Bermons in City Churches Upon the Homestead Trouble.

UNION SERVICES HELD IN A GROVE

At St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday morning two young men renounced the world and accepted the responsibilities of the Roman Catholic priesthood. The solemn ceremony of administering the sacrament of the holy orders was performed at the 8 o'clock mass by Bishop Phelan, assisted by Fathers Canevin and Conway, the former as arch-deacon and the latter as master of

The young men who have thus assumed the vows of celibacy and the administration of the holy rites of the church are Charles Poetz, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Richard Maloney, of Hartford, Conn. Both are graduates of the St. Bonaventure Seminary in Allegheny and have been affiliated with the Pittsburg diocese for some time. The reason they were not ordained from the seminary as is the custom was that they had not completed their classical course, though having finished the theological, and were unexpectedly called to the service by Bishop Phelan, who has work for them in this diocese. Where they are to be installed is not known by them, no will Bishop Phelan announce their permanent duties until his return in two weeks from the retreat at Loretta, for which he de-parted immediately after the ordination administered to young Father Maloney making him a sub-deacon. Father Poetz had reviously received this mark of pr previously received this mark of promotion, and on Saturday the young men were made deacons. The ceremony yesterday morning was deeply impressive and was witnessed by an immense congregation who with bowed heads joined in the service. Father Maloney, of Hartford, a brother of the young man of the same name being ordained, assisted him through the ceremony, and Father O'Neill of the Catherlai, performed the same office for Father Poetz.

After the service Bishop Phelan, and

COMPULSORY ARBITRATION

Suggested by Rev. J. D. Sands for the Suppression of Strikes-Increasing Power for Good of the Church-Its Mission at the Present Day.

"Let there be made a law for the suppression of strikes and compulsory arbitration," remarked the Rev. J. D. Sands during the course of his sermon last evening at the Seventh U. P. Church upon the used subject of "The Duty of the Church in the Labor Crisis."

Continuing, the pastor said "the duty of the Church in such a time is to advocate some measures of legislation that will reconcile the two great antagonistic parties, capital and labor. That the Church has weight with great political or governing hodies," he continued, "has been demonstrated most effectually in the late World's Fair matter, when the United States Senate, the highest body in the country, listened to the voice of religion and passed the World's Fair $5,000,000 appro-priation bill with the Church instituted printion bill with the Church instituted proviso that the gates of the great Exposition should not be opened upon Sunday. I hat grand, good fact suggests to the Christian's mind that if this may be done so may other equally needful measures. The Church is guing newer continuable. ill be heard in the future much oftener

"War is based upon twogreat human frail-ties—selfishness and covetousness. When the Church eliminates these two dominating evils from the great mind of the public, then will such things as conflicts between capital and labor cease, but not until then. Co and labor cease, but not until then. Conservatively and practically looking at this it is easy to perceive that the growth of the Church is much too slow for we who are now suffering from the dire effects to await. Therefore I say let the Church advocate some measure of legislation to reconcile the two great antagonistic bodies. Christ's brief journey upon earth was to reconcile men to God, to reconcile man to himself and to reconcile men to God, to reconcile man to reconcile men to God, to reconcile man to himself and to reconcile man to his brother men. He came to promulgate peace between the human and the divine, between individuals and between nations. That it is gradually attaining that point is evidenced by comparisons of the histories of the past with the histories of of the present. Then war was of ordinary occurrence, how it is almost unknown except in a lew isolated cases. The Church is gaining power, but not rapidly enough to ning power, but not rapidly enough to off the idea of beseeching the high gov-ing powers for intervention in such

WORSHIPING IN THE OPEN AIR.

