont, was the first witness. He testified that he was employed to transport,

He said he did not have a weapon with him when he was shot. He said the detectives were given to understand that their duty was to guard the company's property, and that they were instructed not to fire unless in self-defense.

The affidavit of John F. McCurry, who is at the Allegheny General Hospital, was read to the jury and the inquest was con-tinued until July 26, at 2 o'clock P. M.

The list of dead upon whom the inquest was held is as follows: James W. Kline, aged 47, who died at the Homeopathic Hos-pital, identified by George Judson, of Chicago; Jumes Morris, aged 28, died Carnegie's steel works yard, identified in affidavit of Philip Richards; Henry Streagle, aged 19 years, identified by A. Streagle, a brother of deceased; Ja-, aged 34, killed in yards, identified by Mike Olah; Thomas Weldon, aged 30 years, mill worker, identified by Miles Mc-Sweeney; Peter Tanis, mill worker, aged 25 years, identified by James Stufannan; Silas Wain, mill worker, aged 25, shot by cannon from Pittsburg side of river, identified by Thomas Wain, a brother; T. J. Connors, aged 30 years, Pinkerton, identified by C. W. Bendell.

THE full quarts of Gibson, Finch, Overholt and Bear Creek rye whiskies bearing the signature of Max Riein can be relied upon as absolutely pure. Price $1 per full quart, or six quarts for $5.

GETTING THE FACTS. THE GREAT PIAND INDUSTRY.

America Every Year.

The Output Increasing at the Rate of 25 Per Cent Annually-The Old Names Steinway and Chickering Don't Cut So Much of a Figure in the Market as They Once Did -Many Ohers Manufactured at the Present Pay Fully Their Equal-Where and by Whom They Are Made.

One of the greatest of American indus tries, if not truly the greatest, is the manufacture of planes in the United States. The American piano is the acknowledged piano of the world and has not even the approach of an equal. For 25 years few, if any, foreign pianos have reached our shores, while thou sands of American planes are being exported annually, no less than 10,000 of these finding foreign homes last year. There are be-tween 75 and 80 expensively equipped plano factories in the United States, turning out each from 300 to 5,000 planes a year, or a total of 153,000 pianos annually.

There are some seven of these makes known as the old standard or national reputationed pianos, each of which has taken first premium at some world's fair over all competition, thereby world's fair over all competition, thereby justly laying claim to a national reputation. The oldest of these is perhaps "Chickering & Sons," which at one time held sway pre-eminently. "Kinsbe" is the next oldest in line of the seven standard or national pianos, and later came in the "Steinway" to share honors with Chickering and Knabe, and at about the same time the "Hallet & Davis" planos came in view, claiming public notice, and walked off with first honors and a national reputation. Soon after "Decker interest appeared to be manifested in the proceeding.

Coptain William R. Rodgers, of the Little Bill steambont, was the first witness. He bestified that he was employed to transport, for the chairman of the Carnegic Company, Pinkerton detectives to protect and standard behavior of the containty at Homesters of Daniel and the Carnette of Daniel and the Danie orchestra leader, besides hundreds of othera, dealers, musicians and experts, who believe the "Kimbail" is the coming great piano of the age, and marks an epoch in the history of American piano building. Besides the great Kimbail factory at Chicago there are several other large concerns in that city turning out from 25 to 40 pianos a week, so that the East, Boston and New York, no longer holds the key to the piano trade, but must eventually bow to Chicago in piano construction, as it has in organ building, three-fourths of the world's supply of which now comes from Chicago.