Union Services in Silver Lake Grove Attended by Thousands. The beautiful weather of last evening caused the people of the East End to turn out in large numbers to attend the Union services in Silver Lake Grove. The pavilion hear the entrance was completely filled, when the hour set for the services arrived. Every seat in the enclosure was not only taken, but many stood on the steps or took seats out in the park within hearing dis-tance. There must have been fully 3,000

The services were begun by a voluntary— by the choir. Rev. De Witt M. Benham pronounced the invocation and read the scripture lesson. The vast audience then pronounced the invocation and read the Scripture lesson. The vast audience then arose and sang a hymn with a will that was inspiring. Another prayer was offered by Rev. W. S. Fleining. A collection was taken up, after which Key. G. W. Chalfant, of the Park Avenue Presbyterian Church, preached the sermon of the evening. He took his text from Hebrews xi: 24-26, taking "The Choice of Moses," as his theme from which he preached a sersom, principally intended for young men. Rev. C. V. Wilson offered a prayer and the services closed with the pronouncing of the henediction by Rev. J. Weidley.

Last evening's was the third of a series of meetings annually held in this place. They are held during July and August, and in the past have been very successful. The movement was started by several of the East End churches uniting and arranging to conduct these services during the heated term, preferring the open air meetings to those held in their respective churches. The result has met the most sanguine expectations of those interested, as many are led to attend these open-air meetings who would not otherwise attend divine services. The fourth meeting of the series will be held next Sabbath evening, beginning at 745, in the same place.

A TIMELY SERMON.

With Broken Seals and Radiant Lights ar a Subject. "Broken Seals and Radiant Lights" was the subject chosen by Rev. S. W. McCorkle, of the First Congregational Church, Alle gheny, yesterday morning. "The great English scholar and preacher, Canon Far rar," said Mr. McCorkie, "has said that it isimpossible to understand the last book of the Bible, known as Reve-lations, without a knowledge of the secular history of the times. He says the secular history of the times. He says the direct reason for the writing of the book sprang from the political condition of the times. The apostle was granted a special privilege for the purpose of accomplishing a special mission. It was that of being led to the center of all light and thought of the universe. Pictured to him were the events with respect to the destiny of the church. His mission was in taking back to the church that granted him from the role of revelation in the great center of the universe.

"We are invited to study that which he saw. It must be significant that the first object meeting his gaze was the throne and He on it. It was not a vacant throne; not a throne overturned by opposing force, but a great throne upon which sat the Sovereign "We speak of planets bound together by cords so strong that no man can break them."

"Dictation of one's rights is not in harmony with the law," said he, "and should not be suffered. I believe that in union there is strength and am in hearty sympathy with the heavy should step beyond the bonds of benefiting themselves, by conferences and advice, to dictating as to what a man should or should not do?"

attrone overturned by opposing force, but a great throne upon which sat the Sovereign of the universe.

"We speak of planets bound together by cords so strong that no man can break them. In the same sense all life is bound to the throne of God. At present, when the great trouble between capital and labor surrounds us and the grave questions this strike brings, the one avenue of refuge is the throne. No evil, no infquity, great or small, can escape the condemnation of God."

BOTH SIDES BLAMED.

The Idras Advanced Yesterday by a Pittsburg Divine-He Says the Homester Affair Is a Blot on the Pages of Civiliza

"A blot upon the pages of civilization was the Homestead affair," said Rev. Robert Cutler during his sermon upon the first great labor strike in the history of the world, at the Central Christian Church last night. The minister thus stigmatized the affair between the Pinkertons and the laboring men at Homestead, and, while sion and for the abuse of men for the making of money by men, he was none the less lenient with the working people for their part in the war on the Monongabela.

"There is no excuse for bloodshed," he continued; "no palliating circumstance to cover the disgrace of such deeds. When a question of right is involved, let not might resort to its strength and overstep all bounds of Christianity, as well as humanity.

God Should Be Their Guide. "Carnegie, the Pharaoh of the laboring man, undoutedly invaded the rights of his workmen in order to satisfy his own greedful gain that he might erect monuments to his personal glory that are mortared with the blood and sweat of his workmen. He assuredly overstepped the limits of their rights, but that is no reason that they, the oppressed and downtrod-den, should rise up and take the life of their ellow men in their rage at him, the cause of fellow men in their rage at him, the cause of the trouble. So long as strikes continue in this unlawful and barbarous method of dealing, just so long will they continue to be in the position they now occupy.

"There is a brighter outlook for the oppressed if they will do as the first strikers, the Children of Israel, did, let God be their leader. They will occupy a higher and a lottier position. There they will win. With God as a leader they will succeed as the Children did in the days long gone by, to the utter confusion of their oppressors.

"God made men for every walk in life some to govern and some to be governed; some to be rich and some to be poor. It is just as wrong for the man who is en dowed with the power to make money to bury that talent as it is for the minister grandly endowed to bury his or others in other vocations. Each man's duty is to wield the widest possible power in a Christian way. Every laborer is worth his hire, the Scripture says. If a laborer receives a certain ware for certain articles at a given cost for production, then when that cost is reduced and the selling price remains the same the laborer is worth more than he formerly was. If capital involved recognized the justice of this, all would be well and the workingman would have no cause to strike, but it does not, and as a result disgraceful conflicts ensue. As an illustration of the inoffices ensue. As an illustration of the in justice of the capitalists was the refusal a member of the Carnegie firm to give the cost of production upon which the sliding scale was based to the Congressional com-mittee. That speaks louder than words."

The Matter in a Nutshell. Summarizing, the pastor said: "There are five essential points that should be remem bered. The first of these is, if those in power will deal fairly and honorably with those under them, then all will go well. The more under them, then all will go well. The more harshly man is treated the more easily will he become discontented. God uses the folly of man for His own glory as He used the folly of Pharaoh in oppressing the Children of Israel. The cry of the people of God goes to God. God will answer to-day as he answered the Children of Israel. It is not the time for the oppressed to fight but to pray. God will lead His people if they obey Him. If all mankind would obey, humanity would blossom in the glorious happiness of nature's spring.

DEDICATING A SCHOOL.

Mary's German Catholic Congregation Formally Open Its New Educations Institution - Sharpsburg Gay With Bunting-A Parade of Uniformed Men.

The new parochial school of St. Mary's German Catholic congregation, at Sharpsburg, was dedicated yesterday. Great preparations had been made by the members of the church for the event. The dedicatory services at the church were preceded by a parade over the principal streets of the borough. The residences along the line of march were tastefully decorated with flags and bunting. Two arches were erected at the corner of Sixth and Penn streets, and at Garnier and Altmayer streets. The order of the parade was as

He was followed by Rev. Father Anthony, of St. Augustine's Church, Pittsburg, who also spoke of the rapid prog-ress made by the church and their schools.

OBEDIENCE TO LAW.

If God Is Reverenced Mob Law and Rio Will Be Removed. Rev. W. I. Wishart, of the Eighth United Presb terian Church, of Allegheny, yester day morning took or his theme: "Obedience

"The present labor troubles have awakened everybody to thinking along the line of the stability of the Civil Government," said he. "Atheism is the greatest foe of stable government. All civil authority is of God. The social compact theory is not enough to account for the authority exercised by the Government. God has delegated power to the body politic, and civil authorities wield a divine authority.
They are to be regarded by the governed as God's ministers. It follows that obedience to the magistrates must be a matter of conscience. The best kind of obedience is not that flowing from fear, but that which is actuated by reference to
God. There are two necessary limitations.
All enactments must be within the sphere of government cannot demand obedience and government cannot demand obedience to what is contrary to God's laws. Where the government oversteps these bounds the cititren has a right to divoley by the reference government oversteps these bounds the citi zen has a right to disobey, but not to resist.

"We are in danger through strong partisan feelings of looking at magistrates as not the representatives of God, but of a party. Danger from riot and mob law will be removed in proportion as reverence to God is moved in proportion as reverence to God i inculcated among the people."

UNIONISM AND ITS BOUNDS.

A Minister Points Out How Far Trade

Unions Should Go. "Trade unions are illegal and against the laws of Christianity when they dictate what an individual must or must not do, to the disadvantage or worry of the individual." Such was the sentiment of Rev. James A. Williams, delivered in his sermon upon "The Wageworker and Wages," at the Denny M. E. Church yesterday morning. The minister traced the laborer from his inception, when God declared man should get his bread by the sweat of his brow, down to the present time. He then drew an optimistic picture of the workingman of the future, when capital would be more widely and justly distributed than it is at present, and the bonds of brother hood between the employer and employed would be graciously tightened. The speaker thought the growth of labor unions as they now exist would have a tendency to make men tyrannize over others of their own class. Such was the sentiment of Rev. James A nteresting Services at the Duquesne Heights M. E. Church. Rev. W. H. Rodenbaugh, pastor of the Duquesce Heights Methodist Episcopal Church, took his text for yesterday morning's sermon from Pealm L:2. Hespoke on "The Perfection of the Beauty of Zion," and be-gan by describing the location of Zion and gan by describing the location of Zion and its outward beauty. The building of the temple next occupied his attention and he then drew a comparison with reference to membership in the church and favored an aggressive spirit in working for the Lord. A faithful church member was likened to a prism, whose chief ray of light came from the cross and in its reflection exemplified all the Christian graces. He closed with an appeal and two came forward to the mourner's bench. They were but on probation. Five infants were also baptized.

In the afternoon the first meeting of the Sabbath school was held in the new church. The room was filled and the programme was an interesting one. Addresses were made by the Rev. W. H. Rodenbaugh, J. E. Digby, Joseph Ewing, William Glenn, J. M. Lindsey and Rev. E. Williams.

The evening services were in harmony with the raising of the educational fund in connection with the church. A class of 15 probationists was received into the church as active members.

Services at the County Jall, The services at the jail yesterday after-noon were conducted by Mr. Wostwood, of the Y. M. C. A., assisted by a selected choir.

BLAMES THE TARIFF.

Congressman Hatch Tries to Make Political Capital Out of the Homestead Trouble-Opposed to the Appropriation for the World's Fair.

Congressman Hatch, of Missouri, Chairnau of the Committee on Agriculture, was at the Union depot last evening going to Washington. He had been in Oil City and Franklin for several days. He claimed his business was private and he declined to peak about it. It is possible the Missouri Democrat is investing in oil. This is the first time Mr. Hatch visited that section of Pennsylvania, and he was impressed with the resources of the State.

The Congressman was an ardent supporter of free silver, but now that the issue is dead for the present he is reconciled. "It will be impossible," he said, "to pass a free silver bill this session, but we are not discouraged. We made a great fight, and are in good shape to win in the next battle. The silver Dem-ocrats are satisfied with the party platform, and they have confidence enough in Cleve-land to know that he will carry out all the Mr. Hatch next discussed the Homestead

Mr. Hatch next discussed the Homestead trouble and its bearing on politics. "This strike," he continued. "Is due to the Mc-Kinley bill. It was pointed out by the ablest Democrats in Congress before the measure passed that all the protection would go to the manufacturers, and they would refuse to share the profits with the men. The sympathy of people with whom I talk is with the workmen, and they have only to behave themselves to win this fight in the end. This labor dispute shows up the folly of the tariff, and I look for a big Democratic victory next fall."

Mr. Hatch thinks Congress will adjourn August 1. The most important bills remaining to be considered are the civil sundry deficiency and the appropriation sundry deficiency and the appropriation of $5,000,000 for the World's Fair. Mr. Hatch or so,000,000 for the World's Fair. Mr. Hatch says he doesn't believe it is possible to get together a congress of sane men that would vote to give $5,000,000 to Chicago or any other city. When the Windy City asked for the Fair it was stipulated that no appropriation would be wanted. Mr. Hatch will hold the city to that contract.

THE ORPHANS' PICNIC.

Pressing in Prominent Citizens to Aid i the Hilarlousness.

Wednesday next will be a busy day at Glenwood. Seminary Greve has had four acres added to it to accommodate the expected thousands of people at the orphans music, platforms, tables, booths, etc., and who has about completed arrangements to feed and amuse everybody that can enjoy This will be the largest picnic ever held in this city and it will embrace more hus ous and ridiculous features than the old Dan The committee had ordered 4,000 tickets up to the time of publication of Handel's letter and then 2,000 more, and on Friday of last week the number printed had swelled to 10,-000, and it now looks as though 15,000 would be issued and sold before the gates were opened. Messrs Totten, Weixel, Kelly and other managers of the Orphan Asylum wanted the affair to take the shape of a con cert at the Exposition building, but it could not be had and the committee must now find not be had and the committee must now find shelter for the crowd under the trees and in the open fields in and about Seminary Grove. "Some idea of the magnitude of the affair may be had," said Mr. Ed Kelly, another of the managers, "when the ladies naving the stands and tables in charge have made a demand on us for 10 tons of ice." Inasmuch as it is for the benefit of the orphans every one that can sing, dance, recite, whistle or run a foot race has been pressed into service and the list includes most of the well-known Catholics of the two cities, and they, in turn, are pressing in their Protestant friends until the list of intellectual and athletic annusements on the programme would fill a book. Handel's golden mouth and silver tongue will be kept busy except at intervals, and the ubiquitos John L. Sullivan will start by letting Poe's Raven scream and end sometime during the night with "Bingen on the Rhine." Patrick Barrett will make the air hum with the address of "Spartacus to the Gladiators," and wind up with "After the Battle." Tim O'Leary and Pat Foley, in view of the excess of oratory, will exercise the lower members of the body in a mile dash.

The older members of the various churches will kick a 24-inch Rugby ball as long as they can see it, and the 10-000 or 12,000 people of other tastes can gratify their desires by helping the donkeys scale the hill, watching the high kicking contest between P. McGee and James Powers, the hurdle race between Ed Houston, John Riley, Ed Kelly, James P. Quinn and Frank Weixel, or they can listen to the soft, sweet music from Felix McKnight's harp. MANY INFANTS DYING

The Large Mortality Due to Hilk From Badly Fed Cows.

Save for a heavy mortality among children Allegheny City's health is in good condition. Last week there were only 49 death: and about 75 per cent of them were infants. There were 6 violent deaths, 1 from scarlet fever, 2 from dipththeria, 8 from typhoid fever, 2 from dipththeria, 8 from typhoid fever; 14 from cholera infantum and 2 from cholera morbus. There were 27 males and 22 females.

City Physician Hazzard, speaking of the health of the city yesterday, said: "The general health has never been much better. The majority of deaths is among infants. They are caused mostly by cholera infantum and cholera morbus. These diseases come very largely among infants that are fed on bottles. The slightest variation in the temperature of the milk is liable to cause disorders. Besides, many suffer because they are given the milk of swill-fed cows. This more than anything else is the cows. This more than anything else is the cause of the large mortality among infants." The Skill and Knowledge

Them for College or Business, Home school, Military, limited number, refin urroundings, healthful location, spacious a seautiful grounds. From the Rev. E. W. Grange, Pittsburg, Pa.: From the Rev. E. W. Grange, Pittsburg, Fa.:

"I take pleasure in saying a word or two in condial recommendation of Trinity Hall. As one its patrons for the past three years, I have bedeeply interested, of course. I have seen it school life and have looked into the course of stu and the methods of teaching. All these are versatisfactory. I have seen too, that the care kindly, the food excellent, and the discipline a ministered with rare good sense and judgment Trinity Hall, to my mind, is the most 'home-like of any school I ever saw."
